PREFACE.

THE present Catalogue includes all acquisitions made by the Department of Manuscripts during the five years 1911–1915, arranged under the heads of Additional MSS., Egerton MSS., Additional Charters, Detached Seals, Papyri, and Facsimiles of MSS. The temporary diversion of the activities of the staff during the war into other channels is the cause of the unusually late date of its appearance. The total number of MSS. acquired in the five years amounts to eleven hundred and eighty-four; of Charters, to six thousand six hundred and twenty-six; of Seals, to two hundred and ninety-nine; and of Papyri, to two hundred and five. The number of printed Facsimiles available to students in the Department is increased by about seventy-seven.

As usual, the acquisitions have been materially augmented by donations and bequests. These have all been noted under the entries in the Catalogue, but several are of such importance as to call for special mention here also, viz.:—

(a) Under the will of Mr. Alfred H. Huth, the Trustees were enabled to select from his library fifty volumes at their discretion. The thirteen important MSS., all illuminated, which were acquired as part of the fifty, are described fully in the Catalogue of the Huth Bequest, 1912, and more summarily below, Additional MSS. 38114–38126. Of these, one—the interest of which is mainly in the inserted engravings (Add. 38123)—has been transferred to the Department of Prints and Drawings.

(b) The Hon. Henry Berkeley Portman presented in 1911 a large collection of State Papers, forming about three hundred volumes, from the family collections of the Earls of Liverpool (Add. 38190–38489, cf. Add. 38564–38581).

(c) Lady Layard (d. 1912) bequeathed a large series of diplomatic, archaeological, and other correspondence and papers of her husband, the Right Hon. Sir Austen Henry Layard, G.C.B., the explorer of Nineveh. This forms two hundred and thirty-four volumes (Add. 38931–39164).*

* The restriction placed by the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs on the use of certain of the Layard Papers (see p. 356) has now been removed so far as concerns Add. MSS. 39101–39127, 39130, 39135–39138, 39141, 39142, 39144–39151, 39157–39159, 39161.

(d) Another considerable series of family papers, to some extent already known to historians from the calendar of the Historical Manuscripts Commission, was presented in 1915 by Mrs. Edmond R. Wodehouse (Add. MSS. 39218–39252, Add. Ch. 59797–61129).

(g) The Egypt Exploration Society presented in 1914 a collection of thirty-six Greek and Latin papyri from Oxyrhynchus, details of which are noticed below (Papp. 2040–2075).

It may be useful to indicate briefly, under various classes, some of the acquisitions of special interest, either purchased or presented:—

1. Among Greek MSS. the Oxyrhynchus papyri just mentioned include, besides documents, portions of the Ichneutae and Eurypylus of Sophocles, an ode of Bacchylides, the Meliambi of Cercidas, and Plato's Phaedrus. Another collection bought in 1911 includes a great part of the second book of the Iliad (Pap. 1873) besides many documents of the first to third centuries after Christ. A country other than Egypt has produced an unexpected find in the two parchment or skin deeds of the first century B.C. from Avromān (Add. 38895). Of later codices, we have an Acts and Epistles written in 1312 (Add. 38538), and a Life of St. Sabas, fourteenth century (Add. 38790). A Slavonic MS. of the Gospels, sixteenth century (Add. 38782), may be conveniently mentioned here.

2. Among Latin MSS. of early date or special palaeographical interest are fragments of a fifth century papyrus codex of Cicero's speeches (Pap. 2057), along with a few Latin documents among the Oxyrhynchus papyri allotted to the Museum; the Peristephanon of Prudentius (Add. 38646), and a Passion of St. Pancras (Add. 38914), both of the eleventh century; the Canonical Epistles from Morimondo in the diocese of Milan (Add. 38596), Origen on Numbers, Joshua, Judges and Kings, also of Italian provenance (Add. 38643), Vitae Patrum, from Ste. Croix d'Offémont (Add. 38684), and St. Augustine De Civitate Dei, libb. i–ix, perhaps written in Spain (Eg. 2905), all of the twelfth century; Palladius, Vitruvius and Vegetius, of English origin (Add. 38818), twelfth–thirteenth century; the New Testament, written in the South of France (Eg. 2907), early thirteenth century; and Ansileubus, Liber Glossarum, thirteenth century (Add. 38167).

3. Under the heading of Historical Manuscripts and Political Papers may be noticed two twelfth century MSS. of Bede's History, accompanied in the one case (Add. 38130) by a life of St. Neot, in the other (Add. 38817, from Kirkham Priory) by the Invention of St. Ragner at Northampton, a fragment (early thirteenth century) of an unknown tract on the exile of the Canterbury monks and the translation of St. Thomas (Add. 38686), an early text (late thirteenth century) of the Chroniques de Saint Denis (Add. 38128), William of Malmesbury's Gesta Regum and Historia Novella, third recension, fifteenth century (Add. 38129), two volumes (presented by the London Institution) of Froissart's Chronicles (Add. 38658, 38659), and the Compendion Historiall of T. Wall (Add. 38691). Besides the Liverpool Papers, mentioned above under presentations, which provide great masses of material for the late eighteenth and early nineteenth centuries (Add. 38190–38489), the Huskisson Papers (Add. 38734–38770) and the letters of George Canning to J. H. Frere, 1800–1826 (Add. 38833), throw much light on Canning's career. Earlier acquisitions are supplemented by a volume of Sir J. Cæsar's papers, 1582–1619 (Add. 38170), many volumes from the Southwell collection of State Papers, including Lord Melfort's negotiations with the Pope, 1689–1690, Sir R. Southwell's letter-book in Ireland, 1690, War Office papers of W. Blathwayt, etc. (Add. 38142, 38144 38157, 38536, 38694–38714, 38861), three volumes from the Ormonde Papers, including the Duke of Ormonde's journal of the expedition against Cadiz, 1702, Irish petitions, etc. (Add. 38159, 38160, 38173), and one volume of the papers of Lord Mount-Stuart at Turin, 1779–1783 (Add. 38774). Purchases of sundry lots from the J. E. Hodgkin collection, besides miscellaneous original papers illustrative of English social history, include important correspondence of the Earl of Danby, 1677–1691, papers relating to the Pretender, etc. (Add. 38846–38857); and from the Townshend sale, among many miscellaneous State Papers from the reign of Elizabeth to that of George IV, are interesting letter-books of A. Moreau, Polish Envoy at the Hague, throwing light on the English Revolution of 1688 (Add. 38492–38508).

Other books worthy of note here, are :—

Registrum Brevium, with rules for pleading in the Lincoln city court, etc., temp. Edw. I (Add. 38821).

Precedent-book for feudal aids in co. Norf., temp. Edw. III (Add. 38513).

English court ceremonies, temp. Hen. VII (Add. 38174).

Precedent-book belonging to the Hanaper Office, tempp. Hen. VIII–Eliz. (Add. 38136).

Letter-books of Sir Henry Unton, Ambassador in France, 1591–1592 (Add. 38137), Sir Thomas Parry, in the same post, 1602–1603 (Add. 38138), Thomas Read, Latin Secretary to James I, 1619–1623 (Add. 38597), George Weckherlin, holding the same office under Charles I, 1627–1635 (Add. 38669), Lord Macartney, Governor of Grenada, 1776–1779 (Add. 38717, 38718), Vice-Adm. G. Darby, commanding the Channel Fleet, 1780–1782 (Add. 38681, 38682), and Lord Northington, Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, 1783–1784 (Add. 38716).

Accompts of John Price, Receiver-General of Ireland, 1684 (Add. 38143), and Sir George Wharton, Treasurer of the Ordnance, 1679–1680 (Add. 38158).

Log of G. Gilbert on the Resolution and Discovery in Capt. Cook's last voyage, 1776–1780 (Add. 38530). Presented by Mr. Alban Doran.

Transcripts made from Dutch State Papers, 1652, presented by the late S. R. Gardiner (Add. 38491), and from Swedish State Papers, 1655, 1656, presented by Professor Sir C. H. Firth (38100).

4. Of Monastic History there is unusually little. A fragment relating to Canterbury has already been noticed (38686), and a volume of Lives of Hexham Saints (twelfth century) includes a history of the foundation of St. Mary's Abbey, York (Add. 38816). A portion of Leland's Collectanea is in Add. 38132. General Constitutions of the Order of Austin Friars are in Add. 38649.

Guilds are better represented by two books, each belonging to a guild of Smiths, etc., the one of Bridgnorth, co. Salop, 1598–1752 (Add. 38834), the other of Coventry, co. Warw., 1684–1821 (Eg. 2906).

5. Liturgical MSS. include four Psalters, one of the twelfth century, probably from Bourn Abbey (Add. 38819), another, also from Lincoln diocese, of the end of the thirteenth century, among the Huth MSS. (Add. 38116), a Sarum Psalter of about the same date (Add. 38822), and the Breadalbane Psalter from Scotland, fourteenth century (Eg. 2899); an imperfect York Breviary, early fifteenth century (Add. 38624), and a Brigittine Breviary from Genoa, dated 1470 (Add. 38604); a Sacramentary of a monastery connected with Jerusalem, early thirteenth century (Eg. 2902), and Missal with Gradual, of Paris use, mid. thirteenth century (Add. 38723); a Benedictional of Saint Saviour, Anchin, near Arras, twelfth century (Add. 38645); a Cistercian Ordinal from Erbach, near Mainz, early fourteenth century (Add. 38786); the English Liber Regalis, early fifteenth century (Add. 38521, presented by the late Rev. E. S. Dewick); a Lectionary of German origin, twelfth–thirteenth century (Add. 38685); an Epistolar of a Cistercian house in Italy, mid. thirteenth century (Add. 38722); Hours, the three in the Huth Bequest (Add. 38123, 38124, 38126), and a French Horae executed for a Dauphin in the first half of the sixteenth century (Add. 38894); a form of consecration of a church used at Abbey Dore, co. Heref., in 1635 (Add. 38915, presented by the late Dr. J. Wickham Legg); and the treatise De ecclesiasticis officiis of John Beleth, twelfth century (Add. 38112).

6. General Mediaeval Literature is represented first by three sections of a MS. (two other sections have since been acquired) of the thirteenth century containing the recently discovered Chanson of Guillaume d'Orange, the Chanson of Guy of Warwick, Life of St. Margaret and Miracles of the Virgin, all in French (Add. 38662–38664). This important MS. was purchased by means of a donation from an anonymous benefactor, whose name may now be revealed as the late Mr. Walter Morrison. Other MSS. under this head are Latin Sermons, with exempla, by Odo of Cheriton, thirteenth century (Eg. 2890); another set of exempla on Virtues and Vices, fourteenth century (Add. 38654); Bernardus de Gordonio, De regimine sanitatis, and another medical tract, fourteenth century (Add. 38689); Merlin in French prose, the unique MS. of the text used for books i–iv of Sir Thomas Malory (Add. 38117, Huth Bequest); Lives of Saints in English verse, fourteenth century (Eg. 2891); Life and Passion of Our Lord, an English poem on church festivals, fifteenth century (Add. 38666); and seven Latin penitential psalms composed by Petrarch, written in 1491 (Add. 38603). Mention may also be made here of John Urry's collections for his edition of Chaucer (publ. in 1721) (Add. 38178–38181, presented by Sir W. S. M'Cormick).

7. Literary MSS. of more recent date include a copy of Sir Philip Sidney's Arcadia in its original form (Add. 38892), and drafts of Sir F. Bacon's Sylva Sylvarum, one leaf being probably in his own hand (38693); also the following autograph works:—John Locke's tract on Education (Add. 38771), Thomas Gray's instructions and additions for the 1768 edition of his poems (Add. 38511, presented by Miss L. Sharpe), sonnets by Wordsworth and Blanco White (Add. 39168 I), two plays and a poem by Leigh Hunt (Add. 38105–38107), poems by Patrick Fraser Tytler (Add. 39253, transferred from the Department of Printed Books), the six pages of Dickens's Pickwick Papers above mentioned (Add. 38510 M, presented by Mr. W. A. White, and Add. 39182, presented by Lady Wernher), ballads by George Borrow (Add. 38794 Q, presented by Mr. T. J. Wise), and polyglott collections by the same (Add. 38726, presented by Mr. C. K. Shorter), poems by James Thomson ("B. V.") (Add. 38532–38535), a poem by C. S. Calverley (Add. 38733), the Autobiography of Sir Henry Taylor (Add. 39179, presented by Miss Una Taylor), Robert Browning's 'Aeschylus' Soliloquy' (Add. 38794 G), Walt Whitman's 'O Star of France' (Add. 39168 I), Sir Richard Temple's Parliamentary Journals and Character Sketches (Add. 38916–38928, presented by Sir R. C. Temple), W. E. H. Lecky's History of European Morals (Add. 38092, 38093, presented by Mrs. Lecky), Sir Spencer Walpole's History of England and History of Twenty-five Years (Add. 38582–38590, presented by Mr. F. C. Holland), poems by A. C. Swinburne (Add. 39216, 39217, bequeathed by Miss Isabel Swinburne), fables by Robert Louis Stevenson (Add. 39173), two sonnets by Rupert Brooke (Add. 39255 M, presented by Mr. Edward Marsh), and 'Tess' and 'The Dynasts' by Thomas Hardy, O.M. (Add. 38182–38185, presented through Mr. S. C. Cockerell). Lastly may be noted William Upcott's remarkable collection of assignments of copyright by English authors, 1704–1822 (Add. 38728–38730).

8. Illuminated Manuscripts. The beautiful examples from the Huth collection, shown in a special exhibition case in the Grenville Library, and illustrated in the Huth Bequest volume, must by this time be well known to many. A brief enumeration will suffice here. The two-volume Bible (Add. 38114–5) is first-rate French work of the second half of the thirteenth century. To the end of the same century belongs the Psalter (Add. 38116) illuminated in England, probably in Lincoln diocese. The Romance of Merlin (Add. 38117) is primarily of literary interest (French, fourteenth century). The two Apocalypse MSS. (Add. 38118, French, early fourteenth century, and 38121, Dutch, circ. 1400) are less important, but the latter is of unusually late date for a book of this class. The drawings in the German Speculum Humanae Salvationis (Add. 38119, late fourteenth century) belong to a group which is of iconographical interest, and the same applies to the French drawings in Les Trois Pèlerinages (Add. 38120, circ. 1400), but more artistic merit is seen in the Flemish Bible History drawings (Add. 38122, mid. fifteenth century). The Milanese school of the end of the century is represented by two MSS., an interesting Horae (Add. 38124) and a Petrarch (Add. 38125) which is worthy of comparison with the finest work of the period. Lastly, the Horae of circ. 1500 (Add. 38126) concludes the series with an example of the most exquisite quality of the Bruges school.

Other acquisitions are a New Testament, S. of France, early thirteenth century (Eg. 2907), a Sacramentary, in Italo-Byzantine style, early thirteenth century (Eg. 2902); a Bible, Italy, thirteenth century (Eg. 2908); a damaged portion of a fine Apocalypse, perhaps English work, early fourteenth century (Add. 38842); Giovanni d' Andrea on the Sext, written in Italy, illuminated in France, A.D. 1345 (Add. 38644); Spieghel der Maechden, Holland, early fifteenth century (Add. 38527); Horae, French, mid. fifteenth century (Add. 38528); and a Dutch Horae of similar date (Add. 38724). In addition seven cuttings of MSS. (French and Italian, fifteenth century) from the Rogers collection were transferred from the Department of Prints and Drawings (Add. 38896, 38897).

9. Music. The chief acquisitions are a volume of pieces for the lute, circ. 1613–1616 (Add. 38539); services by Purcell, with other sacred music, transcribed in 1734 (Add. 38648), and by Croft, autograph, 1719 (Add. 38668); dance-tunes, seventeenth-eighteenth century (Add. 38189); songs and harpsichord solos, chiefly by English composers, eighteenth century (Add. 38188); duets for oboes by R. Valentine, eighteenth century (Add. 38531); sacred music by Italian eighteenth century composers (Add. 39166), and a copy of Handel's opera 'Radamisto' (Add. 39180), both presented by Mr. W. Barclay Squire; English song-tunes collected by William Chappell (Add. 38789); F. Clay's opera 'The Bold Recruit' (Add. 38785, presented by Mrs. Godfrey Pearse); Samuel Butler's dramatic works 'Narcissus' and 'Ulysses,' written in collaboration with Henry Festing Jones (Add. 38176, 38177, presented by Mr. H. F. Jones); and a considerable collection of musical compositions, etc., by R. L. Pearsall (Add. 38540–38563).

10. Of collections of Private Correspondence, etc., the most notable are:—Thirty-nine Latin letters of Erasmus, 1522–1536 (Add. 38512); ten letters of Swift, 1711–1737 (Add. 38671, presented by Mrs. E. Bromley); papers relating to the family and friends of St. Teresa (Add. 38653, presented by Mr. R. B. Cunninghame Graham); correspondence of Sir Kenelm Digby, 1633–1668, and of Sir Sackville Crow and others of his family, 1671–circ. 1744 (Add. 38175); a large collection of family papers of the Mackenzies of Suddie and Scatwell, co. Ross, seventeenth-nineteenth centuries (Add. 39187–39211); correspondence of Leigh Hunt, 1807–1859 (Add. 38108–38111, 38523, 38524); and correspondence, chiefly of the son and grandson of William Hazlitt, 1814–1913 (Add. 38898–38913, bequeathed by William Carew Hazlitt). Interesting autographs will also be found by reference to the Index under Berlioz, Brontë (as noted above), Davy (Sir H.), Dilke (Sir C.), Etty, Gaskell (Mrs. E. C.), Hunt (W. Holman), Landseer, Millais, Shelley, Smith (Sydney), and Wallace (A. R.).

11. Miscellaneous MSS. and Archaeological Collections include important specimens of ancient Mexican picture-writing (Eg. 2896, 2897), with which may be mentioned a facsimile of the Rickards codex of the same character (Add. 38845, presented by Miss A. Breton), and vocabularies of Mexican tribes (Add. 38720). Heraldry is represented by the important fifteenth century roll of arms known as the Dering Roll (Add. 38537), and the curious fabrication connected with Ely Cathedral (Add. 38164); and genealogy by anonymous collections, temp. Hen. VIII (Add. 38133), collections by Nicholas Wotton (Add. 38692), Sir William Dugdale (Add. 38140, 38141), and the late Mr. H. C. Malden (Add. 38609–38617, presented by Mrs. Malden). Theatrical collections are those of James Winston (Add. 38607) and R. J. Smith (Add. 38620, 38621). A most useful collection of watermarks copied from documents at Canterbury Cathedral was presented by the compiler, Mr. M. Beazeley (Add. 38637–38642); and a Dictionary of monograms and identified paintings by F. P. Séguier was transferred from another Department (Add. 38796–38803). A printed copy of Pope's Iliad given by him to Gilbert White contains pen-sketches of the naturalist, believed to be the only portraits of him extant (Add. 38875–38880). MSS. chiefly interesting for their bindings are Add. 38820, Eg. 2892, 2900, 2903, 2904.

12. The Charters acquired are chiefly miscellaneous collections without special features, but mention may be made of early papal bulls (Add. Ch. 58421, 58422), some useful dated charters from Tournay (Add. Ch. 58916–59033), and English diplomatic documents, tempp. Edw. I–Edw. IV (Add. Ch. 59140–59144). A good specimen of a private chartulary is that of Roos of Hamlake, tempp. Edw. I–Hen. IV (Add. MS. 38187), and an important estate-map is that of the famous Davies estate in Ebury manor in Westminster, 1663–1670 (Add. MS. 38104).

The Catalogue has been compiled by the staff of the Department on the same scheme as previous volumes of the series, and the descriptions have been revised by myself. The descriptions of charters and papyri are of the nature of an inventory only. The fuller descriptions of the latter will appear in the special Catalogue of Papyri, another volume of which is in preparation. The fuller descriptions of charters are also in progress, and will be available in MS. form in the Department in due course. The revision of the Index has been mainly the work of Mr. J. A. Herbert, Deputy-Keeper, with the assistance of Mr. Wood, Assistant-Keeper, and Messrs. Hales and Schofield, Assistants.

ADDITIONAL MANUSCRIPTS

38092, 38093. "HISTORY of European Morals from Augustus to Charlemagne," by William Edward Hartpole Lecky. The holograph MS. of the work as sent to press (London, 1869, 2 vols.). Two volumes, corresponding to the printed work.
Paper; ff. i + 466, i + 333. Large folio. With the author's bookplate. Presented by Mrs. Elizabeth Lecky, his widow.

38094. LETTERS from Egyptologists to Robert Hay, of Linplum; 1826–1862. The writers are Sir John Gardner Wilkinson, James Burton (afterwards Haliburton), Joseph Bonomi, Robert Lyons and Frederick Catherwood; references to the single letters will be found in the Index. Some notes on antiquities are included (ff. 1, 201–207); the first is an extract from a letter from Hay, dat. Carnac, 18 Jan. 1826. For R. Hay's own collections relating to Egyptian antiquities made between 1826 and 1838 see Add. MSS. 29812–29860, and for part of his diary Add. MS. 31054.
Paper; ff. 207. Folio. Presented by Robert Hay, Esq., son of the recipient.

38095. "LATIN abbreviations in early minuscule": lectures delivered at Cambridge in 1910 by Professor Wallace Martin Lindsay, of St. Andrews University, Sandars Reader in Bibliography.
Paper; ff. i + 39. Folio. Presented by the author in accordance with the terms of the Readership.

38096. ALPHABETICAL indices to the parish registers of several churches in co. York, viz. Hornby (f. 1), and Leeds, Holy Trinity (f. 47), Headingley (f. 50), St. Paul's (f. 103), and St. John's (f. 111), MSS. 1911.

by the Rev. Edward Cookson, of Ipswich. In the case of St. Paul's only burials are given; the church having been taken down and the bodies re-interred in 1905, references are added in each case to the place of re-interment.
Paper; ff. 133. Folio. Presented by the compiler.

38097–38099. COLLECTIONS relating to Suffolk families, made by Joseph James Muskett, and supplementing those in Add. MSS. 33856–33877, and 36971–36977. Three volumes; with a full index at the beginning of each. The compiler has used the whole collection in his Suffolk Manorial Families, 1900.
Paper; ff. 431, 319, 381. Quarto. XIX cent.

38100. TRANSCRIPTS of dispatches from Swedish ambassadors and agents in England to Charles X (Charles Gustavus) of Sweden; 1655, 1656. Made for Samuel Rawson Gardiner, the historian. The writers are:—(1) J— Barkmann, commissioner; 1 Aug.–Dec. 1656. f. 2;—(2) Benjamin Bonel; 19 Jan.–4 May, 1655. f. 47;—(3) Peter Julius Coyet; 16 Mar. 1655–18 Jan. 1656. f. 58;—(4) Christer Bonde; 20 July, 1655–22 Aug. 1656. f. 185. Many of Coyet's letters are in Germ.; the rest are in Swedish. At the beginning (ff. ii–x b) Engl. summaries of most of Bonde's letters are given, with brief descriptions (ff. xi–xii) of those of Coyet, in the hand of S. R. Gardiner.
Paper: ff. xii + 412. Folio. XIX cent. Presented by Prof. C. H. Firth.

38101. "ESSAI historique et politique de la Vendée par M. de Solignac, officier au Regiment d'Orléans infanterie, sorti de France en Janvier, 1794, et ayant servi dans l'Armée Royaliste depuis le Mois d'Avril, 1793, jusqu'au 4 décembre meme année, jour qu'il fut fait prisonnie[r] au Mans": an account of the war in La Vendée from its beginning to the author's capture at the defeat of the Royalists at Le Mans. The date 4 Dec. above should be 14, and so too 3 Dec. on f. 11 b should be 13. The author is clearly the same as the "M. de Solilhac," a gentleman of Le Puy, an account of whose adventures is given by H. Forneron, Histoire générale des Émigrés, ii, pp. 4–5; see also the Mémoires of the Marquise de La Rochejaquelein, Paris, 1817, pp. 171, 347, 422, where also the name appears as Solilhac. It appears likely therefore that Solilhac is the correct form, and the present MS. cannot be the author's autograph. Corrections have been added in the margin by another hand, evidently that of a person who took part in the campaign on the Royalist side. In a note on f. 8 he appears to refer to a "mémoire" given by him to Westermann.
Paper; ff. 11. Folio. XVIII–XIX cent.

38102. "NARRATIVE of the Battle of Enniscorthy," 28 May, 1798, during the Irish rebellion, by the Rev. Thomas Handcock, D.D., rector of Kilcormick, co. Wexford, an eye-witness of the events recorded. The memoir was finished 10 Nov. 1798, and additions were made later. In a note at the end the author states that his MS. was used by Sir Richard Musgrave (Memoirs of the different Rebellions in Ireland, 1801).
Paper; ff. i + 92. Quarto. Modern type-written copy. Bookplate of arms of the Rev. Brabazon T[homas] Disney, rector of Abbeyleix, Queen's Co., Ireland. Presented by Mrs. Sarah Disney.

38103. LETTERS and papers, mainly official, relating to Irish affairs, especially during the Lord Lieutenancy of the Marquis Wellesley (1821–1828, 1833–1834); 1782–1837. Many of the documents are official copies or drafts (partly by Wellesley himself), but there are some original letters. The names of the writers are given in the Index. The following documents may be noted:—

1. "Observations on the Affairs of Ireland . . . For the perusal of the Cabinet," by G[eorge], P[rince of Wales]; Carlton House, 29 May, 1797. Signed. f. 11.
2. Account by Robert Emmet of the plan of his insurrection at Dublin and the causes of its failure, delivered by him before his execution to be forwarded to his brother Thomas Addis Emmet; [20 Sept.] 1803. Copy; with the initials J. P. and D. P. B. (?) attached to the docket. f. 19.
3. Copies of correspondence between the Cabinet and the King concerning a proposed clause in the Mutiny Bill removing the restrictions on Roman Catholics against admission into the army and navy; 9 Feb.–18 March, 1807. ff. 27–44.
4. Royal commission from George IV appointing Richard [Colley Wellesley], Marquis Wellesley, Lord Lieutenant of Ireland; 8 Dec. 2 Geo. IV [1821]. Copy. f. 45.
5. Memorial on the tithe case of the Rev. James Morgan, rector of Ross, co. Wexford, submitted to Wellesley on the recommendation of [William Magee], Archbishop of Dublin; 7 Nov. 1822. f. 64.
6. "Rates at which tithes are valued in the diocese of Dublin"; sent by [John George de la Poer Beresford], Archbishop of Dublin; [before 17 June, 1822]. f. 71.
7. A similar return for the diocese of Clogher. [1822.] f. 77.
8. Papers concerning tithes and the Composition Bill; [1823]. That beginning on f. 88 has corrections by Wellesley. f. 80.
9. "Memorandum for Ministers" concerning a proposed bill for a projected Joint Stock Company for Steam Navigation between Great Britain and Ireland and America; [1824]. f. 104.

10. "Anticipation [by Wellesley] of political events in Ireland," relative to the grant of full relief to the Catholics; 2 Feb. 1825.
11. Memorial to Wellesley from [George King, 3rd Earl of] Kingston, and other proprietors and occupiers of land in co. Cork in favour of the construction of a road from Cork to Limerick; no date. Signed by the petitioners. f. 128.
12. A long memorandum on Wellesley's administration as Lord Lieutenant of Ireland; [1827–1828]. Draft, with many corrections in ink and pencil by Wellesley; some portions in duplicate. f. 129.
13. Instructions, from [William Lamb, Viscount] Melbourne, to [Henry William Paget,] Marquis of Anglesey, on his appointment as Lord Lieutenant of Ireland; 18 Dec. 1830. Copy. f. 155.
14. "Form of ceremonial . . . at the Reception and Swearing in of . . . the Marquess Wellesley, K.G., as Lord Lieutenant of Ireland;" 1833. Printed proof, corrected. f. 163.
15. "Answer [by Wellesley] to Corporation of Dublin's Address"; 11 Oct. 1833. Copy. f. 167.
16. "Heads of Bill prepared and transmitted to Mr. Littleton for the amendment of the Irish Church Temporalities Act [of 1833]; 1833–1834. f. 169.
17. Recommendations, addressed to Wellesley, by the Commissioners for the Education of the Poor in Ireland; [early in 1834]. Signed by the Commissioners. f. 174.
18. Draft, in Wellesley's hand, and much corrected, of the portion of the King's Speech relating to Ireland; Jan. [1834]. f. 195.
19. Memorandum on Wellesley's second administration of Ireland; [1834]. Draft, apparently in Wellesley's hand, with autograph corrections. f. 210.
20. Vindication by Wellesley of his impartiality towards Roman Catholics during his administration of Ireland, in reply to a statement of Lord John Russell; 1 Mar. 1837. Autograph. f. 217. Paper; ff. 225. Folio.

38104. PLAN of lands in the parishes of St. Martin and St. Margaret, Westminster. These lands, belonging to the manor of Ebury, formed the "Davies estate." They were formerly in the possession of Hugh Audeley or Audley, the money-lender (d. 1662), who seems (but the matter is somewhat obscure, see W. J. Loftie, Hist. of London, 1884, ii, pp. 102, 103, 406, and cf. the present MS. f. 2 b) to have settled them or part of them before his death on Alexander Davies, his great-nephew, brother of Thomas Davies, afterwards (1667) Knt. and (1676–7) Lord Mayor of London. On Alexander's death (1665) the estate passed to his daughter Mary, who married (1676) Sir Thomas Grosvenor, 3rd Bart., since when the greater part of it has remained in the possession of the Grosvenor family and forms the London estate of the Duke of Westminster. For a pedigree of Mary Davies see Midd. and Hertf. Notes and Queries, ii, p. 189.

The lands in question, which lie between "The Way from Tiborne to London" [Oxford Street] and the Thames, are marked in variously coloured parcels, corresponding to the various properties represented, and at the top of the plan are "Notes upon Mr. Audelyes titles to certeine lands expressed in this under severall numbers and colors." There are notes on seven properties, divided into "Contents of the first purchase" (1–6) and "Contents of ye second purchase." A history of each portion, with details of the various leases and grants, since the reign of Henry VIII, is given, references being added to the title-deeds, etc., and copious notes are also given on the plan itself, the dimensions of each parcel being specified. There are several queries, e.g. on "The Sawpit Acre," "Quaere whether both these parcells were not Mr. Audelyes, because some of his papers mention two rents payable by ye Ld. Andover." The following is a specimen of the references:—"See my notes lying in two boxes, ye one of suites, ye other of contracts and agreements about Goring House; in which notes & ye papers in ye respective boxes the state of all affairs of ye Lord Goring & about Goring House are collected & disposed in order." Place- and road-names of interest are:—"Tiborne Close," "ffeild next ye Lord Mayors Banquetting house," "Oselston," "The Way from Westminster to Tyborne" [Park Lane], "The Way from Knightsbridge to London" [Knightsbridge and Hyde Park Corner], "The Way to St. Giles's" [Piccadilly], "The Way to Westminster" and "to St. James's" [Constitution Hill], "Mulberry garden," and "St. James Parke gate" [site of Buckingham Palace and gardens], "Pimplico" [Pimlico], "The Princes Slaughterhouse" [in St. James's Park], "The old Footway from Chelsey to Charing Crosse," "The Old Horse Way from Chelsey to Westminster," "The old Way from Westminster [to] Ebury farme now ye Way from Chelsey to Westminster," "Toothill Feild," "The Way from Neat to Tuthill," "Abbotsbridge," "The Neatehouse," "Ebury house," "Abbots meade & Calve Haw alias Cawsay Hall," etc. For a discussion of the problems connected with Eybury and Neyte see Notes and Queries, Ser. x, vol. x, pp. 321–323, 461–463, vol. xi, pp. 22–25, 174–175, 231–232.

The date of the plan is later than 10 Apr. 1663, a lease of that date by Alexander Davi[e]s being mentioned; and it must be before 1670, as reference is made to a lease which "is to expire in 1670." It is therefore earlier than the map of the estate (1675) given in 38105. "Look to Your Morals. A Comedy in Two Acts. By [James Henry] Leigh Hunt." Autograph (1833–1840). On f. 2 b four titles are noted by the author for consideration, viz. "The French Girl in England," "Modest Assumptions," "Look to Your Morals," and "Proper's the Word." Of these he had apparently adopted the second, but the third is that by which the work is referred to finally in the Autobiography, and it has been added to the present MS. in another hand. The play, which is there described as a "prose afterpiece, or petty comedy," is in its present form, despite the superscription on the cover, divided into three acts. The plot centres round the discomfiture of Sir Harry Creole, a West Indian Baronet, in his design to displace his nephew, Captain Creole, in the affections of a young widow, Lady Susan Arlyn. In their scheme to obtain from the Baronet the title to a contested estate the lovers are aided by Dobbs, the Captain's valet, and his young French wife Annette, these last being described in the Autobiography as the two principal characters. The scene lies in an English seaport and village at the (then) present time. For further description see Autobiography, 1860, p. 430. The author has subjected his original copy to considerable revision, and as the MS. stands there are one or two trifling inconsistencies, e.g. at the end, owing to the incorporation of folios from another version, Lady Susan is confused with Miss Charlotte Compton.

Paper; ff. 75 (f. 43 is mutilated). Small Quarto.

38106. "L[overs'] A[mazements]": a comedy in five acts, by Leigh Hunt, written in blank verse, with one or two passages in prose. Autograph (1840–1850). This version differs extensively from the three acts of the play in its final form, as printed under the title of "Lovers' Amazements; or, How Will it End?" in Leigh Hunt's Journal, 1851, and reprinted in the American edition of Hunt's Poetical Works, ed. S. Adams Lee, Boston, U.S., 1866. The play was produced with great success at the Lyceum Theatre 20 Jan. 1858. As regards the two versions, there is a practical identity in Act I, scenes 1 and 3, and part of scene 2; in Act II, scene 1; and in Act III, scene 2, of the MS. as compared with Act III, scene 1, in the printed text. But despite this similarity, the two versions differ widely in their plots. There are more characters in the MS. than in the printed text, and while the interest in the latter centres round the love imbroglio of the four principal personages, in the former it leads up to the Duke of Vendôme's abandonment of opposition to the marriage of his daughter Gabrielle, the Countess Montalais of the printed play. For references see Autobiography, pp. 429, 430, 450.

Paper; ff. 217. Octavo.

38107. "A Day with the Reader": an unfinished poem in blank verse by Leigh Hunt. Autograph. For the design of the work see Autobiography, p. 422. With some changes, the lines on Paganini in the introductory canto appeared in Leigh Hunt's London Journal, 16 April, 1834, under the title "Paganini. From an unpublished poem by the editor;" the second canto, in which the poet wakes and discourses on the morning, was utilized for 'An "Indicator" in verse' in the issue of 14 May with the title "Thoughts in Bed upon Waking and Rising." In the third canto, the poet, while dressing, describes the strength of the early sunshine, in the fourth he makes breakfast-time his theme. Notes relative to the further continuation of the work will be found on f. 22 b. There are also other disconnected notes; those on f. 21 b have reference to the education of children. Several pages, probably blank, have been torn from the MS. A note on f. 20 b refers to 1844. The lines on Paganini were reprinted in the Poetical Works, 1844, and later editions.
Paper; ff. 22. Folio.

38108–38111. Correspondence of Leigh Hunt; 1807–1859. Four volumes. The great majority of the letters are addressed to Hunt, but some are written by himself, e.g. letters to Dr. Southwood Smith. The names of the writers are given in the Index; they include Lords Brougham and Macaulay, C. Dickens, T. N. Talfourd, J. S. Mill, John Forster, W. H. Ainsworth, John Bowring, and many others. Many of the letters are printed in Hunt's Correspondence, 1862. There are also letters addressed to Mrs. Hunt, to Thornton Hunt, Leigh Hunt's eldest son, and some others, bringing the extreme date down to 1862. Autograph MSS. of some of Hunt's literary productions are included, e.g. "The Dogs" (see The Liberal, 1822, p. 245). 38108, f. 204;—"Virgil's Hostess" (ib. p. 377). f. 247;—(c) "My Books" (see The Literary Examiner, 5, 12 July, 1823). f. 262. In 38109, f. 1, is the prospectus of the Magazine projected by Hunt while in Italy (see Autobiography, p. 368), and agreements with publishers are in 38109, f. 325, 38110, ff. 7, 67, and 38111, f. 133. The MS. form of the sign manual with which Hunt closed his Examiner articles will be found in 38108, f. 194. In 38111 (f. 445 b) is an Arabic MS. consisting of friendly messages from Khwājah Anton to Khwājah Fadl Allāh concerning his voyages in South

Western Europe; and in an envelope at the end (f. 450) is a lock of Thomas Stothard's hair.

38112. MISCELLANEOUS theological treatises, viz.:—

1. "Passio beati Thome martyris Cantuariensis archiepiscopi": the anonymous "Passio" printed from two other MSS. by J. A. Giles, Vita S. Thomae, ii, 1847, p. 137, Migne, Patr. Lat. cxc, col. 317, and by J. C. Robertson, Materials for the hist. of T. Becket, iv, 1879, p. 186 (Bibl. Hag. Lat. no. 8209). In the passage noted by Giles (Migne, col. 319, note 29) the present text agrees with the Paris as against the Bodl. MS., but with some differences. Beg. "Digne, fratres karissimi, huius diei preclara festiuitas." f. 1.
2. "Summa magistri Iohannis Beleht de ecclesiasticis officiis": the Rationale Divinorum Officiorum of John Beleth. Like all the extant MSS., it differs widely from the printed text (Migne, ccii, col. 13, etc.), which is indeed a free paraphrase by the editor, C. Laurimann (see B. Hauréau, Notices et Extraits, i, 1890, pp. 88–97). The text of the present MS. closely resembles that of Cotton MS. Vitell. A. xi, f. 3, and represents a revision of Beleth's work by some later editor; see ff. 50 b, 55, where statements by Beleth are contrasted with those of other writers (on f. 50 b Mauricius [de Sully], Bishop of Paris, 1160–1196, is thus mentioned). Royal MS. 7 C. vii, f. 23, probably gives Beleth's original text. Beg. "In primitiua ecclesia." f. 3 b.
3. "Libellus de uita et interfectione gloriosi comitis Flandrie Karoli": the Life of Charles the Good, Count of Flanders (d. 1127), by Walter, Archdeacon of Térouanne. Printed in Migne, clxvi, col. 901, etc. (Bibl. Hag. Lat., no. 1573). Prologue beg. "Domino suo et patri . . . Iohanni sancte Teruannensis ecclesie episcopo, frater Walterus." Life beg. "Anno itaque uerbi incarnati millesimo centesimo uigesimo septimo." Colophon, "Explicit libellus a domno Waltero venerabili Morinensis ecclesie archidiacono editus de uita et interfectione gloriosi comitis Flandrie Karoli et de uindicta in interfectores eius iusto dei iudicio terribiliter exerta (sic)." f. 62 b.
4. "Vita Karoli magni regis imperatoris edita ab Einhardo abbate": the life of Charlemagne by Einhardus or Eginhard. Printed in Migne, xcvii, col. 27, etc. (B. H. L. no. 1580). The prologue is here omitted. The text agrees with the MSS. of Pertz's Class B in omitting the mention of the death of Roland (Migne, col. 34). Beg. "Gens Merouingorum, de qua Franci reges sibi creare soliti erant." f. 75 b.
5. "Vita sancti Augustini episcopi": the Life of St. Augustine, Bishop of Hippo, by Possidius, Bishop of Calama. Printed in Migne, xxxii, col. 33, etc. (B.H.L. no. 785). The letter to Honoratus, of which in Migne (col. 60 ff.) only the earlier part appears, is here given in full. Followed by (a) the "Acta Ecclesiastica" concerning the appointment of Heraclius as Augustine's successor in the bishopric (Migne, xxxiii, col. 966, as Epistola ccxiii). Beg. "Gloriosissimis Theodosio xii^mo^ et Ualentiniano Augusto iterum consulibus." f. 99 b; (b) Beg. "Beatus Augustinus dum in Yponiensi sepultus esset regione": an account of the second translation of Augustine. This work is not noted in B.H.L. It occurs also in Add. MS. 35110, f. 29 b (in the description in Cat. of Additions, 1894–1899, p. 160, for "first" read "second") as a set of lectiones. There also it follows the Life by Possidius, but is preceded by a list of Augustine's works. f. 101. Prologue beg. "Inspirante rerum omnium facto[re]." Life beg. "Ex prouintia ergo (deleted) Affricana." f. 84.

6. "Translatio sancti Nicholai episcopi et confessoris": the translation of St. Nicholas, Bishop of Myra, to Bari (A.D. 1087), by Nicephorus (B.H.L. no. 6179). A somewhat fuller text is in Harley MS. 3097, f. 122, where, as here, the prologue is omitted. Beg. "Igitur dum omnipotens deus propensiori atque archano censuisset consilio." f. 101 b.

7. Anonymous commentary on the Song of Songs. Prologue (with rubric "Prologus in Cantica Canticorum") beg. "Canticum amoris amanti amabile est." Commentary beg. "Partitiones uel capitula in cantica canticorum idcirco necessaria." f. 102 b.

8. The tract "De locis sanctis terrae Ierusalem" of Rorgo Fretellus, Archdeacon of Antioch. This work, which passes under the name of Fretellus, seems in reality to be an edition by him of an earlier anonymous treatise, printed by M. de Vogüé, Les Églises de la Terre Sainte, p. 412. For Fretellus see T. Tobler, Theoderici Libellus de Locis Sanctis, 1865, p. 151 ff., Serapeum, xiv, pp. 134–7, xv, p. 368, xix, pp. 101–5, 176, xxvi, 106–7, R. Röhricht, Bibl. Geogr. Pal. 1890, pp. 33–5. The texts vary greatly; the present one differs from the normal type (Migne, clv, col. 1039) in being dedicated, not to Raymond, Count of Toulouse (? v, 1148–1194), but to H[enry Zdik], Bishop of Olmütz, 1126–1150 (so too three of the MSS. mentioned by Röhricht, op. cit. p. 35), and in giving the list of "mansiones" of the Israelites in the desert (so too a Vatican MS. mentioned in Österr. Vierteljahresschr. f. Kath. Theol. vii, p. 400), contained in the anonymous treatise, but usually wanting in Fretellus. For others see Cotton MSS. Nero C. ii, f. 101, Cal. A. iii, f. 21 (dedication in this MS. omitted), Arundel MS. 291, f. 68 (do.), Harley MS. 5373, f. 53 b (dedication to Roderic, Count of Toledo); Harley 3113, f. 126, is the same text as in de Vogüé, as far as "quasi tribus miliariis" (p. 414). Prologue beg. "Reuerentissimo (sic) patri et domino H[enrico] dei gratia Olomacensium antistiti R[orgo] Fretellus stola iocunditatis." Treatise beg. "Modo autem reuerende domine mi." Imperfect, ending in the 34th "mansio" (leaves lost). f. 121 b.

9. Part of the "Collationes" of John Cassianus, viz. Paphnutius, Daniel (f. 132 b), Serapion (f. 140), Theodore (f. 149 b), collations iii–vi (Migne, xlix, coll. 557–668, Corpus Script. Eccl. Lat. xiii, 1886, ed. Petschenig, pp. 67–176). As art. 8 is incomplete and a new hand appears here, f. 124 being numbered 130, this must be from another MS., which doubtless contained the beginning of the work. The text resembles Petschenig's D, with which it regularly agrees against the other MSS. Where D is corrected the present MS. usually agrees with the corrected text. Beg. (coll. iii) "In illo sanctorum choro." f. 124.

10. "Liber de diuersis uirtutibus et uitiis," by Alcuin. Printed in Migne, ci, col. 614. The dedicatory epistle and "peroratio" are omitted. Beg. "Primo omnium querendum est, fratres, homini." f. 157 b.

11. "Sermo sancti Augustini de misericordia": the sermon numbered cv a among the supposititious sermons, Migne, xxxix, col. 1949. Beg. "Qvaliter nos inuicem diligere debeamus." f. 170.

12. "Sermo sancti Iohannis episcopi qualiter homo confiteri debeat deo delicta sua et semper secreta cordis sui perscrutari." What St. John is referred to is uncertain; the sermon does not seem to occur among Chrysostom's works. Beg. "Misericordia, fratres karissimi, peccatorum est remedium." f. 171 b.

13. "De imploratione misericordie dei qui iniquitatem suam agnoscit": an anonymous sermon. Beg. "Rogat Dauid ut multum ab iniquitate sua lauetur." f. 172 b.

14. "De contemptu huius seculi sententia sancti Clementis": the sermon elsewhere attributed to St. Augustine (Migne, xxxix, col. 1963, supposititious sermon no. cx a) and to Faustus Rhegiensis (ib. lviii, col. 887, sermon viii). Beg. "Modo, fratres karissimi, cum diuina lectio." f. 173 b.

15. "Sermo sancti Cesarii ad monachos"; variously attributed to Caesarius (x, Migne, lxvii, col. 1067) and Eucherius (ix, ib. l, col. 855). Beg. "Videte uocationem uestram, fratres karissimi." f. 174.

16. "Sententie de opusculis sancti Ieronimi ad monachos": the so-called "Homilia ad Monachos" included among Jerome's supposititious works and made up of extracts from his writings. Printed in Migne, xxx, col. 311, etc. Beg. "Alii festinant ad celestia." f. 175 b.

17. "Tractatus sancti Augustini episcopi de obedientia": the pseudo-Augustinian sermon printed in Migne, xl, col. 1221. Beg. "Nichil ita deo placet quomodo obedientia." f. 180.

18. Death and miracles of St. Nicholas of Myra, viz. :—(a) "Obitus sancti Nicholai episcopi" (B.H.L. no. 6154). Other copies are in Harley MS. 3097, ff. 58–60, Cotton MS. Vesp. D. ii, ff. 57 b–58 b, and Add. MS. 36737, ff. 136–137, the text represented in which differs markedly in one or two places from that of the present MS. Beg. "Cvm igitur diuersis miraculis atque uirtutibus." f. 181 b ;—(b) "De quodam qui sancto Nicholao uas aureum deuouit" (B.H.L. no. 6172). Printed in Smedt, Anal. Bollandiana, ii, p. 151. The first sentence, beg. "Igitur opere precium," is here annexed to (a). Beg. "Cum longe lateque uirtutum." f. 183 :—(c) "De Christiano qui mutuo aurum accepit a Iudeo" (B.H.L. no. 6174). Printed in Anal. Boll. ii, p. 153. Beg. "Extitit preterea alius uir, qui mercimoniis intentus." f. 184 b ;—(d) "De imagine sancti Nicholai flagellata a Iudeo" (B.H.L. nos. 6163–6165). Printed in Mombritius, Sanctuarium, ii, 168, col. 2 (without the short prologue), etc. Other copies are in Harley MS. 3097, ff. 60–61, Cotton MS. Vesp. D. ii, ff. 58 b–59 b, Add. MS. 36737, ff. 137 b–138 b. The present MS. differs considerably in one or two places from the text represented by these three MSS., which in the main agrees with Mombritius. Beg. "Restat autem adhuc quod . . . Cum de Affrice partibus Wandalorum exercitus." f. 186 ;—(e) "Miraculum de puero Adeodato" (B.H.L. no. 6169). Printed in Catal. Codicum Hag. Bibl. Regiae Bruxellensis, pars 1, tom. i, p. 257, but in a shorter form (in B.H.L. no. 6168), omitting the latter part. Beg. "Si deuotionis uestre, fratres karissimi . . . Beatus itaque et electus." f. 187 b ;—(f) "De Priore quem sanctus Nicholaus flagellauit" (B.H.L. no. 6209). Printed in Catal. Codicum Hag. Lat. . . . Bibl. Nat. Paris, i, p. 510. Beg. "Inter innumera uirtutum insignia." f. 190 b.

19. "Uita beate Marie": the supposititious epistle of St. Jerome, sometimes called the "Evangelium de Nativitate Mariae." Printed in Migne, xxx, col. 297, Tischendorf, Evangelia Apocrypha, 1876, p. 113, etc. (B.H.L. nos. 5343, 5344). Prol. beg. "Petitis a me ut uobis rescribam." Life beg. "Igitur beata et gloriosa semper uirgo Maria." f. 191 b.

20. "Miraculum de genitrice dei reuelatum per quendam abbatem in mari": the legend of the command given to Helsinus [or Elsinus], Abbot of Ramsey, to celebrate the feast of the Conception of the B. V. Mary. Taken from Pseudo-Anselm, Sermo de Conceptione Beatae Mariae, see Migne, clix, cols. 319, 320. The present text consists of the second and third paragraphs of the sermon, with an addition of several lines at the conclusion. Another version of the legend is in Cotton MS. Cleop. C. x, f. 138 b (see Catal. of Romances, ii, p. 614). Beg. "Tempore illo quo diuine placuit pietati." f. 194 b.

Digitized by Google Original from UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA

22. The writings of Sulpicius Severus concerning St. Martin of Tours. Printed in Migne, xx, col. 159, Corpus Script. Eccl. Lat. i. (ed. C. Halm), p. 109, etc. The present MS. agrees with those of Halm's second class (AF). It includes (a) "Epistola Seueri ad Desiderium de uita sancti Martini ad (sic) se conscripta": the epistle dedicatory. Beg. "Seuerus Desiderio ... Ego quidem, frater unanimis." f. 197;—(b) "Capitula libri primi de uita et uirtutibus sancti Martini": a table of chapters. f. 197;—(c) "Uita beati Martini episcopi." Prologue beg. "Plerique mortalium studio et glorie." Life beg. "Igitur Martinus Sabbarie Pannoniarum oppido." f. 197 b; (d) "Epistola Seueri ad Eusebium presbiterum postea episcopum." Beg. "Hesterna die cum ad me plerique monachi." f. 207;—(e) "Alia eiusdem ad Aurelium dyaconem (sic)." Beg. "Postea quam a me mane digressus es." f. 208;—(f.) "Epistola Seueri ad socrum suam Bassulam qualiter sanctus Martinus de hoc mundo recesserit." Beg. "Svlpicius Seuerus Bassule parenti ... Si parentes uocari." f. 209 b;—(g) "Capitula in dyalogo Seueri." f. 211;—(h) "Dyalogus Seueri." Beg. "Cvm in unum locum ego et Gallus noster." f. 211 b;—(i) "Capitula dyalogi tercii (l. secundi)." f. 221 b;—(k) "Dyalogus tertius l. secundus)." Beg. "Qvo primo igitur tempore relictis scolis." f. 222;—(l) "Capitula dyalogi quarti (l. tertii)." f. 228;—(m) "Dyalogus Seueri quartus (l. tertius)." Beg. "Lvcessit (sic), o Galle, surgendum est." Imperfect (leaf lost), ending at "et ad Martinum nostrum, Galle, redeamus. Tum" (Migne, col. 221, Halm, p. 215). f. 228 b.

Vellum (paper fly-leaves); ff. iii + 233. 11¾ in. × 8½ in. XII cent. Gatherings mostly of 8 leaves, but some of 5, 6, and 9. Double columns. Sec. fol. "insurgerent." Three different MSS. seem to be represented, the first ff. 1–123 (the first gathering, ff. 1–5, in a different hand from the rest), the second ff. 124–196, the third 197–233. The first has initials in red, with a few decorative initials in red and green (ff. 1, 3 b, 62 b, 84, 102 b; in the second the initials are in red, blue and green, and in the third in red and blue. On f. iii b is a list of contents (xvii cent.) The following names occur: f. 181, Jaspar Kestelt, Gabriel Cassel (xv cent.); f. 182, Dan Philippe Laguilier (xv cent.), following the couplet,

Qui se castie par autruy"

(a slightly different form of this proverb is quoted in Godefroy, Dict. de l'anc. Langue française, ii, p. 87); the name Jhōs Belet on f. 1 presumably refers to art. 2. The volume at one time belonged to Tongerloo Abbey (see f. ii), and bears the press-mark Q. MS. i (ff. i, iii b). It was afterwards in the library of Sir Thomas Phillipps (MS. 4173; sale-cat. 1896, lot 80), whose crest is stamped on f. ii. Bought at Sotheby's, 17 Mar. 1911 (lot 607). Bound in beechen boards covered with calf, blind-stamped, German (?), 16th cent.

38113. "ANCIENT Earthworks" surveyed and drawn by Rev. Edward Andrews Downman, viz.:—(a) in Buckinghamshire, visited and examined 1904–1910. With brief descriptions and an introduction (f. 2) dated March, 1911, and (f. 4) a list of the plans. f. 1;—(b) in Cambridgeshire, visited and examined 1891–1910. With brief descriptions and an introduction (f. 37) dated Sept. 1910, and (f. 38) a list of the plans. f. 36;—(c) in Derbyshire, visited and examined 1892–1910. With brief descriptions and an introduction (f. 64) dated June, 1910, and (f. 65) a list of the plans. f. 63;—(d) in Hertfordshire, visited and examined 1900–1910. With brief descriptions and an introduction (f. 89) dated Dec. 1910, and (f. 90) a list of the plans. f. 88. The names of places are given in the Index. Paper; ff. 109. A.D. 1910, 1911. Large oblong folio.

HUTH BEQUEST.

The following thirteen MSS., 38114–38126, were included among the fifty books to be selected from his library bequeathed to the British Museum by Alfred Henry Huth, Esq. For fuller descriptions see "Catalogue of the Huth Bequest," 1912.

38114, 38115. HUTH BEQUEST. Vols. I, II. Bible, in Latin; Vulgate version. Preceded by Jerome's Epistle to Paulinus ("Frater Ambrosius") and preface to the Pentateuch ("Desiderii mei"). The arrangement of books is regular, except that Ezra (1 Esdras) and Nehemiah are followed by the apocryphal 1 Esdras (here entitled 2 Esdras), and that Acts comes between the Pauline and Catholic ("canoniales") Epistles. In two volumes, vol. i ending with the Psalms. All the books after the Pentateuch have prefaces, except Judges, Ruth, 2–4 Kings, Nehemiah, 2 (i.e. the apocryphal 1) Esdras, Psalms, Song of Songs, Lamentations, 2 Maccabees, and the Catholic Epistles (which have only the one general preface, "Non est ita ordo," prefixed to James). Job, Joel, Jonah, Micah, Matthew, and John have two prefaces each, Amos and 1 Maccabees three; and the preface to Hosea is preceded by the "Prologus in duodecim prophetis," beg. "Non idem est ordo." For the most part these prefaces are the usual ones (cf. S. Berger in Mém. prés. à l'Acad. des Inscr. ser. i, vol. xi, pt. ii, 1904, pp. 1–70), but two are worth noting, viz. the first of the two prefixed to John, "Omnibus diuine pagine" (Migne, Patrol. Lat. xxxv, col. 1377, cxiv, col. 355), and that prefixed to the Apocalypse, "Omnes qui pie uolunt uiuere" [by Gilbert de la Porrée]. At the end (vol. ii, f. 361) are the "Interpretationes hebraicorum nominum" [by Remy of Auxerre?], as printed in Bedae Opera, iii, 1688, p. 371.

Vellum; ff. ii + 328, 422 (ff. 359, 360 blank). 11½ in. × 8 in. Second half of XIII cent. Gatherings of 16 leaves (last quire of vol. i, 8; in vol. ii, last quire of Bible, 8 leaves, last quire of "Interpretationes," 14, two blank leaves at the end having been cut away); quires 21 and 22 (ff. 337–352, 321–336) of vol. ii have been transposed in binding. Double columns of 42 lines, the "Interpretationes" in triple columns of 43 lines. Sec. fol., vol. i, "meditatio tribuere," vol. ii, "-tur ad eam." With finely illuminated initials to the prefaces and books, the former filled with conventional foliage or other decorative designs, the latter enclosing miniatures, and both having partial borders attached. The work, especially in the first volume, represents the French art of the time at its best: the initials, whether historiated or merely decorative, are executed with extraordinary delicacy, and so are the exquisite little figures and groups (mainly humorous or grotesque) with which many of the pendent borders are enriched. The chapter-initials throughout both volumes, in blue and red, are adorned with pen-flourishes of great elaboration and delicacy. For vol. i, f. 5 (beg. of Genesis) see Cat. of Huth Bequest, pl. 1. On the fly-leaf (f. ii) of vol. i, and on the first page of vol. ii, is inscribed "Monasterii S^ti Michaelis de S^to Michaele Congregationis SS. Vitoni et Hydulphi" (17th cent.), showing that the MS. belonged to the Benedictine abbey of St. Mihiel, in the diocese of Verdun, which was affiliated in 1606 to the Congregation of SS. Vitonus and Hydulphus (Gallia Christiana, xiii, col. 1272). Huth bookplate. Briefly described in The Huth Library, 1880, vol. i, p. 158.

38116. HUTH BEQUEST. Vol. III. Psalter, etc., in Latin, containing (1) Rules for finding Easter, partly in French. f. 1 b;—(2) Calendar. f. 2;—(3) Eleven full-page miniatures (see below). f. 8 b;—(4) Psalter, Gallican version. f. 14 b;—(5) Canticles, etc., viz. "Confitebor" (f. 150), "Ego dixi" (f. 150 b), "Exultavit" (f. 151 b), "Cantemus" (f. 152 b), "Domine, audivi" (f. 153 b), "Audite, celi" (f. 155), "Te Deum" (f. 158 b), "Benedicite"

(f. 159 b), "Benedictus" (f. 160 b), "Magnificat" (f. 161), "Nunc dimittis" (f. 161 b), and "Quicumque vult" (f. 162) f. 150;—(6) Litany. f. 164;—(7) Vigils of the Dead. f. 169. The Calendar includes many English saints, Augustine (May 26), Botulph (June 17, erased), Swithun (July 2), Thomas (Translation, July 7, and Deposition, Dec. 29, both erased), Hugh (Translation, Oct. 6, and Deposition, Nov. 17), and Edmund the King (Nov. 20), being in blue, and Cuthbert (Mar. 20), Dunstan (May 19), Etheldreda (June 23), Kenelm (July 17), Oswald, King and Martyr (Aug. 5), Wilfrid (Oct. 12), and Edmund, Archbishop of Canterbury (Nov. 16), in red. The Translation and Deposition of St. Hugh point to Lincoln as the place of origin, and the former fixes the date at 1280 or later. Many erasures and insertions by a later hand (circ. 1400) have been made, apparently in order to make the Calendar agree with that of Sarum, e.g. the feasts of SS. Lucian, Sulpicius, and Batildis have been inserted in January, those of SS. Richard and Alphege in February, and the Translations of SS. Edmund, Richard, and Edward in June. But these insertions also include the Deposition of St. Oswald the Archbishop, Feb. 28, and the Translation of St. Wulstan, June 7, suggesting some connexion with Worcester at the later date. At Aug. 2 is the entry "Obitus Roberti de Vpton" in a charter hand of about 1300, perhaps referring to the Robert de Uptune who witnessed a Kingswood Abbey (co. Glouc.) deed in 1280 (W. H. Upton, Upton Family Records, 1893, p. 86). In the Litany St. Martial, the Apostle of the Limousin and first Bishop of Limoges, is included among the Apostles. The English saints are:—Martyrs, Alban, Alphege, Oswald, Edmund, Edward, Thomas (erased), and Kenelm; Confessors, Augustine and his companions, Dunstan, Cuthbert, Swithun, Guthlac, John [of Beverley], Wilfrid, Botulph, Chad, Hugh, and Edmund; Virgins, Etheldreda, Werburga, Mildred, Osith, Edith, Frideswide, and Hilda.

Vellum; ff. 174. 9¼ in. × 6½ in. Late XIII cent. (not earlier than 1280, see above). Probably written in the diocese of Lincoln. Gatherings of 8 leaves (i^6, ii^4, iii^4, xvii^9, xxiii^7). Finely illuminated by English artists, the decoration consisting of (a) Twenty-four small roundels in the Calendar, containing representations of the zodiacal signs and occupations proper to the several months, on coloured grounds;—(b) Eleven full-page miniatures, mostly in compartments, with Biblical and hagiographical scenes on grounds either diapered or of burnished and patterned gold, painted on thin pieces of vellum and pasted down (see Cat. of Huth Bequest, pl. 2, and Burlington Fine Arts Club, Cat. of Illum. MSS., 1908, pl. 42);—(c) Full pages of illumination at Ps. i, cix, historiated initials with partial borders to Ps. xxvi (see ib. pl. 3), xxxviii, li, lii, lxviii, lxxx, xcvii, ci (the initials to Ps. li and lxviii, on ff. 60, 73, which had been pasted down like the large miniatures, being lost), and partial border to Ps. ii (f. 15);—(d) Smaller initials in gold and colours to the other Psalms, etc., and line-endings and verse-initials (the latter elaborately flourished) in gold, red, and blue. The borders are of the cusped-bar type prevalent about the end of the 13th cent., with monsters, hound and hare, fox and cock, etc. Huth Bookplate. The Huth Library, iv, p. 1191; Burlington Fine Arts Club, *Cat. of Illum. 38117. Huth Bequest. Vol. IV. Romance of Merlin, etc., in French prose. The MS. has no marks of division, except into chapters and paragraphs; but it contains three distinct works, all belonging to the Arthurian cycle, and more particularly to the group associated with the name of Robert de Boron (see Romania, xxiv, p. 473). The first two, of which many other copies exist, appear to be at any rate based on Robert's actual compositions; but the third, although it introduces his name repeatedly as author, evidently does so merely as a literary device, and must be regarded as the work of another writer, who wished to bridge over the gap in the "Robert-cyklus." It is only extant in the present MS., and is of special interest as the principal source of Bks. i–iv of Malory's Morte Darthur. The whole contents of the volume are fully discussed by Gaston Paris in his introduction to Merlin, edited by himself and J. Ulrich for the Soc. des anc. textes français, 1886.

1. Joseph of Arimathaea: the prose romance corresponding to Robert de Boron's poem, sometimes called the Petit Saint Graal. Printed by E. Hucher, Le Saint-Graal, i, 1875, p. 209, with collations from this MS. on pp. 335–364; also by G. Weidner, Der Prosaroman von Joseph von Arimathia, 1881. The passage naming "Messires Roberz de Borron" as author in the Cangé MS. (Hucher, p. 275) is much condensed here (f. 18 b), and merely says "Ore dist apries cis contes," etc., without mentioning the author's name. Beg. imperf. (wanting a leaf), "fust boins desciples Ihesucrist." Ends "Et se ie le laissoie atant ester, uns ne saueroit que ces .iiij. parties seroient deuenues, ne por quel senefiance je les auoie departies." f. 1.
2. Merlin: the story of his marvellous birth, and of his life down to the coronation of Arthur. Answering to ff. i b–lxxvii b of the early printed Merlin (Paris, A. Vérard, 1498), vol. i, and attributed in some MSS. to Robert de Boron, but generally regarded as a prose rendering of his almost entirely lost poem. Printed from this MS. by G. Paris and J. Ulrich, Merlin, i, pp. 1–146. Other copies are in Add. MSS. 10292 (printed by H. O. Sommer, Le Roman de Merlin, 1894, pp. 1–92) and 32125, and Harley MS. 6340 (see H. L. D.

Ward, Cat. of Romances, i, 1883, pp. 343–4). Beg. "Chi endroit dist li contes que moult fu iries anemis." Ends "Ensi fu Artus esleus a roi, et tint la terre et le regne de Logres lonc tans a pais." f. 18 b.

3. Suite de Merlin: a continuation of the above, narrating various adventures of Arthur and his court, including the magical imprisonment of Merlin by Niviene in the "forest perilleuse." The source of Sir Thomas Malory's Morte Darthur for almost the whole of Bk. i, ch. 19–Bk. iv, ch. 29. Printed from this, the unique, MS. by G. Paris and J. Ulrich, Merlin, i, p. 147–ii, p. 254; and analysed by H. O. Sommer in his studies on Malory's sources (Morte Darthur, iii, 1891, pp. 58–148). Such expressions as "Me sires Robiers de Berron, qui cest conte mist en escrit" (f. 91), "Si comme meismes (for messires?) Robiers de Borron le deuisera apertement en son liure" (f. 116 b), etc., seem to indicate Robert de Boron as the author; but G. Paris has shown (Merlin, i, pp. xxv sqq.) that the work is a compilation made by a somewhat later writer to complete the cycle by linking the Merlin-romance to the Quest of the Saint Graal. Beg. "Ore dist que vns rois aprez le couronnement le roi Artu vint a vne grant court." Wants a leaf after f. 101, and two leaves after f. 133. Ends "Et deuisera dune autre matier[e] qui parlera dou graal, pour chou que cest li commenchemens de cest liure." f. 74.

Vellum; ff. ii + 226. 11½ in. × 8½ in. Beg. of XIV cent. Gatherings of 8 leaves (xi[6]), i and xiv wanting a leaf each, xviii wanting two leaves. Double columns. Sec. fol. (now f. 1) "fust boins desciples." Illuminated by French artists of average merit with 71 miniatures, mostly enclosed within large initials, to which partial borders of foliated bars, with birds, grotesques, and monsters, are attached; and with numerous smaller initials in gold and colours, chiefly decorative, but occasionally enclosing figures. For f. 160, see Cat. of Huth Bequest, pl. 4. Apparently belonged to the philologist Charles Du Fresne, Sieur Du Cange (b. 1610, d. 1688), a note on f. 1 being pronounced by a subsequent owner "de la main du fameux M[r] Du Cange d'Amiens." On the same page is the signature of [Jacques Joseph Guillaume Pierre, Comte de] Corbière (Minister of the Interior, etc., d. 1853). Inside the cover, "N° 261." Huth Bookplate. The Huth Library, iii, pp. 954–7.

38118. HUTH BEQUEST. Vol. V. The Apocalypse, with prologue and commentary, in French: the "version glosée," as found in the Paris MS., Bibl. Nat., fr. 403, and in many other MSS. (see L. Delisle and P. Meyer, L'Apocalypse en français, Soc. des anc. textes fr., 1901, pp. cci–ccxxix, cclvii sqq.). The prologue (wanting in fr. 403, but printed by Meyer, p. cclviii, from fr. 9574) is in two paragraphs, beginning respectively "Saint pol lapostre dit que tous iceus qui vuelent debonairement viure" and "Et saint iehan en ceste maniere uit ne mie seulement les figures." ff. 1, 1 b. It is a somewhat free translation from the Latin of Gilbert de la Porrée (S. Berger, La Bible française au moyen âge, 1884, p. 88; and see above, 38115). Text beg. "Ie iehan uostre frere et parconniers en tribulations"; commentary, "Par saint iehan sont senefie li bon prelat." f. 2. Both are printed by Meyer, pp. 1–131, from fr. 403 and two other MSS. At the end (f. 44 b) are a collect and secrets in commemoration of St. Leobonus (who is specially associated with Salagnac in Limousin), added by a later hand.

Vellum; ff. i + 44. 11 in. × 8 in. Early XIV cent., probably executed in the north of France. Double columns, usually of 30 lines. Sec. fol. "-te eglise." Gatherings of 8 leaves (last 4). With 70 miniatures in rectangular frames, on diapered or burnished gold grounds, of varying height but always of the same width as the column of text; and with initials in gold and colours throughout, the first page having a large initial, filled with conventional foliage, and a partial border with leafy terminals and the figures of a hare and pursuing hound. The miniatures are only mediocre in execution, and the MS. can hardly be reckoned as belonging precisely to either of the two families into which Delisle (op. cit. p. ii), divides the illuminated copies of the Apocalypse, though its affinities are with the second rather than the first. For ff. 14, 34, see Cat. of Huth Bequest, pl. 5. Belonged to the Jesuits' College (Collége de Clermont) at Paris, which was dispersed in 1764 (see f. 1, "Colleg. Parisien. Societ. Jesu, 44," and "Paraphé au desir de l'arrest du 5 juillet 1763. Mesnil"). Afterwards belonged to J. F. Vandevelde, 1796 (f. i b), and to the Chevalier de Coninck, 1833, 1856 (f. i b, Bookplate. The Huth Library, i, p. 40; Burlington Fine Arts Club, Cat. of Illum. MSS., 1908, no. 91; Delisle, op. cit. p. cxxxv.

38119. Huth Bequest. Vol. VI. Speculum Humanae Salvationis, etc., viz.:—

1. "Breuissima sententia Psalterii (so colophon, heading has 'Psalmorum breuissima exposicio') ordinata Auinione anno Domini millesimo trecentesimo quinquagesimo octauo per fratrem Robertum Boÿsselli ordinis fratrum minorum sanctissimi domini nostri pape capellanum commensalem de prouincia Turone[nsi].' A brief commentary on the Psalms, beg. "Beatus vir ... Vbi aduertendum quod vbi doctores." f. 2.

2. Two short expositions of the Lord's Prayer, the first beg. "Pater noster septem partes habet," the second headed "Sequitur alia prolixior et utilior, maxime ad predicandum," and beg. "Pater noster. Hec est oratio commendabilis." f. 16 b.
3. "Commonitorium directiuum simplicium volentium pure et integraliter confiteri, compilatum a fratre Henrico de Alemania, ordinis fratrum sancti Augustini"; dealing with the five senses, the Ten Commandments, the six works of mercy, the Seven Sacraments, and the seven capital vices. Another copy, written in 1349, is in Arundel MS. 379, f. 28. Beg. "Cupiens generaliter a pueritia." f. 17 b.
4. "Incipit liber humane saluationis": the story of the Fall and Redemption, set forth in 134 coloured drawings, with explanatory text in rhyming Latin prose. The first eight pictures illustrate the fall of Lucifer, the creation and fall of man, and the Flood. The remaining 126 are in groups of four (the last imperfect), the first in each group forming a series illustrative of the Life of the Virgin and of Christ, the other three representing Old Testament or legendary types. For those on ff. 28 b, 29, see Cat. of Huth Bequest, pl. 6. The complete work, which was composed in or about 1324, perhaps by Ludolph of Saxony (see P. Perdrizet, Étude sur le Speculum Humanae Salvationis, 1908, pp. 34–46), contains 192 pictures and 4924 lines of text. The text has been published, with the whole series of pictures from a Munich MS. and many other illustrations, together with an elaborate discussion of the work and list of extant copies (omitting the present MS., but including 16 others in the British Museum), by J. Lutz and P. Perdrizet, Speculum Humanae Salvationis, 1907–9. The present MS. omits chapters 14, 15 (8 drawings), 35–38 (16 drawings), and wants at the end the second half of ch. 40 (2 drawings) and the whole of chapters 41–45 (32 drawings). Prologue beg. "Qui ad iustitiam erudiunt multos"; text (f. 21 b), "In quo patet casus hominis et modus reparationis." f. 20 b.
5. Innocent III [Lotario de' Conti di Segni], De Contemptu Mundi. Beg. imperf. "et iniquitatibus propriis" (lib. i, cap. 3, see Migne, Patrol. Lat., ccxvii, col. 703). At the end is a short additional chapter, "Quid sit proprium Romanorum," followed by the date 1358 (apparently added later, and referring perhaps to the date of composition of art. 1), and the colophon "Explicit liber Lotharii leuite Cardinalis de vilitate condicionis humane," etc. f. 56.

Vellum; ff. i + 67 (f. 55 blank). 13¼ in. × 9½ in. Late XIV cent. Gatherings of 10 or 12 leaves. Sec. fol. (f. 3) "Quo viso." Artt. 4 and 5 in double columns. Written in Germany. On f. 1 b is a full-page coloured drawing of David and Bathsheba, very coarsely executed. On an inserted leaf at the beginning (f. i) are the arms of Dietrich von Moers, Archbishop of Cologne 1414–1463. On f. 1, "Reinerus Eltman me iusto titulo possidet: Anno 1562." Huth Bookplate. The Huth Library, iv, p. 1382.

38120. Huth Bequest. Vol. VII. Les Trois Pèlerinages: three poems, viz. Pèlerinage de Vie Humaine and Pèlerinage de l'Âme, two allegories on the pilgrimage of the soul in this world and the next, and Pèlerinage de Jésus Christ, a version of the Gospel-narrative, introducing some allegories. Composed in 1330–1358 by Guillaume de Deguileville, a monk of Chaalis in Valois. Another copy of all three poems is in Add. MS. 22937; the first two are also in Add. MS. 25594, and the first alone is in Harley MS. 4399. For descriptions of these, and of MSS. of the English translations, together with a brief analysis of the work, see H. L. D. Ward, Cat. of Romances, ii, 1893, pp. 558–585. All three poems have since been edited, from these and many other MSS. (including the present), by J. J. Stürzinger for the Roxburghe Club, viz. Le Pelerinage de Vie Humaine, 1893, Le Pelerinage de l'Ame, 1895, and Le Pelerinage Jhesucrist, 1897.

1. Pèlerinage de Vie Humaine. The first recension, composed in 1330–1332. In four books. Prologue beg. "A ceulx de ceste region"; Bk. i, "Auis mestoit si com dormoye" (f. 1 b); Bk. ii, "Apres ce que jay dit deuant" (f. 42 b); Bk. iii, "Or escoutez tres doulce gent" (f. 74); Bk. iv, "Or vous diray, seigneurs, comment" (f. 92 b). Ends (f. 109 b) "Que Dieux doint aux mors et aux vifs. Amen. Finito libro sit laus et gloria Christo. Cy finist le iiij^e liure de vie humaine. Explicit le pelerinaige de vie humaine." f. 1.
2. "Cy commence le pelerinage de lame." Composed, as Stürzinger has shown (see his edition, p. vii), between 1355 (date of the second recension of the Pèlerinage de Vie Humaine) and 1358 (date of the Pèlerinage de Jésus Christ), and not, as was formerly supposed, immediately after the first recension of the Vie Humaine. Beg. "Apres que je fus esueilliez." Ends (f. 197), like many of the other MSS., at l. 11029, omitting the last 132 lines, "Le pri et a ceulx qui lorront. Explicit le pelerinaige de lame." f. 111.
3. Pèlerinage de Jésus Christ, composed in 1358. Beg. "Entre les belles paraboles." Ends "Et que prient pour moy leur pry. Explicit le pelerinage de Jhesucrist. Deo gracias." The author's prayer follows (f. 277 b), headed "Cy sensuit loroison du pelerin contenant en brief tout le pelerinage que Jhesucrist fist en ce monde." It begins "Doulz Jhesus fil de Dieu le pere," and ends "Ou nous puissons auoir nostre estre. Amen." f. 199.

Vellum; ff. i + 279 (f. 198 blank). 13 in. × 9¾ in. Circ. 1400. Gatherings of 8 leaves (xxv[6], last[1]). Double columns of 32 to 38 lines. Illuminated initials in gold and colours throughout, a large one, filled with conventional foliage and having a partial border attached, at the beginning of each of the three poems; and 146 illustrative drawings, slightly touched with colour, of French work, fairly executed. The drawings prefixed to artt. 1 and 3 fill half the page, the rest are much smaller. Many of them have been reproduced in Stürzinger's editions of the three poems. For those on ff. 131 b, 218 b, see Cat. of Huth Bequest, pl. 7 a, b. Formerly belonged to the Rev. Thomas Corser (sale-cat., pt. iv, 1870, lot 306). Huth bookplate. The Huth Library, ii, p. 635.

38121. Huth Bequest. Vol. VIII. The Apocalypse, in Latin; with the usual preface, headed "Incipit prefatio sancti Iheronimi presbitri in apocalipsi sancti Iohannis," and beg. "Iohannes apostolus et euangelista." No commentary. The text ends on f. 22, and the remaining leaves have the recto page blank, the verso filled with miniatures.

Vellum; ff. i + 47. 12¾ in. × 8¾ in. Circ. 1400. Gatherings of 8 leaves (v[6], vi[9]). A large ornamental initial in red and blue at the beginning of the text (f. 4). Four full-page and 90 half-page miniatures, the first eight and the last five representing scenes in the life of St. John, the remainder illustrating the Apocalypse. The whole series corresponds in subject to nos. 1–54, 57–95 (omitting 65 bis, 68 bis, and 69 bis) in Delisle's list (L. Delisle and P. Meyer, L'Apocalypse en français au xiiie siècle, Soc. des anc. textes fr., 1901, p. xii). According to his classification therefore the MS. falls into the first family; and the designs are nearly identical with those in the Oxford MS. Bodl. D. 4. 17 (The Apocalypse of S. John the Divine, ed. H. O. C[oxe], Roxburghe Club, 1876) and the Paris MS. fr. 403 (ed. Delisle and Meyer, as above), both of which belong to that family. For descriptions of these and other MSS., together with a full discussion of the whole subject of illustrations of the Apocalypse, see Delisle, as above, pp. i–cc; supplemented by M. R. James, The Trinity College Apocalypse, Roxburghe Club, 1909. The miniatures in the present MS. are somewhat coarsely executed, probably by Dutch illuminators; the backgrounds are sometimes of highly burnished gold, more often a large coarse diaper. For the lower miniature on f. 20 b, see Cat. of Huth Bequest, pl. 7 c. As in the Oxford MS., descriptive extracts from the Latin text are written as titles across the field of the pictures, on a white ground. 38122. Huth Bequest. Vol. IX. Bible History, in Flemish: viz. the Octateuch, 1–4 Kings, Ezra, and Tobit, with a Prologue, and with a commentary mainly derived from the Historia Scholastica of Petrus Comestor. The Prologue begins "Onse here god voirsiende die grote droecheyt van deuocien." f. 1. It contains (f. 1 b) a reference to "dat passionael [other copies add the words "ofte aurea legenda"] dat wi hiervoirtijts te duytsche vten latijn maecten," and further on (f. 2 b) the author's explanation that he has glossed difficult passages in the text "wt scolastica hystoria." Printed from a MS. of circ. 1400 by I. Le Long, Boek-zaal der Nederduytsche Bybels, 1732, p. 235, and from several MSS. by C. H. Ebbinge Wubben, Over Middelnederl. Vertalingen van het O. Testament, 1903, p. 66; also prefixed, in an abridged and otherwise modified form, to the early printed edition (Delft, 1477) of the Dutch Old Testament. The last-named edition contains the same Biblical text as the present MS., but omits the commentary. Prologue, text, and commentary are all contained in Add. MSS. 10043, 15310–11, 15410, and 16951, described by K. de Flou and E. Gailliard, Beschrijving van Middelned. Hss. in Engeland, nos. 1–5 (Verslagen en Mededeelingen der K. Vlaamsche Acad., Ghent, 1895, pp. 39–54), and by R. Priebsch, Deutsche Hss. in England, ii, 1901, pp. 100, 133, 162. These and many other MSS. of what he calls "De Bijbel van 1360" are also described by Wubben, op. cit. pp. 7–41.

At the end (ff. 379–381) are entries of deaths and burials chiefly in the family of Van Zu[y]len van Nyvelt, in and about Utrecht, 1517–1558; also a note of the Rhine or Leck having overflowed as far as Schalkwijk on 2 Dec. 1536.

Vellum; ff. iii + 381 (ff. 206, 249, 250 blank, but for some scribbled memoranda on f. 250 b). About the middle of the xv cent. 11 in × 7½ in. Double columns of 42 lines. Gatherings of 12 or 8 leaves (i–viii, x–xx^{12}, xxi–xxxvii^{8}, ix^{12} besides an inserted pair, ff. 108, 109, xxxviii^{3}, a blank leaf having been cut away at the end). Headings in red, initials in red and blue, with large flourished initials at the beginnings of books. The text is illustrated, as far as the end of Ruth, with pen-and-ink drawings, touched here and there with gold, enclosed in rectangular frames set in the column of text, of the same width, approximately, as the text, viz. 2½ in., but varying in height from 2 to 3 in. These are very finely executed by Flemish artists, the drawing being exquisitely delicate; for twelve of them see Cat. of Huth Bequest, pl. 8, 9. In the remaining books are blank spaces for a continuation of the series. Apparently executed for a member of the Van Lockhorst family, of the province of Utrecht: see arms on ff. 29 b, 73 b, 112 b, 156, 158, 174 b, 214 b, 238. Afterwards probably in the possession of the family of Van Zuylen van Nyvelt: see death entries at end, noted above. Huth bookplate. The Huth Library, i, p. 165.

38123. Huth Bequest. Vol. X. Hours, etc., in Dutch. Contents:—(1) Calendar. In red, Pontian (Jan. 14), Servatius (May 13), Boniface (June 5), Lebuin (June 25 and Nov. 12), Lambert (Sept. 17), Remy (Oct. 1), Victor and Gereon (Oct. 10), Willibrord (Nov. 7); pointing clearly to the diocese of Utrecht. f. 1 b;—(2) Notes on the ecclesiastical divisions of the year. f. 13 b;—(3) "Die seuen getide van der glorioser ioncfrouwen Marien": Hours of the Virgin. f. 16 b;—(4) "Die seuen getide van der ewigher wijsheit": Hours of the Eternal Wisdom. f. 67;—(5) "Die seuen lange getide van den heiligen cruce": Hours of the Cross. Slightly imperfect, wanting a leaf after f. 116. f. 94;—(6) "Die seuen getide van den heiligen geeste": Hours of the Holy Ghost. f. 127;—(7) Penitential Psalms and Litany. ff. 155, 166;—(8) Memorials of SS. Peter and Catherine. ff. 181, 182;—(9) "Die lange vigilie voer die gheloeuighe sielen": Vigils of the Dead. f. 183.

Vellum; ff. i + 232. 4½ in. × 3½ in. Second half of xv cent. Gatherings of 10 leaves (i^2, with 4 single leaves, iii^8, with 1 single leaf, xiii wants a leaf after f. 116, xvi^{12}, with a blank leaf cut off, xxiv^4, with 3 single leaves). The MS. contains twenty-one engravings, seventeen of which are by the artist known as the "Master of the Berlin Passion," after a Passion series inserted in a MS. prayer-book of 1482 in the Berlin Cabinet of Engravings, while the remaining four are by much less important and original engravers (see Cat. of Huth Bequest, p. 13, pl. 10). At the principal divisions (ff. 18, 68, 95, 128, 155, 184) are large decorative initials in blue, red, white, and green, with gilt studs, and full borders of gilt bars and disks, with flowers and foliage in gold and colours. Minor border-decorations in the same style fill the margins of the pages which contain the coloured engravings. Apparently belonged to the artist Maximiliaan Anne 'sGravesande Guicherit (d. 1831, at Delft, see A. J. van der Aa, Biogr. Woordenboek, vii, 1862, p. 546): see printed label on f. i, "'s Gravesande Guicherit." Afterwards to William Bragge, F.S.A. (sale-cat. 1876, lot. 105). Huth bookplate. The Huth Library, ii, p. 731. (This MS. has been transferred to the Department of Prints and Drawings, but is here described for convenience of reference.)

ordinem Humiliatorum"; the "Capitulum" in Compline (f. 74 b) beg. "Sorores, sobrie estote." f. 1 b;—(2) "Septem psalmi penitentiales." f. 81;—(3) "Letanie," including Bassianus [Bishop of Lodi], Geminianus [Bishop of Modena], "Miserilianus," and Liberata. f. 103;—(4) "Officium sancte crucis," including (f. 129) a prayer with the petition "Exaudi me . . . peccatricem." f. 121;—(5) "Officium sancti Spiritus." f. 130;—(6) Vigils of the Dead. f. 138;—(7) "Letanie beate virginis Marie." f. 205;—(8) Prayers, partly in Italian. f. 214 b. Including (a) Eight prayers, each beg. "O Domine Iesu Christe," said in the rubric to have been indulgenced by St. Gregory the Pope in consequence of his vision of the Image of Pity (cf. H. Thurston in The Month, Sept. 1908, p. 312). f. 234 b;—(b) "O anima Christi," an expanded version of the "Anima Christi.' f. 239;—(c) Prayer to be said before the "Sudario," beg. "Dio te salua sancta faza." f. 243 b;—(d) "Obsecro te," etc., headed "Oratio sancti Augustini." f. 247;—(e) "Versi miraculosi da dire souenzo," beg. "Illumina oculos meos." f. 249 b;—(f) Prayer on the Seven Words, beg. "Domine Iesu Christe, qui septem uerba" [by Beda (?), cf. Migne, Patrol. Lat., xciv, col. 561]. f. 251 b;—(g) Fifteen Oes [not the same as those found in English devotional books], beg. "O suauitas et requies." With rubric at the end, in Italian, setting forth the spiritual profits to be gained by their use before a crucifix. f. 255;—(h) Prayers to, and in commemoration of, St. Jerome. f. 272 b;—(k) "Oratio sancti Augustini comprehendens horas canonicas passionis Christi, confirmata a sancto Gregorio papa cum indulgentia .ccc^a. dierum," beg. "Domine Yesu Christe, tu in nocte uinctus." f. 282 b;—(l) Prayer to St. John the Baptist, beg. "Beatissime Iohannis (sic) baptista." f. 284 b;—(m) Prayer to the Virgin, beg. "Ave sanctissima"; with rubric "Sistus papa quartus concessit deuote dicenti suprascriptam orationem duodecim milia annorum de uera indulgentia pro qualibet uice. Datum Rome anno sui pontificatus .9°. M CCCC^o LXXX." f. 285 b. Such phrases as "me infelicem famulam tuam," "mihi peccatrici," etc., occur in many of the prayers (ff. 224 b, 230 b, etc.). At the end (ff. 286 b–287 b) another prayer, beg. "[P]ietate tua," has been added by a later hand.

Vellum; ff. 288. $4\frac{3}{4}$ in. × $3\frac{1}{2}$ in. End of XV cent. (after 1480, see above). Gatherings of 8 leaves (xxvi^4, xxxi^2, last^2). Sec. fol. "Deus in." Finely illuminated by artists of the Milanese school, with fourteen full-page and two smaller miniatures and fifteen historiated initials. Smaller initials in gold, on blue and crimson grounds decorated with white tracery, throughout. The miniatures are all in the characteristic Italian Renaissance manner, and so are many of the borders which surround them (see Cat. of Huth Bequest, pl. 11). Some of the latter, however, and most of the partial borders attached to the historiated initials, show signs of Franco-Flemish influence, consisting mainly of scroll-work designs of foliage, flowers and fruit painted on the plain vellum surface. The border on f. 205 is in a different style, but still suggests Flemish influence; it is composed of pansies on a gold ground. Apparently belonged in 1801 to the Cistercian monastery of Salem, or Salmansweiler, in the diocese of Constance (dissolved in 1803, see A. Krieger, Topogr. Wörterb. des Grossherzogtums Baden, ii, 1905, coll. 722–732): see f. 1 b, "B : M : V : in Salem"; f. 288 b, "Reverendissimus DD. Robertus [Schlecht] Abbas in Salem. Andreas Prior in Salem. anno 1801." Huth bookplate. The Huth Library, iii, p. 1056. Burlington Fine Arts Club, Cat. of Illum. MSS., no. 261, pl. 157.

38125. Huth Bequest. Vol. XII. Poems, in Italian, by Petrarch, viz. :—

1. Sonetti 1–42 and Canzoni 1–12, agreeing with pp. 1–85 of Le Rime di Francesco Petrarca, ed. G. Mestica, 1896, except that Sonetti 2 and 3 are transposed, as in the Laurentian MS. pl. xli, n. 17. The first four lines of Son. 1 are omitted, except for the illuminated initial (doubtless intended to have been written in gold, cf. art. 2); and so are the initials of all the other poems. f. 3.
2. Trionfi, viz. Trionfo d' Amore, f. 34; della Pudicizia, f. 50 b; della Morte, f. 56; della Fama, f. 63 b; del Tempo, f. 77 b; dell' Eternità, f. 81 b. Agreeing with Mestica's edition, as above, pp. 522–660, with the following exceptions:—In the Trionfo d' Amore the last sixteen lines of Canto 3 (f. 45 b) are as in the footnote on p. 559. In the Trionfo della Morte the last line is omitted. In the Trionfo della Fama Canto 1 (ff. 63 b–67) agrees with the version printed by Mestica in an appendix (pp. 670–674); Canto 2 (ff. 68–70 b) agrees with Mestica's Canto 1 (pp. 605–614), except the opening 24 lines (printed by Mestica, pp. 604–605, footnote); Canto 3 (ff. 70 b–74) = Mestica's Canto 2 (pp. 614–623); Canto 4 (ff. 74–76 b) = Mestica's Canto 3 (pp. 625–632). The first three lines of Trionfo d'Amore in gold capitals; the first three lines of the other Trionfi, and canto-initials throughout, are omitted (cf. art. 1). Ff. 44 b and 54 b have been left blank, but the text runs on in each case without a lacuna. Ff. 85 and 86 have been misplaced in binding; they should follow f. 57.

Vellum; ff. 88 (ff. 2, 87, 88 blank). 7¾ in. × 5 in. Late xv cent. Gatherings of 10 leaves (quire i has 2 leaves, quire v has 11, and quire x has 5 besides the two which belong to quire vii). Neatly written in minuscules of the Italian Renaissance type known as "scrittura umanistica," and decorated by illuminators of the Milanese school with three full-page miniatures, one nearly full-page, and one small one, and with initials and full borders on seven pages (ff. 3, 34, 50 b, 56, 63 b, 77 b, 81 b). The borders especially, filled with putti, cornucopiae, and other Renaissance ornaments on blue, dark green, and crimson grounds, recall the decorations of the Sforza Book of Hours (Add. MS. 34294, executed for the Duchess Bona about 1490), and clearly emanate from the same school. For ff. 33 b, 34, see Cat. of Huth Bequest, pl. 12. Apparently executed for a member of the Romei family of Ferrara (created Counts of Bergantino in 1462, see L. Ughi, Dizion. degli uomini illustri Ferraresi, ii, 1804, p. 137), one of the borders (f. 34) having a shield of arms, per fess, azure and argent, a greyhound salient counterchanged collared gules; but the collar is omitted in the Romei arms as given by A. Libanori, Ferrara d'Oro, iii, 1674, pp. 34, 274. In Italian binding, 17–18th cent., of red morocco elaborately tooled in gilt, with a fan-pattern centre and corner-pieces. Huth bookplate. The Huth Library, iv, p. 1132; Burlington Fine Arts Club, Cat. of Illum. MSS., no. 193, pl. 127.

38126. Huth Bequest. Vol. XIII. Hours, etc., in Latin. Contents:—(1) Calendar, including Boniface (June 5), Remy (Oct. 1), and Martin (Nov. 11) in gold, Servais (May 13) and Eloy (Dec. 1) in blue, Arnulph, Bishop [of Metz] (July 18), Bertin (Sept. 5), and Gereon (Oct. 10) in black; also Bernardino of Siena (May 20) in blue. f. 1 b;—(2) "Officium (i.e. Horae) passionis Domini nostri Ihesu Christi." f. 15;—(3) Hymn on the Passion, beg. "Omnibus consideratis." Nearly identical with F. W. E. Roth, Lat. Hymnen, 1887, no. 81, but divided into eight sections of two stanzas each, and having two additional sections at the end, addressed to the Virgin and St. John ("O Maria plasma nati" = Chevalier, Repert. Hymn., no. 30648, and "O Iohannes euangelista"). Followed by versicles and a prayer. f. 32;—(4) "Salutaciones ad sacrosanctum sacramentum," with a prayer to the users of which, "inter eleuationem corporis Christi et tercium Agnus Dei," Boniface "sextus" (for VIII, 1294–1303) granted 2000 years' indulgence "ad supplicationem regis Francie Philippi" (IV, 1285–1314). f. 35 b;—(5) "Hore sancte Crucis." f. 40;—(6) "Hore de Sancto Spiritu." f. 46;—(7) "Missa beate Marie virginis." f. 50;—(8) "Hore beate Marie uirginis secundum consuetudinem Romane curie." f. 54;—(9) "Officium [B.M.V.] quod dicitur per totum aduentum." f. 103;—(10) "Septem psalmi penitenciales" and Litany. f. 110, 117;—(11) Memoriae sanctorum, viz. "De S. Veronica" ("Salue sancta facies" = Chevalier, no. 18189), f. 123; "De Trinitate," f. 124; "De S. Sacramento," f. 124 b; "Oratio S. Gregorii ad Christum redemptorem nostrum," f. 126; "De S. Iohanne baptista," f. 127; "De S. Sebastiano martire" ("O sancte Sebastiane" = Chev. 13708), f. 128; "Oracio B. Thome de Aquino," beg. "Concede michi misericors Deus," f. 130; "De S. Iohanne euangelista," f. 132; "De S. Anthonio confessore," f. 134; "De S. Iacobo," f. 136; "De S. Christoforo," f. 138; "De S. Georgio" ("Georgi martir inclite, te decet laus et gloria," not in Chev.), f. 140; "De S. Nicolao confessore," f. 141; "De S. Laurentio," f. 142; "De S. Katherina" ("Gaude uirgo Katherina" = Chev. 6991, f. 144), f. 142 b; "De S. Barbara," f. 146; "De S. Appollonia," f. 147; "De S. Maria Magdalena," f. 149;—(12) "Vigilie mortuorum." f. 151;—(13) "Missa pro mortuis." f. 179;—(14) "Missa omnium angelorum." f. 182;—(15) "Missa in die omnium sanctorum." f. 185; —(16) "In die Natiuitatis ad missam." f. 188;—(17) "Officium (i.e. Missa) sancte crucis." f. 191;—(18) "Officium in die ueneris sancte (sic)": Adoration of the Cross, and Passion according to St. John. f. 193;—(19) "Septem uerba Domini nostri Ihesu Christi in cruce pendentis": a prayer. f. 202;—(20) "Deuota salutacio ad beatam uirginem Mariam": the "Stabat mater." f. 203 b;—(21) "In die Pasche ad missam." f. 206;—(22) Memoria "in ascensione Domini." f. 210;—(23) "Missa de Trinitate." f. 211;—(24) "Psalterium de passione Domini.' f. 215;—(25) "Psalterium sancti Ieronimi." f. 228;—(26) "Obsecro te" and "O intemerata." ff. 241, 243;—(27) "Orationes dominicales" throughout the year. f. 245.

At the beginning (ff. i–ii b, 1) are an "Oraison a son bon angle" and "Oraison (i.e. Memoria) de sainct Louys" in Latin, and prayers to Christ and the Virgin and "Meditations sainct Augustin" in French, in various hands of the 16th and 17th centt. At the end (ff. 252 b, iii–v) are prayers in French, 16th cent., by a lady ("pecheresse je suy"), including an invocation of St. Anne; described in a slightly more recent hand as "Orazioni di una deuota, la quale possedè il presente libro." The posterior cover is lined with a fragment of a 14th–15th cent. Latin theological MS., containing part of an exposition of Matth. xxvi. 41.

Vellum; ff. viii + 252 (ff. 38, 214 blank). 6 in. × 4½ in. Circ. 1500. With 24 full-page miniatures and 74 smaller ones, including two occupation-pictures in small roundels for each month in the Calendar. Full borders to the twelve Calendar-pages and to all the pages with small miniatures, as well as to some of those with large miniatures; partial borders to all the text-pages. For eight of the full-page miniatures and eight other pages, see Cat. of Huth Bequest, pl. 13–16. The whole decoration is not only profuse but exquisitely finished, and the volume is one of the most perfect examples of Flemish illumination of the period. It belongs, in fact, to that remarkable group of MSS. whose best-known representative is the Grimani Breviary at Venice; for others see Burlington Magazine, x, 1906–7, p. 400, and for a fuller list G. Coggiola, Le Bréviaire Grimani, 1908 (introd. to the Reproduction complète, ed. S. de Vries and S. Morpurgo, 1904, etc.), p. 147. Probably executed by Bruges artists, it shows the influence of Memlinc and David in many of the miniatures. The borders are mostly of the characteristic late-Flemish style, flowers, strawberries, birds, butterflies, and other insects, painted with the most minute naturalism, together with sprays or scrolls of more or less conventional foliage, on grounds of pale straw-colour, dead-gold, grey, light green, or pink; but the border-frame on one page (f. 67) is filled with cameos, pearls, and other Renaissance ornaments, on another (f. 92) with lattice-work, each lozenge containing an escallop. The miniatures vary in style, and are doubtless by more than one hand; but in them, as in the borders, an exceptionally high level of excellence is maintained. Six of the large miniatures (ff. 45 b, 97 b, 102 b, 135 b, 148 b, 240 b) are strikingly different from the rest in style, having figures on a much larger scale, with backgrounds of dead-gold instead of sky and landscape; and two of these (ff. 135 b, 148 b) are not improbably by a different artist from the other four. Landscape is treated in most of the miniatures (small as well as large) with the skill which characterized the school; particularly in the large miniatures on ff. 66 b, 79 b, 137 b, 139 b, and in the Calendar-medallions. The colouring is soft and harmonious throughout. Flemish (Bruges?) binding, circ. 1500, of wooden boards covered with leather, stamped on each cover with two impressions of a rectangular panel consisting of a border with the legend "Ora pro nobis sancta dei genitrix vt digni efficiamur promissione xpristi," surrounding an inner panel in two compartments, each of which contains a branch of foliage enclosing within its curves five figures facing those in the other compartment: two pelicans, two stags, a pheasant (?) and a peacock (?), a hare and a greyhound, two eagles with outstretched wings. The space between the two impressions is filled with a rectangular stamp of four lozenges, containing alternately a quatrefoil and a fleur-de-lys, the spaces outside the lozenges being filled alternately with four fleur-de-lys and four trefoils. Somewhat similar bindings are described [by W. H. J. Weale] in the South Kensington Catalogue of Bookbindings, 1894, nos. 305, 314. Huth bookplate. The Huth Library, ii, p. 723.

B. PEDIGREE of the Gordons of Cairnfield, of which family came Maj.-Gen. W. Gordon.

C. PEDIGREE of the Steuarts of Auchluncart and Tanachie, of which family came Harriet, wife of Maj.-Gen. W. Gordon; by R[obert?] G[ordon?], [his son], 1907.

The following MSS., 38128–38167, formed part of the library of Sir Thomas Phillipps, Bart., of Middle Hill, co. Worc., and Cheltenham (d. 1872).

38128. CHRONIQUES DE FRANCE or Chroniques de St. Denis: to the death of Philip Augustus only, corresponding to vols. i–iv, p. 205, of Paulin Paris' ed., Les Grandes Chroniques de France, 1836–1838. Without title. This is the earliest in date of the copies of the Chroniques in the Museum collection. On the last page (f. 308) are inserted two poems (printed by P. Paris, iv, pp. 207, 208, from the Ste. Geneviève MS.), one in Fr., on the lessons to be learnt from the book, beg.

"Rois Phelippes de France, qui tant ies renommez,
Je te rent le rommans qui des rois est remez;
Tant a cil trauillie qui Primas est nommez Que il est, dieu merci, parfaiz et consonmez."

the other, in Lat., on the duties of kingship, beg.

"Ut bene regna regas per que bene regna reguntur Hec documenta legas que libri fine sequuntur."

At the foot a 15th cent. hand has added a note on the death of Charles [VII], 22 July, [14]61, and the coronation of his successor [Louis XI].

Vellum; ff. iv + 308. $10\frac{3}{8}$ in. × 7 in. Late XIII cent. Gatherings of 12 leaves (last[8]). Double columns of 46 lines, well written with flourished initials in blue and red. Sec. fol. "alemaingne." A few leaves in the earlier part are damaged and have been repaired. Modern French tooled green morocco binding. On f. 1 is the name of a former owner (18th cent.), N. Tauxier. Later the volume belonged to [Louis Jean Nicolas] Monmerqué (d. 1860), who has added some notes (dated 1855) at the beginning concerning the binding, etc. It was offered for sale by him through Potier (1851, no. 2843), but was bought in, after which he had it repaired and bound by Boutigny (receipt, f. ii). Bought by Sir Thomas Phillipps, Bart., in 1862 at the sale of the "reserved" portion of the Libri collection (sale-cat., lot 140). Phillipps MS. 16381 (sale-cat. 1911, lot 220).

38129. WILLIAM OF MALMESBURY, "De gestis regum Anglorum" (f. 1) and "Historia Novella" (f. 181): the third recension, with the dedicatory epistle at the end of the third book, being the MS. Ce² of Stubbs's edition (Rolls Series, 1887, 1889) and E² in that of Sir T. D. Hardy (Engl. Hist. Soc., 1840), for both of which it was collated. A description of it is given by Hardy, Descriptive Catalogue (Rolls Series, 1862–1871), ii, p. 159, and Stubbs, op. cit. i, p. lxxxii. The text is closely related to that of the Margam MS., Royal 13 D. ii, though not a transcript of it, both, in the opinion of Sir T. D. Hardy, being copied from the author's autograph. The "Historia Novella" is imperfect through the loss of several leaves; the missing portion, from "Cuius concilii" (Stubbs, § 492, p. 574) to "impedimenta" (§ 519, p. 592), has been supplied on printed pages (ff. 195–198) copied from Hardy's edition.

Vellum; ff. ii + 200. 10 in. × 7 in. Early xv cent. Gatherings of 12 leaves. Initials, many roughly decorated, in red and green. Sec. fol. "arcuum exinanita." On f. 1 is an obliterated inscription (16th cent.), "liber Hospitalis . . . . ." In 1635 the MS. belonged to Sir Roger Twysden, who has prefixed a table of contents and written headings to several pages. Subsequently it passed into the possession of the Sebright family, and at the sale of part of Sir John Sebright's library in 1807 (lot 1190) it was bought by Richard Heber, from whom it passed (sale-cat. 1836, lot 1006) to Sir Thomas Phillipps. Phillipps MS. 8239 (sale-cat. 1911, lot 668).

2. Bede, "Ecclesiastica Historia Gentis Anglorum." The text is of the so-called "C-type" (probably a later recension of the work by Bede himself), agreeing with C in all the test passages given by Plummer in the introduction to his edition (Oxford, 1896, i, p. xciv) and in many minor points throughout. The present MS. was not used by Plummer in preparing his edition. Preface beg. "Gloriosissimo regi Ceuulfo Beda famulus Christi et presbiter"; text beg. "Britannia Occeani insvla." f. 10.

Vellum; ff. i + 109. 11 in. × 7⅛ in. XII cent. Written in England, in four or more hands. Gatherings mostly of 8 leaves (i^{10}, ii^{2}, vi^{7}, vii^{5}, xiii^{6}). Sec. fol. "inerat." Initials in red. On the back of the flyleaf a fifth, only slightly later, hand has added, "Festivitas Sanctorum Patriarcharum Abraam, Ysiac (sic), et Iacob, officium ad missam" for 6 Oct. Bought by Sir Thomas Phillipps at the sale of the Libri collection (1859, lot 140). Phillipps MS. 16250 (sale-cat. 1911, lot 753).

5. Statute of Westminster I; 1275. Fr. f. 21 b.
6. Statute of Gloucester, 1278; with the explanations. Fr. After a short preface ("Pour les grants meschefs," etc.), differing from that in Statutes of the Realm, the statute begins at cap. i, "Come auant ces heures" (Stat. vol. i, p. 47), and there are some differences in the order of chapters. The text of the explanations (Lat.) differs considerably from that in Stat. f. 30 b.
7. Statute of Westminster II; 1285. Lat. Cap. xlix (Fr.; Stat. i, p. 95) is here the last. f. 33 b.
8. Statute "de religiosis"; 1279. Lat. f. 50 b.
9. Statute of Westminster III, i.e. "Quia emptores"; 1290. Lat. f. 51.
10. Statute of Merchants, i.e. the second; 1285. Fr. f. 51 b.
11. Statute of Winchester; 1285. Fr. f. 53 b.
12. Statute of Lincoln or "de vicecomitibus"; 1316. Fr. f. 55.
13. Statute "de Scaccario," i.e. "de escaetoribus"; 1301. Lat. f. 55 b.
14. Statute "de conspiratoribus"; 1305. Fr. and Lat. f. 56 b.
15. "Modus faciendi homagium et fidelitatem"; of uncertain date (Stat. i, p. 227). Fr. f. 56 b.

16. "Prerogatiua regis"; of uncertain date (Stat. i, p. 226). Lat. f. 57.
17. Statute of Champerty, 1292: the first part of the statute printed in Stat. i, p. 216. Fr. f. 59.
18. Statute "de conspiratoribus": the second part of that in Stat. i, p. 216. The text agrees with that of Tottell as there quoted. Lat. f. 59.
19. View of Frankpledge; of uncertain date (Stat. i, p. 246). Fr. f. 59 b.
20. "Articuli super cartas"; 1300. Fr. f. 60.
21. "Composicio monete et mensurarum": the ordinance beg. "Per discrecionem" and ending "pars quarterii" given in Stat. i, p. 200, note 22, from Rot. Pat. 2 Ric. II, p. 2, m. 20. f. 63 b.
22. Statute at Westminster, 4 Edw. III, 1330, capp. xii (Stat. i, p. 264) and xiv (p. 265), without heading. Fr. f. 63 b.
23. Statute of York, 1335, cap. i, with a differently worded commencement (Stat. i, p. 270). Fr. f. 64.
24. Statute "de operariis": the two statutes, here given as one, at Westminster, 1351 (Stat. i, pp. 311–316). Fr. f. 65.
25. Statute at Westminster, 25 Edw. III, 1352, cap. ii (Stat. i, pp. 319–320), without heading. Fr. f. 69.
26. The same, capp. xx–xxiii (Stat. i, pp. 323–324). Fr. f. 69 b.
27. Statute of the Staple, 1353, capp. x–xi (Stat. i, pp. 337–338), xiii (p. 338), xix, xx (p. 340). Fr. f. 70 b.

in Reynham [Rainham] and Wenington [Wennington], and Magna Warle [Great Warley], and lands in Rainham, Wennington, Warley, and Brighous [Bridge House in Upminster], co. Essex; the feoffees to re-convey the premises in fee tail to Johanna, wife of the said John Payn, and her heirs by John Payn. Dat. Saturday after the feast of St. Peter ad Vincula [4 Aug.], 49 Edw. III [1375]. Lat. f. 80;—(b) Conveyance of the same manors to Johanna Payn as provided by the preceding charter. Date omitted, but after the death of John Payn, who d. in 49 Edw. III (Inquis. post Mortem, iii, 1821, p. 178). Lat. f. 79 b.

37. Form of writ of summons to the Court of Chancery, without names. Lat. f. 80 b.

38. Account of the coronation of Richard I: the narrative of Hoveden (Chronica Mag. Rog. de Hovedene, ed. Stubbs, Rolls Series, 1870, iii, p. 8, "Deinde idem dux,"—p. 13, "perpetuam eleemosynam"), but prefaced by a short passage (9 lines), not from Hoveden, summarizing events between Henry II's death and Richard's arrival in England. Beg. "Mortuo Rege Henrico." f. 81.

39. Moral verses (6 lines), beg.

> Respicias ne despicias quem ledere queris." f. 82 b.

40. "De Londoniis fama": considerable portions of the account of London in Fitzstephen's Vita Sancti Thomae (J. C. Robertson, Mat. for the Hist. of Thomas Becket, Rolls Series, 1877, iii, p. 2, etc.), but arbitrarily arranged. The text agrees more nearly with that contained in the Liber Custumarum (H. T. Riley, Munimenta Gildhallae Londoniensis, Rolls Series, 1859–1862, vol. ii, pt. i, p. 2), than with that given by Robertson, but it contains some noticeable variations from both and, apparently, from all published texts. The extracts are carelessly copied. Beg. "Inter nobiles vrbes orbis." f. 83.

41. Charter of Henry III to London for the election of the Mayor; 18 Feb. a° 11 [1227]. In Lib. Cust. (op. cit. p. 45). Lat. f. 85.

42. "De libertatibus Londoniarum de tempore sancti Edwardi Regis": an extract from the article "De heretochiis" in the later version of the so-called "Leges Edwardi Confessoris" (Liebermann, Die Gesetze der Angelsachsen, i, p. 657). The same passage also occurs in the Liber Albus (Riley, op. cit. i, p. 498). The text of the present MS. bears the closest resemblance to that of Oriel MS. 46; as it agrees in the accidental omission of the clause "et ... Troie," it seems likely that it may have been copied from it, or that both were copied from a common original. Beg. "Sicut continet (sic) in lege ... debet in Londoniis." f. 85.

translations into the Engl. current in A.D. 1314 and into Lat. The charter, with the same translations, occurs in Lib. Cust. p. 246, but there are differences of reading which show that the present copy cannot have been taken from that MS. f. 85 b.

44. Henry I's charter to London; Rymer, Foedera, 1816, i, p. 11. f. 86.

45. Henry II's charter to London; Lib. Cust. p. 31. f. 86 b.

46. Richard I's first charter to London, 23 April, a° 5 [1194]; Lib. Cust. p. 248. f. 87.

47. John's third charter to London, 5 July, a° 1 [1199]; Lib. Cust. p. 249. f. 87 b.

48. The operative part (beg. "Nos autem donaciones") of the Inspeximus charter of Edw. III to London, 26 May, a° 15 [1341]; Lib. Cust. p. 443. f. 88.

49. "De principio aldermannorum et qualiter receperunt nomina sua": extract from the "Leges Edwardi Confessoris," later version (Liebermann, op. cit. pp. 654–656). The same extract is also given in Lib. Cust. pp. 634–637. Beg. "Greiue quoque nomen." f. 88 b.

50. Documents connected with the eyre at the Tower of London, 14 Edw. II [1321]. For similar and much fuller collections see Lib. Cust. pp. 285–432, Placita de Quo Warranto, pp. 445–474; but the present MS. contains some items not in the two referred to. The documents are:—(a) Writ of the King to the sheriffs, to make proclamation ordering attendance at the eyre, 20 Nov. a° 14 [1320]; Lib. Cust. p. 285, Placita, p. 448. Lat. f. 90;—(b) Return by the sheriffs to the preceding writ; Lib. Cust. p. 290. Lat. f. 90 b;—(c) Proclamation by the sheriffs in accordance with the writ, Sunday, feast of St. Andrew [Nov. 30, 1320]. Fr. f. 91;—(d) "Nomina maiorum, vicecomitum, aldirmannorum, camerariorum, et coronatorum ciuitatis ab vltimo itinere iusticiariorum apud Turrim Londoniarum a°. regni regis Edwardi filii regis Henrici quarto vsque ad festum Sancti Hillarii [13 Jan.] a°. regni regis Edwardi filii regis Edwardi xiiii [1275–1321]." Similar lists, but not including the aldermen, in Lib. Cust. p. 291, Placita, pp. 446–447. The present lists are abbreviated, only the first few names of each being given. f. 92;—(e) "Modus et ordo qualiter barones et vniuersitas ciuium Londoniarum se debent habere et gerere erga dominum regem et iusticiarios suos tempore quo domino rege (sic) placuerit tenere placita corone sue apud Turrim London. de attachiamentis et infortunis (sic) in eadem ciuitate emersis." Lib. Alb. pp. 51–60; also in the MS. of Lib. Cust. and in Add. MS. 37791, ff. 17–21. The present text shows some differences. f. 92 b.

51. Edward I's Inspeximus of Henry III's charters to London; 17 Apr., a° 27 [1299]. Lib. Cust. (in confirmation charter by Edw. II), pp. 256–266. Lat. f. 96.

52. Charter of pardon from Edward III, with the consent of Parliament, to the citizens of London for all offences committed in connexion with the feud against the Despensers between 24 Sept. last past, the date of his landing in England with his mother, and the following 1 Feb., the day of his coronation; 29 Feb. (sic, and so too in Cal. of Pat. Rolls), a° 1 [1327]. Lat. f. 99 b.

53. General pardon by the same to the same for all obligations incurred by them to Edw. II and his predecessors; 4 March, a° 1 [1327]. Lat. f. 100.

54. Charter of liberties from the same to the same; 6 March, a° 1 [1327]. Lat. f. 100 b.

55. Grant by the same to the same of the vill of Suthwerk [Southwark], 6 March, a° 1. Lib. Cust. p. 435. Lat. f. 102 b.

56. Concession of articles to the mayor, aldermen, and citizens of London by Edward II, 8 June, a° 12 [1319]. Lib. Cust. p. 268. Lat. f. 103.

57. "Memorandum quid et quantum clerici et seruientes vicecomitum Londoniarum accipient per annum de dominis suis." Lib. Cust. p. 98, but with some differences. f. 105 b.

58. Writ to the sheriffs of London to release on bail Michael Bret, imprisoned in Newgate for the death of Thomas Apert; York, 1 March, 2 [Edw. III, 1328]. Lat. f. 106.

59. "Les estatutz des pissoneres": ordinances of the Fishmongers of London. Lib. Alb. pp. 379–385, with variants from Liber Custumarum. The ordinances conclude (f. 108 b), without a separate heading and with consecutive numeration, with a differently worded version of the first six regulations concerning fishing-nets given in Lib. Alb. p. 577, Lib. Cust. pp. 116–117. So too in Add. MS. 37791, ff. 32–34 b, but that MS. adds the remaining regulations. f. 106.

60. "Capitula dicenda pistoribus in halimoto suo." Lib. Alb. pp. 356–358 and (continuation) Lib. Cust. pp. 104–105. f. 109.

61. "Capitula dicenda piscenariis in halimoto suo." Lib. Alb. pp. 373–377 (with variants from Lib. Cust.), Add. MS. 37791, ff. 30–31 b. There are some differences of wording here. f. 110 b.

62. (Following immediately on art. 61, without separate heading.) The tariff contained in Lib. Alb. pp. 230–233 (with variants from Lib. Horn), Add. 37791, ff. 34 b–36, but with some differences. Fr. f. 111 b.

63. "Custume de Smethefeld." Lib. Alb. pp. 233–234, Add. MS. 37791, f. 36. Fr. f. 113.

64. "Custuma vici pontis de nauibus": customs of Bridge Street, followed, without heading, by those of Billingsgate, tronage, Woolchurchhaw, Graschurch, and pesage. Lib. Alb. pp. 234–237 ("il dorra de c ii deniers"), 245–247 (with variants from Lib. Cust. and Lib. Horn), Add. MS. 37791, ff. 36–38. There are considerable differences in wording. Fr. f. 113.

65. "La prise des vinis (sic) al oeps nostre seigneur le Roy." Lib. Alb. pp. 247–248 (with variants from Lib. Horn), Add. MS. 37791, ff. 38–38 b. There are differences of wording. f. 115.

66. "Assaium albi panis" taken Wedn. after All Saints [6 Nov.], 16 Edw. III [1342], before Simon Fraunceis, Mayor, and the Aldermen, by John de Enefeld, John atte Barnett, John de Keslingbury, and Nicholas Blosme. The procedure at an assay is given in Lib. Alb. pp. 349–351, but the present document does not occur in Lib. Alb., Lib. Cust., or Letter-Book F (ed. Sharpe). Lat. f. 115 b.

67. "Assisa panis et seruicie in ciuitatibus, burgis, et extra burgos per vniuersam regionem Anglie": in the main the ordinance printed in Stat. i, p. 179, but with very considerable differences in wording. f. 116.

68. "Assisa seruicie per vniuersam regionem predictam": in the main the clause "De servisia" in Stat. i, p. 200, but concluding with a provision similar to that in the case of bread (ib. note 22, from Rot. Pat., 2 Ric. II), except that for "sex denariis" the present text has "iii denariis." f. 116 b.

69. "Iudicium pillorie et tumberelli": sections 2 and 3 of the statute "De pistoribus"; Stat. i, pp. 202–203. f. 116 b.

70. "De forestallariis": section 12 of the same statute, but with differences in wording; Stat. i, pp. 203–204. f. 117.

71. "De carnificibus et kocis": section 8 of the same; Stat. i, p. 203. f. 117.

72. "De frangenti prisonam": the statute so called of 23 Edw. I [1295]; Stat. i, p. 113. f. 117.

73. "Les estatuiz pour vsurers et escheuisansours." Lib. Alb. pp. 368–371. f. 117 b.

74. "Carta cissorum Londoniarum": inspeximus by Edward III of his own charter, 10 March, a° 1 [1327], to the Tailors and Linen Armourers; Langley, 6 Feb. a° 15 [1341]. Transl. by C. M. Clode, Memorials of the Guild of Merchant Taylors, 1875, p. 189. Lat. f. 119.

75. "Proclamacio confecta secundum tenorem statutorum et consuetudinum ciuitatis Londoniarum": the regulations given, under the title "Secunda pars libri de custumis," in Lib. Alb. pp. 260–280, with variants from Lib. Cust. and Lib. Horn. The present text agrees with the two latter, and specially with Lib. Horn, against Lib. Alb. Between the articles "quod arestati" and "de batellariis" (Lib. Alb. p. 277) it inserts, without heading, the article "de countours et attournes" given in Lib. Cust. pp. 280–282, but in a somewhat different text. Fr. f. 120.

76. "Carta pistoribus et molendinariis": inspeximus by Edward III of his confirmation, 20 Mar. a° 1 [1327], of regulations by Edward II as to the punishment of fraudulent bakers and millers; 26 May, a° 15 [1341]: part of a longer charter. Inspex. in Lat., conf. in Fr. f. 126.

77. "Carta de amocione aldermannorum": charter of Edward III concerning an ambiguity in the articles granted by Edward II (above, art. 56) as to the removal of aldermen after their year of office; 22 Nov. a° 50 [1376]. Lat. f. 127.

78. "Carta quod alienigene non tenebunt hospicia in Londoniis": letters patent of Edward III in response to a petition of the mayor, aldermen, and commons; 4 Dec. a° 50 [1376]. The petition is in Rot. Parl. ii, p. 347; the King's writ to the sheriffs to the same effect in Lib. Alb. p. 493. Lat.; petition in Fr. f. 127 b.

79. "Adhuc de eisdem": letters patent of Edward III forbidding foreigners to sell to other foreigners in the city of London for the purpose of re-sale; 4 Nov. [sc. Dec.? see art. 78 and Lib. Alb.], a° 50 [1376]. Writ to the sheriffs to the same effect in Lib. Alb. p. 492. Lat. f. 128 b.

80. "Carta pro clauis seruientium ciuitatis Londoniarum": notification to the mayor and sheriffs of London that the serjeants deputed to bear maces are to bear them of gold or silver; 10 June, [1354]. Cal. of Close Rolls, Edw. III, x, p. 22. Lat. f. 129.

81. Extract from inspeximus by Richard II, at the request of the citizens of Norwich, of his own charter of confirmation to London of 4 Dec. a° 1 [1377]; 1 Feb. a° 1 [1378]. Lat. f. 129 b.

82. Petition from the master and brethren of the Fraternity of St. John the Baptist [Merchant Taylors] in London to [the Bishop of London] for permission to have Mass celebrated "in quadam capella siue oratorio" in Taillourshalle [Merchant Taylors' Hall]; n. d. Lat. f. 131.

83. "Le serement de ceux que serrount souz frank plege." Lib. Alb. p. 315. f. 131.

84. "Les articlis (sic) de Wardemoot tenue en Loundres": not the same as the articles, partly in Lat. and partly in Fr., in Lib. Alb. pp. 257–260, 337–338, but agreeing with them in many points. f. 131 b.

85. Statute at Westminster, 6 Ric. II [1382]. Stat. ii, pp. 26–30. f. 132 b.

86. Letters patent of Richard II, notifying his answer to the petition of the mayor, aldermen, and commons of London against usurers; 25 Oct. a° 6 [1382]. The answer is in Rot. Parl. iii, p. 143. Lat.; answer in Fr. f. 135.

87. Regulations as to oblations from householders to parish churches in London; n. d. Beg. "Cum secundum consuetudinem antiquam." f. 135.

88. Writ of false judgement to the sheriff of Essex in a suit for landed property between John Organe of London and John Lancastre of Hatfeld Brodok [Hatfield Broadoak, co. Essex] in the court of Queen Anne at Hauerynge atte Boure [Havering at Bower]; temp. Rich. II [1382–1394]. Lat. f. 135 b.

89. "Regula" in verse, viz.:—

"A septem sursum numerando perfice cursum;
In septem stabis minus yma petens breuiabis, Postque nouem tractus numerabis quos petit actus."

f. 135 b.

90. Sentence of Hervy de Staunton, Chief Justice, at the London eyre of 14 Edw. II [1321], taking the mayoralty into the King's hand owing to the illegal proceedings of John Gisors, a former mayor. An account of the proceedings in connexion with this case is contained in Lib. Cust. pp. 371–374, but this sentence is not included. Fr. f. 136.

At the beginning (ff. 3–9) is a table of the chapters of many of the statutes included, and on the blank leaves before and after this a number of miscellaneous entries have been added, as follows:—(a) Mnemonic verses, viz.:—

"C ter erat mille decies sex unus et ille Luce tua Maure uehemens fuit impetus aure"

(great storm, 15 Jan. 1361);

"H. patre subiuncto post R. reget I. que relicto E. post H. fiet rex E. post E. postea mira"

(Hen. II, Rich. I, John, Edw. I, Hen. III, Edw. III, Edw. II);

"Mors communis in M ter C fuit L minus vno"

(Black Death, 1349). f. 1 b;—(b) Proverbs and moral maxims, in prose and verse. Lat. f. 1 b;—(c) Note of the qualities requisite to various classes of men and things; and on their absence. Beg. "En prince loiaute; en prelat sapience." f. 1 b;—(d) "Extentus redditus Thome de Carleton de tenementis in Wodestret [Wood Street] London." A Thomas Carletone, Alderman and [1382] M.P., is several times mentioned in Sharpe, Letter-Book H (cf. art. 36 above). f. 1 b;—(e) The well-known "Vado mori" verses, for which see Storck in Zeitschr. f. deutsche Philologie, xlii, pp. 422–428. Here preceded, as in several MSS., by introductory verses (6 couplets), and followed by 7 hexameters. For other copies in the Department see Cat. of Romances, iii, p. 601, but the present text does not agree exactly with any of these. Introduction beg.

"Equa lege capit mors magnos atque pusillos, Nunc hos nunc illos precipitando rapit"

(also in Royal MS. 8 B. vi, f. 30, but it is there the second couplet). Conclusion beg.

"Esto memor mortis dum viuis robore fortis, Est commune mori, mors nulli parcit honori"

(for the second line see Storck, p. 426). f. 2;—(f) Writ of error to Robert Bealknap and Roger de Fulthorp to re-try the case in dispute between Robert Aleyn, knight, and Hugh de Ware, fishmonger, late Edw. III or early Rich. II. Hugh de Ware occurs several times in Letter-Books G and H; a Robert Aleyn, fishmonger, in connexion with Hugh de Ware in 1365, Letter-Book G, p. 134. Lat. f. 2 b;—(g) Note of the number of vills and parochial churches in England. Lat. f. 2 b;—(h) "Confirmacio siue declaracio per commune consilium Londoniarum facta super quadam consuetudine de legatis in testamentis": regulations as to ambiguities in wills, Thursday before the feast of St. Michael [23 Sept.], 2 Rich. II [1378]. Lib. Alb. pp. 450–452, Letter-Book H, p. 106. f. 9 b, continued at the foot of f. 10;—(i) "Modus inquirendi de Statuto Wyntoniensi." Beg. "Quando obseruatur in quibus partibus." f. 10.

Vellum; ff. ii (one blank) + 136. 10¾ in. × 6¾ in. XIV–XV cent. In various hands. Flourished initials in red and blue. Gatherings normally of 12 leaves, but the first two of 2 and 8 respectively, one (ff. 90–100) of 11, and one (ff. 71–89) of 19 owing to the insertion of a gathering of 8 leaves in one of 11. Names of former owners are:—Richard Drax (15–16th cent., f. 2 b) and (f. 1) John Maynard of the Middle Temple [Sir John Maynard, Serjeant-at-law, First Commissioner of the Great Seal, 1690]. A note by Sir Thomas Phillipps on f. 1 states that the MS. was bought at Sir Gregory Osborne Page-Turner's sale, March, 1827, and on ff. i, 1 are numbers, $\frac{742}{3}$ and $\frac{2718}{3}$, the former of which is stated to be the sale number at the Page-Turner sale and the latter a "N° in some prior sale." There was a Page-Turner sale in October, 1824, and in the sale-catalogue this MS. is the third of lot 2718. The number $\frac{742}{3}$ seems, therefore, to refer to a subsequent sale in March, 1827. Perhaps part of the collection was withdrawn in 1824 and offered again in 1827: cf. Add. MS. 35094 (acquired by Sir T.

Phillipps in March, 1827), which also belonged both to Sir John Maynard and to Sir G. O. Page-Turner, and which has the double numeration $\frac{2718}{3}$ (1824 sale?) and $\frac{737}{3}$; Eg. MS. 2811 has the entry, by Sir T. Phillipps, "Bought at Sir G. P. Turner's Sale, March 1827." Phillipps MS. 3106 (sale-cat. 1911, lot 336). Sir T. Phillipps's crest is stamped on f. 1.

38132. JOHN LELAND, Collectanea: fragments. For an account of this MS., which seems to have become separated from the rest of the "Collectanea" some time before the middle of the 17th cent., see his Itinerary, ed. L. Toulmin Smith, 1907, i, p. xxx, ii, p. 117, note. Rather more than half of it was copied by Stow, who added to his transcript some pieces taken from elsewhere, and copies were subsequently made by Sir William Dugdale in 1677 and for Robert Plot, LL.D., in 1682, both of which are in the Bodleian. The contents of the MS., with the exception of the last three articles, were published by Hearne, from Plot's copy, as an appendix to vol. iv of his edition of the Itinerary (1710–1712). In Miss Toulmin Smith's edition they appear, with the same exception, in vol. ii, pp. 119–168. The contents, which, with the exception of art. 27, are all autogr., are:—

1. Notes from the life of St. Winifred by Robert, Prior of Shrewsbury, and from his account of the translation of her relics to Shrewsbury (Bibl. Hag. Lat. nos. 8849–8851). Lat. f. 1.
2. Notes from the life of St. Guthlac by Felix (B. H. L. no. 3723), and the passage from Ordericus Vitalis (Acta Sanctorum, Apr. ii, p. 50) which sometimes follows it; followed by "Versus Felicis" beg. "Gurgite multarum Cruland ambitur aquarum." f. 3.
3. Notes from an anonymous account of the translation of St. Guthlac (B. H. L. nos. 3731, 3732). Lat. f. 4 b.
4. Note on the epitome of Felix's life of St. Guthlac [by Ordericus Vitalis] (B. H. L. no. 3725). Lat. f. 5.
5. Notes from the "liber de abbatibus Croilandensis monasteriis (sic)." The complete work is in Cotton MS. Vesp. B. xi, f. 80, and (copied from preceding) Lansdowne MS. 429, f. 2. Lat. f. 5.
6. "Epitaphium Waldeui comitis [Northumbriae] . . . editum a Gulielmo monacho Croilandensi" (B.H.L. no. 8781). Beg. "Illustrissimus celebrique memoria." f. 7.
7. "Epitaphium metrice eiusdem comitis ab eodem Gulielmo editum" (B.H.L. no. 8781). Beg. "Hic Waldeue comes tumularis et incineraris." f. 8.
8. Extracts "ex altero libello de uita Gualdeui comitis a monacho, ut uidetur, Croilandensi scripto, sed longe ante tempora Gulielmi qui Gualdeui comitis epitaphium scripsit" (B.H.L. no. 8779.) f. 8 b.

9. "Ex libello incerti autoris de comitibus Huntendun et Northampton": the "Gesta antecessorum comitis Waldevi" (B.H.L. no. 8778). Beg. "Tradunt relationes antiquorum." At the end is added "Reliqua de Gualdeuo comite quere paulo supra in libello de eius uita." f. 10.

10. Account of Judith, Waltheof's wife, and her successors, headed "Quæ sequuntur de Juetta siue Juditha in eodem sunt libello, quæ (sic) superiora de Siwardo comite" [art. 9]. Beg. "Comitissa auten (sic) Jueta." f. 12.

11. Notes from Dr. [John] London on "William Perot alias Wikam" [William of Wykeham, 1324–1404, Bishop of Winchester]. On the back of an undated letter from Leland to "Master Bane studient yn Louaine," asking the recipient to recommend him "a toward young man aboute the age of .xx. yeres lernid in the latine tunge and uersifiyng: and that beside can yn the Greke tunge sine cortice natare." Preceded by a half-sheet of paper on which the earlier part of the notes has been copied in an imitative hand. f. 16.

12. "Notes concerning certen names and thinges in the history of Croy[land]." Written on the back of a letter of recommendation (copy, by Leland) for Leland to see books in the library of Byri [Bury St. Edmunds], dated Barnewelle, 9 Nov. f. 17.

13. "Notes out of the Abbey of St. Edmunds Bury." f. 18.

14. "Ex libello de exequijs nobilium uirorum et abbatum sepultorum in monasterio Sancti Edmundi." f. 18 b.

15. "Ex collectionibus Joannis Rowse [al. Rous, 1411?–1491] de antiquitate Oxonij et Achademiæ": probably from his lost work "De Academiis Britannicis." f. 20.

16. "Ex tabella Joanis Rowse": list of colleges and halls at Oxford and Cambridge. f. 21.

17. Miscellaneous bibliographical and topographical notes. Lat. f. 22.

18. "Ex libro [Joannis] Rowse de episcopis Wigorniensibus": notes relating to Warwick. f. 22.

19. Further notes from the same on St. Chad. Lat. f. 22 b.

20. Notes, without heading, on Oxford from various authors. Lat. f. 23.

21. Notes on Salisbury. Lat. f. 24.

22. "Ex libro Joannis Rowse Warwicensis de episcopis Wiccensibus (sic)"; followed by notes on Worcester from other sources. f. 25.

23. Notes on Warwick from the same. Lat. f. 25 b.

24. "Ex ueteri sed fabuloso libro incerti autoris de antiquitate Cantabrigiensi." f. 26.

25. Miscellaneous historical notes. Lat. f. 26 b.
26. "Ex libello Joannis Rowse de achademijs": miscellaneous notes. f. 26 b.
27. List of religious houses in England, arranged by counties and giving the dedication and order of each. Written in a clerk's hand but with additions and corrections by Leland throughout; the concluding portion is entirely by Leland. Lat. f. 28.
28. Similar list, in Leland's hand, for Wales, arranged by dioceses. Concluding with a note on the number of vills and knights' fees in England. Lat. f. 39.
29. "Nomina episcopatuum Angliæ et quot comitatus ad quemlibet episcopatum pertinent." f. 39 b.

Paper; ff. iv + 39. Folio. XVI cent. Belonged to Sir Henry St. George, Garter King of Arms (1703): see Bernard, Cat. Lib. MSS. Angl. et Hib. Oxon. 1697, ii, p. 112, no. 4230. Afterwards in the possession of the Rev. Osmund Beauvoir, D.D., F.S.A. (d. 1789; see J. Nichols, Literary Anecdotes, vol. ix, 1815, pp. 351–359), whose bookplate of arms is on f. i, and who has added (f. ii) a note on the volume and (f. iii) a list of contents. When in the possession of Sir H. St. George the volume was bound up with the collection now B.M. Add. MS. 5937; the two were separated by O. Beauvoir. It then contained a loose sheet in Leland's hand, now lost, relating to Staffordshire families, which was copied by St. George; the transcript is now in Add. MS. 5937, f. 153. The volume afterwards belonged to William Upcott, at whose sale (1846, sale-cat., MSS. lot. 111) it was bought by Sir Thomas Phillipps. Phillipps MS. 12111 (sale-cat. 1911, lot. 630).

38133. COLLECTIONS, genealogical, legal, and historical. Sir Thomas Phillipps (see his Catal. Manuscriptorum under no. 3765, and Collectanea Topogr. et Geneal. vol. i, p. 20) regarded the collection as made by Robert Aske, whose name occurs several times. Internal evidence (see below, esp. art. 11) makes it almost certain that this is Robert Aske of Aughton, co. York, the well-known leader of the Pilgrimage of Grace, executed in 1537, but it seems impossible that he can have compiled the collection in anything like its present shape, since several items are of a later date than his death. The entries are very miscellaneous in character, and many different hands are represented; and it seems probable that the volume is the note-book of an anonymous herald or antiquary, with other entries perhaps concerned with the household of the Earls of Northumberland. That the collection into a single volume was made not later than about the middle of the 16th century is proved by old foliation in Roman numerals. This, entered on the back of each leaf, begins at the present f. 13 b (f. 1) and ends at f. 151 b (f. 127). Though lost or mutilated on some pages owing to the cutting of the pages by a binder, the numbers can for the most part be traced, and show that the original order of the leaves was substantially the same as at present. Between the present ff. 83 and 88 there was some confusion, the original order having been 83, 87, 86, 85, 84, 88. Ff. 84–87 were originally bound upside down; since the contents are at present in correct order and were certainly written before the volume was bound, the original order must have been a binder's mistake. After f. 76 of this first numeration the foliator skipped a number, passing on to 78. Between the present ff. 97 and 107 there was again an error in binding: ff. 106, 107 were originally numbered 93, 96 and the original ff. 94, 95 were probably the present ff. 99, 102, where, however, the original numbers are lost. Ff. 127–139 were not in the volume as originally bound, the first foliation passing on from the present f. 126 (115) to f. 140 (116). At a slightly but not much later period the volume was re-folio'd with Arabic numerals and probably re-bound, the foliator taking account of ff. 6–12, not included in the first foliation. The order was, however, different from the present one, viz. ff. 12, 9, 7, 8, 11, 13, 14, 6, 10, 17, 18 (ff. 15 and 16 were not numbered), and the earliest extant number is 10, so that some leaves must have been included which are now lost. The second foliation agrees with the first in the order of ff. 83–88, but has the correct order for ff. 97–107. No numbers of this foliation appear on ff. 127–139, but whereas f. 126 was numbered by this foliator 128, f. 140 appears as 138, and though f. 151 appears as 149, ff. 152 (containing merely the conclusion of an imperfect pedigree) and 154 are numbered respectively 166 and 162, f. 153 being unnumbered. It appears therefore that some leaves have been lost at the end. Though the first foliation begins at f. 13, f. 14 forms a single sheet with f. 8, the contents of which follow on from f. 7, so that these leaves must have formed part of the volume from the first. The volume was finally re-bound and arranged in its present order by Ralph Starkey (d. 1628) the antiquary, who added (ff. 1 b–5 b) an index of personal names contained in it and corrected or supplemented the second foliation where necessary.

The papers certainly or probably connected with Aske are all (except art. 2) legal in character and appear to be notes of his studies in the law; he was admitted at Gray's Inn in 1527 (J. Foster, Collectanea Genealogica, x, 1883, p. 19). Since most are certainly and all are possibly in a hand different from his, it is not clear how their presence is to be accounted for, and it might be suggested that some anonymous law-student had made use of Aske's name as a prominent personality at the time; but this seems to be disproved both by the dates, which are earlier than the time of his notoriety, and by art. 2. Of these Aske papers only art. 11 was numbered in the first foliation. The contents of the volume are:—

1. Forms of counts in law cases, each beginning "vous avez cy N. N.", dated 18 Henry VIII [1526–1527]. They are not taken from the year-books and most closely resemble those in Novae Narrationes, where however the beginning is "ceo vous monstre N. N. que cy est." Two cases occur; in the second one of the parties is Robert Aske. Fr. f. 7.
2. Account of expenses of [Henry Percy, 6th] Earl of Northumberland, headed "Memorandum that I Robert Aske seruaunt vnto the right honorable the Erle of Northumberland hath resauede of my said lord and master in the battelment aboue Sainte Stevens Chapell at Westmon. the xvij^t^ day of May in the xix^t^ yer off king Henry the viij [1527] as doth aper in the end C li"; in the same hand as the preceding. The disbursements are for household and personal expenses, and include sums for play. Printed in Notes and Queries, 11th ser., iv, p. 442. f. 9.
3. Draft or copy of a petition to the King to issue letters patent granting to Thomas Hamerton for a year and a day the custody of the manor of Baterisby Hall and lands in Baterisby [Battersby in Ingleby Greenhoe], co. York, held of Stephen Hamerton; the custody having fallen to the King by the death of the tenant Richard Baterisby and the attainder of Nicholas his son and heir. [1530.] For the grant see Letters and Papers, iv, pt. 3, no. 6301 (1). Perhaps part of the Aske papers, but in a different hand from the preceding. Petition in Engl., letters patent in Lat. f. 10.
4. Notes on writs "de droit patent"; probably from the Aske papers; perhaps the same hand as arts. 1 and 2. Fr. f. 11.
5. Note of a law reading on a lease by —— Yorke, lector, at Gray's Inn, Lent term, 22 [Henry VIII, 1531]. Probably the lector is Roger Yorke, named as a Fellow of Gray's Inn in a subsidy roll of 1523 printed by F. A. Inderwick, Calendar of the Inner Temple Records, vol. i, 1896, p. 460. At the foot "Memorandum xiiij^to^ die decembris." Probably from the Aske papers (cf. art. 8). In a different hand from the preceding. Fr. f. 11 b.
6. Form of proceedings in an action on a writ of waste. The defendant's name is given as Robert Aske. The last two sections begin as in art. 1 "vous avez cy N. N." Same hand as art. 4. Fr. and Lat. f. 12.
7. Notes of cases in law. Same hand as preceding. Fr. f. 12 b.
8. Notes of readings on cases arising under cap. i of the statute "Praerogativa Regis" by [Roger?] Yorke, Lent term, 22 Hen. VIII [1531].

Digitized by Google Original from UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA

There are two readings, dated respectively "Die lune" and "Die martis." Probably from the Aske papers; in the same hand as art. 5. Fr. f. 13.

9. Miscellaneous pedigrees. These are scattered throughout the volume and are in various hands, some being given in the form of a genealogical tree and others in narrative form. Arms are often given, usually in trick, but some are merely blazoned. In many cases references are given to the folios of some volume from which the pedigrees were taken. The form of these references is "Rss in fo° iiij° xxvj" (f. 20 b); cf. below, lxx. A very large number of entries, both pedigrees and other articles, have the sign d prefixed. For convenience the names are all collected here:—

i. Ibgrave, Segam, Langley. Arms. f. 13 b.
ii. Tatersall, Caly, Clifton. ff. 14, 14 b.
iii. Darell (Sussex). Arms. f. 17.
iv. Earls of Gloucester ("Consull," Clare) and Dukes of Clarence (Plantagenet). f. 17 b.
v. Skipwith. ff. 17 b–18.
vi. Worttesley [Wrottesley], Vere, Young (Worcester). Arms. ff. 18 b, 19.
vii. Goring (descent from St. John). f. 19 b.
viii. Gifford, Cartwrit [Cartwright]. Arms. ff. 20 b–21 b.
ix. Tychemarche, Bray, Atclyff. Arms. ff. 21 b–23.
x. Craycroft, Belleyne. Arms. ff. 22 b, 23.
xi. Thornhull (Dorset), Husy [Hussey]. Arms. ff. 23, 24.
xii. Salisbury (Wales). Arms. ff. 24 b, 25.
xiii. Norris (descent from "Petit" [Vaughan?] and "Maylocke" [Maelog]), Arnold, Porter (a later addition), Le More, Ragland [Raglan], Basset, Coker, Welsh, Turberville. Arms. ff. 24 b–26.
xiv. Crosse. Arms. ff. 26–28.
xv. Broke [Brooke] of Leighton, co. Chest., Maneryng. Arms. ff. 28–29.
xvi. Fitzwarine (Whittington, co. Salop). f. 35 b. xvii. Radcliff (co. Lanc.). f. 36.
xviii. Butler (descent from Wotton). By a member of the family, who alludes to "my Grandfather John Butler," of whose three sons "my father was the second and the other be deade and I haue the londes." f. 36.
xix. [De] Lacy, Earls of Lincoln, Bigod, Earls of Norfolk, Clare (cf. iv), Earls of Gloucester (descent from Marshal, Earl of Pembroke), Clifford, "Lords" (i.e. hereditary sheriffs) of Westmoreland, with the descent of Elizabeth, wife of Lionel [Plantagenet], Duke of Clarence, from Burgh and Clare and the note, in Lat., of John de Kynardesey's grant given under xliii. These pedigrees are extremely inaccurate; e.g. the De Lacys, Earls of Lincoln, are confused with the Lords of Meath. ff. 39 b–41.
xx. Descent of Prideaux. f. 40.
xxi. Hulton (co. Lanc.), Mascy, Saxon. ff. 41 b–43.
xxii. Percy, Earls of Northumberland. Fr. ff. 43 b–44.
xxiii. Clifford, Aske. Lat. and Fr. ff. 44 b–45. xxiv. Bohyme, Cooke, Brampshot, Sholvestrod, Aske, Grey, Ellerker. Fr. and Lat. ff. 45 b–46.
xxv. Smyth, with a note of the sale of the land by Thomas Smyth to George Aske. Fr. f. 46 b.
xxvi. Stapleton (of Carleton, co. York, and of co. Norf.). Fr. ff. 47, 47 b.
xxvii. Fossard, Mauley (De Malo Lacu), Gaunt. Lat. ff. 48 b–49.
xxviii. Hamerton, to Sir Stephen Hamerton, "pendeu a Tyborne a° 29 H. 8" [1537]. f. 50.

xxix. Scrope of Bolton (f. 50 b) and of Masham and Upsall (f. 51). Lat. and Fr.

xxx. Waterton, Willoughby. Fr. f. 52.

xxxi. Metham, with descents from Hamylton [sc. De Hamelton], Stapleton, Bellew (De Bella Aqua), Brus. Lat. f. 53 b.

xxxii. Husy [Hussey] (co. Suss.); from a record of a plea in 18 Edw. IV [1478–9]. With a note of the conveyance of the manor of Herting [Harting], co. Suss., in general tail to Henry Hussey by William Paynell and his wife Matilda (cf. art. 43). Fr. f. 54.

xxxiii. Fleming, Cancefelde [Cancefield], Haverington [Harington]. Copied from a pedigree dated 1412. Printed in Coll. Top. et Geneal. i, pp. 169–170. f. 55.

xxxiv. Scrope, Bigot, Boynton, Ratcliff, and children of Ralph Nevill, [1st] Earl of Westmorland. Headed "frome my lady of Oxinford thelder late lady Beamond doughter of Scrop" [Elizabeth, wife of John de Vere, 13th Earl, d. 1537]. ff. 58–59.

xxxvi. Mowbray; with notes of places of burial. ff. 64 b–65.

xxxviii. Descendants of Sir John Gysors [of London]. ff. 67 b, 68.

xxxix. Descendants of Matthew de Furneaux [co. Som.]. The names of the principal families will be found in the Index. Included are (a) descendants of Sir Anselm Basset, (b) partition of the manors and lands of Alice, widow of Sir William [this should be Richard according to Collinson's Somerset, i, p. 263] Stury, dau. and heir of Elizabeth Blunt, dau. and heir of Sir Simon de Furneaux in cos. Som. and Wilts, Friday after the feast of St. Gregory 8 [Hen.] V [14 March, 1421]. The whole printed in Coll. Top. et Geneal. i, pp. 243–247. Engl. and Lat. ff. 70 b–73.

xl. Descendants of "Lord Warin of Rall" [Sir Warine de Raleigh, co. Som.]. Printed in Coll. Top. et Geneal. i, pp. 247–248. ff. 73 b–74.

xli. Danvers and families therefrom descended (given in the Index); made 27 March, 1520, 11 Hen. VIII. Ends "Bona the iiij^th Sister to Sir Thomas Danvers was maryed to Geffraye Pole of Medmenham in Bukkinghamshire Father to Sir Richard Pole Knighte, and nye of kynne to Kinge Henry the vij^th and they had no issue"; the words in italics have been crossed out, presumably after the disgrace of the Poles in 1538. Printed in Coll. Top. et Geneal. i, pp. 324–329. ff. 74 b–77 b.

xliii. Fitzwarine of Whittington (cf. xvi above). With a note (cf. above, xix) of a grant in tail by John Kenardesey [or de Kynardesey] to Sir Nicholas Daudeley [de Audley, 1st Lord Audley] and Joan Lacy [widow of Henry, 3rd Earl of Lincoln] his wife of the castle of Helegh [Heleigh], the town of Recteley [sc. Betley], the manors of Tunstall and Horton, and land in Overlingesdon [Longsdon in Leek], co. Staff., and Red Castle [in Weston] with "moubr." [sc. "the members"; cf. f. 87 b, where this note recurs], co. Salop [circ. 1312]; also the beginning of a writ to the Lord Treasurer and the Barons of the Exchequer concerning the lands of Richard [afterw. Sir Rich.] Hankeford [Hankford], husband of Elizabeth, sister and heir of Fulk, son and heir of Sir Fulk Fitzwarine, [temp. Hen. VI]. Printed, except the writ, in Coll. Top. et Geneal. i, pp. 329–330. ff. 78 b–79.

xliv. Twynnynge [Twining, co. Glouc.]. ff. 79 b–80.

xlvi. Hastings. Two pages of a longer history of the family, beginning and ending imperfectly. ff. 84 b, 88 b (originally continuous).

xlvii. Broke [Brooke] of Leighton [co. Chest.] (cf. xv above), with notes on the families of wives of the Brookes. Printed in Coll. Top. et Geneal. i, pp. 22–23. Followed (in the same hand) by the note mentioned under xliii above, with some differences. f. 87 b.

xlix. Righbe [Rigby, co. Lanc.]. ff. 89 b–90.

l. Brikhed; with dates. f. 96 b.

li. Twedy (co. Essex). In a later hand than the other entries in the volume. f. 97.

lii. Mowbray, Howard, Dukes of Norfolk, Camvile, Astley, Grey of Ruthin. Lat. ff. 97 b–98.

liii. House of Oldenburg, Kings of Denmark, from Gerhard [VI], Duke of Schleswig [d. 1404]. ff. 100 b–101.

liv. Descent (from De Redvers) of Margaret Peverell [wife of Sir Thomas Peverell], daughter of Sir Thomas Courtenay, [4th] son and heir [this is a mistake] of [Hugh, 1st or 10th] Earl of Devon. ff. 104 b–105.

lv. Fleming, Cancefield, Harrington, 1412 (cf. xxxiii above). f. 106 b.

lvi. Children of John Howard, [1st] Duke of Norfolk, and of Margaret his second wife by her former husbands. f. 107.

lvii. Courtenay (descent from Hen. III), [De Bohun], Earls of Northampton (same descent) with descendants to [Humphrey, 1st] Duke of Buckingham, Carew, formerly Montgomerie, Barons of Carew, Carminow, De Vere, Dynham. Arms. ff. 116–120.

lix. Howard. Arms of wives. ff. 124 b–125 b.

lx. Descendants of John of Gaunt (Henry VII, Emmanuel, King of Portugal, Maximilian I, Emperor, Isabella, Queen of Castile). Lat. f. 133 b.

lxi. Descendants of Charles V of France (Charles VIII, Louis XII, Henry VII of England), and Adolphus, [1st] Duke of Cleves (Louis XII of France, James [IV] of Scotland, Philip, Count of Ravenstein). Lat. ff. 134 b–135.

lxii. Descents of Henry VII of England and James [IV] of Scotland from John [de Beaufort, 1st] Earl of Somerset. Lat. f. 135 b.

lxiii. Descendants of Charles VI of France (Henry VII of England, etc.). Lat. f. 136.

lxiv. Descendants of Louis [son of Charles V], Duke of Orleans. Lat. f. 136 b.

lxv. Deneband, Brent, Pawlet. ff. 137–137 b.

lxvi. Chichester. f. 137 b.

lxvii. Golaffre, Whightham, with notes on date of death, place of burial, etc. Cf. Leland's Itinerary (ed. L. Toulmin Smith, 1908), ii, pp. 2–4, Baker's Hist. of co. Northampton, ii, p. 22. The pedigree was begun on f. 126 b, but after the insertion of ff. 127–139 the entries there were crossed out and repeated in another hand on f. 139 b. Arms. ff. 139 b–142 b.

lxviii. Brueley (co. Worc.), Golaffre (ib.), Clotteshale [Clodeshale] (co. Warw.). ff. 142 b–143.

lxix. Venables (co. Chest.). ff. 143 b–144 b.

lxx. Bruis [Bruce], Stapleton, Fauconbridge. The same pedigree occurs on ff. 96 b–97 b of Sir Thomas Wriothesley's collection, Add. MS. 5530, where the wording and arrangement are so nearly identical with that in the present volume that one MS. must have been copied from the other or (more likely) both from a common source; cf. lxxi, lxxii, lxxiii. The pedigree in 5530 has a reference similar to those frequently given in the present volume. On f. 146 b here "Constable of Holdernesse" is written, but the pedigree is not given. This pedigree in 5530 follows Bruce. Arms of Bruce blazoned (Fr.). Lat. ff. 145 b–146 b.

lxxi. Goussill. Identical with that in 5530, f. 101. Lat. ff. 146 b, 147.

lxxii. Montford. Identical (except for slips in copying) with that in 5530, ff. 106 b–107 b. The same pedigree but differently arranged also in 5530, ff. 27 b–28. Lat. ff. 147 b–148 b.

lxxiii. De la Twyere. Identical with that in 5530, ff. 113 b–114. Arms blazoned. (Fr.). Lat. ff. 149–149 b.

lxxiv (this and the following ones are later additions). Howard, Duke of Norfolk. f. 152 b.

lxxvi. Brygandyne, Myrffyn (London), North, [Somerset], Earl of Worcester. f. 153 b.

10. Notes of the names, etc., of members of the Morley family, with dates, from inquisitions post mortem. Lat. ff. 27, 27 b.
11. Forms of, and rules for, writs "de recto"; from the Aske papers. Robert Aske's name is constantly used in the examples given, and the place-names Actonia [Aughton], Ellertonia [Ellerton], Cotyngwith [Cottingwith], and Storwhath [Storthwaite] occur. The last three places are all near Aughton, co. York, and their occurrence along with it in conjunction with the name of Robert Aske seems to prove that he was the Robert Aske of Aughton, leader of the Pilgrimage of Grace (cf. art. 62). Lat. ff. 29–34.

in Unton's autograph (cf. Lansdowne MS. 68, f. 216), the rest are in two clerkly hands. At f. 6 is a cypher key, dated 25 July, 1591. With a few exceptions, the documents are all printed in the Correspondence of Sir H. Unton, ed. J. Stevenson, Roxburghe Club, 1847, partly from the originals in the Public Record Office or in the burnt Cotton MS. Caligula E. viii, but mainly from a somewhat faulty transcript in the Bodleian Library (No. 3498). The exceptions are:—(i) Lord Treasurer Burghley to Unton, on the Queen's displeasure with the French King, etc.; Richmond, 12 Oct. 1591 [the original, damaged by fire, is in Calig. E. viii, f. 37]. f. 30 b;—(ii) "The cheife pointes of the contract beetweene the French Kinge and the Prynces of Germany vppon the leavye made of the army vnder the conduct of the Prynce Anhalte, anno 1591." Ital. f. 43; —(iii) "From the Counte Soissons," Charles de Bourbon, to Unton; St. Leuer, 12 Dec. 1591. Fr. f. 61;—(iv) "The kinges [Henri IV] replye to the Reyters answeare of his first proposition concerning their paie": the "Articles presentes par les Collonells et Reitmaistres de l'Armée Allemande," 12 Dec. (O.S.) 1591, with the King's reply to each article, "faict au Camp deuant Rouen," 4 Jan. 1592. Fr. f. 82 b;—(v) Unton to Sir Robert Cecil, telling how he has been robbed of all his money and apparel; Poix, 19 Jan. 1591[2]. f. 90 b.

At the end of the volume, in different hands, are copies of the following:—(a) Queen Elizabeth's letter to Lady Norris on the death of her son Sir John Norris; Richmond, 22 Sept. 1597 (printed in Nichols, Progresses of Qu. Eliz., iii, 1823, p. 420). f. 160;—(b) "To Mr Anthonie Bacon. An apologie of [Robert Devereux] the Earle of Essex againste those which falslie and maliciouslie take him to be the onelie hindraunce of the peace and quiet of his Countrie." Composed by himself in 1598, and printed in 1600, but immediately suppressed (T. Birch, Memoirs of Qu. Eliz., ii, 1754, p. 444); afterwards published in 1603, and again in 1729 as The Earl of Essex's Vindication of the War with Spain. Other copies are in Stowe MS. 275, Sloane MS. 1132, etc. f. 161;—(c) Letter of advice [to Roger Manners, 5th Earl of Rutland,] on the use of travel as a means of self-culture; left unfinished. In the printed edition, Profitable Instructions, 1633, and in three other copies (Harley MSS. 813, f. 7, 4888, f. 20, 6265, f. 115), it is dated Greenwich, 4 Jan. 1596, and attributed to Robert Devereux, 2nd Earl of Essex. The actual author, however, was probably Francis Bacon (see his Works, ed. Spedding, ix, 1862, pp. 3–15). f. 173.

Paper; ff. iii + 174. 13¾ in. × 8¾ in. On f. iii, "Ol: Luke. 1679. December 8" [Oliver, son of Sir Samuel Luke, of Cople, co. Bedf., b. 1626, d. 1708, see Coll. Top. et Gen., iii, 1836, p. 85, v, 1838, p. 364].

proposal for the Pope or Louis XIV to advance money to Charles II in order to enable him to dissolve Parliament, and the position of the Duke of York. Charles is referred to as "Anthony," and the Duke as "Clement."

Paper; ff. i + 32 (f. 26 blank). Folio. A.D. 1678. From the Southwell Papers (cf. Add. MSS. 35099–35101, etc., and 38144–38157 below). Bought by Sir Thomas Phillipps from Thomas Thorpe, the bookseller (catalogues, 1834, part iv, no. 174, 1836, no. 1279). Phillipps MS. 8701 (sale-cat. 1911, lot 207).

38143. ACCOMPT of receipts and disbursements of John Price, Receiver General of Ireland, from 20 March, 168¾ to 25 Dec. 1684; signed by Richard Chapell, Deputy Auditor. Among the civil disbursements are several for the benefit of French Protestant refugees.

Paper; ff. vi (five blank) + 47. Folio. A.D. 1684. Bound in green vellum. Bought by Sir Thomas Phillipps at the sale of the library, etc., of John Francis Gwyn of Ford Abbey, co. Dorset (sale-cat. 1846, books, lot 240). Phillipps MS. 12129 (sale-cat. 1911, lot 205).

38144. PAPERS relating to negotiations between James II and Pope Alexander VIII, 1689–1690 (several are not dated but certainly belong to these years); copies in Lat., Ital. and Fr. with Engl. translations. They consist of letters from the Pope to the King (2), from the King to the Pope (1), from Pietro Ottoboni, the Pope's nephew, to the King (1) and five memorials from [John Drummond, 1st] Earl of Melfort, to the Pope, written while ambassador of James II at Rome (10 Dec. 1689–4 Sept. 1691). They are none of them included in J. Macpherson's Original Papers (London, 1775, 2 vols.) or in the documents published in the Marquise Campana de Cavelli's Les Derniers Stuarts à Saint-Germain en Laye (Paris, 1871, 2 vols.), but the memorials from Melfort occur in Melfort's letter-book, Add. MS. 37660, ff. 15, 46, 67, 71, 133. Both James and Melfort lay stress on the fact that the Revolution was due to the King's services to Catholicism, and James says (ff. 2 b, 3 b) "Unica turbarum contra nos excitatarum origo est, quod Catholicam fidem complexi simus, et eandem in tria regna, et late sparsas per Americam subditorum nostrorum colonias reducere statuissemus."

Paper; ff. i + 31. Quarto. XVII cent. From the Southwell Papers. Bought by Sir Thomas Phillipps from Thomas Thorpe (catalogues, 1834, pt. iv, no. 447, 1836, no. 709). Phillipps MS. 8651 (sale-cat. 1911, lot 598).

38145. LETTER-BOOK of Richard Talbot, Earl and titular Duke of Tyrconnel, in Ireland, 1689–1690, consisting almost entirely of letters to Queen Mary of Modena, but with three to other persons. The extreme dates are October $\frac{10}{20}$, 1689, and $\frac{24 \text{ June}}{4 \text{ July}}$, 1690, the last being written from Ardee Camp, seven days before the battle of the Boyne. The letters deal with the state of the Jacobite army, their preparations for the campaign, and news of the enemy; in some cases the names of the bearers of the letters are given.
Paper; ff. i + 29. Quarto. A.D. 1689–1690. Captured after the battle of the Boyne and afterwards in the possession of Sir Robert Southwell (see Add. MS. 38146, ff. 41 b, 102 b). Bought by Sir Thomas Phillipps of Thomas Thorpe (catalogue, 1836, no. 1301). Phillipps MS. 8637 (sale-cat. 1911, lot 597).

38146. "ENTRYES while the King was in Ireland": letter-book of Sir Robert Southwell as Principal Secretary of State for Ireland during William III's campaign in that country in 1690. The extreme dates are 29 May and 8 September. The entries are arranged by subjects, the principal divisions being:—royal warrants, orders, and proclamations, ff. 1–52 b;—letters from the king, ff. 53–60 b;—letters to the king, ff. 61–84 b;—letters from Southwell to [Daniel Finch, 2nd] Earl of Nottingham, followed by letters to other persons, ff. 85–132;—letters to Southwell from Nottingham and others, ff. 133–157 b;—miscellaneous letters of Southwell, ff. 158–178 b;—additional letters omitted in the previous part, ff. 179–191. There are also added (i) "A list of some warrants sign'd by His Majesty of which the copys are lost in the great hurry of business," ff. 191 b–192;—(ii) accounts of proceedings, with copies of documents, relative to the surrender of Drogheda, Waterford, Duncannon, and Limerick, ff. 192 b–197;—(iii) copies of letters of Victor Amadeus [II], Duke of Savoy, to Louis XIV, 20 May, 1690 (f. 197 b), and to William III, 2, 18 June, 1690 (ff. 198, 198 b), and of William to the Duke, 26 June, 1690 (f. 198 b) all in Fr., of the treaty between the Duke and the Emperor, 4 June, 1690, in Lat. (f. 199), and of letters from the Duke to the States General, 2 June, 1690 (Fr., f. 200) and from Charles [XI] of Sweden to William III, 26 March, 1690 (Lat., f. 201);—(iv) lists of commissions granted by the King in Ireland, ff. 202–203;—(v) "a brief journall of the campaign of Ireland with His Majesty King William 1690," ff. 203 b–206 b;—(vi) additional entries, ff. 207–208 b. The following are on loose papers inserted:—(vii) list of commissions signed by the King but not delivered owing to death or absence of the officers, f. 209;—(viii) list of commissions signed by the King in Ireland, ff. 210–211 b;—(ix) "draft of the King's quarters in Ireland": a map of the camp, ff. 212 b–213;—(x) an index to the volume, ff. 214–216 b. The volume contains much information as to the Battle of the Boyne, the march to and siege of Limerick, the movements of the fleet, etc. Paper; ff. i + 216. Folio. A.D. 1690. Bought by Sir Thomas Phillipps of Thomas Thorpe (catalogue, 1834, pt. iv, no. 406, 1836, no. 652). Phillipps MS. 8972 (sale-cat., 1911, lot 590).

38147–38152. LETTERS AND PAPERS connected with the Vice-Admiralty of Munster, an office held successively by Sir Robert Southwell (1677–1701), Edward Southwell (1701–1730), and Edward Southwell junior (1733–1749). The letters are chiefly from Capt. James Waller, Deputy Vice-Admiral for the Port of Kinsale, and date from 1692 until his retirement in 1699. Waller also held office under the Ordnance Board and the Commissioners for Sick and Wounded, and constant reference is made to his transactions with those boards. He was member of the Irish Parliament for Tralee, and his letters written from Dublin in 1697 (27 July–10 Sept., 38150, ff. 32–60), 1698 (6 Oct.–3 Dec., 38150, ff. 105–125), and 169$\frac{8}{9}$ (10–21 Jan., 38151, ff. 1–7) contain accounts of proceedings in the Irish House of Commons. Other letters are from deputies in various parts of Munster. A list of deputies and their districts in 1733 is in 38152, ff. 77, 78. Many of the letters deal with the Southwell estate in Kinsale, and among the documents are included numerous powers of attorney and assignments from mariners of Kinsale to Edw. Southwell, to receive their pay in their stead (38151 passim). Six volumes. Paper. Folio.

38147. Vol. I (ff. i + 128). 14 Apr. 1677–29 Dec. 1694.
38148. Vol. II (ff. i + 139). 4 Jan. 169$\frac{4}{5}$–11 Sept. 1696.
38149. Vol. III (ff. i + 110). 23 Oct. 1696–30 May 1697.
38150. Vol. IV (ff. i + 128). 11 June 1697–13 Dec. 1698.
38151. Vol. V (ff. i + 118). 10 Jan. 169$\frac{8}{9}$–30 May 1709.
38152. Vol. VI (ff. i + 104). 5 Jan. 17$\frac{08}{10}$–19 June 1749.

Bought by Sir T. Phillipps of Thomas Thorpe, the bookseller (see his catalogue, 1834, pt. iv, no. 361). Phillipps MS. 8559 (sale-cat. 1911, lot 750).

Bought by Sir T. Phillipps from Thorpe (cat. 1834, pt. iv, no. 190; 1836, no. 648); Phillipps MS. 8619 (sale-cat. 1911, lot 262).

38158. "THE ACCOMPT of Sr George Wharton Bar^tt. Treasurer and Paymaster of the Office of His Ma^ts Ordnance aswell of all moneys by him received out of his Ma^ts Excheq^r or otherwise as of all moneys by him paid for His Ma^ts service in the said Office," 30 June, 1679–30 June, 1680. The principal services (names of recipients, etc., being given in each case) are as follows: (a) New Ships, f. 6:—(b) Tangier, ff. 12, 22 b, 43, 184 b, 190 b, 194 b;—(c) Wars against the French King, ff. 16, 56 b, 74 b;—(d) Allowances, wages, etc. for the Ordnance Establishment, ff. 24, 48 b, 154 b, 163 b, 173 b;—(e) Land Service, ff. 31 b, 40 b, 46, 66 b, 136, 140, 147 b, 173, 182, 196;—(f) Sea Service, ff. 37, 42, 47 b, 72 b, 139, 145 b, 183 b, 204 b;—(g) Gunmakers, f. 108;—(h) Freights, f. 126. The various accompts are signed by Edward Sherburne, Clerk of the Ordnance, Edward Conyers, Keeper of the Stores, and Samuel Fortrey, Clerk of the Deliveries.

Paper; ff. 211. 21 in. × 15 in. Phillipps MS. 20310 (sale-cat. 1911, lot 208).

38159. "THE DUKE of Ormond's Journall of the Expedition to Spaine, in the yeare 1702." Copy. It is said (f. 1) to have been "Delivered by his Grace . . . in the House of Peeres, 30° November 1702" and "Read." Beginning with the departure of the Duke [James Butler, 2nd Duke of Ormonde] for Portsmouth, 1 June, to take command of the land forces to act in conjunction with Adm. Sir George Rooke, Commander-in-chief of the expedition, for the capture of Cadiz, the Journal relates the Duke's movements and orders, proceedings of Councils of War, etc., and gives copies of his correspondence with John Methuen, Envoy at Lisbon, and others, and especially with Adm. Sir G. Rooke. On the failure to take the Fort Matagorda, the expedition, against the Duke's will, was given up, and the fleet returned to England, having met the Spanish and French fleet at Vigo and captured some treasure-ships. The last entry in the Journal is "9 November. I arrived at London." Other copies of the Council-proceedings and of the correspondence are found in Add. MS. 28925 (in which are some of the original letters of Sir G. Rooke), cf. also Add. MS. 29591.

1535–1537. The majority of the letters are addressed to Ambrogio [di Ricalcati], papal secretary and prothonotary. For another copy of this collection of letters see Add. MS. 8715, from which they were calendared by J. Gairdner in Letters and Papers, Hen. VIII, vol. viii, etc.

Paper; ff. ii + 279. 12¼ in. × 8½ in. XVI cent. Six or seven leaves are missing after f. 263 b. From the Colonna library (book-stamp, f. i, etc.) and that of Frederick North, 5th Earl of Guilford (sale-cat. 1830, lot 378). Phillipps MS. 7064 (sale-cat. 1911, lot 164).

38163. RECORD of the Acts of John Colton, Archbishop of Armagh, on his visitation of the see of Derry, over which he claimed jurisdiction during its vacancy on account of the translation of John Dongan to the see of Down, held 8–17 Oct. 1397. Written by direction of Richard Kenmore, clerk in the diocese of Meath, notary public, and attested by his notarial mark at the foot and at the joinings of the membranes. Attached is a rental of the estates of the see taken at the same time; and on the back of the main roll is a list of music belonging to a 15th cent. owner, chiefly in 4 or 5 parts, including "Nowellys," songs for the lute, etc., beginning with the words "Lapydes torrentes," "Sic eum volo," "O admyrabile," "Reges Tharsys," "Gaude plurimum," "Potensiana," "Nunc dimittis," etc. The Acts and the Rental were published in 1850 for the Irish Archæological Society, "from the Original Roll preserved in the Archiepiscopal Record Closet of Armagh," with an introduction and notes.

Vellum roll, four membranes sewn together, 6 ft. 2½ in. × 1 ft. 1½ in. A.D. 1397. Phillipps MS. 26765 (sale-cat. 1911, lot 296).

38164. ROLL of arms and inscriptions said to have been painted on the wall of the refectory of Ely Minster, recording the names and arms of forty knights who, according to the legend recorded in the Latin text of the roll, were quartered on the Abbey by William the Conqueror, and the names of the forty monks on whom they were quartered, and with whom they are stated to have become close friends. The same legend is commemorated by the Tabula Eliensis, a painting of the late 15th or 16th century now in the Bishop's Palace at Ely (see an engraving in Bentham's History of Ely, 1812, p. 106), where the names and arms are accompanied by portraits. A full account of the tradition by William Cole is in Bentham's appendix, p. 5*, and a copy of the list is given by E. Conybeare, History of Cambridgeshire (1897), p. 102. The germ of the story is doubtless to be found in the 12th century chronicle of Thomas of Ely (ed. D. J. Stewart, 1848, p. 275) who, however, speaks merely of the ordinary burden of knight's service (see Round, Feudal England, p. 300). The names and arms are probably 14th cent. forgeries for the aggrandisement of later bearers of the names. The date is perhaps indicated by the arms of Robert de Orford, Bishop of Ely, 1302–1310, which are at the head of the roll together with those attributed to William I, St. Sexburga (wrongly inscribed "Sancta Ethelburga") and St. Etheldreda (wrongly inscribed "Sanctus Ethelwaldus episcopus"). Orford's arms are a combination of those of the two saints. The roll was formerly in possession of the Norfolk antiquary Francis Blomefield, who printed the text and described the arms in the opening pages of his Collectanea Cantabrigiensia in 1740, but afterwards cancelled these leaves and substituted other matter. They are, however, contained in the Grenville copy in the British Museum. A very similar narrative in English (16th cent.) is in Royal MS. 18 C. i, f. 14 b. Beg. "Tempore Thurstani abbatis nostri Eliensis qui satus fuit ex satis claris"; ends "honorifice hic lucescunt." The names of the knights and monks (framed by a colonnade) and the shields of arms in colours (suspended by straps from a bar) are arranged lengthwise at the edge of the roll, on either side of the text.

Vellum roll. 37 in. × 12 in. XVI cent. The top of the roll (containing the arms of the king, saints and bishop) is cut into a pattern and a tape is attached; the edge at the end has marks of stitches. Notes in Blomefield's hand on the back refer to his MS. "book of transcripts, p. 50 (H)" and to his Collectanea. Phillipps MS. 27857 (sale-cat. 1911, lot 353).

38165. EXTRACTS from the "Itinerarium Curiosum" of William Stukeley, M.D. (published 1724), with copies of the plates (which are dated 1721–1723), made by "Chris: Brockell, cler." (in whose hand the MS. is probably written). The order of the plates and extracts differs from the printed text. Reversing the volume are: (a) "Questions from ye Bp. of Lincoln, June 1712. Answer'd," relating to the parish of Belton [near Grantham, co. Linc.], and written by the rector. f. 54 b;—(b) Treatise on the Doctrine of the Trinity, June 24, 1788. f. 52 b.

Paper; ff. i + 54. 7½ in. × 5½ in. XVIII cent. On ff. 5, 26 b, are names of the Gunton family, on f. 15 b is a note by "W. Capon, 1777," and on ff. 29, 47 b, 53, are names of members of the Gray family, including "Charles Gray, Esqre, M.P. for Colchester [1761–1780], F.R.S., a Trustee of the British Museum and Recorder of Ipswich." Phillipps MS. 3834 (sale-cat. 1911, lot 964).

38166. DESCRIPTIVE CATALOGUE of the "Arundel Cabinett" of gems, viz. 133 intaglios and 130 cameos, preceded by a short history of the origin of the collection, etc., dated "St. James's Square, May, 1731." The gems were collected in 1630–1640 by Thomas Howard, Earl of Arundel, from whom they descended to Mary, wife of Henry, 7th Duke of Norfolk, who bequeathed them to her second husband, Sir John Germain. His second wife and widow Lady Betty Germain gave them to Lady Mary Beauclerk on her marriage in 1762 to Lord Charles Spencer, and they were sold, as part of the Marlborough collection, in 1875, to David Bromilow, after whose death they were dispersed (sale-cat., Christie's, June, 1899). The present catalogue was privately printed for Sir Thomas Phillipps, but the British Museum copy is imperfect. Some of the gems are described in Gemmarum antiquarum delectus ... quae in dactyliothecis Ducis Marlburiensis conservantur, 2 vols, 1781–1790.

Paper; ff. ii + 28. 12 in. × 7¼ in. XVIII cent. Phillipps MS. 15874 (sale-cat. 1911, lot 46).

38167. LATIN DICTIONARY: an epitome of the Liber Glossarum, an 8th century (?) compilation attributed to an otherwise unknown bishop Ansileubus. Beg. "A[bba] significat in latino pater"; ends "Pati ferre . perpeti . sustinere . tolerare . durare." Most of the entries are taken from the Etymologiae and De Natura Rerum of Isidore, the Glossae of Placidus Grammaticus, Synonyma attributed to Cicero, and glosses and commentaries on Virgil. Galen has been used for medical terms and some names of herbs. Other sources are Augustine (De Civitate Dei, Enarrationes in Psalmos, etc.), Ambrose, Bishop of Milan (Hexaemeron, etc.), Gregory the Great (Moralia, Homilies on Ezekiel), Jerome (Commentaries—on Matthew, etc.), Eucherius (Instructiones), and Orosius (Historiae). Sources are usually referred to in the margin, except at the beginning, where they are given in the text. In the lower margins (e.g. f. 38 b), and in a blank column at the end, one or two medical prescriptions have been written. A full account of the MSS. and sources of the Liber Glossarum and kindred books is given by G. Goetz in Abhandlungen der königlich-sächsischen Gesellschaft der Wissenschaften, Band xxx (1893), p. 211, where reference is made to the present MS. (Phillipps MS. 4049) on p. 253. See also S. Berger, De Glossariis et Compendiis exegeticis quibusdam Medii Aevi (1879); G. Loewe, Prodromus Corporis Glossariorum Latinorum (1876), p. 222; and "Der Liber Glossarum" by H. Usener in the Rheinisches Museum, vol. xxiv (1869), p. 382. Harley MS. 2735 is claimed by Goetz, following Loewe, as an abridged Liber Glossarum.

Vellum; ff. iii + 160. 9⅜ in. × 5⅞ in. Written in Italy in various hands. XIII cent. The writing is arranged in double columns, except ff. 17–19 b and f. 22 b, where it is continuous. The initial letter in each section—the first A, the first B, etc.—is (particularly the first A) enlarged, and in red, with slight ornamentation. The same colour has been used at the beginning of the volume for marking out the different entries, and the writers to whom reference is made; greater convenience has been secured at a later date by rewriting several of the words in the margin. Gatherings of 8 leaves, with catchwords, and, for the most part, numbered. Phillipps MS. 4049; entered in the folio catalogue as purchased from T. Thorpe, bookseller (Phillipps sale-cat. 1911, lot 306).

38168. Grant by Sir Thomas and Sir Henry St. George, respectively Garter and Clarenceux Kings of Arms, with the consent of Henry [Howard], Duke of Norfolk, Earl Marshal, of an alteration of the crest of Sir Henry Goodrick, 2nd Bart., Privy Councillor, Lieutenant-General of the Ordnance, from "a demy lyon ermines holding in his paws a battle-axe argent helved gules" to "a demy lyon ermines, armed and langued gules, issuing out of a ducall coronett or, holding in his paws a battle-axe proper helved or." The crest, as amended, is illuminated in the left margin, the royal arms at the top and those of the Earl Marshal in the right margin. Dat. 27 Aug. 1694. Seals missing. On the back is a note that permission to use this crest with the differences is granted to John Goodrick, Esq. [afterwards Sir John Goodrick, 3rd Bart.], only brother [of the half-blood] of the above, by virtue of the Earl Marshal's order dated 21 Jan. 1697.
Vellum. 20 in. × 14 in., folded in modern red morocco binding. Presented by Charles Alfred Goodricke, Esq.

38169. Ledger, containing the accounts of the Public Advertiser from Jan. 1765 to Dec. 1771 (lacking the annual balance sheets except for 1766), in the handwriting of Henry Sampson Woodfall, its printer. On f. 1 is pasted an autograph letter from H[enry] D[ick] Woodfall, his grandson, to [Charles Wentworth Dilke, proprietor and editor of the Athenæum], dated 21 Feb. 1847.
The chief interest of these accounts is that they show the effect of the publication of the Letters of Junius [21 Jan. 1769–21 Jan. 1772] upon the sale of the paper (see Sir C. W. Dilke, Papers of a Critic, ii, p. 28). The manuscript was lent by him to the Guelph Exhibition held at the New Gallery, London, in 1891 (see Catalogue, p. 257, no. 1871).

of Cæsar's collections see Lansdowne MSS. 124–174, 706, 768, 784, Add. MSS. 4190, 5664, 6038, 9045, 10038, 10113, 11405, 11406, 11574, 12495–12507, 14027, 14313, 15208, 15235, 34324, 36111, 36112, 36767, 36969, 36970. The present volume is vol. 36 of Cæsar's MSS. (see Lansdowne MS. 124, f. 79 b) and lot 62 of the Cæsar sale in 1757. Cæsar's own list of contents is at ff. 1, 2, but the articles have been re-arranged. The principal contents are :—

1. "Christian Meditations vppon eight psalmes [1, 6, 32, 38, 51, 102, 132, 143] of the prophete Dauid. Made and newely publisshed by Theodore de Besze and Englisshed by J. D." (altered from "J. C."), dedicated by the translator [Julius Dalmarius al. Cæsar] to "Mistres Dorcas Martin" (altered to "Elizabeth Jobson," and then altered back again), 17 June, 1582. (Dorcas, dau. of Sir R. Martin, and widow of R. Lusher, was married to Sir Julius Cæsar in 1582). At the end is the certificate of Robert Crowleye, [Prebendary of St. Paul's], that he has examined the "meditations" and found nothing "y^t maye not be published to the edification of Christians." A translation of the same selection of Beza's psalms by I.S.S., printed in 1582 and dedicated to Anne, wife of Sir Nicholas Bacon, seems to be an entirely independent work. f. 4.
2. The case of Elizabeth Bourne for a divorce (a mensa et toro) from her husband, with notes from the Canon Law on the subject of divorce, and "briefe answeres" to questions on her behalf, by Sir J. Caesar; December, 1582. f. 17.

Sir Walter's estates (forfeited and granted to Sir Robert Carr) in cos. Dorset and Somerset; 24 July, 7 James I [1609]. Copy. f. 91 b.

8. Papers in a suit between [Edward Somerset], Earl of Worcester, and [Thomas Arundell], Baron Arundell of Wardour, respecting the settlement on the latter's son Thomas and his wife Blanche, the former's daughter; including (f. 125) an order of the Judges, corrected and signed by Sir J. Cæsar as Master of the Rolls; 1613–1615. ff. 115–133.
9. Heads of suit, etc., by Francis [Russell, 2nd] Baron Russell of Thornhaugh [4th Earl of Bedford, 1627], against Robert [Ratcliffe, 5th] Earl of Sussex, to put aside the will of his mother Elizabeth, wife of William, 1st Baron Russell, [dau. of Henry Long of Shengay (d. 1573), and of Dorothy afterwards, apparently, wife of Sir Charles Morrison, of Cashiobury (d. 1599)]; 4 Feb. 1614[5]. Followed by "The Ladie Russels conveynge of her landes." ff. 167, 169.
10. Papers in suit of Sir Richard Champernowne v. John Wakeman, etc., relating to the will of Charles [Blount], Earl of Devon; 1615–1616[7]. ff. 182 b–241 b.
11. Papers in suit of the Bailiffs, etc., of Abergavenny v. Katharine Herbert and others, relating to the maintenance of the Grammar School; 29 June, 1615. f. 252.

1800), Home Secretary (1791–1794), President of the India Board (1793–1801), Secretary for War (1794–1801), afterwards (1802) 1st Viscount Melville; 1778–1794, with a copy (f. 50) of a letter from George III to Dundas, 15 Jan. 1801. f. 1;—(b) William Pitt, Prime Minister (1783–1801, etc.) including promises to Jenkinson (ff. 51, 98) of his elevation to the peerage, etc., and references (f. 95) to the ministerial changes of July, 1794; 1786–1799. f. 51:—(c) William Petty, 2nd Earl of Shelburne, Home Secretary (1782), Prime Minister (1782–1783), afterwards (1784) 1st Marquis of Lansdowne, with a letter (f. 111) to Lady Cope, Liverpool's second wife; 1782, 1783. f. 103;—(d) Edward Thurlow, Attorney-General (1771–1778), Lord Chancellor (1778–1792), 1st Baron Thurlow, with allusions (ff. 132–136) to the King's illness (1788), and the question of a regency; 1778—after 1796. f. 121. Quarto.

38193. Liverpool Papers. Vol. IV (ff. 265). Letters to the 1st Earl of Liverpool (ff. 1–12), and to the 2nd Earl of Liverpool (ff. 9, 14–264), from George Canning, Under-Secretary for Foreign Affairs (1796–1799), Foreign Secretary (1807–1809), M.P. for Liverpool (1812–1822), Ambassador Extraordinary to Portugal (1814–1815), President of the India Board (1816–1821), Foreign Secretary (1822–1827), Prime Minister (1827); 1797–1826. Included also are letters to Castlereagh (f. 84) and C. W. Williams-Wynn (f. 213), and a draft of a letter to George IV (f. 139). Canning was invited by Lord Liverpool to enter the ministry formed after Perceval's assassination in 1812 (see ff. 15, 19). Letters of 1820 and 1821 (ff. 111–143) show his attitude towards the ministerial proceedings against Queen Caroline. Some of the letters are printed in George Canning and his Times, by A. G. Stapleton, 1859, and Correspondence of George Canning, ed. E. J. Stapleton, 1887. Quarto.

38194. Liverpool Papers. Vol. V (ff. 103). Letters from Henry John Temple, 3rd Viscount Palmerston, Secretary-at-War (1809–1828), to the 2nd Earl of Liverpool; 1812–1825. There are also three letters at the beginning of the volume, dated 1810–1812 (including a draft, f. 1, and extracts of correspondence, f. 14), from Palmerston to Spencer Perceval, Prime Minister, concerning the former's dispute with the Commanders-in-Chief (Sir David Dundas, and afterwards the Duke of York) about the scope of their respective offices. In a letter of 1821 Palmerston declines an exchange of office that would have brought him a seat in the House of Lords (f. 83). Folio.

38195. Liverpool Papers. Vol. VI (ff. 217). Letters of Sir Robert Peel, 2nd Bart., Chief Secretary for Ireland (1812–1818), Home

Secretary (1822–1830), Prime Minister (1834–5, 1841–6), etc.; 1813–1842. They consist chiefly of letters addressed to the 2nd Earl of Liverpool, nine of which (ff. 7, 14, 39, 43, 55, 104, 112, 192, 196) are published in C. S. Parker's Sir Robert Peel, 1891. Included also are a few letters to Viscount Sidmouth and others, 1813–1827; and five to the 3rd Earl of Liverpool, 1828, 1841, 1842. Folio.

38196. Liverpool Papers. Vol. VII (ff. 144). Letters from Sir Arthur Wellesley, Chief Secretary to the Viceroy of Ireland (1807–1809), Viscount Wellington (1809), Earl (1812), Marquis (1812) and Duke (1814) of Wellington, to (a) the 2nd Earl of Liverpool; 1807–1827. ff. 1–137;—and (b) the 3rd Earl of Liverpool; 1839, 1840. ff. 138–143. Included also are letters from Wellington to Earl Bathurst (f. 61), C. Arbuthnot (f. 79), Castlereagh (f. 81), General Constant de Rebecque (Fr., ff. 86, 88), General Kruse (Fr., f. 90), the Duke of York (f. 99), G. Canning (copy, f. 111, enclosing an autograph memorandum, conc. the Spanish colonies in America), and Sir J. Conroy (f. 141). Many of the letters have been printed in the Wellington Despatches, ed. by Gurwood (one series) and the 2nd Duke of Wellington (two series), 1834–1880. Folio.

38197–38236. Liverpool Papers. Vols. VIII–XLVII. Official Correspondence of Charles Jenkinson, Baron Hawkesbury (1786), 1st Earl of Liverpool (1796), Assistant Private Secretary to the Earl of Holderness (1756–1758), Private Secretary to the Earl of Bute (1760–1761), Under-Secretary of State for the Southern Department (1761–1762), Treasurer and Paymaster of the Ordnance (1762), Joint Secretary to the Treasury (1763–1765), Lord of the Admiralty (1766–1767), Lord of the Treasury (1767–1773), Joint Vice-treasurer of Ireland (1772–1775), Privy Councillor (1773), Clerk of the Pells in Ireland (1775), Secretary-at-War (1778–1782), one of the Lords of Trade and Foreign Plantations (1784–1786), President of the Board of Trade (1786–1804), Collector of the Customs, Ireland (1789), etc.; 1718–1807. Included also are drafts in the hands of his secretaries (M. Pierrepont and others), and letters addressed to his immediate predecessors in office. The earlier letters in Add. 38197 are chiefly copies, the first letter actually addressed to Jenkinson (f. 196) being of 16 June, 1761. Among the correspondence in the later volumes occur letters of David Hume (38201, f. 185) and Samuel Johnson (38204, f. 366), and there is an extensive series of letters of Sir Joseph Banks (from 1786, see Index). Forty volumes. Folio.

A transcript made by Mrs. Mary Anne Everett Green (1818–1895), from the original (formerly Phillipps MS. 12245; sold at Sotheby's, 23 May, 1913, lot 1084). The contents deal mostly with public affairs, chiefly in London, but also at Worcester and elsewhere. There is a gap from 24 Feb. 1641 to 9 Jan. 1655 between ff. 21 and 22 b, and another from Jan. 1657 to 26 April, 1660 between ff. 26 b and 27. The pedigree in Nash's Worcestershire (vol. i, p. 378) misnames this Henry Townshend as Robert. The identification is fixed by the reference (f. 1, 5 May, 1640) to his brother Vernon [husband of his half-sister, see Harley MS. 1396, ff. 309 b, 313], and to his children Dorothea and Thomas (f. 40 b, 29 May, 1660). Nash gives (vol. ii, Appendix, pp. xcvii–cvi) extracts from a MS. diary of Mr. Townshend of Elmley Lovett concerning the siege of Worcester, 26 March—25 July, 1646. The present copy seems to have been made for J[oseph] P[hipps] Townshend, solicitor at Southwell, co. Nottingham (see f. 108 b), between 1856 (earliest date of stamp) and 1868 (last mention of J. P. Townshend at Southwell). Marginal notes in pencil show that it has been at any rate partly printed.

Dutch State Papers, transcribed from the archives at the Hague, and translated and published in Letters and Papers relating to the First Dutch War (Navy Records Society, 4 vols., 1899–1910, edited by S. 38492. Townshend Papers. Vol. I. Papers relating to religious questions, tempp. Eliz.—Jas. I. A collection in various hands, evidently formed by a sympathizer with the Puritan party in the Church of England, probably Sir Edward Lewkenor of Denham, co. Suff. (M.P. for Shoreham, Maldon, etc., knt. 1603, d. 4 Oct. 1605, see C. H. and T. Cooper, Athenae Cantabrigienses, ii, 1861, p. 411, etc.): see below, artt. 14, 19, 26, 37, 44, 50, 57, 59, 60. This supposition is supported by the fact that his great-grand-daughter Mary Lewkenor married Sir Horatio Townshend, cr. Baron (1661) and Viscount (1682) Townshend. The papers deal mainly with the points disputed at the beginning of James I's reign, especially subscription to the Book of Common Prayer and conformity with regard to vestments and ceremonies. The principal contents are:—

1. Address to Convocation, urging a revision of "the newe booke of coman prayer" [perhaps the petition presented by Stephen Egerton and others, 2 May, 1604, cf. T. Lathbury, Hist. of Convocation, 1853, p. 203]. Slightly imperf. f. 1.
2. Petition to "the Lord Bishopps of the Church of England," from "sundry ministers of the same," for relief from "the subscription and strict observation of the communion booke and ceremonies." Another copy, in Sloane MS. 271, f. 27, is dated 24 Apr. 1604. f. 3.

3. Arguments against non-residency, pluralities, unlearned ministers, etc. [1603–4]. Endorsement (cancelled) "Mr. Nic. Prideaux neer Padstow in Cornewall." f. 4.

4. "The true copy of ye petition [against the silencing of their pastors] yt about 200 yeomen of Essex and other parishes about Royston exhibited to his Mattie on Tuesday ye 20th of November [1604, see other copies in Harley MS. 677, f. 44, Egerton MS. 2877, f. 166 b]. One of ye cheefest of them, viz. Mr Hildersham stuard to Sr Francis Barington, ys bound over therupon to appeare before ye Counsayle when he shalbe called, some 3 other at ye first stayed were after dismissed." f. 6.

5. "Reasons why we cannot yeld to the ceremonies now vrged, viz. the wearinge of a surplise in diuine seruice, crossinge in baptisme, etc." f. 7.

6. Petition from R. G. [? Richard Gawton, vicar of Redbourn, co. Hertf., 1602–1616], to ——, to persuade the King to reconsider his decision to enforce the ceremonies; [1604]. f. 9.

7. "Certayne considerations why ye ministers should not be remooved for subscription and ceremonyes"; [1604–5]. f. 10.

8. Points to be urged for the reformation of the Church [cf. Commons' Journals, 5 May, 1604]. f. 11.

9. "The matters reformed in the new common booke according to the intendment of the conference"; "The matters not reformed, whereof pretence was made that they should be reformed"; and "Errors and inconveniences further added in the new booke." [1604]. f. 12.

10. "Exceptions against ye Booke of Ordinations" (endorsement). f. 13.

11. Sixteen "Reasons politicall for the freedome of the ministers from subscription and ceremonyes." f. 15.

12. Extracts, concerning the sign of the Cross, from "An ample declaration of ye Christian doctrine, composed by Card. Bellarmine, translated out of Italian by Rich. Hadock, D. of divinity" (first published in 1604). f. 16.

13. Petition from the House of Commons to the King, for the reinstatement of "godly, able, and painfull ministers" deprived for not using the prescribed rites and ceremonies [perhaps an early draft of the petition printed in Commons' Journals, 13 June, 1604]. f. 17.

14. Treatise in favour of toleration with regard to ceremonies, especially the use of vestments and the sign of the Cross, and against compulsory subscription. Apparently addressed to the members of Convocation ("that honorable Court which is shortly to assemble") before its meeting on 20 Mar. 160¾, and after the royal proclamation of 5 Mar. [160¾], which is mentioned. The handwriting resembles that of William Bedell, fellow of Emmanuel College, Cambridge, and preacher at St. Mary's, Bury St. Edmunds, afterwards (1629–1642) Bishop of Kilmore; cf. Cotton MS. Julius C. iii, f. 22, Lansdowne MS. 90, ff. 106, 133. The substance, too, and the moderate tone of the treatise seem to indicate Bedell as a probable author: cf. his letter of 16 Oct. 1604 to S. Ward (E. S. Shuckburgh, Two Biographies of W. Bedell, 1902, p. 214). It is also worth noting that he is said to have contributed to a volume of elegies on Sir Edward Lewkenor and his wife, published in 1606 (see Cooper, Athenae Cantab. ii, p. 411). f. 18.

15. "Certaine considerations [sixteen in number] to moue the reuerende fathers to remitt the vrginge of ceremonies and subscription"; endorsed "Considerations for the reuerend Bishoppes"; [1604?]. f. 24.

16. "Reasons [nine in number] whie the ministers may not subscribe to, nor use the Booke of Comon Praier in all pointes, though they use the principall partes of it"; [1604?]. f. 27.

17. Reasons for and against the expediency of "cross and surpliss" in the English Church. f. 28.

18. Answers [by Edwin Sandys, Archbishop of York] to the sixteen articles of a petition [from the Commons to the Lords] for church reforms. A summary evidently made by a member of the House of Commons (see article 5, "which he thought was not our meaning"). For a different summary, and for the text of the petition, see Sir S. D'Ewes, Journals of Parliaments, 1682, pp. 359, 357; Strype, Life of Whitgift, 1822, i, p. 349, iii, p. 118; see too art. 40 below. [25 Feb. 158⅘]. f. 29.

19. "Reasons to proue that we propounde": in support of six articles (confirming the articles of religion, forbidding pluralities, etc.) proposed for a conference with the Lords; [5 May, 1604, cf. Commons' Journals, i, p. 199, where Sir E. Lewkenor's name appears in the list of disputants]. Evidently by a member who took a leading part in the proceedings: "when their Lordships shall please to appointe me I will bringe our doubtes . . . The L: Chan: answere to me, When euery lerned man hath a benefice then you shall haue two." f. 31.

20. "Certaine reasons to move the Kinge for the taking awaie of the rits ornaments and serymonies or att lest wise to leave them indifferent as they were 2 Ed. 6"; [1604]. f. 32.

21. Note of a petition to Parliament by Edmund Snape, preacher at Exeter, against his Bishop's sentence of inhibition; [circ. 1580?]. f. 36 (reversed).

22. "A brotherlye caveat to the godlye zealous and wyse gentlmen of the parlament house," exhorting them to renewed efforts for Church reform; [1584–5]. f. 37.
23. Discourse headed "It is the necessarie dutie of all parliaments . . . first to handle the cause of the Churche, then of the Commonwealth"; [1604?] f. 40.
24. "Observacions for the tyme," with a view to concerted parliamentary action; [1604?]. f. 42.
25. Note of the number of preachers silenced in Exeter diocese, and of the number of churches, ecclesiastical revenue, etc., in co. Cornwall. f. 43.
26. "Certaine necessary points to be offered (if occasion serue) to his Highnes consideration, by such as shall present their humble petition touching church matters"; [1603]. Addressed (f. 47 b) to "Sr Ed: Lewknor at Mr Ieraths in Colman streate." f. 46.
27. "Two [or rather, three] reasons touchinge the use of the surplice in diuine seruice and of the crosse in baptisme, and kneelinge in the act of receiuinge the Lordes supper"; [temp. Jas. I]. f. 48.
28. "Exceptions against the booke of consecration of archbushoppes and bushoppes, and orderinge of priestes and deacons, in respect whereof wee cannot subscribe to the 36 Article." f. 49.
29. "An allegation wherby it seemeth yt dispensations hertofore graunted by the Archbishops of Canterbury for the keeping of two benefices with cure were vnlawfullie graunted as being contrary to the due course of the common lawe and statute of the realme." f. 50.
30. "A supplication humblie desiring an indefferent tolleration of indifferent cerimonies"; [temp. Eliz.] f. 51.
31. "Thinges necessarie to be reformed, with reasons anexed to the same" (endorsement, f. 59 b); [temp. Jas. I]. f. 53.
32. "Notes concerning ye bill of ye reformation of ye churche"; [1604?]. At the foot of the page, reversed, is a recipe for a liniment. f. 61 b.
33. "Advises tending to reformacion": a plan for drawing up petitions to the King in different parts of the country. At the end, "Lett this advice passe from one faythfull brother to another with all speede and heede"; [1603]. f. 62.
34. Arguments for a petition from the House of Commons to the King for toleration in matters of ceremony: summary of a speech in the House; [? 16 June, 1604]. f. 63.
35. Legal opinion that "the Bishops, quatenus Bishops, haue noe autoritie to proceed judicially agaynst any subject," etc.; [temp. Jas. I]. f. 64.

38. Petition to "Mr Chancellour" [the Chancellor of Norwich diocese?] for Robert Pricke to have his preaching licence restored; St. Edmundes Bury, 14 Mar. [1576–1583]. Draft, much corrected. f. 70.

39. Petition to the King, from knights and gentry of co. Suffolk, for reforms in the Church; [1603]. Draft. Endorsed "At Mr Batemans (cancelled). Mr Bird of St Peeters." f. 71.

40. "The humble petycions of ye Commons of ye lower howsse of Parliament to be offred to ye consideration of ye right honorable ye Lords spirituall and temporall of the higher howsse": sixteen articles, urging the suspension of unqualified ministers, and other reforms; [21 Dec. 1584]. Printed in D'Ewes, Journals, p. 357, etc. (see too p. 344, and art. 18 above). f. 73.

41. "Artycles proponyt be his mty to be concludit upon be this present generall assembly" of the Church of Scotland: thirteen articles, with the answers of the assembly; [2, 4 Mar. 159⅘]. Printed in Acts of the General Assemblies, pt. iii (Bannatyne Club, 1845), pp. 891, 895, etc. f. 76.

42. Discourse on the Temptation of Christ. f. 78.

43. Letter from Oxford [apparently written by a fellow of University College], describing the examination of [John] Walford of Corpus and [Edward] Gellibrand of Magdalen by the Vice-chancellor and Doctors, on account of puritanical doctrines preached by them and Dr. [John] Reynolds; [1585–1588]. Extract. f. 80.

44. Brief report of the second day [16 Jan. 1604] of the Hampton Court Conference. On the fly-leaf of a letter (wanting) addressed "To mi veri loueing and welbeloued husband sur Edward Lewkenor att Mustres Quarles in Rumforde geue thes with spede." f. 81.

Paper; ff. i + 108. Folio. Townshend sale-cat. 1911, lot 302.

38493–38496. Townshend Papers. Vols. II–V. Letter-books of Antony Moreau, Polish Envoy at the Hague; 1686–1689. Four volumes. Paper; ff. 175, 91, 140, 51. Folio. Townshend sale-cat. 1911, lots 167, 301. The contents, all in French except a few in Latin, Italian or Dutch, are as follows:—

the preparations in Holland for William's expedition and the confidence felt there as to its success. Most of the documents are fair copies without alterations, but one or two (e.g. 38495, ff. 8 b, 28 b) have many interlinear corrections, and one of the newsletters (38493, f. 158 b) is almost entirely cancelled. The periods covered by the respective volumes are :—38493. 28 May, 1686–25 Nov. 1687 ;—38494. 2 Dec. 1687–30 July, 1688 ;—38495. 6 Aug. 1688–8 Nov. 1689. Among the contents are :—(i) "Memoire des livres envoyez pour le Roy a Mr Richter a Dantsick," 1 Nov. 1686 (38493, f. 42 b) ;—(ii) "Lettre de Mr [Jean Hérault] de Gourville sur la mort de Monsieur le Prince de Condé" ; Versailles, 15 Dec. 1686 (38493, f. 46 b) ;—(iii) Proclamations by James II, 28 Feb. 1687–6 Nov. 1688. Fr. transl. Paper ; ff. 7. Folio. On the fly-leaf at the beginning is written "Isaac Reed, 1801. This is the original copy of Mr. Gray's Poems in his own handwriting. I. R.", and, below it, "Bought at the sale of Mr. Reed's Library—Decr 16th 1807. No. 8699—the last Day—price 1. 1. 0. J. B." In a notice of this MS. in the Athenæum, 18 Mar. 1899, "J. B." is identified as James Bindley, the book-collector (d. 1818), at whose sale the MS. was bought by Samuel Rogers, the poet, for eighteen guineas (cf. The Works of Thomas Gray, ed. E. Gosse, 1884, ii, p. 344, footnote). The engraved portrait of the poet (f. 1 b), perhaps unpublished, is from the picture by J. G. Eckhardt now in the National Portrait Gallery, of which an engraving serves as frontispiece to vol. ii of the Works (as above).

38512. LETTERS of and about Erasmus, 1522–1536. Latin. The letters of Erasmus, thirty-nine in number, are almost all holograph and addressed to Erasmus Schets of Antwerp, who acted as banker to Erasmus. Those to Schets are all unpublished, but will appear, along with Schets's letters to Erasmus, the originals of which are in the University Library of Basle, in P. S. Allen's Erasmi Epistolae in course of publication (vols. i–iii, 1906–1913). They are mainly concerned with money matters, but refer also to other subjects, Luther, the monks, political affairs in the Empire, English acquaintances, personal matters, etc. They include three 19th century copies (ff. 19, 40, 59) by the secretary of P. F. X. de Ram. Besides the letters to Schets there are others from Erasmus (i) to Hieronymus van der Noot, Chancellor of Brabant, Basle, 14 July, 1522. Signed, with autogr. notes. f. 2;—(ii) to Johannes Vlatten, [Freiburg, 25 July], 1533. 16th cent. copy. Printed in D. Erasmi . . . Opera Omnia, Leiden, 1703, tom. iii, col. 1758. f. 82;—(iii) to Damian a Goes, Freiburg, 11 Mar. 1534. Signed. Printed by P. F. X. de Ram, Analectes pour servir à l'hist. de l'Univ. de Louvain, xvi, p. 72. f. 88. The volume contains the following additional letters:—(a) Albert Pighius, private chamberlain of Pope Clement VII, to the Theological Faculty of Louvain University, on their opposition to Erasmus; Rome, 12 July, 1525. Hol. Printed by F. Nève, Mém. . . . sur le Collége des Trois-Langues à l'Univ. de Louvain, tom. xxviii of Mém. . . . publiés par l'Acad. Royale . . . de Belgique, etc. f. 8;—(b) Cuthbert [Tunstall], Bishop of London, to Peter Gillis, Town Clerk of Antwerp; London, 1 July, [1527?]. Hol. f. 21;—(c) Tilmannus Gravius to Schets on the death of Erasmus; Cologne, 1 Aug. 1536. Hol. f. 94.

Paper; ff. ii + 94. XVI cent. Folio. The collection formerly belonged to Pierre François Xavier de Ram (1804–1865), Rector of Louvain University, and more recently to Louis Nève of Louvain, from whom it was purchased by the Museum and the Bodleian library jointly, the latter taking nine letters of the series (Bodl. MS. 35596).

38513. PRECEDENT-BOOK for Feudal Aids, co. Norfolk, temp. Edw. III. Imperfect at end. Contents:—

1. Extracts from the Memoranda Rolls of the Exchequer as to reliefs in co. Norf., tempp. Hen. III–Edw. III, made for levying the aid of 20 Edw. III "ad primogenitum filium R. E. tertii militem faciendum." f. 1.

2. Copy of return of the Aid for the marriage of the King's daughter Eleanor ordered to be assessed 29 May, 1290, but not collected till 31 Edw. I [1302–1303], for twenty-seven hundreds in co. Norf. Five hundreds are missing at the end, but the text supplies some omissions in the returns as printed in the Public Record Office Calendar of Feudal Aids, vol. iii, especially in Tunstead and South Erpingham hundreds. f. 5.
Two fragments attached at the beginning (ff. i, ii) contain portions of a farm accompt with a reference to Stiuekey [Stiffkey] manor [co. Norf.]; 18 Edw. [I, 1289–1290?].
Vellum; ff. ii + 28. 10½ in. × 7 in. Temp. Edw. III.

38514. Correspondence and papers of Sir Henry Ellis, K.H., Principal Librarian of the British Museum (d. 1869), on the subject of the Domesday survey. The collection includes, besides some printed tracts, (a) copies, in Ellis's hand, of "Correspondence relating to the Domesday survey and the first proposals for its publication: from the originals in the library of the Society of Antiquaries"; 1757–1783. f. 32;—and (b) Ellis's original correspondence with J. Caley and others while engaged upon his 'General Introduction and Indices' to the Record Commission edition of Domesday Book, 1809–1816, and some later letters discussing various points and terms in the survey, 1832–1850. f. 84. The names of the writers, etc., will be found in the Index.
Paper; ff. 165. Small quarto.
Presented by Henry John Ellis, Esq., grandson of the author.

38515. Extracts and notes from Domesday Book, by the same, arranged under counties.
Paper; ff. i + 26. Narrow octavo.
Presented by the same.

Paper; ff. 144. Folio.

38517. ORIGINAL LETTERS of Francis Rawdon Hastings, Earl of Moira and (Feb. 1817) Marquis of Hastings, Governor General of Bengal, to Lt. Col. James Young, his Military Secretary; dated chiefly from Calcutta or Barrackpore, 1 Jan. 1817–8 Dec. 1820. The letters discuss, in a semi-official way, details of discipline, appointments and promotions, stores, etc., and occasionally more important matters, as the distribution of troops or the drafting of reports to the East India Company, but rarely touch upon the broader subjects of military policy. A few letters from Flora Muir, Countess of Loudoun, Marchioness of Hastings, are included, and at the beginning (f. 2) is an original order from Lord Moira to Major [John] Lumsdaine for artillery; Futtyghur, 23 June, 1815.
Paper; ff. 191. Quarto.

38518. DRAFT of an official report on military organization in India, by Lt. Col. James Young, Military Secretary to the Marquis of Hastings, addressed to the Secret Committee; Fort William, 6 Jan. 1820. The date of its official reception is noted as 6 Mar. 1820.
Paper; ff. iii + 145. Folio.

38519. 1. COURTBOOK of Humbershoe manor in Markyate, cos. Hertf. and Bedf.; 3 Oct. 3 Charles I [1627]–26 Sept. 1636, Sir John Ferrers, Knt., being lord of the manor. f. 1. Followed (f. 10) by imperfect records of courts held in 1655, 6 Oct. 12 Charles II [1660] and 6 Dec. 1661, Thomas Coppin being lord. For courtbooks of Markyate manor see Add. MS. 38064.

2. Fragment (fol. xxvi^{to}–fol. xxxi^{o}) of a terrier of lands in Rumburgh and Wissett, co. Suff., partly of the fee of the Prior of Rumburgh, partly of the manor of Wissett Roos, Wissett, 16th cent. f. 13.
Vellum; ff. 18. Folio.

38520. "PEAL CHRONICLE" of the Society of Union Youths of Newport, Isle of Wight, containing a record of peals rung at various churches, etc., throughout the kingdom, with occasional notices of new bells hung, deaths of prominent ringers, etc., 1718–1821. The names are given of the ringers of peals at Newport and Carisbrook (the first recorded at Newport being in 1791), and, in some cases, of those at other places.
Paper; ff. i + 135. Folio. On the last cover is the inscription "The Gift of William Rayner, January 7th 1802." Bookplate (f. i) of W. C. Pearson.
Presented by Rev. William Carter Pearson.

38521. LIBER REGALIS: the order of coronation of the Kings of England, as used from the 14th cent. onwards, in Latin. The version with long rubrics, agreeing closely throughout with the MS. preserved Wickham Legg, English Coronation Records, 1901, p. 81 (parts 1–3 only, with translation). Contents:—1. "Hic est ordo secundum quem Rex debet coronari, pariter et inungi": coronation of King alone. f. 1;—2. Coronation of King and Queen, with "Missa pro Rege." Beg. "Uerum si regina eodem die inungenda fuerit et coronanda cum rege." f. 19;—3. Coronation of Queen alone. Beg. "Die quo regina sola coronanda est." f. 27 b;—4. "De exequiis regalibus cum ipsos ex hoc seculo migrare contigerit": a long rubric, giving directions for laying-out a royal corpse. f. 32. Vellum; ff. vi + 32. 9½ in. × 6¼ in. Early xv cent. Gatherings of 8 leaves, with catchwords. Sec. fol. "–ane dilatator." Illuminated initial, with border-prolongation, English work, on f. 1; flourished initials in blue and red throughout. A few marginal corrections, in a contemporary hand, of blunders in the text. Belonged to Ellis and White, the booksellers (cutting from catalogue, f. v); afterwards to Sir Thomas Brooke, Bart. [1899], F.S.A., of Armitage Bridge, Huddersfield (see the Catalogue of his library, 1891, i, p. 308), who bequeathed it in 1908 to the Rev. E. S. Dewick. Bookplate of arms of Thomas Brooke, F.S.A. Bound in brown calf, the covers stamped in gold with the arms of Harville charged with those of Jouvenel des Ursins [Claude de Harville married, in 1577, Catherine, dau. of Christophe Jouvenel des Ursins, Marquis de Trainel, and d. 1636].

Presented by the Rev. Edward Samuel Dewick, F.S.A.

38522. Letters of Arthur Wellesley, Duke of Wellington, to Lt.-Col. Sir John Malcolm, the Duke of Richmond, Viscount Castlereagh, the Earl of Liverpool, and others, 1806–1833. Copies; in the hand of Lt.-Col. John Gurwood, and for the most part included in the Wellington Dispatches, 1844, while a few, omitted there, are given in the Supplementary Despatches, edited by the 2nd Duke of Wellington, in 1860. At the beginning are copies of orders recording the early commissions, etc. of the "Hon. Arthur Wesley" [Wellesley] in 1787–1794; and at the end (f. 112) the correspondence of Lt.-Col. Gurwood with the Clowes family, printers, and others, respecting an alleged piracy of the Dispatches, 1839–1845. Paper; ff. 125. Folio.

Presented by Reginald Baliol Brett, Viscount Esher.

38523, 38524. Correspondence of Leigh Hunt, supplementing Add. MSS. 38108–38111 noticed above. Two volumes. Vol. I (ff. 252), 1807–1844. Vol. II (ff. 277), 1845–1859. The names of the writers are given in the Index. Many of the earlier letters are addressed to Hunt as editor of the Examiner; some of those in 1819 and following years refer to Byron and the Shelleys, including letters of Mary Shelley, drafts of Hunt's letters to her and to Byron, a letter of E. J. Trelawny to Hunt, a letter of Alessandro Mavrocordato to Byron, etc. In Vol. II (f. 253) is a draft in Hunt's hand of a statement relating to "an alleged attack on me by a friend in one of his novels" [i.e. to Charles Dickens's character Harold Skimpole in Bleak House]. Hunt afterwards used this in a letter to William George Spencer Cavendish, 6th Duke of Devonshire, see S. Arthur Strong, 'The Kindest-hearted of the Great,' in Critical Studies and Fragments, 1905, p. 169. Part of Strong's printed article is included in the volume, f. 273. Folio.

38525. Historical collection to illustrate the times of Henry V, made by Robert Sanderson (d. 1741), Clerk of the Rolls, one of the editors of Rymer's Fœdera. It consists of extracts and copies of documents relating chiefly to the French war, the Lollards, etc., taken from the public records in his charge and from Cotton MSS. (some of which have since been lost in the fire of 1731), etc., the references being generally given in the margins. A few earlier and later documents are added. For Sanderson's "History of the Reign of Henry V," in which many of the contents herein are utilized, see Add. MSS. 19979–19984. The contents are:

1. List of the Rolls, Memoranda, and other evidences handed over by William de Burstall, the retiring Keeper of the Rolls, to his successor John de Waltham; 9 Sept. 5 Ric. II [1381]. Lat. Followed (f. 7) by a note of the appointment of Waltham's successor, John Burton, 24 Oct. 10 Ric. II [1386]. f. 1.
2. Appointment by Owen [Glendower], "Princeps Waliæ," of procurators to negotiate an alliance with Charles VI of France, [Dolgelly, 15 May, 1404]. Copy from Cotton MS. Titus A. iii, f. 32. Imperf. f. 8.

Swedish translation by Mathias Laurentii is published by the Svensk Fornskrift-Sällskap, Samlingar, hft. 111, 113, 115 (1897, 1898). Vellum; ff. i + 143. 7½ in. × 5⅜ in. Early xv cent. Written in double columns, headings of the books in red. Illuminated full-page designs, of Dutch work, stand at the beginning of bks. i, iv, and vi (ff. 4 b, 69 b, 70 b, 123 b), cf. Arundel MS. 44. In bks. i (f. 32 b) and v (f. 102) no illustrations are given though indicated in rubrics. The place of the latter is apparently taken by a picture of the Virgin and Child at the beginning of bk. v (f. 90 b). At the end of the volume is written in the same hand the ownership note of the Brigittine Sisters of Our Lady in the Vineyard at Utrecht: "Dit boec hoer totten susteren bi onser vrouwen in den wijngaert tutrecht" (f. 143 b), and on f. i is the name Jan Blydetteyn in a 19th cent. hand. Binding of modern calf on wooden boards, blind tooled, a panel in the centre with stamped ornaments in lozenge-shaped compartments and on the borders. Later a coat of arms has been stamped on the centre of one side and a monogram on the other. Sold at Sotheby's, 4 Aug. 1864 (sale-cat. lot 1199). Afterwards belonged to Charles Butler of Warren Wood, Hatfield (sale-cat. Sotheby's, 1912, lot 2689).

38528. Hours, etc., in Latin. Contents:—(1) The four Gospel-lessons. f. 1;—(2) "Obsecro te" and "O intemerata." ff. 6 b, 10;—(3) "Oroison deuote de nostre dame": the "Stabat mater." f. 14 b;—(4) "Passio domini nostri Ihesu Christi secundum Iohannem." f. 17;—(5) "Oroison tresdeuote de nostre seigneur," beg. "O dulcissime domine," and containing such phrases as "me famulam tuam liberare digneris," "defende me domine famulam tuam," "hec presta michi indigne famule tue," etc. f. 28;—(6) Hours of the Virgin, apparently of Paris use, cf. Add. MS. 11866 and the printed Heures a lusaige de Paris, Paris, 1498. Imperfect, wanting a leaf at the beginning and two leaves after f. 84 (end of Sext and beg. of Nones). f. 35;—(7) Penitential Psalms and Litany, the latter including SS. Denis, Louis, and Geneviève. ff. 102, 115 b;—(8) "Hore sancte crucis." f. 120 b;—(9) "Hore sancti spiritus." f. 128 b;—(10) "Ad vesperas defunctorum," wanting the first leaf of text. f. 134 b;—(11) "Les heures de la passion." f. 182;—(12) "Sequentem orationem scripsit venerabilis Beda presbiter de septem vltimis verbis Christi in cruce pendentis, quam quicunque omni die dixerit flexis genibus nec dyabolus nec malus homo ei nocere poterit," etc. f. 227;—(13) "Octo versus sancti Bernardi," with versicles and prayers. f. 229 b;—(14) Memorials of Saints, including "Memoire des sainctes reliques" (viz. the Crown of Thorns and Lance, both of which were preserved in the Ste. Chapelle at Paris), Denis, Claude, Hubert, Geneviève, Opportuna, Avoye, and Radegonde. f. 232;—(15) "Oroison de nostre dame," beg. "Domina mea sancta Maria." f. 264;—(16) Prayer against fire, water, poison, and sudden death. f. 270;—(17) "Tresbelles oroisons sur les sept pseaulmes." f. 270 b.

Vellum; ff. iv + 276. 5¾ in. × 3¾ in. Middle of xv cent. Gatherings of 8 leaves (v^{10}, xiii^{6}, xxix^{6}, $last^{3}$), with catchwords. Sec. fol. "Qui non." Ten (originally, no doubt, twelve) well-executed miniatures by French artists, with full borders of foliage-scrolls, flowers, fruit, birds, on plain vellum backgrounds; illuminated initials and partial borders throughout. The miniatures are on ff. 59 b (Visitation), 71 b (Nativity), 77 b (Angel and Shepherds—one shepherdess), 82 (Adoration of the Magi), 89 (Flight into Egypt), 96 (Coronation of the Virgin), 102 (David in penitence, death-angel swooping), 121 (Crucifixion), 129 (Pentecost), 182 b (Gethsemane). French binding, late 16th cent., of brown morocco, gilt-tooled, with the arms of Daffis of Toulouse in the centre of each cover. Two small fragments from a 13th cent. MS. on canon law, formerly used in the binding, are now Add. MS. 38651, H. On f. iv, "Ex libris C. J. [erasure] de Haricourt (?) in Sen. Par. patron. 17 Mart. 1779, cum duobus aliis, 27#." Sotheby's sale-cat. 28, 29 Mar. 1912, lot 334.

Paper; ff. i + 39. Bookplate of Lincoln's Inn. Quarto. Bound in brown morocco, gilt.

Presented by the Hon. Society of Lincoln's Inn.

38530. Journal of one of the crew of H.M.S. Resolution, and afterwards (see f. 153 b) of H.M.S. Discovery, on the third and last voyage of Captain James Cook; 1776–1780. A note on f. 1 describes the writer as "George Gilbert, 1st Lieut. . . . on board the Discovery" and states that he "was made Captain after Cook was killed . . and died of smallpox on his return to England, aged 27." This however is evidently based on misconception. The name Gilbert does not occur among the officers of either ship, and a log in the Public Record Office, no. 4559/213–215, bears the name of G. Gilbert, A.B. For a list of logs and journals of this voyage, see Add. MS. 38091, f. 40. This journal adds little to the other accounts printed and MS. Prefixed are a few biographical notes on the Gilbert family and a type-written letter (f. ii) from C. Humphrey Gilbert to Alban Doran; 28 Jan. 1907.

Paper; ff. iv + 165. Small quarto.
Presented by Alban Doran, Esq.

38531. DUETS for two oboes, and for oboe and harpsichord, in score, by Robert Valentine, transcribed in Italy, apparently in 1779.
Paper; ff. i + 47. Oblong quarto. Tooled morocco binding, with coronet and arms (two bendlets) on the covers. Bookplate of arms of Ercole Rinaldo d'Este, Duke of Modena (d. 1803).

38532–38535. POEMS of James Thomson ("B. V.", d. 1882). Hologr. Four volumes.

38532. Vol. I (ff. 56). 1. "Weddah and Om-el-Bonain", stanzas 1–74 agreeing with part i, 1–30, pt. ii, 1–30, and pt. iii, 1–14, of the printed edition of 1895 (Works), vol. I, p. 55. Those corresponding with pt. iii, 15–30, and pt. iv, 1–35 are wanting. Fair copy. f. 1.
2. "The City of Dreadful Night" (ib. I, p. 122), wanting pts. xii–xvii, xxi of the edition. The arrangement differs as follows, the MS. numbers coming first: i = i, ii = ii, iii = v, iv = xviii, v = xi, vi = xx, vii = vii, viii = iv, ix = ix, x = x, xi = iii, xii = vi, xiii = xix, xiv = viii, xv = Proem. The new order is suggested at the end (f. 38). Fair copy. f. 21.
3. The same, a rough copy in pencil, written in 1870–1873 in the following order: pts. ii, iv, vi, i, iii, v, vii–xv. Many of the corrections are embodied in the fair copy above. f. 39.
Paper. Small octavo.

38533. Vol. II (ff. 15). 1. "Sunday up the River" (Works, I, p. 183): printer's first proof with alterations suggested, after consultation with Charles Kingsley, by James Anthony Froude [then editor of Frazer's Magazine, in which the poem was printed in Oct. 1869], and new lines proposed by the author. f. 1.
2. The "Proem" in seven stanzas (ib. II, p. 61), 5 Jan. 1882; and a note on "Grub St." (see also below, 38535, f. 51 b). f. 13 b.
Paper. Oblong octavo.

38534. Vol. III. (ff. 56). Drafts and fragments of various poems, in pencil, among them being: (a) "The Three that shall be One," written in 1863 (Works, I, p. 231). f. 4;—(b) "Ronald and Helen" (II, p. 225). f. 6;—(c) "Sunday up the River," written in 1865 (I, p. 183). ff. 19 b–25;—(d) "Low Life," written in 1864 (I, p. 269). f. 25 b;—(e) "Aquatics (Kew)," written in 1865 (I, p. 315). f. 27 b;—(f) "Sunday at Hampstead" (I, p. 203). f. 32 b. Reversing the volume, there are a few personal notes.

Paper. Oblong 16mo.

38535. Vol. IV (ff. 60). Drafts, etc., of poems, in pencil, as follows:—(a) "Two Lovers" (Works, I, p. 105). f. 1 b;—(b) "In the Room," written in 1868 (I, p. 173). f. 4 b;—(c) "A Song of Sighing," written in 1868 (I, p. 262). f. 8 b;—(d) "Weddah and Om-el-Bonain," written in 1868–1869 (I, p. 55). f. 9 b. Reversing the volume, there are personal reflections, notes of expenses, etc., and a few verses, among them (f. 58 b) "Lilah, Alice, Hypatia" (I, p. 282).
Paper. Oblong 16mo.

38536. Catalogue of papers of Sir Robert Southwell, Clerk to the Privy Council (1664–1679), Secretary of State for Ireland (1690–1702), with his signature on f. ii dated 20 Aug. 1692, presumably the date of the catalogue. Arranged in two series, one (ff. 1–32 b) mostly before 1680, and the other (ff. 33–38) mostly after, under various heads, the lists of which are given on ff. 1, 1 b. Only two of the papers have been identified among the Southwell MSS. already acquired, viz.: (a) certificate of Sir R. Southwell's receiving the Sacrament. f. 22 (see Add. MS. 38015, f. 163);—(b) letter of Sir R. Southwell touching the death of Sir Edmund Bury Godfrey. f. 36 (see Add. MS. 38015, f. 316).
Paper; ff. ii + 38. Circ. A.D. 1692. Folio. The volume was in Thomas Thorpe's catalogue, 1834, no. 952, and again, 1836, no. 178, when it was purchased by Sir Thomas Phillipps. Phillipps MS. 8833 (sale cat. 15–18 June, 1908, lot 690). Purchased at Hodgson's 2 May, 1912, lot 259 (part).

38537. Roll of arms, known as the Dering Roll from the fact that it was owned early in the 17th century by Sir Edward Dering of Surrenden, co. Kent (d. 1644). The contents have hitherto been chiefly known through a rather inaccurate copy in trick made soon after 1607, perhaps by some herald, and contained in Harley MS. 6137, ff. 89 b–97 b. Described on that basis by James Greenstreet and C. Russell, 'The Dering Roll of Arms,' in The Reliquary, vols. xvi–xviii (1876–1878), with full list of coats in blazon and a few engravings, it is no. 7 of the same authors' 'Reference List of Rolls of Arms' in The Genealogist, vol. v. (1881), and is quoted as A in Papworth's Ordinary (1874). The roll when complete contained 324 coats (fifty-four rows of six) well drawn in colours, the names written above them being in a 15th cent. hand. The first row and part of the second (nos. 1–6 and 12, with part of 11) have been torn off since the Harley copy was made. The names throughout are those of persons living at the end of Henry III's reign or in the first half of Edward I's, and are given with fair accuracy, though mistakes occur, such as Bokesle (for Rokesle), Merwize (for Merwrþe), Maube (for Maufe), Chewinthe (for Chawurthe), etc. A palpable fraud has been committed, either by Dering or some person who wished to sell the roll to Dering, in the case of no. 61, where the arms (per fess, or and gu.) and name of Nic. de Crioll have been erased and arms (or, a saltire sa.) and name of Ric. fiz Dering substituted. The roll is presumably copied from a 13th cent. compilation or compilations and is apparently connected with a larger series, also surviving only in a 15th cent. form, which was formerly MS. 22007 in Sir Thomas Phillipps' collection and was afterwards in George Dunn's library (sale-cat. 1913, lot 508). Of the names given in the present roll the first seventy-seven are all, or nearly all, from co. Kent, and from that point to about no. 143 most of them have some connexion with co. Sussex. Later on the local grouping is less easy to follow, but about the last thirty or thirty-five are foreigners from France or Flanders. An alphabetical list of names is on the back of the roll.

Vellum roll; 9 ft. 10½ in. × 10¼ in. xv cent. Belonged (see his note at end) to Ralph Starkey in 1597; afterwards to Dering, and in 1811 to Rev. David Thomas Powell, LL.B. (see his note at the end, cat. in Add. MS. 22505, f. 90, and sale-cat. 1848, lot 453), later to Henry Wellesley, D.D., Principal of New Inn Hall, Oxford (Sotheby's sale-cat. 13 June, 1865, lot 392). Purchased, with Add. Roll 56409, at Messrs. Sotheby's (sale-cat. 31 May, 1912, lot 65).

38538. Acts, Catholic, and Pauline Epistles, in Greek, with ὑποθέσεις, subscriptions, κεφάλαια, τίτλοι, μαρτυρίαι, and indication of lections. The order of the books in each article is that of modern Bibles. Contents:—

1. Acts, with the usual division into 40 κεφάλαια and with the Euthalian prefaces, viz. (a) πρόλογος τῶν πράξεων τῶν ἁγίων καὶ πανευφήμων ἀποστόλων, beg. Ὅσοι τῆς ὄντως. f. 1;—(b) ὑπόθεσις beg. Πράξεις ἀποστόλων τὸ βιβλίον καλεῖται. f. 4;—(c) ἀποδημία Παύλου. f. 6;—(d) ἔκθεσις κεφαλαίων, beg. Ἐκ πατέρων ἡμεῖς, followed by the tables of τίτλοι and μαρτυρίαι. f. 7. F. 41, most of which is torn away, contained Acts xviii. 28–xix. 32.
2. Catholic Epistles with the Euthalian prefaces, viz. (a) πρόλογος τῶν καθολικῶν ἐπιστολῶν, beg. Μικροῖς μὲν καὶ μικρὰ τολμῶσιν, and (b) ὑποθέσεις, followed by τίτλοι and μαρτυρίαι. f. 61 b.

3. Epistles of St. Paul, with the Euthalian πρόλογος Παύλου προτασσόμενος τῆς βίβλου, and the μαρτύριον Παύλου τοῦ ἀποστόλου, each letter having a special preface, often beg. Ἧδε πρὸς — ἐπιστολή, except Philem. which has the Euthalian preface beg. Ταύτην ἐπιστέλλει, with κεφάλαια and μαρτυρίαι. f. 90.
4. Δωροθέου ἐπισκόπου Τύρου ἀρχαίου ἀνδρὸς πραγματοφόρου καὶ μάρτυρος γεγονότος ἐν τοῖς καιροῖς Λικινίου καὶ Κωνσταντίνου βασιλέως, beg. Οὗτος ὁ προλεχθεὶς—Commentary on the seventy disciples and the twelve apostles by Dorotheus, Bishop of Tyre. Printed, both Greek and Lat. text, in Migne, Patrolog. Graec. xcii. 1059. Colophon, Ἐγράφη τὸ παρὸν βιβλίον ὁ πραξαπόστολος ἐν ἔτει ,ϛωκ ἰνδικτίωνος δεκάτης. f. 234.
5. Συναξάριον περιέχον τά τε ἀντίφωνα τῶν ἑορτῶν, τῆς λειτουργίας, ἀλληλουϊάρια, προκείμενα τοῦ ἀποστόλου τοῦ ὅλου χρόνου, synaxarion. f. 239.

Vellum; ff. i + 269. 8 in. × 5½ in. A.D. 1312. Canvas binding on wooden boards with ἀπόστολον incised on a rough cross.

38539. Collection of pieces for the lute by Robert Kindersley, John Dowland, Anthony Holborne, Daniel Bachelor, Robert Johnson, and above all John Sturt, who is probably the compiler of the collection. They consist chiefly of Allemandes, Courantes, Pavans, Galliards, and Masque-tunes, and include the following:—(a) "The Lord Hayes Corant." f. 2 b;—(b) "The Lord Souches Maske." f. 8;—(c) "Mall Simmes." f. 9 b;—(d) "John, com kisse mee now." f. 11 b;—(e) "Mr. Holborns Last Will and Testament." f. 13 b;—(f) "Tom of Bedlam" (two versions). ff. 14, 29;—(g) "Lacrime pauin" (sc. pavan) by John Dowland. f. 22 b;—(h) "The Battle." f. 23 b;—(i) "Graysin (sc. Gray's Inn) maske." f. 30;—(k) The first two tunes in "The Lordes Maske" [1612–13]. f. 30 b;—and other tunes, some of which are also in Egerton MS. 2046, which was transcribed about 1616. Reversing the volume, there are the organ parts of a few services by Tallis, Byrd, Rogers, Child, and Gibbons. Paper; ff. i + 56. Circ. A.D. 1613–1616. Large folio. The old embossed calf binding, of the second half of the 17th century, had in the centre the initials M.L. (probably for Matthew Lock), see inside cover of present binding.

38540–38563. Collection of musical compositions—many of them rough drafts or sketches—works on music, and other writings, by Robert Lucas Pearsall, of Willsbridge House, in Bitton, co. Glouc., and afterwards of Wartensee Castle, near St. Gall, in Switzerland, 1836–1854, etc. Chiefly autograph, or in the hands of the writer's daughter, Philippa Swinnerton (wife of John Hughes, of Gwerclas and Kymmer, co. Merioneth), who has added many explanatory notes. In twenty-four volumes, divided as follows:—

Digitized by Google Original from UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA

38540, 38541. Pearsall Collection. Vols. I, II (ff. 162, 175). Miscellaneous compositions, chiefly sacred, in two volumes, including anthems, carols, chants, hymns, a lamentation, a litany, motets, a fragment of an oratorio, sacred part-songs, fragments of requiems, services, sacred songs, a "Te Deum," a religious march (Vol. I, f. 93), etc., by Pearsall. Included also are compositions, or adaptations from compositions, by Jeremiah Clarke, Johannes Coclius, Thomas Este, Goudimel, Gumpeltzhaimer, Heinrich Isaak, Rev. William Leeves, Claude Lejeune, Marcello, G. B. Pinelli, F. Rossello, and Tallis, more particularly noted in the Index to the present Catalogue.
Paper. xix cent. Quarto and oblong folio.

38542. Pearsall Collection. Vol. III (ff. i + 53). Requiem in G minor, for four voices with instrumental symphonies and accompaniments, in score, by Pearsall, here described as a Knight of St. John.
Paper. a.d. 1853–1856. With bookplate of arms of Pearsall's son-in-law John Hughes. Oblong folio.

38543. Pearsall Collection. Vol. IV (ff. 106). Neat copies of miscellaneous compositions, chiefly sacred, by Pearsall, including anthems, a carol, a chorus, hymns, lamentations, motets, part-songs (sacred and secular), Passion music (Improperia), part of a service, sacred songs, and an orchestral piece. Among the authors of the words are Benjamin D'Israeli, Ludwig Hölty, and Edward Vogt.
Paper. Circ. a.d. 1841–1852. Folio.

38544, 38545. Pearsall Collection. Vols. V, VI (ff. 176, 163). Miscellaneous compositions, chiefly secular, by Pearsall, in two volumes, including canons, catches, duets, glees, madrigals, operatic fragments, fragments from an oratorio (Vol. V, f. 168 b), part-songs, songs, a vocal trio, orchestral marches (Vol. V, f. 173; Vol. VI, ff. 96 b, 97, 101 b–104 b), and solos for the organ and pianoforte. Included also are compositions, or adaptations from compositions, by C[ornelius?] Bryan, Philippa Swinnerton Hughes, H. (?) Mosel of Vienna, [Thibaut IV] King of Navarre, Thomas Ravenscroft, Ludwig Senfl, and Samuel Webbe sen. Among the unidentified sketches in these two volumes are two (in Vol. V) of compositions beginning apparently with the words "Come, gentle sleep" (f. 153), and "Der ein Botschaft" (f. 167).
Paper. xix cent. Oblong folio and folio.

38546. Pearsall Collection. Vol. VII (ff. ii + 101). Arrangements and adaptations from works by the early madrigal-writers and others, interspersed with original compositions—chiefly sketches or rough drafts—by Pearsall, including anthems, a canon, a carol, a catch, duets, glees, a lamentation, madrigals, motets, part-songs, part of a service, and songs. The other composers whose works are given, in an original or adapted form, are John Bennet, Thomas Brewer, Michael Este, Festa, Geminiani, Himmel, W. Horsley, H. Isaak, Lasso, Morley, Paxton, Ravenscroft, L. Senfl, and R. J. S. Stevens. Among the unidentified sketches is one beginning "Herr, ich glaube" (?). f. 14. At the beginning of the volume are Pearsall's bookplate of arms, and a receipt from Thomas Oliphant, 30 June, 1839, for cost of engraving madrigals.
Paper. A.D. 1835–1838, etc. Oblong folio.

38547. Pearsall Collection. Vol. VIII (ff. iv + 44). A similar collection, by Pearsall, including anthems, chants, a duet, glees, madrigals, part of a Mass, part-songs, parts of services, and unidentified sketches.
Paper. A.D. 1838, etc. Oblong folio.

38548. Pearsall Collection. Vol. IX (ff. i + 285). "Musica Gregoriana," or "Opinions on the origin and progress of ecclesiastical music, communicated in a suite of letters to the Reverend H[enry] T[homas] Ellacombe", vicar of Bitton, co. Glouc., by Pearsall.
Paper. A.D. 1849, 1850. Quarto. Bookplate of arms of John Hughes (as in Vol. III).

38549, 38550. Pearsall Collection. Vols. X, XI (ff. 102, 120). "Psalmodia"; with the alternative title "An Essay on Psalm-tunes . . . . in the Church of England, by R. L. Pearsall, of Willsbridge, written at Carlsruhe . . . . 1842." In two volumes, vol. ii being described (vol. i, f. 2) as a "Musical Appendix containing many of the most standard continental church-melodies with short notices of their authors," etc. [with additions down to 1847]. These are most of them chorales by German composers, adapted to English words and intended to be sung as hymns in the Church of England.
Paper. Small quarto.

38551. Pearsall Collection. Vol. XII (ff. i + 49). "Letters to [John Merewether, D.D.] the D[ean] of H[ereford] on Church Music": being rough drafts of letters on the style of Palestrina and on the state of music and harmony in his time, by Pearsall, 1850 (the later letters appear to have been written after the Dean's death).

Paper. Quarto.

38552. Pearsall Collection. Vol. XIII (ff. 284). Rough drafts and fragments of writings on the history and theory of music, especially relating to music performed in the Church of England, by Pearsall, chiefly autograph. Ff. 1–153 and 230–238 are chiefly supplementary to Vols. IX–XI; the remaining papers are "On the comparative value of modern church music and that of the 16 and 17 centuries." f. 154;—"On the origin of the ancient gamut." f. 158;—"Of counterpoint." ff. 179, 210;—On proportions. f. 239;—On imitation. f. 246 b;—"On consecutive fifths and octaves," 1855. f. 254;—and "On consonances and dissonances." f. 276.
Paper. xix cent. Folio.

38553. Pearsall Collection. Vol. XIV (ff. 60). Compositions for voices, in score, most of them rather roughly written, and a few merely sketched in pencil, by Pearsall. Included are anthems, chants, glees, hymns, madrigals, part-songs, and a few unidentified works (sketched in pencil).
Paper. xix cent. Quarto.

38554. Pearsall Collection. Vol. XV (ff. 92). Neat copies of madrigals for four, five and six voices, in score, most of them with German translations of the original words apparently by Pearsall. The names of the composers are John Bennet, B. Cooke, John Dowland, Richard Edwards (?), Festa, Orlando Gibbons, W. Horsley, Morley, Palestrina, Purcell, John Leman Rogers, Tallis, Tye, John Ward, Weelkes, and Wilbye. The original MS. ended with f. 69.
Paper. xix cent. Folio. Ff. 74–84 were presented to Pearsall in 1837 by Edward Taylor at Bristol.

38555–38559. Pearsall Collection. Vols. XVI–XX (ff. 33, 33, i + 33, 11, i + 32). Neat copies of madrigals, part-songs, glees, etc., for four or five voices, in parts, a few by Pearsall (or slightly altered by him), but most of them by the English and Italian madrigalists of the 16th century and the English glee-writers of the late 18th century. The names of the composers are Felice Anerio, Bennet, Bishop, Brewer, Callcott, Benjamin Cooke, Donato, John Dowland, Michael Este, Ferretti, Festa, Ford, Orlando Gibbons, William Horsley, Lasso, Thomas Linley sen., Marenzio, Morley, Pizzoni, Purcell, Jeremiah 38620, 38621. COLLECTIONS for a history of the English Stage down to the retirement of J. P. Kemble in 1817, by Richard John Smith, actor, commonly known as O. Smith (d. 1855); consisting mainly of extracts from dramatic and literary histories and other printed works. Holograph. Two volumes. At the end of vol. ii (ff. 192, 194) are two letters of Adelaide O'Keeffe, daughter of John O'Keeffe the dramatist, [1826], 1827. Thirty-four volumes of similar collections by Smith, largely composed of newspaper cuttings and interleaved and annotated copies of printed books, are in the Department of Printed Books.

Paper; ff. 239, 196. Quarto. Belonged to Thomas Francis Dillon Croker (sale-cat. 1912, part of lot 140).

38622. PLAYS in English, in various hands, viz.:—

1. "Der Freischütz, or the Spectre Huntsman of Bohemia": the libretto of Weber's opera, as performed at the Theatre Royal, Edinburgh [29 Dec. 1824, see J. C. Dibdin, Annals of the Edinburgh Stage, 1888, p. 310], with the cast. Evidently the same version (attributed to — Logan by J[ames] R[obinson] Planché in a note on f. 1 b) as that produced at the English Opera House on 22 July, 1824: see notice in The Times, 23 July, 1824, and Genest, Some Account of the English Stage, ix, p. 284. Signature of J[oseph] Ebsworth (one of the Edinburgh cast), dated 31 Dec. 1824 and 15 Jan. 1825 respectively, on ff. 20, 52. f. 1.
2. Comic piece, described by F[rederick] W[illiam] Fairholt (f. 53 b) as a burlesque on James Cobb's The Haunted Tower, and attributed by him, on grounds of handwriting, etc., to Thomas [John] Dibdin. f. 54.
3. "The Incas, or the Peruvian Virgin: an historical opera by John Thelwall" (attribution by Thomas Crofton Croker): words only. f. 69.
4. "Airs, etc. [words only] for Harlequin Omai, by J[ohn] O'Keeffe 1785." With two engraved portraits of the author prefixed. At the end: "Mr. O'Keeffe has delay'd writing the Clown's songs till it is determin'd who does the part." f. 165.

5. "The Pagoda Bridge: a super-serio extra-ludicro bombastic operatic spectral spectacle interlude in one act, by the author of 'Comic Tales by Two Franks.'" The 'Two Franks' are identified by Planché with "Francis Wyman, an actor at the Olympic, and his father." f. 188.

At the end (f. 203 b) is a list, in T. C. Croker's hand, of the contents of four volumes of MS. Plays, the present volume being vol. iv.

Paper; ff. i. + 204. Small quarto. XVIII–XIX centt. Art. 2 belonged in 1817 to C— Perkins (f. 68 b). Belonged to Thomas Crofton Croker (d. 1854), who has annotated most of the title-pages; afterwards to his son Thomas Francis Dillon Croker (bookplate, 1851; sale-cat. 1912, part of lot 140).

38623. GENEALOGICAL extracts, chiefly from the probate registry at Peterborough, concerning the family of Walcott of cos. Rutland and Lincoln, etc., with a pedigree (ff. 100 b–107), compiled by Phemie Smith for Samuel Frye Walcott of Salem, Massachusetts, U.S.A., 1910–1911. For a similar collection relating to other families of the same name, see Add. MS. 29743.

Paper; ff. 107. A.D. 1910–1911. Folio.

Presented by S. F. Walcott, Esq.

38624. BREVIARY of York use. Imperfect. The contents are:—(1) Psalter, beginning imperfectly in Ps. cxviii. 34 "[in toto corde] meo. Deduc me," etc. Cf. York Breviary, ed. S. Lawley, Surtees Society, 1880, 1882, i, p. 890. f. 1;—(2) Litany. Agrees with the above ed. (i, p. 931), except that the invocation of St. Peter is doubled here and that of St. Anne is omitted (in the Sanctorale, however, her feast occurs on f. 82 as in the edition, ii, p. 416). f. 15;—(3) Services "in commemoracione omnium sanctorum" (quite different from the service printed ib. ii, pp. 647–659 in Sanctorale);—"in natali vnius martyris a Pascha vsque Pentecosten" (= ib. ii, pp. 247–9 with slight variations);—"in natali plurimorum martyrum a Pascha vsque ad Pentecosten" (ib. pp. 249–251). In the edition these two last are in the Sanctorale, between Ambrose and Tiburtius. ff. 18, 19, 19 b;—(4) Sanctorale, beginning with the Feast of SS. Tiburtius, Valerian and Maximus (14 April), instead of the usual St. Andrew's Day (30 Nov.), and breaking off (owing to lacuna after f. 176) at All Saints' Day (1 Nov.) The Feasts agree with those of the corresponding part of the Sanctorale in the edition, ii, pp. 251–653, except for the Eleven Thousand Virgins, whose service has been inserted later at the end (see below). In edition, ii, p. 632, this follows St. Austreberta, and the present MS. has at the corresponding place, f. 170, a note inserted at the foot of the page: "Sanctarum xi milium virginum, quere in fine libri." But the lessons are in most cases longer (sometimes more than twice as long), fuller and differently divided, e.g. SS. William (ff. 34–42 b, cf. edition, ii, pp. 295–319), Oswald (ff. 95–96 b, cf. ib. ii, pp. 450–453), Wilfrid (ff. 161 b–163, cf. ib. ii, pp. 615–618). As in the edition, ii, p. 437, there is a long rubric after St. Peter ad Vincula, containing the phrase "in matrici ecclesia Eboracensi" (f. 90, col. 2). f. 19 b. Additions in a slightly later hand are "In natali plurimarum virginum ix lectionum," without lessons, and "In festo xi milium virginum" (see above, art. 4). ff. 177, 178 b.

Vellum; ff. 180. $8\frac{1}{4} \times 5\frac{5}{8}$ in., double columns. Early xv cent. Initials and headings in red, but most of the longer rubrics only underlined in red. Imperfect at beginning and end and after f. 176. The first quire (ff. 1–12) is not numbered; the others are of 6, 8, 10 or 12 leaves, and are numbered xviii–xxxii continuously to the quire ending with f. 176; no. xxxvii begins with f. 177 but now contains only the first three leaves. So sixteen quires are lost at the beginning and four more between ff. 176 and 177. Originally bound in wooden boards, one of which remains, though broken, together with the original bands. The name (of a former owner?) Marmadouke Hodgson has been scribbled on ff. 133, 180 (the last a detached fly-leaf).

38625. Twenty-three original letters of Sir Humphry Davy, Bart., F.R.S., to John George Children, F.R.S., of the Department of Antiquities, British Museum, chiefly on scientific subjects, with drafts of a few letters of the latter to Davy; 1807–1824. At the end (f. 60) are some printed extracts relating to Davy's "Method of protecting the Copper Sheathing of Ships' Bottoms," 1824. The letters were used and a few printed, in whole or in part, by John Ayrton Paris, M.D., in his Life of Sir Humphry Davy, 1831.

Paper; ff. 66. Quarto.

38626. Correspondence of Sir Henry Ellis, K.H., Secretary to the Society of Antiquaries 1814, Principal Librarian of the British Museum 1827, on various antiquarian and other subjects; among them being the establishment of a naval officers' uniform, "King's letter-men," precedents for affixing royal signatures by a stamp, the figures on the pediment of the Museum executed by Sir R. Westmacott, etc.; 1795–1863. Among the writers are Richard Gough, Samuel Denne, [Charles Abbot, Lord] Colchester, Adm. B. W. Page, William, Duke of Clarence, Sir R. Westmacott and Sir F. L. Chantrey. At the beginning are a letter (f. 1) from William Borlase on Cornish antiquities, 1738, and a correspondence (ff. 3–11 b) of R. Gough, 1770–1789. The names of all the writers are included in the Index.

Paper; ff. 213. Folio.

38627–38631. SURVEYS, valuations, assessments, etc., of East Bedfont, Ashford, South Mimms, and Isleworth, etc., co. Midd., Thorpe, near Chertsey, co. Surrey, and Windsor, co. Berks, made with reference to various inclosure awards; 1809–1840. Five volumes. Presented by Charles Davies Sherborne, Esq.

38627. Vol. I (ff. 263). 1. East Bedfont: (a) Surveys, etc., prepared from that by Thomas Denton in June, 1815 (cf. Add. MS. 37446); Oct. 1815 (with corrections, 1825). ff. 1, 27, 55;—(b) Inclosure Allotting Book, 1816. f. 80;—(c) Schedule of lands subject to tithe, 1838. f. 97;—(d) Rate assessment, 1840. f. 105.
2. Thorpe, near Chertsey: (a) "Sketches" of farm lands, etc., 1808. f. 148;—(b) Survey of the manor and parish, 1809. f. 157;—(c) Survey and valuation by Thomas Denton, May, 1810. f. 194.
3. Ashford: (a) Particular survey, 1809. f. 215;—(b) Survey, by Thomas Denton, 1810. Belonged to Peter Henderson. f. 244. Folio.

38628. Vol. II (ff. i + 77). Allotment of Bedfont tithes, etc., 1815. Small quarto.

38629. Vol. III (ff. ii + 72). Minute-book of the Old Windsor Inclosure, reported by Thomas Denton, one of the Commissioners; 1813–1819. Folio.

38630. Vol. IV (ff. 133). 1. The Isleworth Inclosure Award, 1818, in accordance with Act of 1813. f. 1.
2. Similar award for Twickenham, [1818]. Unfinished. f. 74.
3. Letter-book of Thomas Denton, surveyor, with photographic portrait, 1837, 1838. Holograph. f. 86 b.
4. Apportionment of tithes in 1839, by Thomas Denton, (a) in Ashford, and (b) in Hatton in East Bedfont. ff. 104, 129 b. Folio.

38631. Vol. V (ff. i + 60). Apportionment of tithes in South Mimms, 1842. Folio.

The two following MSS., 38633, 38634, were acquired with Add. Ch. 56457–56678.

38633. MISCELLANEOUS PAPERS, copies of records, proceedings of law-suits, letters, etc., chiefly relating to the family of Bowreman and their connexion with the manors and rectories of Brook and Freshwater in the Isle of Wight; 1355–1794.
Paper; ff. 87. Folio.

38634. ACCOMPT-BOOK of sheep and other farm stock, live and dead, at Brook, Isle of Wight; 1673–1718.
Paper (except ff. i, ii, old vellum cover); ff. ii + 49. Narrow folio.

38635, 38636. COLLECTIONS for a History of Calendars and Eras by Rev. Sherrard Beaumont Burnaby, Vicar of Hampstead 1873–1900 (d. 1902), being an account chiefly of the Julian and Gregorian Calendars, to which the first thirteen chapters, describing the divisions of time in general, the Egyptian and old Roman calendars, and the different eras in use, form an introduction. This is the comprehensive work of which the Jewish and Muhammadan Calendars by the same author (1901) was originally intended to form part (see Preface), and the notes on the Julian and Gregorian Calendars in that book are largely extracted or condensed from the present work. The greater part is arranged for publication. Holograph. Two volumes.
Paper; ff. 407, 305. XIX–XX centt. Folio. Presented by Mrs. Burnaby.

38637, 38638. BEAZELEY COLLECTION. Tracings of Watermarks (1322–1667) from MSS. in the library of Canterbury Cathedral, made 17 July, 1896–24 May, 1900, by Michael Beazeley, F.R.G.S., Hon. Librarian to the Dean and Chapter. Two volumes. Folio. The contents, arranged so far as possible under devices chronologically, are as follows:—Vol. I (a) Various (348); 1322–1667. ff. 1–348; —(b) Hands, gloves, etc. (373); 1468–1588. ff. 349–721. Vol. II (a) Unicorns (32); 1427–1619. ff. 1–32;—(b) Gothic P (18); 1478–1550. ff. 33–50;—(c) Flagons, jugs, vases, bottles, etc. (574); 1523–1627. ff. 51–624;—(d) Undated (48). ff. 625–672. Appended (ff. 673–707) to Vol. II are lists used by the collector in arranging the tracings. Prefixed to each volume (f. i) is a list of all the classes of MSS. examined, with references to the folios (in the notebooks which follow) upon which the notes taken will be found. Each tracing bears in the lower right-hand corner a reference to the class of MSS. and the number of the volume from which it is taken. In the upper left-hand corner there is often a number, which is generally the running number of the notes in the notebooks. Most of the classes will be easily identified in the lists above-mentioned prefixed to each volume. But in cases where the reference is to the number of a volume only without a class, it is (with one or two exceptions) either to the Records of the Consistory Court (if there are no running numbers in the upper left-hand corner), or to the Acta Curiae (if there are running numbers in the upper left-hand corner). Vol. I appears generally to mean Liber 1 ad Instantiam Partium.

Paper; ff. ii + 721, ii + 707. A.D. 1896–1900.

Presented by the compiler.

38639–38642. Beazeley Collection. Notebooks by the same of the notes taken while making the above tracings of watermarks; 1896–1900. Four volumes. A key to the contents of the volumes will be found in the lists of MSS. examined prefixed to the volumes of tracings (see the description above).

Paper; ff. 36, 50, 70, 19. Oblong octavo. A.D. 1896–1900.

Presented by the same.

38643. Origen, Homilies on Numbers, Joshua, Judges, and Kings, in Latin, viz.:—

1. "Liber expositionis Origenis in libro Numeri": the 28 homilies, in the translation of Rufinus (Migne, Patr. Gr. xii. 585), but without the translator's prologue, which in Add. MS. 15307, f. 68 b, is attributed to St. Jerome. A passage omitted on f. 121 b (in hom. xxvii, cf. op. cit. 788–791) has been supplied by a somewhat later hand on an inserted leaf (f. 122). Beg. (after list of chapters): "Diuinis numeris non omnes digni sunt." f. 1.
2. "Expositio in libro Ihesu Naue Origenis presbiteri, id est sermones numero xxui": the 26 homilies, in the translation of Rufinus (ib. 823), with his prologue headed "Prologus in explanatione Origenis in libro Ihesu Naue et Iudicum" and beg. "In diuinis uoluminibus." Beg. "Donauit deus nomen." f. 130 b.
3. "Eiusdem Origenis in Iudicum omelie . viii .", in the translation of Rufinus (ib. 951). As in Royal MSS. 4 C. ix, f. 223 b, 6 A. ii, f. 26 b (but not in Add. MS. 15307, ff. 134–135), the nine homilies are numbered as eight owing to a lacuna (on f. 212 b) including the end of hom. viii and the beginning of hom. ix. Beg. (after list of chapters): "Lector quidem presentis lectionis." f. 195.
4. "Omelia eiusdem Origenis in libro Regum," translated perhaps by Rufinus (ib. 995). Imperf. at end. Beg. "Non tunc tantummodo deus plantauit." Ends: "usquequo sterelis peperit septem . et" (ib. 1011). ff. 213 b–222 b.

Vellum; ff. 222. 12¾ in. × 9¼ in. XII cent. Written in Italy. Gatherings of 8 leaves (xvi[9], f. 122 being an inserted leaf, last[5], wanting a leaf at the end). Sec. fol. "nostrum uel." Illuminated initials in gold and colours, North Italian style, on ff. 1, 130 b, 131; numerous large red initials, slightly ornamented. On the former cover is inscribed (18th cent.?) "volume 12." Belonged to Sir Thomas Phillipps, Bart. (MS. 2172, entered as "from Payne" in folio cat.). Sotheby's sale-cat. 20 Nov. 1912, lot 213.

38644. COMMENTARIES on Canon Law by Giovanni d' Andrea, the Bologna canonist, viz.:—

1. "Incipit nouella Iohannis Andree super Sexto libro decretalium," beg. "Cum eram parvulus . . . Licet diuine maiestatis," to be distinguished alike from the "Glossa in Sextum" and the "Novella in Decretales" of the same author. Printed, Pavia, 1484, etc. (see Schulte, Gesch. der Quellen des can. Rechts, ii, p. 218). f. 1.
2. "Incipit nouella de regulis iuris edita a Iohanne Andree," known also as "Quaestiones Mercuriales" on the regulae iuris of Boniface viii at the end of the Sext. Beg. "Non est novum: Sic incipit glosa." On f. 251 b is "Explicit nouella Iohannis Andree super titulum de regulis iuris. Vinum scriptori debetur de meliori." Another copy is in Arundel MS. 423, f. 26. Printed repeatedly (see Schulte, ii, p. 216). f. 165.

Vellum; ff. vii + 251. 16¼ in. × 11¼ in. A.D. 1345: see the couplet on f. 251 b, "Si de clam cella iacis v. tunc ista nouella Facta fuit tota . gaudeat ergo rota" (MCCLLL minus v). Double columns. Gatherings of 12 leaves with catchwords. Historiated initial representing the author submitting the volume to the pope, two cardinals standing by, f. 1. Bar-border with ivy-leaves f. 1, and half-borders on ff. 55, 83 b, 123, 165. Illuminated initials and ornamental pen-letters throughout. At the end of the volume are 32 leonine hexameters beg. "Hunc librum scripsi domini nunc Parisiensis Eius in expensis bene viuere det deus ipsi", where the scribe prays it may cross the sea in safety. (The Bishop of Paris mentioned is Fulco de Chanac, d. 1349). On 251 b is the note "Dono Jacobi Spifame episcopi Niuernensis 1557" (Jacques Spifame, Bishop of Nevers, executed at Geneva 1566). A note on the fly-leaf states that the MS. belonged to M. de Chevannes in 1680 and to M. Ditau 1730. On f. vii is the name Demigieu 1754. Book-plates are:—(1) arms and motto of Charles Richard de Vesvrotte, 1809, f. iv (see Pontifical d'Amiens, by V. de Beauvillé and H. Josse, 1885, p. v);—(2) another coat: azure, a dexter arm embowed and 38646. AURELIUS PRUDENTIUS, Peristephanon, with Latin glosses. Imperfect by loss of leaves at beginning and after ff. 1, 9, 28, 35. The hymns to SS. Hemeterius and Celedonius, and to St. Vincentius (nos. i, v, in Migne's text) are entirely wanting. Of the rest are wanting:—The xviii Martyrs 1–14, 105–end; Fructuosus and Augurius 1–70; Hippolytus 200–end; Peter and Paul 1–58; Romanus 387–820; Natalis Domini 81–end; De Epiphania 1–134. The order of the hymns is that of Migne, Patrolog. Lat. lx. 277, save that Laurentius, Eulalia and Romanus (nos. ii, iii, x of Migne) come last, followed by Hymns xi and xii of the Cathemerinon (Migne, lix. 888–914) on the Nativity and the Epiphany. The MS. would therefore appear to belong to the class headed by the Paris MS. Bibl. Nat. lat. 8086, see J. Bergman, 'De codicum Prud.

A. Letters relating to North America, 1775, 1780. ff. 1–34.

1. Letter from Lieut.-Gen. William Tryon, Governor of New York, to [William Legge, 2nd] Earl of Dartmouth, urging a change of policy towards the American colonies; New York, 7 Aug. 1775. Copy. A note at the end, stating that no answer was received, is in the autograph of Tryon and signed by him. f. 1.

2. Letter from Maj.-Gen. Richard Montgomery to Gen. Sir Guy Carleton [afterw. 1st Baron Dorchester], at Quebec, calling on him to surrender the city; [5 or 6] Dec. [1775]. Copy. Headed "Published by Authority. Letter from Mr. Montgomery sent into Town by an old woman the 7th day of Dec^r, a copy whereof was shot in upon an arrow some days before." The letter is referred to and quoted from by Sir C. P. Lucas, History of Canada 1763–1812, Oxford, 1909, p. 118; cf. also Annual Register, 1776, p. 12. f. 3.

3. Letters of Thomas Jefferson, as Governor of Virginia, mainly referring to military operations; Richmond, 27 July–13 Sept. 1780. Copies. The collection is incomplete and would seem to be a letter-book, though in a few cases the day of the month is left blank, and the chronological order is not always precisely kept. A note on the back states that the MS. was found at Richmond by Brig.-Gen. [Benedict] Arnold, no doubt on his capture of the town at the beginning of 1781. There are printed copies of some of the letters in T. J. Randolph, Memoir etc. of T. Jefferson, 1829, i, pp. 176, 178, 180; H. A. Washington, The Writings of T. Jefferson, 1853, i, pp. 244, 246, 248, 250, 251, 252; P. L. Ford, The Writings of T. Jefferson, 1893, ii, pp. 322, 329, 333, 334, 336, 337, 338. The last quotes as authorities the Jefferson MSS. in the Dept. of State, Washington, and the Papers of the Continental Congress. f. 5. Presented by Percy Ambrose Sewell Hickey, Esq., M.A.

B. Correspondence of Sir Henry Ellis, K.H., Principal Librarian of the British Museum, subsequent to his retirement, relating (1) to a project, never carried into effect, for a new edition of his General Introduction to Domesday Book;—(2) to an alternative suggestion that he should edit the Chronica Johannis de Oxenedes from Cotton MS. Nero D. ii, ff. 217–237, a work which he duly published; 1858, 1860. ff. 35–46.

1. Two drafts and one copy of letters from Sir Henry Ellis to Sir John Romilly [afterw. 1st Baron Romilly], Master of the Rolls, with two letters from Sir John; 3 Apr.–3 May, 1858. Autograph. f. 35.

2. Letter from the Rev. George Munford, Vicar of East Winch, co.

38652. ACCOMPTS of the executors of the will of Philip Thomas Howard, Cardinal (d. 1694); 1694–1697. Ital. The executors were the Cardinals [Paluzzo] Altieri, [Francesco] Nerli, [Galeazzo] Mareschotti, and [Fabricio] Spada. The will is summarized by C. F. Raymund Palmer, Life of Philip Thomas Howard, O.P., 1867, pp. 209–211. The chief contents are:—(a) Summary of the will with its two codicils, and list of the effects. f. 1;—(b) General accompt. f. 4;—(c) Text of the will, dated at Rome, 11 Mar. 1694. The codicil of 9 June precedes, that of 10 June follows the will. The two codicils are given as one in Palmer, p. 211. f. 11;—(d) Inventory and valuation of furniture, pictures, plate, and carriages; 28 June, 1694. Among the pictures are several portraits of James II and Queen Mary (nos. 61, 74, 108, 133, 165, 166, 211) and "il figlio del Re Giacomo" (no. 180), one of Henry [Howard], 6th Duke of Norfolk, and two of unnamed Duchesses of Norfolk (nos. 45, 217), one of Sir Thomas More (no. 214), and a considerable number of religious subjects. f. 15;—(e) Legal charges. f. 38;—(f) Papers relating to the payment of moneys to the English province of the Dominican Order, residuary legatee; 1694–97. ff. 39, 42–50, 53;—(g) Payments to the cardinal's household. f. 51;—(h) Funeral expenses. f. 54;—(i) Accompt of the sale of the articles inventoried in (d). f. 60;—(k) Payments for masses. f. 64;—(l) Accompts of the bank 'di Santo Spirito,' Rome, with the Dominican Order, 1695–6. f. 66.

Paper; ff. i + 74. Folio. Late XVII cent. Binding of vellum with gold tooling applied later. Old Press Mark (f. i): "Pil. 20 Lett. C. No. 5."

38653 A, B. MISCELLANEOUS PAPERS obtained at Avila by the late Mrs. R. B. Cunninghame Graham, and largely relating to the family and friends of St. Teresa, and to the convent of S. José at Avila, her first foundation; 1547–1849. All, except art. 21 of A.

which apparently does not belong to the Avila collection, in Spanish.

Two volumes. Paper; ff. 103, 64. Folio. Presented by R. B. Cunninghame Graham, Esq.

38653 A. 1. Confirmation by Sabina de Olivares, widow of Diego de Santa Cruz, of Avila, and her daughter Ana de Santa Cruz, of a sale of houses in the suburbs of Avila in the ward (barrio) of the church of Santiago for 80,000 maravedi by her late husband to María de Valdivieso, widow of the licenciado Martín de Valle; Avila, 19 Mar. 1547. f. 1.

2. Agreement between Juan de Ovalle, of Alba de Tormes [brother-in-law of St. Teresa] and Diego de Salcedo, clérigo, of Avila, concerning the sale, 8 Aug. 1560, to María Ortiz, widow, of Avila, of a censo of 2000 mrs. secured on certain houses near Sta. Ana estra muros of Avila; Avila, 29 July, 1561. At the end is added a certificate of the redemption of the censo by Juan de Ovalle, Avila, 22 May, 1563. [N.B. The houses in question are probably those bought by Juan de Ovalle as St. Teresa's agent for the foundation of S. José; see G. Cunninghame Graham, Santa Teresa, 2nd ed., p. 208.] f. 15.

3. Sale by Francisco de Peralta, of Avila, and his wife Catalina del Adrada to Aldonza de Guzman, widow of Capt. Pedro de Ulloa [and mother of Guiomar de Ulloa, the friend of St. Teresa], of Avila, of houses in the suburbs of Avila in the ward of S. José; Avila, 19 Apr. 1564. [A later endorsement describes it as "escriptura q̃ nos hico la s^r doña giomar de olloa de las casas en que bive el p^e. Julian davila." This is an error, but perhaps implies that the houses were subsequently given to S. José by Guiomar de Ulloa.] f. 21.

4. Declaration by Juan de Ovalle, of Alba de Tormes, that two censos bought by him with money sent him from the Indies by Lorenzo de Cepeda [brother of St. Teresa], on 5 June, 1570, and on 1 June, 1571 were bought for the said Lorenzo; Avila, 27 July, 1576. f. 25.

5. Agreement by which the annual payments on the two censos mentioned in art. 4 and another sum are to be added to the dower of Juana de Ahumada, sister of Lorenzo de Cepeda and wife of Juan de Ovalle; Avila, 27 July, 1576. f. 28.

6. Mutual agreement by Francisco Martín, stone-mason, of Avila, with his father-in-law Juan de la Cruz as surety, and Teresa de Jesús [St. Teresa], prioress of S. José, to observe the conditions of an agreement made on 31 Dec. 1581 for the building of a chapel in the church of S. José; Locutorio of

S. José, 1 Jan. 1582. At the end is added a receipt for the full price, 3 Nov. 1582. f. 34.

7. Official copy, made 14 July, 1605, for the purposes of a suit to which Orofrisia de Mendoza y Castilla, of Valladolid [wife of St. Teresa's nephew Francisco de Cepeda], was a party, of a deed relating to a censo sold by Juan de Ovalle to Lorenzo de Cepeda [see art. 5]; Avila, 8 Nov. 1583. f. 40.
8. Certificate of examination, at the request of the Prioress, María de San Jerónimo, of the profession, on 5 Nov. 1582, of Teresa de Ahumada, daughter of Lorenzo de Cepeda and niece of St. Teresa, in religion Teresa de Jesús, a nun in the convent of S. José, her dower being 40,800 mrs. of juro on the alcabalas of Guadix. Avila, 24 Nov. 1587. f. 48.
9. Petition by Vicente de Avila on behalf of the convent of S. José for copies of documents relating to the juro mentioned in art. 8 (here given as 40,815 mrs.). With a note of the presentation and granting of the petition; Avila, 20 Feb. 1591. f. 50.
10. Official copy, made 18 June, 1614, of an agreement made 1 Feb. 1549 by Francisco Alvárez de Cepeda and María de Ahumada his wife, of Avila, with the convent of the Encarnacion, for the dower of their daughters Inés de Cepeda and Ana de Tapia [cousins of St. Teresa], nuns in the convent. Among the nuns assenting is St. Teresa (Doña Teresa de Ahumada). f. 52.
11. Petition by the convent of S. José that whereas Lorenzo de Cepeda left his goods to the convent contingent on his son Francisco dying childless, which condition is now fulfilled, and whereas he had a censo of 1000 ducats payable by the Duke of Medina Sidonia, which the convent believe has been redeemed, search may be made among the Duke's muniments for the deeds establishing and redeeming the censo. A note of particulars concerning the deeds has been added later. Early 17th cent. f. 70.
12. Memorandum of documents relating to the dower of Orofrisia de Mendoza y Castilla, wife of Francisco de Cepeda, and her sale of her rights to Francisco Guillamas. The extreme dates are 8 Dec. 1580 and 11 Mar. 1620. f. 72.
13. Receipt from Inés de Jesús, Prioress, and the convent of S. José to Domingo González, administrator of the property of Teresa Pantoxa, daughter of Don Juan Pantoxa, Maestre de Campo, of Avila, now a novice in the convent, in religion Teresa de Jesús, for 50 ducats for her alimony for one year from 19 Sept. last past to 19 Sept. of the following year; Avila, 2 Nov. 1620. f. 73.

14. Petition by Fray Francisco del Santísimo Sacramento, of the order of Discalced Carmelites of Madrid, acting as proctor for the convent of S. José at Avila, for authorization to take evidence concerning Lorenzo de Cepeda, son of Lorenzo de Cepeda [the brother of St. Teresa], and brother of Francisco de Cepeda, defunct, now absent in the Indies. Copy. Followed by the required authorization by the Alcalde Pedro Váez (copy) and by the evidence of three witnesses; the whole signed by the Alcalde and others. The date of the authorization is 15 Jan. 1624, of the evidence 14, 15, 23 Mar. 1624. f. 75.
15. Register of abstracts of wills at Avila at various dates in the years 1691–1698; incomplete and much damaged. The abstracts seem to have been made for ecclesiastical purposes, as the provisions quoted relate almost exclusively to masses, etc. The date of death is in each case given, and there are notes of the sums concerned. f. 79.
16. Private letter from Fray Francisco Suárez to Don —— Acivelo (?), announcing the victory of his party in the election of a prior of his monastery; La Sisla, 26 June, [16]92. f. 91.
17. Private letter from Santiago Masarnau de Torres to ——; Córdoba, 29 Jan. 1809. f. 92.
18. Private letter from Pablo Fernández Velasco to ——, a cura, recommending a sacristan; Ajofrín, 3 June, 1809. f. 94.
19. Fragment (one leaf) from a tract or letter on the constitution; written from an absolutist point of view. [After 1814.] f. 96.
20. Lease for four years from 1851 to 1854, at a yearly rent of 604 reales, to Antonio Garzon, of Cortos [near Avila], of lands at Cortos formerly belonging to the convent of S. José and now to the state, and last assigned by auction to Juan Lazaro; Avila, 20 Mar. 1849. Printed form, filled in. Followed by a receipt, also on a printed form, for 2 reales 16 mrs. paid by the lessee on execution of the lease; Avila, 27 Mar. 1849. f. 97.
21. Valuation of the parish of Aberfuill [Aberfoyle, co. Perth], in the earldom of Menteith. Signed by James Sextoun, minister, Thomas Graham, and Jhone [Graham, 6th Earl of] Monteath [Menteith]. [Circ. 1587–1598.] f. 102.

38653. B. Documents, bound together in vellum, relating to property acquired by the convent of S. José by the will of Francisco de Salcedo [the friend of St. Teresa], as follows:—

1. Copy, made 27 Apr. 1615, for the convent, of Salcedo's will, dated 7 Apr. 1579, and proved on 12 Sept. 1580, the day of his death. The property bequeathed to S. José is situated at Muñosancho, La Nava, Cortos, and La Colilla [all in the province of Avila]. f. 2.

2. Agreement (with confirmation) by which Agustín de la Serna Salcedo, of Avila, and Cristóbal de la Serna Salcedo his eldest son withdraw from a suit undertaken by them against the convent touching the above property at Muñosancho; Avila, 29 Apr. 1593. ff. 16, 39.
3. Order from the licenciado Contreras de Pareja, Alcalde Mayor of Avila, to the alcaldes of Muñosancho to give possession of the above property to Vicente Dávila, on behalf of the convent of S. José; 30 Apr. 1593. Followed by a certificate of the granting of possession by Luis Rodríguez, Alcalde; Muñosancho, 4 May, 1593. f. 46.
4. Survey of lands at Muñosancho included in the above property, made by Domingo González; 19 Aug. 1615. f. 49.
5. Copy, made 8 March (?), 1669, of an agreement in settlement of a dispute between the convent of S. José and Fernando de Mogrovejo Escovar, cura of the parochial church of La Colilla; Avila, 11 May, 1632. f. 51.

38654. Treatise on virtues and vices, containing numerous exempla, in Latin. Imperfect at beginning and end, and wanting single leaves after ff. 9, 20. Divided into "articuli" and chapters, as follows:—art. iii, De Compassione, etc., 28 chapters (ch. 1–13 and parts of ch. 14, 23, 24 wanting). f. 1;—art. iv, De Sapiencia et Castitate, etc., 5 chapters (part of ch. 3 wanting). f. 17 b;—art. v, De Prudencia, etc., 10 chapters. f. 26 b;—art. vi, De Justicia, etc., 10 chapters. f. 35;—art. vii, De Obediencia, 4 chapters (ch. 4 imperf. at end). f. 42 b. The exempla, 41 in number, include extracts from the lives of SS. Winwaloc, Judoc, Edward the Confessor, Æthelwold, and other saints. ff. 1, 3 b, etc.;—extracts from Visio monachi de Eynesham (cf. H. L. D. Ward, Cat. of Romances, ii. 1893, p. 493, and for the text Analecta Bollandiana, xxii, 1903, p. 236). ff. 2, 10–15 b;—Fables, partly derived from Odo of Cheriton (cf. Cat. of Romances, iii, 1910, p. 31), and partly from a collection allied to that of Marie de France (ib. ii, p. 291; K. Warnke in Forschungen zur Rom. Phil., Festgabe für H. Suchier, 1900, p. 161). ff. 31 b–34, 36 b. Among the remainder the most noteworthy are the following (including the Latin originals of three of the tales in the Manuel des Péchés, viz. nos. 9, 12, 14):—

1. Captive king appeals vainly to two of his sons, but is ransomed by his third (a variant of the familiar apologue of the Three Friends, cf. Cat. of Romances, iii, p. 205, etc. Cf. also Test of Trueborn Son, ib. p. 112). f. 2 b.

2. Witch sows discord between man and wife (ib. p. 399). f. 15 b.
3. Fool of Alexandria (ib. ii, p. 722, cf. iii, p. 341): a long version, imperf. at beg. f. 21.
4. Wise man follows fool: a similar version to that of Royal MS. 12 E. i (ib. iii, p. 538), but fuller. Moralized. f. 25 b.
5. King gives each of his three sons a topaz to guard; painter tries to substitute coloured glass counterfeits (cf. ib. p. 250, no. 92). Moralized. f. 27.
6. Girl's name changed from Smutta to Rose, to attract suitors (ib. pp. 174, 421). f. 29 b.
7. Emperor Theodosius advised to curb his temper by repeating the alphabet. "Legitur in historia Romanorum." f. 30.
8. Doctor takes a patient's blood for diagnosis, and gives it to his (the patient's) daughter to keep for him; she spills it, and substitutes her own. f. 34.
9. The dead knight who appeared to his comrade (the same version as in the Manuel des Péchés, ib. p. 280). f. 38.
10. Devil carries off advocate because his victims' curses are sincere (cf. ib. p. 592). f. 39.
11. Advocate retained by both sides, with cart and oxen respectively (ib. p. 375). f. 39 b.
12. Deathbed of corrupt and merciless judge (as in Man. des Péchés, ib. p. 281). f. 40.
13. Dead lawyer seen in torment with his tongue on fire (cf. ib. pp. 134, 280, etc.). f. 40 b.
14. Mother curses her daughter (as in Man. des Péchés, ib. p. 279). f. 41.
15. Clerk's wife near Antioch, by the devil's advice, curses her seven sons in the church where they were baptized; going home she finds them strangled, and kills herself, but they are all revived through the intercession of the Virgin (cf. ib. p. 529). f. 41 b.

The treatise beg. (in art. iii, ch. 14) "ipse imperator ecclesiam dotauit." Ends (in art. vii, ch. 4) "euenit ut ambo idem peccatum faciant," with the catchwords, "postea ac deinde."

Vellum; ff. 44. 8 in. × 5 in. First half of XIV cent. Gatherings of 12 leaves (i^8, ii^2 wanting one leaf). Flourished initials in blue and red, or red and violet. Outline sketch of a dog chasing a hare on f. 10 b. Hodgson's sale-cat., 8–10 Jan. 1913, lot. 449. No. 36 in an earlier catalogue, a cutting from which is pasted on the last fly-leaf.

caichy, feluche, et ogni altro bastimento solito a fabricarsi tanto nella stessa casa, che fuori . . . Descritta, e disegnata di sua mano in Venezia, l'anno 1686." In his preface (f. 1 b) the author speaks of "il zello che professo al mio adorato Principe" [presumably Francesco Morosini, Captain-General of the Forces, the defender of Candia, 1669, and conqueror of the Morea, 1687], and remarks that in the war of Candia sweeping changes have taken place in almost every detail of ship-building, so that the old regulations have become out of date. He lays claim to various inventions. Descriptions occur of English (f. 57 b), French (f. 60 b) and Genoese ships (f. 64 b). On f. 65 is an account of the proportions of a gondola. There are numerous pen-and-ink drawings.

A similar treatise, also in Italian, is in Cotton MS. Titus A. xxvi, ff. 27 b–60 b. For explanations of the various types of vessel described see A. Lawley (afterw. Wiel), The Navy of Venice, London, 1910, pp. 333–352.

Paper; ff. 72. Folio. 12¼ in. × 8½ in. A.D. 1686. Vellum binding. Bought at Sotheby's (sale-cat., 14 Jan. 1913, lot 742).

38656. Declaration against the papal supremacy in England in these words: "Romanus episcopus non habet maiorem aliquam iurisdictionem collatam sibi a deo in sacra scriptura in hoc regno Angliae quam alius quiuis externus episcopus," signed by both the Archbishops (Cranmer and Edward Lee), by the Bishops of Carlisle, Chichester, Coventry and Lichfield, Durham (Cuthbert Tunstall), Ely, Exeter, Lincoln, London and Winchester (Stephen Gardiner), five archdeacons, the provincials of the orders of Carmelites and Franciscans, twenty-two abbots, eleven priors, one warden and fifty-two private persons, including Edmund Boner [al. Bonner], afterwards Bishop of London, Nicholas Shaxton, afterwards Bishop of Salisbury, and Peter Vannes, formerly Secretary to Wolsey and afterwards Dean of Salisbury. The date must be after 19 Apr. 1534, the day on which the Bishops of Coventry and Lichfield and of Ely were consecrated, and before 27 (?17) May of the same year, when Richard Sydnor had vacated by death the registrarship of the Order of the Garter (Letters and Papers Henry VIII, vii, no. 534; Le Neve's Fasti, ed. Hardy, 1854, i, p. 403). Similar declarations by other groups of clergy, etc., appear in Lett. and Papers, vii, the earliest being dated 14 May, 1534. The names of all the signatories are included in the Index.

Preceded (ff. 1, 2) by a letter from Sir Frederic Madden, K.H., Keeper of MSS. in the British Museum (1837–1866), to Richard Mullings, 20 Nov. 1850, in which he refers to the "Papal Aggression" of that year, and expresses the opinion that the first three

Paper; ff. 4. Folio. A.D. 1534.

38657. "SAILING and Fighting Instructions for His Majesty's Fleet." Printed, with copious MS. alterations and additions, signed by Adm. Hugh Pigot and dated "on board H.M.S. Formidable in Carlisle Bay Barbadoes the 16th Dec^er 1782" (during his service as Commander-in-Chief in the West Indies, where he had succeeded Adm. Rodney in the previous July). They were addressed originally to Capt. [Anthony] Parry, of H.M.S. Yarmouth, afterwards to Capt. [Edward] Herbert. H.M.S. Yarmouth was built in 1754 and after its service in the West Indies was in 1795 a Receiving-Ship at Plymouth. Capt. Herbert, appointed Captain 5 Jan. 1783, was in command of H.M.S. Experiment in the West Indies. The flags described in the Instructions are coloured by hand in the margin. The contents are divided as follows:—(1) Signals to be observed at an anchor, in weighing anchor, in sailing, and anchoring in the day-time. f. 4;—(2) Distinguishing lights for the flags. f. 6 b;—(3) Signals to be observed at an anchor, (etc.), in the night-time. f. 7;—(4) Instructions for sailing in a fog. f. 9;—(5) Instructions "to be observed by younger captains to the elder." f. 10;—(6) Signals for calling the flag-officers and other officers on board the Admiral. f. 10 b;—(7) Instructions to be observed by all masters, pilots, ketches, hoys and smacks, attending the fleet. f. 12;—(8) Fighting instructions. f. 13;—(9) Encouragement for the captains and companies of fire-ships, small frigates and ketches. f. 16 b;—(10) Instructions for the fire-ships. f. 17 b;—(11) Additional signals, to be added to the xvith article of the sailing instructions by day, and observed as the other signals. f. 19. Of these series no. 8 (ff. 13–16) is printed by J. S. Corbett, Signals and Instructions, 1776–1794 (Navy Records Society, vol. xxxv, 1908[9]), pp. 262–280, from a copy with similar but not identical MS. additions in the Library of U.S. Navy Department, Washington. The editor says that they are "the final form of the old General Instructions dating from the end of the seventeenth century"; and discusses how far they are to be attributed to Rodney, Pigot or Hood. With the Instructions in general cf. also Add. MS. 37653, "Signals and Instructions in Addition to the General Printed Sailing and Fighting Instructions," 1779.

Paper; ff. 19. Folio. XVIII cent. The cover bears the name of [H.M.S.] Yarmouth (f. 2).

38658, 38659. JEAN FROISSART, Chroniques de France et D'Angleterre, livre premier (ending in 1379), in four parts. Two volumes, containing parts i, ii, and iii, iv, respectively. The text agrees with the classification "seconde rédaction, première série" of Baron Kervyn de Lettenhove, Oeuvres de Froissart, Brussels, 1873 (see Introduction, vol. i, pt. iii, and especially p. 220, § 2). This MS. bears a close resemblance to one in the Library of the Duke of Newcastle, Clumber Park, described by Lettenhove, op. cit. pp. 225–227; the subjects of the miniatures appear to be almost identical, and the text (38659, f. 36, col. ii, line 34) contains the interpolation relating to the death of Marcel, described by Lettenhove on p. 226. Beg. "Affin que honnourables auenues et nobles auentures ... soyent noblement registrees." Ends "sur lenclos de Coustentin."
Vellum; ff. ii + 165; i + 222. 15 in. × 11⅝ in. Early xv cent. Gatherings of 8 leaves (except in Vol. I last[5], and in Vol. II xii[10], last[4]), with catchwords. Sec. fol. "a qui je vueil deuoir amour." The shield of arms of the Roubaix family, erm., a chief gu., occurs in initial letters below many of the miniatures—Vol. I, ff. 1, 23 b, 36, 60, 73; Vol. II, ff. 1, 170, 222. In a contemporary hand, Vol. II, f. 222 b, "Roubais, au S[eigneu]r." The book was doubtless written for Jean de Roubaix, Lord of Roubaix and Herzelles, Knight of the Golden Fleece, and chief chamberlain to the Duke of Burgundy and Brabant; he died 7 June, 1449. (See Th. Leuridan, Histoire de Roubaix, Première Partie, i, pp. 107–109; Deuxième Partie, iii, pp. 89–131, 361–363.) The miniatures are of commonplace French work. Directions for the illuminator remain on some of the lower margins, e.g. 38659, f. 170, "soit faite une bataille de gens darmes de (?) ij (?) grans (?) hommes abatus aterre (?) entre les autres." The subjects are:—

38658. Vol. I.

1. In four compartments; full border, with half-length figures of men in armour. f. 1.
   (a) Froissart presenting his book to Richard II of England.
   (b) Isabella, Queen of Edward II of England, received at Boulogne.
   (c) Isabella, with Prince Edward, laying complaints before Charles IV of France.
   (d) Siege of Bristol by Isabella's forces.
2. Fight between French and Flemish at Cassel. f. 23 b.
3. English ships attack Gaigant [Cadzand]. f. 36.
4. Battle of Sluys (rubbed). f. 60.
5. In two compartments; full border. Duke of Norfolk (a) received at Limoges by the citizens (see f. 73 b). He wears an ermine surcoat, and a follower carries a banner of the same; his saddle-cloth is red (compare the Roubaix arms);—(b) besieging Brest. f. 73.
6. Defeat of Louis of Spain at Camperilli [Quimperlé]. f. 92.

38659. Vol. II.

1. In two compartments; full border. (a) Coronation of John II of France at Reims;—(b) Execution of Comte de Guines at Paris. f. 1.
2. Funeral obsequies of John II of France. f. 91 b.
3. Death of Sir John Chandos. f. 170.
4. Inhabitants of La Rochelle refuse to succour Earl of Pembroke. f. 193.
5. Bertrand du Guesclin swearing vengeance before Castle of Benon (see f. 201 b, lines 19–36). He wears a surcoat, arg., a double-headed eagle displ. sa., over all a bendlet sin. gu.; a banner of the same arms is carried by a follower. These must be intended for the du Guesclin arms, viz. arg. a double-headed eagle displ. sa. beaked and membered gu., over all a bendlet of the third. f. 199.
6. Encounter between English garrison of Cherbourg and French garrison of Montebourg. f. 222.

A note (Vol. I, f. i) dated 22 Nov. 1902 states that the MS. was acquired in January, 1806 from J. and A. Arch, booksellers, 61 Cornhill, E.C. There are also modern, often incorrect, pencil notes describing the miniatures (Vol. I, f. ii; Vol. II, f. i).
Both volumes are bound in 18th cent. red morocco. Presented by the Proprietors of the London Institution.

38660. Extracts (with slight verbal changes) from pt. ii of the dialogue called "Muretus" or "De ratione scribendae Historiae" in the Prolusiones Academicae (1st ed. 1617), Famianus Strada, S. J., historian and rhetorician, illustrating, by the story of Arnalda at the capture of Nicosia, the historical, oratorical, and poetical methods of treating a theme. At the end (f. 13) follows the note:—"Huius Virginis Cypriae laudationem triplici expressam stylo atque ore bilingui dictam, ut ait author in quadam praefatione sua sub persona Bencii, quem ut Dialogus fert, cum Mureto disserentem induxit de Historia, pater Famianus habuit, atque ipse est author." Bound with it are a printed copy of the same with the title "Arnalda sive Captiva Victrix," ed. by C. Delaval Cobham, 1910, and a few pages on the same subject from La Gallerie des Femmes Fortes, entitled "La Captive Victorieuse," by Pierre Le Moyne, S. J.
Paper; ff. i + 21. Octavo. Early xvii cent. Presented by Claude Delaval Cobham, Esq.

38661. Miscellaneous Papers, letters, etc. of the family of Chadwick, relating to their manor and advowson of Mavesyn Rideware, co. Staff., as well as to their lands in Spotland, Hundersfield, etc., in Rochdale, co. Lanc.; 1462–1773. Cf. also Add. Ch. 57824–58263.

forms, with descriptions of two imperfect copies of the chanson in Harley MS. 3775 and Royal MS. 8 F. ix, see H. L. D. Ward, Cat. of Romances, i, 1883, pp. 471 sqq.; and for an account of the present MS., with extracts and facsimile, and with a list of the extant MSS. (to which may be added a fragment in York Minster MS. xvi, I, 7, see T. A. Jenkins in Modern Philology, vol. vii, 1909–1910, p. 593), see Romania, xxxv, 1906, pp. 68–81. Beg. "Pvis cel tens que deu fu ned." The story of Guy ends (f. 72 b) "Ke en sa glorie puissum uenir. amen." The sequel, of which Guy's son Rainbrun is the hero, beg. "Ore auez seignurs de Gui oi;" ends "Que a lui en glorie puissums uenir. amen."

Vellum; ff. iv + 80. 9 in. × 6 in. Middle of XIII cent. Gatherings of 8 leaves, with catchwords (mostly cut away) and signatures (i^{us}–x^{us}) on the last page of each quire. Double columns of 40 lines. Sec. fol. "Palefreiz." Large ornamental initial in red, white, blue, and green at the beginning, flourished initials in blue and red, or red and green, throughout. Belonged to Sir Henry Hope Edwardes, Bart. (bookplate of arms; Christie's sale-cat. 20–23 May, 1901, lot. 565), and George Dunn, of Woolley Hall, near Maidenhead (two bookplates, one heraldic in gold and white; Sotheby's sale-cat., 11–14 Feb. 1913, lot 506). The pencilled number (3) at the top of f. 1 seems to indicate that it was formerly the third article in a volume of which artt. 4 and 6 are now Add. MSS. 38662, 38664, and artt. 5 and 7 (Edwardes sale, lots 99, 404, Histoire de Charlemagne and Vie de Ste. Catherine) are now in the library of Mr. F. W. Bourdillon: see Romania, xxxv, p. 71, xxxvi, pp. 87–91.

38663. La Chancun de Willame: a chanson de geste of the cycle of Guillaume d'Orange ("Willame al curbnies le marchis"), narrating the invasion of France by the Saracen king Deramed and the great battle at Larchamp, in which the Saracens were at first victorious, putting Tedbald of Bourges and his nephew Esturmi to flight and killing Willame's nephew Vivien, but were ultimately vanquished with great slaughter by the French under Willame, largely through the valorous deeds of the scullion Reneward with his "tinel" (cudgel); concluding with the baptism of Reneward, who turns out to be the son of Deramed, shipwrecked and sold as a slave to King Louis. In 3,554 lines, mostly decasyllabic, in assonant tirades of varying length, with a refrain at irregular intervals, consisting of two assonant lines of unequal length, the second decasyllabic, the first usually "Lunsdi al vespre," seven times "Joesdi al vespre," twice "Lores fu mecresdi."

In substance this chanson agrees in the main with the Covenans

Vivien and Bataille d'Aliscans, extant in Royal MS. 20 D. xi (see H. L. D. Ward, Cat. of Romances, i, p. 644) and other MSS.; but it evidently represents an earlier stage in the development of the story. It is only known to exist in the present MS., the text of which (with the accidental omission of l. 544) was printed privately [by G. Dunn, the then owner] at the Chiswick Press, 1903 (for critical notices see P. Meyer in Romania, xxxii, p. 597, R. Weeks in Modern Philology, ii, pp. 1, 231, and Romania, xxxiv, p. 240, H. Suchier in Zeitschrift für Romanische Philologie, xxix, p. 641, etc.). Suchier regarded it as composed of two distinct works, ll. 1–1980 (which he called La Chançun de Guillelme, and edited in 1911 as vol. viii of his Bibliotheca Normannica) and 1981–3554 (which he called the "Chançun de Rainoart"). The literature of the subject is already very extensive, e.g. see T. E. Hamilton, The Cyclic Relations of the Chanson de Willame (University of Missouri Studies, vol. ii, 1911), and J. Schuwerack, Charakteristik der Personen in der altfr. Chançun de Guillelme, 1913. Beg. "Plaist vus oir de granz batailles . et de forz esturs . . . Oimas comence la chancun de Willame." Ends "Bien vus ualui . mais plus vus eusse este aidant."

Vellum: ff. iv + 25. 9 in. × 6 in. Middle of XIII cent., in a hand closely resembling that of Add. MS. 38662, but somewhat larger. Gatherings of 8 leaves (last[9]). Double columns of 34 to 42 lines. Sec. fol. "Dist uiuien." Large ornamental initial in red, white, blue, and green at the beginning; flourished initials in blue and red, or red and green, throughout. Pencilled number (4) on f. 1 (cf. 38662). Edwardes sale, lot 566, Dunn sale, lot 436; bookplates as in 38662.

38664. CONTES DÉVOTS in verse, viz.:—

1. Life of St. Margaret, in 85 monorhymed quatrains, the first three and last three of which are printed from this, the only known MS. of this version (cf. Hist. Litt. de la France, xxxiii, p. 362), in Romania, xxxii, p. 396. Beg. "A la deu loenge e a la sue gloire." Ends "Ov lun deit deu e la uirgine seruir. Amen." f. 1.
2. Gracial: twenty-two miracles of the Virgin, in octosyllabic rhymed couplets, translated by Guilleaume al. Adgar from a Latin "essamplaire" in the library of St. Paul's Cathedral, and dedicated to Dame Mahaut. Nos. 10–22, with the passage naming the author and mentioning the Latin original, are also in Egerton MS. 612, in the collection which he dedicated to his friend Gregory (see H. L. D. Ward, Cat. of Romances, ii, 1893, pp. 708–717; Adgar's Marienlegenden, ed. C. Neuhaus, 1886), and which when complete doubtless included nos. 1–9 as well. Another copy of the dedication to Dame Mahaut is in a Dulwich MS., in connexion with two tales not contained in the present MS., though included in Egerton 612 (see Neuhaus, Das Dulwich'er Adgar-Fragment, Aschersleben, [1887]). The tales common to this MS. and to Egerton 612 are differently arranged in the two MSS. (nos. 10–22 = Eg. nos. 1–6, 40, 37, 34, 30, 15, 16, 22), neither of which perhaps represents Adgar's own arrangement exactly; and the text, while identical for the most part, is sometimes considerably shorter here, especially in nos. 15–19, 22. For a description of the MS., with facsimile and extracts, including the full text of the dedication and nos. 1–9, 14, see Romania, xxxii, pp. 394–415. The dedication beg. "Mot fet bien ki sun sens despent." The tales beg. "En Tulette la grant cite," and end "Que turner li puise a pleisir amen." f. 3.

Vellum; ff. iv + 16. 9 in. × 6 in. Middle of XIII cent., in two hands, the change occurring at f. 3, top of col. 2 (beg. of art. 2). Gatherings of 8 leaves. Ff. 1–8 in double columns, ff. 9–16 in triple, 34 to 43 lines to a column. Sec. fol. "Quant en." Initials in red and blue, sometimes flourished. Pencilled number (6) on f. 1 (cf. Add. MS. 38662). Edwardes sale, lot 598, Dunn sale, lot 677; bookplates as in 38662.

38665. MISCELLANEOUS volume, largely in the hand of John Strecch, canon of the Augustinian Priory of Kenilworth (cf. Add. MS. 35295, which was written about 1422). Lat. Contents are:—

1. Verses against the Austin Friars for representing Augustine in their garb as their founder in opposition to the claims of the Austin Canons:—(a) Beg. "Augustine pater es verus semper amicus." f. 5;—(b) "Super capud Augustini," beg. "Augustine pater numquam fueris heremita." It includes a list of minor varieties of the Heremite order. f. 5 b;—(c) Similar verses are on f. 14, and on ff. 14 b, 156 b–162 b, of a more general kind. On f. 5 one Brangwyn is mentioned as apologist of the Austin Canons. On f. 84 b is the hymn beg. "Sacerdotes mementote" (Chevalier, Repert. Hymnolog. no. 33012).
2. "Cronica cuiusdam amici veritatis in argumentum fundacionis Canonicorum Regularium ordinis Sci. Augustini," with introduction beg. "Frater quidam ordinis dicencium se heremitas Sci. Augustini," a counterblast against the work of some Austin Friar claiming priority for his order as (e.g.) in Harley MS. 2386, f. 62. f. 6.
3. "Nomina prioratuum Canonicorum nigrorum" in England and Wales, beg. with the diocese of Lincoln. f. 15.
4. Chronicle of general chapters of Augustinian Canons held at Northampton, Huntingdon, etc., 1325–1350. f. 19. Another and fuller copy is in Cotton MS. Vespasian D. i, ff. 41 b–70 b.

5. Treatise on the (30) different "colours" or kinds of rhyming verse, with examples. Beg. "Versus a quibusdam describitur." f. 33. Other metrical examples are on ff. 55 b–56 b.
6. "Liber Catonis," moral distichs in hexameter verse attributed to Dionysius Cato, see F. Hauthal, Catonis Philosophi Liber, Berlin, 1869. f. 35 b.
7. "Esopus in Fabulis" in Latin elegiacs, the collection, known as "Anonymus Neveleti," of sixty Aesopic fables and two tales, with prologue beg. "Ut iuvet et prosit." f. 41. The series agrees with that of Add. MS. 18107 (see Ward, Catalogue of Romances, ii, p. 309) except that art. 60 ends with the additional couplet,

   "Fine fruor versu gemino quod cogitet omnis

   Printed in Hervieux, Fabulistes Latins, vol. ii (1884), p. 385.
8. "Ymago Mundi," in three books down to the beginning of the "Quinta etas:" printed in Migne, Patrolog. Lat. clxxii, col. 119 as by Honorius Augustodunensis, but attributed also to Henry of Huntingdon (cf. Cotton MS. Vesp. E. x, f. 86). f. 57. Followed by a 4th book (f. 80) "de vaticiniis Sibille," beg. "Sibilline generaliter omnes" (cf. Vesp. B. xxv, f. 117 b and Vesp. E. iv, f. 143); printed, with a different ending, in Migne, xc, col. 1182 among the spurious works of Bede. In a hand of 12th–13th cent.
9. "Speculum Stultorum," by Nigel, also called Wireker, a monk of Christ Church, Canterbury, with introductory letter to William [Longchamp, bishop of Ely, 1189] and marginal illustrations. The text differs occasionally from that published by T. Wright, Anglo-Latin Satir. Poets, vol. i (Rolls Series), notably in ff. 127 b–130 b, beg. with "De ordine mendicancium," which are omitted in Wright, p. 95. f. 85.
10. Sermones de tempore, beg. imperf. in Lent at no. iii of the collection:—(a) Beg. imperf.;—(b) "Exurge gloria mea (etc.): Due sunt Christi";—(c) "Christus assistens (etc.): Beatus apostolus Paulus";—(d) "Letare Ierusalem: Multo prophetarum vaticinio";—(e) Ascension Day, no. xi of the collection, imperf.;—(f) Trinity Sun. beg. "Fecit Moyses (etc.): Inter cetera opera";—(g) Advent Sun. beg. "Dominus prope (etc.): Inter multa";—(h) 2nd Sun. in Adv. beg. "Scientes quod hora (etc.): Cum omne tempus." In a hand of the 12th–13th cent. f. 169.

Vellum; ff. 186. 7¾ in. × 5⅜ in. Early xv cent., except artt. 8 and 10, xii–xiii cent., which belong to different volumes. The fly-leaves (13th cent.) are from:—(a) A scholastic treatise on syntax. f. 2; (b) Extracts from Decretals, chiefly bk. v. ff. 4 185. Of the rest of the volume artt. 1 (mostly), 2, 5–7, are in the hand of Johannes Strecch (see above), as also the note of books lent to various people (dominus Joh. Susex, dom. Petrus de Preston, Will. Clerke de Okam), f. 168 b. On f. 55 is the colophon "Involvens pannis puerum miserere Iohannis. Strecch," and on f. 186 are the names M. Morgan and Robt. Walker de Belton, 16th cent. Contemporary binding of kid over oak boards. Belonged to the Cope family of Bramshill (cf. Hist. MSS. Comm. 3rd Rep. App. p. 242; sale-cat. of Sir Anthony Cope, Bart., 4 Mar. 1913, lot 58).

38666. Poem on Church Festivals, intended (see prologue, f. 5) as a Life of Christ; written in alternate rhyme, arranged mostly in quatrains.

Beg. "Ihesu þat born was of a may
In amendement of mankynde
Deyde and rose the thridde day
The deuelus bond to vnbynde."

Ends "Haue we þat hope with outen were
And we shulle perce hit as did he
Of oure lyfe be clene & clere
And with hym in þat blisse be."

Colophon, "Nunc scripsi al this: Pro Christo da michi my seruys." The poem falls into the following sections:—(1) Prologue. f. 5;—(2) The Incarnation and Birth of Christ (beg. "We reden of two and fourty ȝere | Of Ottoman þe Emperoure"). f. 5 b;—(3) The Circumcision. f. 25 b;—(4) Epiphany. f. 31;—(5) The Purification of the Virgin. f. 42;—(6) The Holy Innocents and Herod. f. 60;—(7) Septuagesima. f. 69;—(8) Sexagesima. f. 73;—(9) Quinquagesima. f. 76 b;—(10) Quadragesima. f. 81 b;—(11) The Ember-fasts. f. 87 b;—(12) A section entitled "De diuersis datis" in Harley MS. 2250 (see below) and dealing with Tiberius, Ovid, and the Temptation, Cleansing of the Temple and other incidents in the life of Christ. f. 94 b;—(13) The Passion, and the stories of Pilate and Judas Iscariot. f. 99 b;—(14) The Resurrection. f. 130 b;—(15) The Greater and the Lesser Litanies. f. 149;—(16) The Ascension. f. 158 b. Other copies of the poem with dialectal differences occur in Harley MSS. 3909 and 2250 (see Ward, Cat. of Romances, ii, pp. 690, 738, and C. Horstmann, Altengl. Legenden, Paderborn, 1875, p. xxxviii), but all the MSS. are more or less defective. The present MS. alone contains the prologue. Nearly the whole of the work has been adapted from the Legenda Aurea of Jacobus de Voragine. In one or two passages, however, independent sources appear to have been used, e.g. Petrus Comestor's Historia Scholastica on f. 5 b, Martinus Polonus on f. 94 b, and Gregory the Great, Homily XVI—on Quadragesima, on f. 96 b.

Vellum; ff. 178. 9 in. × 5¾ in. xv cent. Gatherings (beg. f. 5) of 12 leaves (last[1] ?). On f. 174, one of the fly-leaves, there is a short poem (7 × 8 lines) giving a conversation between a clerk and a husbandman on love and woman, beg. "As I cowth walke be cause of recreacion"; with the alternate refrains "Quia amore langueo" and "Turn vp hyr halter and let hyr goe." For religious poems with the former refrain, see Political, Religious and Love Poems, edited by F. J. Furnivall (Early Eng. Text Soc., no. 15), p. 177; see also Add. MS. 37049, f. 25 b and Harley MS. 1706, f. 9 b. The fly-leaves, of which ff. 1, 2 and 178 were fastened down on the original covers, have been taken from two other MSS., of which one (see f. 4) belonged to Durham Cathedral, and the other (see f. 178 b) to Merton College, Oxford. In the inscription on f. 4 "Liber Sancti Cuthberti Dunelmi; in quo continentur iii libri Prosperi de vita contemplatiua et actiua," the note of ownership is of the 13th, the rest of the 14th cent. At the foot of f. 178 b, which in addition to a 15th cent. note of ownership by Merton College, has accounts of the weight and cost of the bells of St. Bride's Major, dioc. Llandaff, and of Merton College, there are two notes "32 quaterniones et dimidium sunt in hoc libro preter psalterium et kalendarium" and "24 quaterniones et ii folia sunt in hoc libro preter psalterium et kalendarium." After the account of the Merton College bells, but in a different hand, is written "Empte fuerunt campane prescripte anno domini M°CCCC^mo^XXVII°." Various scribblings occur, including "Iste liber pertinet ad Ihoannem Balye" (f. 3), "Iste liber constat Stephanus Stanley" (f. 3 b), "Pray ffor ye sole of Thomas Smyth" (f. 176), "thys boke ys Thome Choche [?]" on f. 176 b, and "my lady Da... doȝter (?) to Sir Rychard Payne" on f. 178. Belonged to Sir Anthony Cope, Bart., of Bramshill Park, co. Southt., described in Historical Manuscripts Commission, App. to 3rd Report, p. 243 (Sotheby's sale-cat., 4 Mar. 1913, lot 117).

38667. Capitulare Salinariorum Maris Venetiae; oath and statutes of the salt officers of Venice. The salt trade was one of the principal sources of wealth in Venice, imported salt being known as "sal maris," Venetian salt as "sal Clugiae." The original form of the Capitulare (ff. 1–21 b) includes statutes dated 1279–1348, and additions, written in various cursive hands, bring it down to 1373. Some of the later entries (ff. 24 b, 25 b) are records of appointments under the salt office. By a decree dated 6 May, 1371, the office was amalgamated with that of the three "officiales de super Rivo Alto," whose number was increased to four (f. 25). At the end, f. 25 b, is a note, dated 19 Feb. 1376, by Johannes Vido, notary, cancelling the book after the contents had been remodelled and transferred to a new volume. Capitularies of the salt office are preserved in the Royal Archives at Venice (see R. Predelli, Il. R. Archivio Generale di Venezia, p. 440) and in the Library of St. Mark's (see G. Valentinelli, Bibliotheca Manuscripta ad S. Marci Venetiarum, iii, p. 119). For accounts of the salt trade and salt office see V. Sandi, Principi di Storia Civile di Venezia al 1700, pt. i, vol. ii, p. 776, C. A. Marin, Storia del Commercio de' Veneziani, v, p. 42, and G. Cappelletti, Storia di Venezia, iii, p. 69.

Vellum; ff. vii + 25. 9⅞ in. × 7½ in. A.D. 1348–1376. Gatherings, including the fly-leaves, i, ii[2], iii, iv[8], v, vi, vii[4]. Original binding (rebacked), of wooden boards covered with leather; five metal bosses on either cover; two straps with metal ends pierced to fasten on to two pins.

38668. MORNING and Evening Service in E flat, in score, by Dr. William Croft, 1719. Autograph. Published in 1840, etc. (See f. ii).

Paper; ff. ii + 16. Quarto. Belonged successively to Archdeacon Gilbert Heathcote, Rev. Gilbert Wall Heathcote (1829), and John S. Bumpus (1893).

38670. "GESTA ROMANORUM PONTIFICUM, memoria digna, quę in cronicis communibus non habentur, a Leone IX, anno 1050 [sic], usque ad Nicolaum V^m^." Contents:—

1. Lives of the Popes from Leo IX [enthroned Feb. 1049] to Alexander III, omitting Victor II, Benedict X, Victor III and Urban II. With a colophon (f. 152), "Expliciunt Hugonis Imolensis gesta a Pontificatu Leonis IX, qui cępit anno Domini 1050, usque ad annum prope xx^m^ Pontificatus Alexandri Papę 3^ii^, 1180; qui Hugo tunc temporis Prothonotariatus Apostolicę Sedis officium gerebat." Extracts from these lives are quoted by Baronius; cf. Annales Ecclesiastici, tom. xvii, p. 112, with MS. f. 5, p. 355 with MS. f. 13, etc. They were known to him as a collection made by Niccolo Roselli, Cardinal of Aragon (d. 1362), a MS. of which he found in the Vatican Library. The lives are printed in Muratori, Rerum Italicarum Scriptores, tom. iii, pt. i, pp. 277–475 passim, from a MS. in the Este Library, after collation with two other MSS. in Milan (see Prolegomena, ib. p. 274). In the present MS. however there is a passage, ff. 18–19 b "In Calcedonensi .... prosequamur," which is lacking in Muratori, p. 307, while on the other hand there is a lacuna at f. 94 (after habeatur, l. 13) as compared with Muratori, p. 454. The colophon does not occur in the other MSS., and the author named in it, Hugo Imolensis, does not seem to be known otherwise. f. 2.
2. "De Gregorio Papa nono qui cępit regnare anno Mccxxii [sic] in vigilia sancti Benedicti, et sedit fere 15 annos": life of Gregory IX [1227–1241] also printed by Muratori, op. cit. pp. 575–587, from the Este MS. of Roselli's collection, which, like the present MS., omits the Popes who come between Alexander III and Gregory IX. There are however considerable divergencies between the two texts. There are also lacunas on MS. f. 153, after ordinatur, l. 6 (Muratori, p. 575), on MS. f. 172 b, after applicuit, l. 10 (Muratori, p. 583, col. ii, l. 27—the MS. resumes at p. 586, col. i, l. 15) and at the end, MS. f. 174 b, after creauerunt (Muratori, p. 586). Colophon, f. 174 b, "Ex Biblioteca Ricardi Salzburgensis Protonotarii Apostolici." f. 152 b.
3. Jannotti Manetti Florentini, De vita ac moribus Nicolai V [1447–1455]. In three books with a preface. Printed by Muratori, op. cit. tom. iii, pt. ii, cols. 907–960, from a Florence MS. f. 180 b–185, "Hecuba Priami . . . diuinitusque prosequitur," are omitted by Muratori as a "farrago de veterum somniis, si non insulsa, inanis saltem, et loco inopportuna" (footnote, op. cit. col. 911). f. 175 b.

Paper; ff. ii + 260. Folio. XVII cent., in an Italian hand. Belonged to Frederick North, 5th Earl of Guilford, and is entered in the Catalogue of his MSS. (Add. MS. 8220, f. 13) as being No. 427 (cf. no. on cover) in the Mattei Catalogue. It is not among the 212 Guilford MSS. "ex Bibliotheca Mattei" of which Sir Thomas Phillipps printed a list, Brit. Mus. press-mark, Tab. 436 b. 12 (5). Guilford sale-cat., 8 Dec. 1830, part of lot 91, purchased by the bookseller Thomas Thorpe. Lot 125 in Puttick and Simpson's sale-cat., 27 Mar. 1913.

38671. TEN LETTERS of Jonathan Swift to members of the Rochfort family, etc., 1711–1737, with tripos verses and other jeux d'esprit, 17th–18th cent. Contents:—

1. Letters of Swift to Thomas Staunton (ff. 1, 4, 6), Mrs. Rochfort, wife of Robert Rochfort (f. 2), Robert Percival (ff. 8, 10), and John Rochfort (ff. 12–16). For Swift's relations with the Rochforts see Dict. Nat. Biog. sub Rochfort, Robert. Thomas Staunton was a relation by marriage of the Rochforts. The first letter in the collection describes an interesting interview between Swift and Henry Temple, afterwards Viscount Palmerston, to whom Swift recommended the unnamed addressee for employment. Swift had recommended Thomas Staunton to Palmerston (cf. Correspondence, ed. Elrington Ball, iii. p. 298), and Staunton's dismissal was one of the grounds of the quarrel between the two. The letter was, therefore, in all probability addressed to Thomas Staunton. One only of the letters has been printed, the second to Percival (f. 10), see Correspondence, iv. p. 118. At the end (f. 18) are some notes, not in Swift's hand, relating to his glebe at Laracor, etc. f. 1.
2. Tripos verses and other satirical compositions, in a hand of the late 17th cent., composed in Trinity College, Dublin, probably between 1679 and 1688, a period covering Swift's residence there. For Triposes at Trinity College in this period see J. Barrett, Essay on the Earlier Part of the Life of Swift, 1808, where a Tripos attributed to John Jones, a contemporary of Swift, is printed, and the assertion made (without sufficient proof) that Swift was the real author. The pieces are: (a) A Tripos in three Acts in prose and verse, very closely resembling the one printed by Barrett. A reference to Monmouth's rebellion ("audivi, mi frater, te Angliam aditurum esse ad debellandum Monmouth," f. 25 b) shows that it was composed in 1685. Lat. and Engl. f. 19;—(b) Tripos in two cantos of Hudibrastic verse, with prologue, headed "The prologue to Mr. Bradeis Tripus," beg. "To long ungratfull wee with dint of scorne." Tripos beg. "This Canto treats of errant knight." The author was probably the student Bredy, an associate of Swift, expelled, 19 Sept. 1687, "for writing and publishing a scandalous libel on some ladies of quality" (Barrett, p. 10). f. 28 b;—(c) "On Doctor Drydens coming over to be provost of Trinity Colledge," beg. "Haile Rhyming Atheist may thy passage be:" a satire on the poet, John Dryden, composed between 1686, the date of his conversion to Rome, and the Revolution of 1688. f. 31 b;—(d) "Another satyr on the same," beg. "Escape by all the gods he never shall." f. 32;—(e) "A Satyr on Doctor Dryden by Mrs. Bhen," beg. "Scorning religion all thy life time past:" an attack on Dryden's change of faith, attributed to [?Aphara] Behn (d. 1689). f. 32 b;—(f) "On Mallory's Mandamus," beg. "Now for some days had the grave brethren sat:" satirical account of a college meeting under Dr. Narcissus Marsh (Provost, 1679–1684). f. 33;—(g) "On the Provosts cow that was killed," beg. "Full 14 quarts of milk didst thou:" on Doctor Marsh's cow. f. 34;—(h) "Advice to a Tripus," beg. "Gods hand was surely in't or how cou'd they:" advice to a 'Terrae filius.' f. 34 b;—(i) "Baxters farewell," beg. "Hence to some distant region let us goe:" attack on the fellows. f. 35 b;—(k) "On the beautifull Deborah," beg. "'Tis mean, 'tis sordid, and 'tis low:" irregular ode, attacking Deborah, sister of Dr. Narcissus Marsh, who is often mentioned in the other pieces. f. 36;—(l) "Downs his Instalment," beg. "That all to love sometime must homage pay:" account of the election of Dive Downes to a fellowship under Narcissus Marsh. f. 35.

3. Miscellaneous collection of notes, burlesques and squibs:—(a) Various historical notes apparently in Robert Rochfort's hand. f. 41;—(b) Three burlesque letters, two addressed to John Rochfort. ff. 50–54;—(c) Draft of will of Robert Rochfort (d. 1727). f. 55 b;—(d) Collection of epigrams on set subjects in Latin elegiacs. The author's name is appended to each. Various references show that they were written at Oxford (some at Christchurch), and allusions to the Treaty of Utrecht (no. 15) and the performance of Addison's Cato (no. 36) date them in 1713. f. 57;—(e) Imitation of Horace, Odes, ii. 16, composed circ. 1745. f. 64;—(f) Imitation of Horace, Sat. i. 6, dated 2 Apr. 1736, and burlesque resolutions of the Irish House of Commons, dated "Die Satani 1736." f. 67;—(g) Squib on the Institutionum logicarum libri tres of Franco Burgersdijck, in form of a funeral oration in Lat. f. 69;—(h) Satire, in English heroics, on various Dublin notabilities during the second Viceroyalty of the Earl of Dorset (1750–1755), from the point of view of a member of the Opposition, beg. "When Liffy's silver tide shall backwards run."

f. 70 b;—(i) Three Latin epigrams, on the portrait of Daniel Jackson by [Charles] Jervas. f. 72;—(k) Catechism in Latin, written by George Bishop. f. 76;—(l) Playbill for the performance at the Theatre Royal, [Dublin], 20 Aug. 1806, of the opera 'The Cabinet,' for the benefit of [Thomas] Philipps. Printed. f. 84. Presented by Mrs. E. Bromley.

38672. Logbook of H.M.S. Eurydice during a voyage to Cape Verd, 16 Dec. 1804—6 Mar. 1805 (ff. 7–25 b), and commonplace-book (for the most part reversing the volume) of Andrew Pellet Green (Lieutenant on the Eurydice 1803–1805, when he joined the Neptune and was present at Trafalgar, afterwards Capt. Sir A. P. Green, see O'Byrne, Naval Biographical Dictionary, 1849). The chief contents are:—

1. Accounts of passages from Jamaica to Spithead, 1803. f. 99 b;—Falmouth to Big Island [Bic Island, Gulf of St. Lawrence] in H.M.S. Eurydice, 1804. f. 83;—and (following the Eurydice log) Falmouth to the Mediterranean, 1805. f. 28.
2. Extracts from the journal of H.M.S. Neptune at the battle of Trafalgar. f. 61.
3. Political satires:—(a) "A new form of worship for 27th July, 1778" [Keppel's action off Brest]. f. 110 b;—(b) "The Poll Tax, 1795," in the form of the Athanasian creed. f. 108;—(c) "Convention between Messrs. Fox and Grey on the one part and Lord Grenville and Mr. Windham on the other," during the Addington ministry, 1801–1804. f. 71;—(d) "The humble Petition of Philip, Earl of Chesterfield." f. 68.
4. "Translation of telegraphic correspondence between Danzig and Fairwater" [Fahrwasser] during the siege by the French, 4–26 May, 1807. f. 50.
5. Political and miscellaneous poems, newspaper cuttings, recipes, etc. passim.

Paper; ff. 114. Quarto. Early xix cent. On ff. 2–5 are pencil-drawings, partly coloured, of a 'Chasseur,' 'British Hulan,' etc. At f. 5 b is a sketch-plan of the battle of Friedland [14 June, 1807].

38673–38677. Transcripts of the Parish Registers of Batley, co. York, 1759–1812, made for Michael Sheard, author of Records of the Parish of Batley. Five volumes. Quarto.

38673. Vol. I (ff. i + 241). 1559–1700.

38678. COLLECTION of notes, letters, extracts and cuttings from newspapers and magazines, engravings, portraits, etc., made by Joseph Riddel chiefly in 1883, 1884, for an intended life of his father-in-law Edward Hodges Bailey, R.A., sculptor (d. 1867). The papers are grouped about the works of art they refer to, and include original letters from Henry Petty-Fitzmaurice, 3rd Marquis of Lansdowne, Lord John Manners, John Prescott Knight, R.A., and other artists. The chief divisions are:—(1) Nelson monument, Trafalgar Square. f. 10 :—(2) Turner statue and medal. f. 20 ;—(3) Racing plate, etc., for the firm of Storr and Mortimer, afterwards Hunt and Roskell. f. 31 ;—(4) Imaginative works. f. 78 ;—(5) Architectural works and monuments. f. 121.
Paper ; ff. 237. Folio. Transferred from the Department of Prints and Drawings.

38679. "INSCRIPTIONS on the Tombstones in the churchyard and in the church of St. Mary and St. Lambert, Stonham Aspal [co. Suff.] 1574–1906," transcribed by Margaret H. Darwin of Stonham Aspal Rectory, Oct. 1908. A plan of the churchyard and both alphabetical and chronological indices are given, with a description of coats of arms from ancient windows. f. 63. Typewritten.
Paper ; ff. 88. Quarto. Presented by Mrs. A. W. Darwin.

Paper ; ff. 99. Quarto. XVII cent. Bound in limp vellum with central gilt stamped design. Sotheby's sale-cat., 2 Apr. 1913, lot 1096.

38681, 38682. LETTER-BOOK AND ORDER-BOOK of Vice-Admiral George Darby, Aug. 1780–Apr. 1782, during which time he was Commander-in-chief of the Channel fleet and relieved Gibraltar (Apr. 1781). At the beginning of the respective volumes are the letters and orders received, and at the end (reversing the volumes) those issued. The names of the correspondents are given in the Index.

Paper; ff. 181 and i + 80. Folio. Bound in rough calf. Sotheby's sale cat., 23 Apr., lot 376.

The following nos., 38684–38720, were purchased at a sale of a further portion of the library of Sir Thomas Phillipps, Bart., of Middle Hill, co. Worc., and Cheltenham (d. 1872).

Included under no. 12 in B.H.L. Pr. in Rosweyd, p. 368; Patrol. Lat. lxxiii, 651–658 (beg. of ch. x.) f. 197.

Vellum; ff. ii (paper fly-leaves) + 200. 11 in. × 8¾ in. XII–XIII cent. Red initials. Gatherings of 8 leaves (xviii[10]). Double columns. Sec. fol. "Optimum." Modern French binding in red calf by P. Simier. Belonged, at any rate in the 15th cent., to the Celestine monastery of Ste. Croix d'Offémont, dioc. Soissons (ff. 1 b, 200). There is an inscription at the top of f. 200 which reads "Liber sancte crucis vallis frigide prope offemontem si quis eum abstulerit . . . ." the rest having been erased. "Liber sancte," "vallis" (and probably "si . . . . abstulerit") are in a hand contemporary with the MS., but "crucis" and "frigide" seem to be later and written over erasures, while "prope offemontem" has been interpolated after "frigide" above the line. St. Croix d'Offémont was apparently founded in 1329 (Cougny, Bulletin Monumental, tom. 40, 1874, p. 287), though its canonical erection is assigned to 1405 in Beaunier and Besse, Recueil Historique des Archevêchés, etc., de France, Introduction (1906), p. 195 (Les Célestins); its suppression, together with that of the two other Celestine monasteries in the same diocese, was authorised by the Pope on 30 Sept. 1773 (R. Roussel, L'Abbaye de Villeneuve-lès-Soissons, p. 138). On f. 200 also "Jehan Drouet doit a. . . ." The MS. was acquired by Sir Tho. Phillipps, probably from Royez, bookseller at Paris; Phillipps MS. 1345 (sale-cat. May 1913, lot. 1115).

38685. Lectionary, of German origin, containing the lessons (three or nine) for Matins. The contents are as follows:—(1) Temporale, beginning imperfectly with three lessons for a Saturday. f. 1;—(2) Sanctorale, from the Vigil of S. John Baptist to the Passion of S. Andrew (including lessons for S. Augustine of Hippo, f. 75, and for his first translation [11 Oct.], f. 94 b.) f. 51;—(3) Commune Sanctorum. f. 115;—(4) Nine lessons for the Virgin, to be read "quando hystoria: O spes divina." f. 139 b. The original portion of the MS. ends on f. 143, col. i, which should follow f. 141 b. F. 142 contains three more lessons in a 13th cent. hand, and at f. 143 begin other additions to the Sanctorale in hands of the same date, viz. S. Dominic (6 lessons). f. 143;—S. Elizabeth (6, for Sun. within the octave). f. 144;—S. Catharine, in another hand (6). f. 145 b;—All Saints (6, for Sun. within the octave). f. 147 b;—Octave of All Saints (6). f. 148 b;—All Saints ("lectio nona in die"). f. 149;—De Corpore Domini, another change of hand (9). f. 149 b;—S. Elizabeth, another set (6). f. 151;—S. Elizabeth, a third set, in another hand (9). f. 152 b. Finally, in a hand of the 15th cent., follow inserted leaves containing lessons for the Visitation (Vigil, Day, and ? Octave). f. 155.

Vellum; ff. i + 156. 14½ in. × 9¼ in. xii–xiii, and xv centt. Decorative capitals on ff. 51, 51 b, 80 b; initials chiefly in red and green. Margins of many leaves cut down to the text; leaves wanting at beginning and after ff. 4, 23, 28, 66, 74, 91, 155. F. 1 mutilated; only fragments remain of ff. 21, 22, 27. Modern binding of red Russia (faded). Phillipps MSS. 404 and 20742 (sale-cat. 1913, lot 877), from the library of Leander van Ess, S.T.D., of Marburg and Darmstadt.

38686. Narrative of the exile of the convent of Canterbury, and of the translation of S. Thomas; a fragment, consisting of the first quire only of an apparently unknown work. Rubric of prologue beg. "Incipit prologus in exilium conventus Cantuariensis necnon in translationem beati Thome Martyris"; prologue, "Inter felices rerum successus infelicitatis dulce est aliquociens reminisci"; text, "Cum igitur sacrosancta Cantuariensis ecclesia"; ends imperfectly "set nos meliorem," with catchword "partem." Vellum; ff. 8; 9½ in. × 7 in. Early xiii cent. Single columns of 30 lines. Sec. fol. "ut ad sonitum." Initials in red and blue, with pen-work. On the lower margin of f. 8 b is the quire number. "i." Phillipps MS. 2214; entered in his folio catalogue as purchased from Taylor (sale-cats. 1897, lot 37; 1913, lot 538).

38687. Rabanus Maurus, Commentaries on Deuteronomy and Joshua, in Latin. Printed in Migne, Patr. Lat. cviii, coll. 887, 999. The dedicatory epistle to Freculph, Bishop [of Lisieux, d. 850] which is prefixed to Deuteronomy (the rubricator miscalls him "Friduricus"), beg. "Pio patri Freculfo Rabanus exiguus ... Decursis igitur tuis parendo preceptis," is followed by table of chapters to the four books. Bk. i beg. "Hec sunt verba que locutus est ... Principium ergo istius libri quodammodo tytulus." The last six folios of bk. iv (from f. 89, col. ii, l. 13) are not in Migne's text. Ends "neque secretum consilii eius ullus penetrare poterit. Explicit Rabanus super Deuteronomium." The commentary on Joshua has the dedicatory epistle (f. 96) to Frederic Bishop [of Utrecht, d. 838], beg. "Domino beatissimo uereque caritatis officio plurimum uenerando Fridurico episcopo Rabanus uilissimus ... studium tuum in sacrarum," and table of chapters to the three books. Bk. i beg. "Et factum est post mortem Moysi ... Donauit deus nomen." Bk. iii ends "veritas pateat euangelii per ipsum dominum nostrum Iesum Christum." Colophon, "Uolumine isto continetur Rabanus super Deuteronomium et super Iosue. Est autem liber iste sancte Marie Pontiniacensis. Cuius fraude uel dolo perierit anathema sit."

Vellum; ff. i + 150. 13 in. × 9⅝ in. XIII cent. Gatherings of 8 leaves (xii[7], end of Deut., xiv[10], xix[4], xx[1]), numbered, Joshua separately, with catchwords. Double columns of 36 lines. Sec. fol. "Quod terra." Initials in colours to each book, etc.; other initials in red and blue. Modern binding by Bretherton, 1849. Belonged (see above) to St. Mary's Abbey, Pontigny, dioc. of Auxerre. Belonged in the early 19th cent. to the library of Abbé [Joseph Felix] Allard. Phillipps MS. 3725 (sale-cat. 1913, lot 548).

38688. COMPUTUS MAIOR: the astronomical treatise of Campanus of Novara. Printed in the Junta volume of treatises called Sphera (1518), art. 10, pp. 159–177. Another copy is at Oxford, Digby MS. 215, f. 68 b. Preface, which is followed by a table of contents, beg. "Rogauit me unus ex hiis, quibus contradicere nequeo, ut scientiam, quam compotum appellamus, breuiter et clare"; text, "Compotus est sciencia numeracionis et diuisionis temporum secundum uulgares obseruancias." There are numerous diagrams and astronomical tables illustrating the text. Marginal notes of some interest are added in contemporary and later hands. The date 1320 occurs in a note on f. 10, and the date 1345–6 in a note by a "minimus Sorbonista" on the margin of f. 14. The treatise is followed by a calendar (ff. 42–46 b), which is not found in the printed text. The leonine hexameters on the dies Egyptiaci which accompany each month beg "Prima dies Iani timor est et septima vani." The saints are for the diocese of Évreux.

Vellum; ff. i + 48. Small quarto. Early XIV cent. Gatherings of 12 leaves, with catchwords. Sec. fol. "nunc quam prius." Belonged in the 18th century to the Carmelites of Dijon (ff. 1, 2). Phillipps MS. 25138 (sale-cat. 1913, lot 521).

1. "Liber uite humane magistri Bernardi de Gordonio": the fourth and last "particula," called sometimes "De regimine sanitatis" and sometimes "De conservatione vitae humanae," of the longer work in four parts "De conservatione vitae humanae" begun 22 Feb. and finished 9 Nov. 1307. The whole work is found in Add. MS. 26841, ff. 1–71 b (where between partt. 1 and 2 is interpolated the tract "De crisi"), and in Sloane MSS. 217, ff. 8–105; 2481, ff. 2–86 b. In Sloane MSS. 334, ff. 218–290; 512, ff. 270–374 b, particulae 1, 2, and 4 are found as separate treatises: in 512 the third particula "De pulsibus" has been added by a later hand. The whole printed in Bernardi Gordonii Opus Lilium Medicinae Inscriptum, Lugduni, 1574, pp. 667–947. The fourth particula also occurs alone in Sloane MS. 3097, ff. 1–61, where it is followed, as here, by the Tacuinum. The resemblance between the two MSS. is so close that the present one may be copied or derived from Sloane 3097 (dated 1311); or, more probably, both are derived from a common original. This particula is printed alone as Bernhardi de Gordonio....De Conservatione Vitae Humanae, Lipsiae, 1570, where however the "quaestiones" are all collected separately at the end of the volume. For the mutual relation of the four particulae and a description of the other Museum MSS. see H. I. Bell, The Bibliography of Bernard de Gordon's 'De Cons. Vitae Humanae,' in Proc. of xviith Intern. Congr. of Medicine, section xxiii, pp. 325–337. Preface beg. "Secundum intencionem Aristotilis primo etycorum"; ends "ante tribunal iudicis ueniamus." Treatise beg. (f. 3 b) "Mulier cum approximatur ad partum"; ends "Bene autem mori uia est in uitam eternam, ad quam nos perducat Christus filius Dei uiui. Amen dicant omnia." f. 1.
2. "Tacuinum sanitatis in medicina," by "Elbulkassem Elmuthar filius Hababdim filii Buccilla medici de Baldach"; the Takwīm alsiḥḥah of Mukhtār ibn al-Ḥasan, called Ibn Butlān. Printed as Tacuini Sanitatis Elluchasem Elimithar Medici de Baldath, Argentorati, 1531; a German version was subsequently published under the title Schachtafelen der Gesuntheyt, Strassburg, 1533. As in art. 1, the present MS. agrees closely with Sloane 3097, but the scribe has reversed the last two tables (nos. 267–273 and 274–280), having accidentally copied the second first, apparently with the nos. 267–273, which, on discovering his mistake, he corrected to 274–280, and copied nos. 267–273 on the following two pages. Another MS. is Add. 18701, ff. 50–94. Preface beg. "Tacuinum sanitatis de sex rebus....Prima est preparatio aeris,"; ends "in ultimo huius libri cum auxilio altissimi." Tables beg. "Canones quibus noscuntur nature ciborum"; end "sicut pertinet maiestati sue"; after which follows the index; after "sue" a 16th cent. hand has added some further sentences of a religious character, beginning "quia omnis sapiencia a domino deo est." f. 56.

3. Vincent of Beauvais, "Epystola de morte amici consolatoria," addressed to Louis IX of France. Printed with other minor works of the author by J. de Amerbach, Basel, 1481 (no title-page). Preface beg. "Illustrissimo domino in Christo sibi karissimo" (in the printed text and in Harley MS. 2423, f. 1, this is preceded by "Dilecto deo et hominibus"); ends "ut sufferatis solacii uerbum." Treatise beg. "In primis igitur aduertere debet illa"; ends "Bene ac diu ualeat in nobis modestia regie maiestatis. Amen." f. 105. Vellum; ff. ii + 139. 11½ in. × 8 in. XIV cent. Gatherings of 8 leaves (viii[10], xiii[6] last [3]). A few illuminated initials, others flourished in blue and red or red and black. Bound in green morocco with gilt-stamped border. Belonged, like Burney MSS. 300, 301, and Add. MS. 12029, to the Celestines [Priory of St. Antoine] of Amiens, as is shown by the 15th cent. inscription at the end (f. 139): "Iste liber est de monasterio fratrum Celestinorum de Ambianis, donatus quondam per venerabiles viros domini nostri Regis consiliarios magistros Huguonem et Johannem de Allyaco [for Hugues d'Ailly, canon of the Cathedral of Amiens, see L. F. Daire, Hist. de la Ville d'Amiens (1757), ii, p. 289], vna cum plurimis aliis bonis que prelibato monasterio ob salutem et remedium animarum suarum misericorditer erogauerunt." Afterwards belonged to the bookseller — Chardin of Paris, in the catalogue of whose library it was numbered 882 (Phillipps folio-catalogue, p. 9). Phillipps MS. 818 (sale-cat. 1913, lot 775).

38690. HISTORICAL documents, viz.: —

1. A complaint made to King Henry the VI by [Humphrey] the Duke of Gloucester upon [Henry Beaufort] the Cardinal [Bishop] of Winchester, Jan.-Feb. 1440. Beg: "Thes bene in partie the poyntes and articles." These articles, which are also directed against John Kemp, here styled only Archbishop of York (but already created a Cardinal, afterwards, 1452, Archbishop of Canterbury), were laid before the Parliament that sat at Reading from 14 Jan. to 14 Feb. (see Cotton MS. Vitellius A. xvi, f. 102, printed by C. L. Kingsford, Chronicles of London, p. 153). For the question of the month see notes in Sir J. H.

Ramsay's Lancaster and York, ii, p. 24, and R. Pauli, Geschichte von England (cont. of Lappenberg), v, p. 269; see also for this and the two following entries K. H. Vickers, Humphrey, Duke of Gloucester, pp. 260–267. Printed from Ashmole MS. 856 by J. Stevenson, Wars of the English in France during the reign of Henry VI (Rolls Series, no. 22), ii, p. 440; printed also, but with some change in the order of the articles, in Arnold's Chronicle (ed. 1811), p. 279, and in Hall's Chronicle (ed. 1809), p. 197. On f. i (a list of the beginnings of the various articles in the hand of Tho. Martin of Palgrave, who d. 1771) there is a note, repeated on f. 4 at the end of the present article, of an imperfect printed copy in the "London Chronicle." This refers to the second edition (1521?) of Richard Arnold's Chronicle, where, however, the version is complete (as in the later edition), the only omission of any note being the brief reference to Beaufort's nephew Swynford. f. 1.

2. Articles of advice and opinion of Humphrey, Duke of Gloucester, against the deliverance of Charles, Duke of Orleans (taken prisoner at Agincourt, 1415, released in 1440); 1440. Beg. "For asmuche as it liked my lord to committe certeyne lordes." Entered on the Patent Rolls, 2 June, 18 Hen. VI (Calendar of Patent Rolls, Henry VI, iii, p. 430). Printed in Rymer, Foedera (Hague ed.), tom. v, pt. i, p. 76; summarised in J. Speed, History of Great Britain (ed. 1650), p. 672. f. 4.

3. Declaration [by the Lords of the Council] of the causes that moved King Henry VI to the deliverance of the Duke of Orleans; 1440. Beg. "For as moche as it commen to þe kyngez knowlege." Printed from the Ashmole MS. by Stevenson, op. cit., ii, p. 451. f. 6.

4. "A fulle lementable Cronicle of þe deþe and fals murdre of Jamez Steward last kinge of Scottes [James I of Scotland, murdered 1437] nought long a goone prisonner in Englonde, þe tymez of Kinge Harri þe fifte and Harri þe sixte"; circ. 1440. Text beg. "Robert þe king of Scottes had twoo soonnez." There is another copy in Add. MS. 5467, f. 72 b, with a colophon on f. 84 b, stating that it was translated out of Latin by John Shirley (d. 1456), and the same MS. contains another work translated by Shirley in 1440 (f. 97). Printed by J. Pinkerton, History of Scotland, i, p. 462, separately at Glasgow in 1818, again by the Maitland Club in 1837—but in each case from Add. MS. 5467, from which a leaf had been torn out. f. 9.

5. "The answeris of Richard Plantaginet callyd commonly Duc of Yorke etc. to certeyne reassones and coloures allegid as it is saide ayeinst þe maner of his right and title etc." [to the crown]; Oct. 1460. Text beg. "Fyrst where it is saide that it is þought." Printed in the Rolls of Parliament, v, p. 377. Other copies in Cotton MS. Titus E vi, f. 381, Harley MSS. 727, f. 350, 7075, f. 668 b, and Stowe MS. 353, f. 353 b (all copies of Parliament Rolls). f. 16.

6. Agreement between King Henry VI and Richard, Duke of York, whereby the Duke of York is declared heir to the crown; Oct. 1460. Beg. "Blissed be Jhesu in whos hande and bounte." Printed in the Rolls of Parliament, v, p. 378. Other copies in Cotton MS Tiberius E. viii, f. 214 b, Hargrave MS. 335, f. 287 (both imperfect), and in the copies of the Rolls (see above, art. 5). In the present MS. the text is preceded (cf. Tib. E. viii) by a copy of the writ in Latin to the sheriffs for its proclamation, and at the end, after the formula (Fr.) of the Commons' assent to the agreement, there is the attesting clause with the date, 8 Nov. 1460. The MS. having been originally put up in the form of a roll, the writ was transcribed in duplicate on a small slip (f. 17) in order to give room for the sewing together of the sheets. f. 18.

Paper; ff. i + 18. 17 in. × 11¾ in. Originally (excluding f. i, see art. 1 above) a roll 22 ft. 5 in. in length. xv cent. Artt. 5 and 6 are in a different hand; the last is written on both sides of the sheet. Belonged to Tho. Martin of Palgrave; lot 596 in the sale (1866) of the MSS. of Sir John Fenn, editor of the Paston Letters (d. 1794). Phillipps MS. 26503 (sale-cat., May, 1913, lot 804).

38691. "THE COMPENDION HISTORIALL": translation by Thomas Wall, Windsor Herald [afterwards Garter King of Arms, d. 1536], of the Compendium Romanorum, a French compilation extant (anonymously) in a Paris MS. (Bibl. Nat., fonds fr. 730, formerly 7163, see Paulin Paris, Les MSS. fr. de la Bibl. du Roi, v, p. 429) which has a note 'ex camera compotorum Blesensis,' and is conjectured from the arms to have belonged to the poet Charles, Duke of Orleans. It is an amorphous work in two books, not confined to Roman history and by no means chronological in its arrangement, its purpose being explained (f. 6 b) in "The prologue of hym which made the booke in Frenche." In this prologue, which does not appear to be contained in the Paris MS., the compiler states that having in another book of his given an abridgement of three decades of Livy and the First Punic War he now proposes to collect and explain the historical allusions in St. Augustine's De Civitate Dei and in the additions made thereto by the translator Raoul de Presles. The allusion to a previous work renders it probable that the compiler was Jehan Mansel, whose Fleur des Histoires (Royal MSS. 16 F. vi, vii) begins with a paraphrase of Livy and of Leonardo Bruni on the First Punic War. Wall, who became Rouge Croix

Pursuivant in 1521, was the son of another Thomas Wall, successively Lancaster Herald and Norroy King of Arms (Letters and Papers, Henry VIII, i, no. 3986) and the translation is apparently autograph (cf. Cotton MS. Galba B. ix, f. 58). He prefixes a preface in which he states that he began the translation 4 June, and ended it 8 Sept. 1528, and adds an epilogue including a full list of the authors quoted (mostly at second hand) in the course of the work. From blank spaces left near the end it would seem that he translated from a copy the last page of which was torn. Translator's preface (f. 1) beg. "Duryng the shorte and transitorious lyffe," and is followed by table of chapters; author's preface (f. 6 b) beg. "They which desire hastely and without great studye"; and text (f. 8), "Forbycause that ther be many oppinions." Ends "to see hym face to face with sceurete of." Colophon, "Amen finis here endyth the compendion historiall." Epilogue beg. "To the laude honnour and prayse of oure sauiour Jesu Crist his blyssyd mother." At f. 300 is a table of subject-headings taken from the translator's marginal analysis.

A few quotations from Latin classical authors are added in the margins (ff. 34, 34 b, etc.) and in the same 17th cent. hand are some English verses on f. 10 b, viz.

Doth give to gods the power to bann
His ill attempts, as Troys fall shows.
Yet Rome that marthyred Remus knows
A way to keepe the gods in awe,
And thus there [their] powers not worth a straw."

Paper; ff. iv + 301. Folio. 11¾ in. × 8 in. A.D. 1528. Illuminated initial of interlaced work (gold on blue) to bk. ii (f. 205); that to bk. i is outlined only. 19th cent. binding by Lewis (see f. iii b). On f. 299 b is the note "This boke was bought by Thomas Treheyron, Somerset, for v.s. by [? of] an upholster in London the x day of Februarii anno r.r. H. oct. vicesimo ix" [1538]. Treheyron's name occurs also at ff. 1 b, 2, 8, 301, in the last case accompanied by arms (not his?), viz. quarterly, 1 and 4 a bird (raven?) within a bordure engrailed, 2 and 3 barry of 8, a lion rampant. Treheyron is said to have married Catherine, daughter of Sir John Writh, Garter (Noble, College of Arms, p. 126), who was aunt of Thomas Wriothesley, 1st Earl of Southampton (cr. 1547), to whose wife the MS. afterwards belonged. Her signatures, both as Jane Wryothesley and Jane Southampton, occur (ff. 1 b, 2 b, 9 b, 40, 93). Scribbling of the 17th cent. includes (f. 285) the words "To his louing father Christopher Thomson" (cf. f. 234). Later the MS. belonged to Joseph Haslewood, the antiquary (d. 1833), whose bookstamp on vellum is on f. i, to Thomas Thorpe, the bookseller, and to Sir Thomas Phillipps. Phillipps MS. 8903 (sale-cat. 1913, lot 806).

38692. GENEALOGICAL and historical collection of Nicholas Wotton [1497–1567], the diplomatist, Dean of Canterbury and York, relating to noble or distinguished English and French families, with index in three series. Mostly autograph. A companion volume is Harley MS. 902. The sources, both oral and written, are generally stated. Of the latter, specific genealogies are occasionally mentioned, as of Mowbray, Percy, Belknap, Chabot, Boulogne, Luxemburg; more often merely the names of the owners of the books, notes, etc., lent to the author, are given. Chief of these are Fulk ap Howell, Lancaster Herald (d. 1551), the York Herald and Norroy King of Arms, and members of his own and allied families, Finch, Medley, Shelley, Grey. For the French pedigrees the books of Johannes Ferronius [Jean le Féron, advocate at Paris and author of works on heraldry] are often quoted, to which Wotton had access probably when ambassador at Paris (1546–1549). The chief literary sources are Henry of Huntingdon and the Polychronicon of Ranulf Higden. Apart from the genealogies the most important items are:—(1) Four different versions of the so-called Battle Abbey Roll of the Conqueror's companions, being the 6th, 3rd, 2nd and 7th of the list in The Battle Abbey Roll by the Duchess of Cleveland, vol. i, p. viii. ff. 86, 87 b and 167 b, 133, 135;—(2) Rolls of arms in blason: the so-called Parliamentary, First Dunstable, and Carlaverock rolls with the additional memorandum as in Greenstreet and Russell, Reference List of Rolls of Arms, p. 8, note 2. ff. 147–167;—(3) Names of those who took part in the tournaments on the entrance of Henry II into Paris, 1549. f. 73;—(4) Metrical history of Stone Priory and the connexion of the Staffords therewith (printed in Dugdale's Monasticon, vi, pt. i, p. 230). Another copy is in Add. MS. 36542, f. 138. f. 80;—(5) Metrical epitaph of Millicent Fastolf, wife of Sir John Fastolf of Caistor, co. Norf., by William Worcester, al. Botener, clerk to Sir John. f. 139;—(6) Returns of commanders, loyal adherents, men-at-arms, revenue and expenditure of the Regent John, Duke of Bedford, in France, 1422–1434. ff. 201–207. Paper; ff. i + 261. Folio. XVI cent. (after 1551). Belonged to Sir George Nayler, Garter King of Arms (d. 1831). Phillipps MS. 9020 (sale-cat. 1913, lot 1130).

38693. MISCELLANEOUS papers and letters, collected together apparently by Thomas Tenison, Rector of St. Martin's in the Fields, Westminster, afterwards Archbishop of Canterbury, viz.:—

Digitized by Google Original from UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA

1. Epigrammata, in an early 17th cent. hand, selected from various authors. Lat. The names James Searle, of Hart Hall, Oxford, and Robert Fry, "at Mr. Schoolemaisters house in Winchester," occur in scribbles on ff. iii and 11 b. The only James Searle recorded in Foster's Alumni Oxon. was of New College (matric. 160$\frac{6}{7}$). f. 1.
2. Letters from Desyderius Lignamineus, Dominican of Padua, to (a) Joannes Baptista Priuitellius; Venice, 22 Jan. 1547. f. 13;—(b) Hieronymus Mercatellus; Padua, 9 May, 1556. f. 16. Both on the subject of the alleged discovery of Cicero's tomb in Zante, with drawings of urns (f. 15), and verses (f. 18) by Alexander Mamianus and Lucas Campanius on the discovery of Cicero's ashes. Lat. Copies, probably from the printed text, Sepulchri Facies, etc. (n. d.).
3. "Narratio disceptationis habitae per Gulielmum Laud ..... cum domino Fishero Jesuita .... etc."; a Latin translation of the preface and of a small portion of the published work (see A Relation of the Conference betweene William Lawd...and Mr. Fisher the Jesuite, etc., 1639, preface and pp. 1–4). f. 20.
4. Drafts of portions of Francis Bacon's 'Sylva Sylvarum' and other works. The greater part (ff. 29–36 b, 39–48 b, 50–52 b) is in the hand of Dr. William Rawley, Bacon's chaplain; two leaves (ff. 37, 38) in a second, un-identified hand, are corrected by him; while a single leaf, f. 49, containing drafts in Latin of §§ 4 and 12 under the heading "Natura Durabilis" of the "Historia Vitae et Mortis" (Works, ed. Spedding, Ellis and Heath, 1857, ii, pp. 111, 112) is apparently in the autograph of Bacon himself. The drafts are in many cases merely notes of intended experiments, the results of which are given in the published works; compare "Present Experiments with the Loadstone" (f. 29) with the "Inquisitio de Magnete" (Works, ii, p. 311). Other drafts occur almost in their finished form; compare the experiment with a lump of "Ure" (f. 30) with Sylva Sylvarum, Exp. 33 (ib. ii, p. 353) and the experiment with Aqua Fortis on the same page with Sylva Sylvarum, Exp. 790 (ib. ii, p. 596); the order of the drafts being other than that of the finished work. The account of the Chameleon (f. 31), cf. Sylva Sylvarum, Exp. 360 (ib. ii, p. 460–461), is imperfect at beginning through loss of a leaf; several other leaves in this portion are wanting. ff. 29–52b.
5. Notes on metals, in a late 17th cent. hand. Lat. and Engl. ff. 53–55.
6. Treatise (imperfect at beginning) on the election of officers of the city of London, with report of the committee appointed for examination of the state of the Chamber of London; apparently in the hand of Fabian Philipps (d. 1690). f. 56.

7. Catalogue of the MSS. of Sir James Ware, including many historical MSS. not in the printed catalogue (Dublin, 1648). With a few differences it agrees substantially with the catalogue of the Earl of Clarendon's MSS. in Catalogi Manuscriptorum Angliae, Oxon. 1697. f. 74.
8. Treatise of the "Art Spagiricke," etc.: miscellaneous alchemical and theological collections, the last portion on the back of part of a deed relating to Merton, 10 June, temp. Jas. I. f. 89.
9. Letters, original and copies, mostly to Thomas Tenison, afterwards Archbishop of Canterbury; 1671–1685. The most important writers' names are given in the Index. ff. 127–150. With the letters are:—"The Articles of the Society of Young Men of St. Martin's in the Fields and thereabouts." f. 137; "The conditions of Mr. Tiffen's having the office of Clerk of St. James." f. 139;—and some autograph notes by Tenison on the foundation of his public library in the parish of St. Martin in the Fields (dispersed in 1861). f. 147.

Paper; ff. iii + 150. Folio. XVII cent. Lot 61 in the sale of the Tenison library, 1 July, 1861; purchased by Boone. Phillipps MS. 15733 (sale-cat. 1913, lot 532).

38694–38713. WAR-OFFICE and other correspondence, 1660–1759, consisting chiefly of (a) Letters to William Blathwayt, Secretary-at-War 1683–1704, from officers and commanders of garrisons (the letters of Peter Shakerley, Governor of Chester, for the period of the Revolution are of interest);—(b) Drafts of correspondence by Blathwayt, mostly written when in attendance on the King in the Netherlands, including some by Adam Cardonnel, Secretary to Marlborough;—(c) Miscellaneous papers, accompts, establishments, army lists, forage warrants, and contracts, relative to the English and Allied armies. The last two volumes are for the most part papers of Edward Southwell, Secretary for Ireland 1702–1730, into whose hands this correspondence passed on his marriage with Blathwayt's daughter. Southwell's papers relate chiefly but not exclusively to the army in Ireland. The names of the writers are given in the Index. Twenty volumes. Paper. Folio. Phillipps MS. 8549 (sale-cat. 1913, lot 39). For other large Blathwayt collections previously acquired see Add. MSS. 9719–9768 and 37979–37992.

38714. Letters and Papers of William Blathwayt, Commissioner of Trade and Plantations, relating to Barbados; 18 June, 1664–10 Jan. 1706 and n. d. Included are claims made upon the revenue of the island by William [Hay, 3rd] Earl of Kinnoull (ff. 2–5) and by his Countess (ff. 27–30), by Richard [Jones, 1st] Earl of Ranelagh (ff. 10–17, 58), and by the widow of Sir George Carteret (f. 31). On f. 18 there is a copy of an Order in Council to the Governor, 10 Mar. 167$\frac{5}{6}$, upholding the patent granted to the African Company for the importation of "negros and other merchandises," in which trade the Spaniards were anxious to have a share (see too f. 20). On. ff. 35–57 are statistics of exports of sugar, cotton, ginger, molasses, rum, and lime-juice, 1 Jan. 1681–1 July, 1683, and on ff. 102–106 is a copy of the accompt (1696–1704) of Capt. Charles Thomas, as Receiver of the Casual Revenues.
Paper; ff. 111. Folio. Phillipps MS. 19701 (sale-cat. 1913, lot 231).

38715. Certificates of penance, etc., either for scandalous words or for immoral conduct, ordered by the consistory courts (a) of Westminster, 20 Mar. 1670–11 Jan. 1713. ff. 1–24;—(b) of Rochester, 17 July, 1768–16 Feb. 1772. ff. 25–43. The penances are to be performed at St. Margaret's, Westminster (ff. 1–18, 20–24), at Westminster Abbey (f. 19), at Bromley, co. Kent (f. 25), and at Lewisham, co. Kent (ff. 27–33, 38–43), in every case on a Sunday. As Zachary Pearce, Bishop of Rochester 1756–1774, was also Dean of Westminster 1756–1768, it is possible that he used the old certificates from Westminster as precedents. The returns certifying performance are signed by the minister and churchwardens of the parish. In the form of penance for slander the offender is to repair to the vestry after morning or evening prayer and sermon, and to repeat after the minister, in the presence of the person slandered, that person's friends, and the churchwardens, a confession, an expression of penitence, and sometimes a formal recantation of the slander. In the form for immoral conduct the penitent (in each case a woman) is to stand at the porch in a white sheet, with a white wand in her hand, "open-faced," with a paper of accusation on her breast, asking forgiveness of such as pass by. After the first lesson she is to be placed in the body of the church near the minister's reading-desk for the remainder of the service. After the Gospel she is to repeat after the minister a confession of her offence. In three cases (ff. 27, 34, 36) the "libel," or form of complaint upon which the order is based, accompanies it, and in one case (f. 38 b) the Bishop's order for absolution, with remains of seal. Paper; ff. 43. Folio. Phillipps MS. 19281 (sale-cat. 1913, lot 1006). The volume is said to have been one of the Cole MSS. (Phillipps folio-cat., 1837, p. 363).

38716. Letter-book of [Robert Henley, 2nd Earl of] Northington, as Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, preceded by an alphabetical register; 7 May, 1783–3 Feb. 1784. The letters are not in strict chronological order, the earliest letter being on f. 60. Copies of letters received are included, as well as of letters sent, and a few are addressed to William Windham, Chief Secretary during the earlier part of the period. The names of all correspondents are included in the Index. Paper; ff. ii + 158. Folio. Phillipps MS. 24152 (sale-cat. 1913, lot 988).

38717, 38718. Copies of the correspondence of Sir George Macartney, K.B., later (19 July, 1776) Lord Macartney, Baron of Lissanoure, and finally Earl Macartney, as Governor of Grenada, with Lord George Germain, afterwards 1st Viscount Sackville, as Secretary of State for the Colonies. Two volumes, containing (Vol. I) Letters from Lord George Germain; 1 Feb. 1776–5 Aug. 1779;—(Vol. II) Letters from Macartney; 9 May, 1776–4 Sept. 1779. The series covers the whole period of Lord Macartney's government, ending with the surrender of the island to the French under Comte d'Estaing in July, 1779, which is described in the last letter of the correspondence (38718, f. 486). The names of all the writers will be found in the Index.
Paper; ff. i + 141, ii + 488. Folio. Phillipps MSS. 13418, 13372 (sale-cat. 1913, lots 906, 903).

Paper; ff. 90. Folio. Phillipps MSS. 17538, 16971 (sale-cat. 1913, lot 100). The Phillipps folio-catalogue of 1837 gives the date of Phillipps MS. 16971 by error as 1790 instead of 1796.

38720. JEAN LOUIS BERLANDIER, "Vocabulaires de diverses peuplades nomades des parties septentrionales du Mexique"; with interpretations in French and Spanish, etc. The following are the languages treated:—

Carancahues. ff. 4, 21.	Lipan. f. 29.
Carisso (Nuevo Leon). ff. 23–28.	Maya (Yucatan). ff. 16, 35.
Comanche. f. 8.	Mulato. f. 24.
Garza. f. 15.	Tancahues. f. 18.

Some of these are mentioned in the index to Count de la Viñaza's Bibliografía Española de lenguas indígenas de América, 1892. Besides the philological papers, there are in Spanish (a) Ethnographical notes on the Lipanes, Comanches, Tancahues, Cheraquis, Savanos, Delawares and Quicapus. f. 14;—(b) Geological notes. f. 37 b;—(c) Itineraries from Campeche to Merida, from Merida to Balladolid [Valladolid], and from Merida to Sisal. ff. 40–42.

The date of the manuscript is probably between 1826, when Berlandier became a member of the Frontier Commission of Mexico, and 1850, when the Mexican Government published his Diario de Viage de la Comision de Limites. The year 1828 is referred to, as past, on f. 23. Most of the manuscript is presumably Berlandier's autograph, but ff. 19, 20 are in that of his friend Rafael Chowell, who furnished him with much of the material for this work. Elsewhere (ff. 15, 29) Berlandier acknowledges help from the chiefs of the tribes concerned. Several pages are left blank, and it would seem that no methodical arrangement of the papers has been observed.

Paper; ff. 42. Small quarto. Middle of XIX cent. Phillipps MS. 15588 (sale-cat. 1913, lot 357).

38721. NOTE-BOOK of the Rev. William Maskell, the liturgiologist, Rector of Corscombe, co. Dors. (1842), Vicar of St. Mary Church near Torquay (1847–1850), d. 1890; containing classified lists of books (about 375 volumes) in his liturgical and theological library. Holograph, inscribed at the beginning (f. 1 b) "W. Maskell. Broadleaze, Wilts. 1844." At the end (ff. 37 b–39 b) are a few notes of collations, desiderata and liturgical criteria. Cf. Maskell's Selected Centuries of Books from the library of a Priest in the diocese of Salisbury, 1843, and A Catalogue of books used in or relating to the public services of the Church of England during the XVIth and XVIIth centuries, 1845.

38722. EPISTOLAR of a Cistercian house in Italy. Contents:—(1) De tempore from Advent, including (f. 60 b) the Exultet chant on Holy Saturday, set to music on a three-lined stave. f. 1;—(2) De sanctis, from St. Stephen to St. Thomas, including Thomas of Canterbury, William of York, Robert of Molesme, Peter of Tarentaise, Bernard, Malachy, Edmund of Canterbury. f. 109;—(3) Epistles for special occasions, dedication of church, pro familiaribus, de sancta cruce, etc. f. 141 b;—(4) Epistles for Corpus Christi and Corona Domini, added in 14th cent. (palimpsest). f. 148;—(5) One leaf of a homily, in a 14th cent. hand, beg. "[I]nitium euangelii Iesu Christi ...Conferendum est hoc euangelii Marci principium." f. 149.

Vellum; ff. ii + 149. 10¾ in. × 8¼ in. Middle of XIII cent. Written in Italy. Gatherings of 8 leaves (ix, xiv[6], xix irregular). Initials in blue and red, the large ones of unusual design. Belonged to Rev. John Henry Ellis (sale-cat., Sotheby's, 30 June, 1913, lot 105).

38723. MISSAL with gradual combined, of Paris use (cf. the rubric for the Palm Sunday procession, f. 57). Contents:—

1. Temporale, from Advent to Pentecost. The latter part of the introit of the 4th Sunday in Adv. "non dicitur ad usum Parisiensem" (f. 7). The second Mass of Christmas (f. 10) has the prose "Letemur gaudiis." Among the saints in the "Letania ad fontes" on Holy Saturday (f. 77 b) are Denis, Leger, Magloire, Germain, Geneviève. The Easter Mass is preceded (f. 84) by processional antiphons, beg. "Christus resurgens." f. 1.
2. Canon, inserted immediately before Easter, and preceded (f. 80) by the proper prefaces from Christmas to Trinity (imperfect, one leaf is wanting), and (f. 79 b) by an abridged ordo missae. f. 81.
3. Sanctorale from St. Stephen to St. Thomas Ap., including Geneviève and her Translation (ff. 128, 153) and Denis with vigil and octave, and his Invention (ff. 152, 135), but not Translation of Thomas, Mart., nor Susceptio S. Crucis (cf. Add. MS. 16905, ff. 268, 274). On St. Sixtus' day, Aug. 6th (f. 144), is the "benedictio uue." f. 126.
4. Commune Sanctorum:—(a) Gradual;—(b) Non-choral parts. f. 157.
5. "Incipiunt misse familiares quarum prima de S. Trinitate": votive Masses, including Nuptial Mass, and followed by Exorcism of salt and water. f. 175 b.
6. Masses of St. Anne and Corona Domini, properly belonging to the Sanctorale. f. 185.

Digitized by Google Original from UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA

7. "Sollempnis oratio [pro] principibus": Coronation Laudes (cf. L. Duchesne, Liber Pontificalis, ii, p. 37; Civiltà Cattolica, 15 Aug. 1903, p. 387), beg. "Christus uincit"; followed by hymns "ad chrisma," beg. "O Redemptor sume carmen" (= Chevalier, Rep. Hymn. 13616), for Rogations, and, in a different hand, for Corona Domini, beg. "[R]egis et pontificis" (= Chev. 17222). f. 186 b (the next 15 leaves missing; cf. the old numeration).
8. The unvarying choral parts of the Mass (Kyrie, etc.) as sung according to the importance of the festival. f. 188.
9. Proses for important festivals:—(a) De tempore, from Advent to the Transfiguration, f. 191 b;—(b) De sanctis, from St. Stephen, ending imperfectly at St. Katharine. f. 205 b. Included are Geneviève, f. 209, Inventio S. Dionysii, f. 213 b, Germanus ep. Par., f. 215 b, Landericus, Leufredus, f. 216, Eligius, f. 217 b, Turiavus, Arnulfus, f. 220, Marcellus ep. Par., f. 220 b, Germanus Autisiodor., f. 221, Clodoaldus, f. 227, Aurea, Dionysius with octave, f. 230, Maglorius, f. 231, Gendulfus, f. 231 b.

Vellum; ff. 232. 7½ in. × 4⅞ in. Mid. XIII cent. Imperfect after ff. 80, 187, and at the end. Double columns. Music on four-lined stave. Marginal prayers in later hands, f. 83 b, etc. Flourished initials in red and blue. Small illuminated initial with two figures (Old and New Dispensations), f. 81. On ff. 6, 75 b is the name (16th cent.) Anthonino Dallenino, and on f. 208 b Jehan La Monde. Belonged to Rev. J. H. Ellis (sale-cat., 30 June, 1913, lot 80).

38724. HOURS, etc., in Dutch. Contents:—(1) Calendar. In red Pontian (Jan. 14), Gertrude (Mar. 17), Servatius (May 13), Boniface (June 5), Odulf (June 12), Lebuin (June 25 and Nov. 12), Lambert (Sept. 17), Remi and Bavo (Oct. 1), Victor and companions (Oct. 10), Willibrord (Nov. 7); pointing to the diocese of Utrecht. f. 2;—(2) "Onser vrouwen ghetiden": Hours of the Virgin. f. 15;—(3) "Die corte cruus ghetide": Little Hours of the Cross. f. 60;—(4) "Die ghetiden der ewigher wijsheit": Hours of the Eternal Wisdom. f. 69;—(5) Penitential Psalms (in Lat.), with Litany including Servatius, Lambert, Willibrord, Odulf, Hubert, Lebuin, Gertrude. f. 96;—(6) Prayers, including—(a) The seven words from the Cross, transl. of Bede's prayer (cf. Vellum; ff. i + 178. 6 in. × 4⅛ in. Mid. xv cent. At the beginnings of artt. 2–5, 7 are full-page miniatures within floral borders; in two of them, ff. 14 b, 95 b, the owner is represented kneeling, habited as a nun. The last four miniatures are on a burnished gold background. On the pages opposite are corresponding borders, and large initials on burnished gold backgrounds. The initials at the lesser divisions are of gold on a coloured ground, from which spring floral designs forming partial borders. The work is of fair quality. Binding of red morocco (18th cent.?) with gilt tooling. Silver-gilt clasps representing the four Evangelists, and, on the hasps, the Resurrection and Ascension. Sold by Puttick and Simpson, 16 July, 1859, lot. 4. Belonged afterwards to Rev. John Henry Ellis (sale-cat., 30 June, 1913, lot. 79).

38725. Diary (1840–1842), and extracts of the last letters, of Captain Arthur Conolly, murdered at Bokhara in 1842. Typewritten copies. The originals of the letters are in Add. MS. 37232 u, but the original diary was written on the leaves of an English Prayer-Book. After Conolly's death this fell into the hands of a Russian prisoner who gave it to a Russian officer, Major Victor Salatzsky, by whom it was presented in 1862 to Conolly's sister, Mrs. Macnaghten. It afterwards belonged to Col. Arthur Conolly, who desired to bequeathe it, together with a French geographical medal awarded to Capt. Conolly, to the British Museum; but it was unfortunately lost in a French railway carriage in 1909, and in spite of all efforts to find it (see Add. MS. 38795 d) it has never been recovered. A partial copy however had previously been made, and considerable extracts were printed by Sir John Kaye, Lives of Indian Officers (1889), ii, pp. 196–202. The copy is here reproduced (ff. 4–44, 58) with Salatzsky's letter to Mrs. Macnaghten prefixed, and is followed (f. 44) by extracts from the letters, and (f. 60) by a translation of the narrative of Saleh Mahomed Akhundzada concerning Conolly's death, with a note from Col. Justin Sheil, dated Teheran, 23 Nov. 1843, as to the credibility of the story.
Paper; ff. 74. Quarto. Presented by Col. E. R. Conolly.

38726. Miscellaneous MSS. and printed papers in 15 different languages, copied or collected by George Borrow (1803–1881); from the Borrow Collection of Mr. Clement Shorter, who purchased them from the executors of Mrs. Henrietta MacOubrey, the author's stepdaughter. For other philological MSS. by Borrow see Add. MSS. 34183, 34201. The documents have been arranged in alphabetical order according to their languages, as follows:—

Простонародныя пѣсни нынѣшнихъ Грековъ, St. Petersburg, 1825. Printed. f. 59.

14. Spanish. (a) Part of a romance, the hero of which is one Panfilo. In Borrow's hand;—(b) Part (pp. 3–6) of a play, some of the characters of which speak in dialect. Printed;—(c) Two extracts apparently in the Spanish-Gipsy language, the latter of which is in Borrow's hand and would seem to be a poem;—(d) Five documents in Hebrew cursive script, but in some romance language, probably Spanish. Probably written in Turkey. Some are signed "Ḥayyīm Ibn 'Attār" and the last and longest is dated 1839. f. 61.

15. Turkish. Part of a romance. Unfinished. f. 102.

38727. "INSCRIPTIONS on the [church-] bells of the wapentakes of Elloe, Kirton, and Skirbeck, in the Holland Division of Lincolnshire. Revised 1913 by J[ames] R[ichard] Jerram" [of the Clerical Library, The Close, Salisbury]. Cf. Inscriptions on the Bells of the Fen and Marshland churches in Lincoln, Norfolk and Cambridgeshire, by the same author, 1873. The names of all places are given in the Index to this Catalogue, and also in a MS. index prefixed to the volume (f. 2).

38728–38730. COLLECTION of assignments of copyright between English authors and publishers, 1 Jan. 170¾ (38728, f. 202)–12 Apr. 1822 (38730, f. 25), formed by William Upcott, Assistant Librarian of the London Institution, and dated by him 26 Nov. 1825 (38728, f. 6). Three volumes. Each volume is preceded by indexes of authors, publishers, and titles, compiled by Upcott (except that in Vol. I there is no index of publishers), and is arranged in a rough alphabetical order. The collection is illustrated by 48 portraits and 3 engravings (the greater number in the first volume) taken from The European Magazine, The Monthly Mirror, etc. The following are the most interesting documents other than assignments in the three volumes:—

38728. Vol. I (ff. i + 214). (a) Papers relating to the "European Magazine," with details respecting the Handel Commemoration, 1784–1787. ff. 59 b–100;—(b) Facsimile of Milton's assignment of "Paradise Lost" to S. Symons, 1667. The original is Add. MS. 18861. f. 154;—(c) Signed receipt by A[lexander] Pope to Sir J. Evelyn [1st Bart.] for a subscription to the "Translation of Homer's Iliads," n. d. f. 179;—(d) Facsimile by [Barak] Longmate (see J. Nichols' Literary Anecdotes, ix, p. 798)

of Alexander Pope's lines "To the Right Hon. the Earl of Oxford, Upon a piece of News in Mist" [Mist's Weekly Journal]. Printed by Elwin and Courthope, Works of Pope (1882), iv, p. 459. Beg. "Wesley, if Wesley 'tis they mean"; ends "The Lord of Oxford knows." n. d. [1728?] The persons referred to are the Rev. Samuel Wesley, eldest brother of John Wesley, Edward Harley, 2nd Earl of Oxford, and Francis Atterbury, Bishop of Rochester. f. 180. The assignments in this volume are preceded by the following printed papers :—(aa) "Fly Leaves" [on bibliographical matters], nos. xv–xx and xxiv. From the Gentleman's Magazine, Oct. 1823–Feb. 1825, signed "Eu. Hood" [? William Upcott]. f. 7;—(bb) "The Guardian," no. xxix. [By Sir R. Steele]. Tuesday, April 14, 1713. f. 16;—(cc) "To H.R.H. the Princess of Wales, with the Tragedy of Cato" and "To Sir G. Kneller, on his picture of the King" [by Joseph Addison]. Third Edition, 1716. f. 17.

38729. Vol. II (ff. i + 255). This contains nothing, apart from the assignments, of special interest.

38730. Vol. III (ff. i + 207). This includes a letter signed by William Cobbett, 1801 (f. 55), and copies of letters from Sterne and Swift (ff. 178, 185).

Paper. Folio. XVIII, XIX centt. Brown morocco binding. At the sale of Upcott's MSS. and autographs (1846, lot 20) the volumes (then four in number) were bought by [John Bowyer] Nichols (d. 1863), but one was apparently missing before his death (38728, f. i b). They afterwards belonged to J[ohn ?] M[urray ?], see monogram and crests on binding. Sotheby's sale-cat., 8 July, 1913, lot 472 (a few of the most valuable autographs were sold separately).

38731. "RENTALE Collegii Corporis Christi in Cantabrigia renouatum primo februarii Anno 1573," etc.: rentals of Corpus Christi College, Cambridge, in the town of Cambridge, 1 Feb. 157¾, Anno 1576, Michaelmas 1577, 1578 and 1579 (the last a summary). Latin. The rents are arranged under the several parishes, etc., of Cambridge. There are marginal notes on ff. 3–9 in a hand different from that of the text, and on f. 9 there is a note in English. On f. 10 b there is a form of quittance to the college bailiffs for a year ending at the Feast of the Purification, 22 Eliz. [2 Feb. 1580], and on f. 11 there are rough notes and accompts dated 1573, 1574. The old cover (ff. 1, 2) is formed of two leaves from a Psalter of the 14th cent., containing part of the Office of the Dead, with musical notes.

Paper (except ff. 1, 2, vellum); ff. 24. Small quarto. Sotheby's sale-cat., 8 July, 1913, lot 554.

38732 (A–D). FOUR LETTERS of Charlotte Brontë to Prof. Constantin Heger [the original of Paul Emanuel in "Villette"]; 24 July, 1844–18 Nov. [1845?]. French. That of 18 Nov. has a postscript in English. Described, published, and translated by Marion H. Spielmann in The Times, 29 July, 1913 (see also the issues of 30 and 31 July). The letters, three of which had been torn up, are preserved separately between glass plates. Presented by Dr. Paul Heger, M.D., LL.D., and his sisters.

38733. CHARLES STUART CALVERLEY, "Lovers: and a reflection": autograph copy of the poem so entitled in his Fly-Leaves, 1872, p. 108. The MS. is headed "Unpublished Poem by J— I—" [Jean Ingelow]. There are a few trifling differences of reading, and the following stanza, which is represented by three stars in the printed text, appears in the MS.:—

"Till it struck me—my heart at the thought still aches—
That some of his stanzas were no great shakes:
And at last I spake to this child—this 'elf'
Let me say for convenience—I mean myself."

The poem is inscribed "to James Payn Esq. [Not the Editor etc.]", who presented it to Horace N. Pym, of Foxwold, Brasted, Kent (see Payn's autograph letter, placed before the poem, "I enclose the 'original MS.', to which you are very welcome," and Pym's bookplate on f. i).

Paper; ff. i + 5. Small quarto. Circ. A.D. 1872. Half-vellum binding. Sotheby's sale-cat., 11 July, 1913, lot 580.

38734–38770. HUSKISSON PAPERS: official and private correspondence and papers of William Huskisson, the statesman (b. 1770, d. 1830). He was Under-Secretary for War 1795–1801, Secretary to the Treasury 1804–1806, First Commissioner of Woods and Forests 1814–1823, President of the Board of Trade and Treasurer of the Navy 1823–1827, and Secretary of State for War and the Colonies 1827, 1828. He had been living at Paris at the time of the Revolution (see 38764 and his correspondence with William Hayley in 38734), and was appointed in 1793 agent under the Aliens Act for doing business with the Émigrés, with whom he continued to be in contact as Under-Secretary for War under Windham (38769, ff. 1–468; cf. Add. MSS. 7972–8088, 37855–37872). From 1799 to 1803 he was agent for the Cape of Good Hope (38769, ff. 469–507), and from 1811 to 1823 for Ceylon (38765, ff. 234–302). He was M.P. for Morpeth 1796–1802, Liskeard 1804–1807, Harwich 1807–1812, Chichester 1812–1823, and Liverpool 1823–1830. He was closely connected both in public and private life with George Canning, whose letters form an important part of the series. For a collection of letters on Huskisson's death, which was the result of an accident at the opening of the Liverpool and Manchester Railway, see Add. MS. 37048, where some of the writers are the same as in this collection. Huskisson's speeches were edited (largely from the material in 38767, 38768) by J. Wright and published in 1831, together with a memoir written by E. Leeves, Huskisson's private secretary (38758, ff. 258, 317), who prints many letters of which the originals are here. The present collection is a combination of two series of Huskisson papers, the first of which formerly belonged to Cecil Cowper, J.P., editor of the Academy (Sotheby's sale-cat., 28 July, 1913, lot 134). The other series (the papers of which are marked Y) was acquired privately. Thirty-seven volumes. Folio.

38734–38758. Huskisson Papers. Vols. I–XXV. General correspondence of W. Huskisson, etc.; 1782 and 1790–1831. The names of writers are given in the Index. Twenty-five volumes.

38771. JOHN LOCKE, "Some Directions concerning ye Education of his son, sent to his worthy Freind M^r. Edward Clarke of Chipley, 1684": autograph MS. of the tract afterwards published in a somewhat expanded form (1693) as Some Thoughts concerning Education. It was written during the period of Locke's exile in Holland, and its composition was interrupted by the circumstance of his moving from place to place during his "ramble this sommer about these provinces [i.e. the United Provinces]," as he says, in a letter which accompanies the work, on f. 51 b. Another letter of Locke to Clarke, who was M.P. for Taunton and Comptroller of the Household to Queen Mary II, is in Add. MS. 32096, f. 1.
Paper; ff. 52. 4¼ in. × 3¼ in. A.D. 1684. Belonged, in 1913, to Col. E. C. A. Sanford, C.M.G., a descendant of Edward Clarke (Sotheby's sale-cat., 28 July, 1913, lot 195).

Paper; ff. 157, 156. Folio. Bindings of sprinkled calf, stamped on the covers with the royal arms (on vol. I upside down in relation to the text). Sotheby's sale-cat., 31 July, 1913, lot 242.

38774. LETTERS to [John Stuart,] Lord Mount-Stuart, afterw. 1st Marquis of Bute (b. 1744, d. 1814), as Envoy to Turin, from British ambassadors, etc.; 18 Oct. 1779–24 Dec. 1783. The collection consists largely of personal and unofficial letters, but includes a series of semi-official letters from R. [afterw. Sir R.] Liston, who became Mount-Stuart's Secretary at Turin, reporting the progress of affairs in his absence (ff. 184–254). The whole of the letter on f. 169 from Sir J. Harris, afterw. 1st Earl of Malmesbury, and part of that on f. 167 are printed in the Diaries and Correspondence of the 1st Earl of Malmesbury, 1844, ii, pp. 1–5. The last two letters (ff. 255, 257) are from Sir R. Ainslie, Ambassador to Turkey, giving an account of Turkish politics and referring to Lord Mount-Stuart's appointment as Ambassador to Spain, and from John Trevor, afterw. 3rd Viscount Hampden, who succeeded Lord Mount-Stuart at Turin. For further correspondence of Lord Mount-Stuart at Turin, and for his correspondence as Ambassador to Spain, see Add. MSS. 36801–36813 and 37080–37085. The names of all correspondents are included in the Index.

Paper; ff. 260. Folio. A.D. 1779–1783. Sale-cat. of the 5th Earl of Harrowby, 9 May, 1903, lot 40.

38775. LETTERS (42) of Lieut.-Gen. Sir James Outram, 1st Bart., to the Rev. [George Percy] Badger, D.C.L., and one (f. 96) on Badger's behalf to Sir C. Wood, Secretary of State for India; with eight letters (ff. 62, 81–87, 90, 92, 105, 108) to Badger from Lady Outram and one letter (f. 110) from Sir F. B. Outram, 2nd Bart., announcing his father's death. Before 8 Aug. 1854 (f. 8 b)–12 Mar. 1863. Badger, who had been British chaplain at Aden when Outram was Agent there in 1854, was appointed by him staff chaplain and interpreter to the Persian expedition in Nov. 1856. He returned to England in 1861, and in October accompanied Outram on a visit to Egypt. The MSS. were apparently used by Maj.-Gen. Sir F. J. Goldsmid in his James Outram, a biography, 1880, and Badger's "Notes on Outram," presumably in MS., are quoted by Capt. L. J. Trotter in The Bayard of India, 1903. On f. 103 there is a pencil note, presumably in Badger's hand. On f. 36 there is a letter (6 June, 1857) from Sir E. Lugard, and Outram's letters enclose copies, etc., of correspondence with Earl Canning, Governor-General of India, Lord Elphinstone, Governor of Madras and Bombay, and others. One letter of Outram, dated Cawnpore, 17 Sept. 1857 (f. 46), refers to the relief of Lucknow.
Paper; ff. 111. Quarto. XIX cent. The old binding of black morocco was stamped with the words "In Memoriam" and "yours affectionately, J. Outram."

Paper; ff. 56. A.D. 1913. Large oblong folio.

38777. PARISH REGISTERS of Clapham, co. York, 1595–1747, with a few earlier and later entries (f. 1) of "persons married etc. elsewhere," 1565–1801, transcribed by the Rev. E. Cookson, of Ipswich, in 1900. Transcripts of three original volumes of registers, which begin respectively at ff. 1 b, 35, and 65. At the end (f. 126 b) is an index of the names in the registers.

Paper; ff. i + 142. Small quarto. Presented by the Rev. E. Cookson.

Paper (vellum covers to each rental and to the two together); ff. 51. Small quarto. xv cent. Presented, with Add. MS. 38794 P and Add. Ch. 58474–58480, by Henry van den Bergh, Esq.

38779, 38780. Memoir by John Bruce (1745–1826), F.R.S., Keeper of the State Paper Office, "on the Diplomatic History of Great Britain, from the reign of King Henry VII to the accession of King George II; deduced from original documents, preserved in H.M. State Paper Office," 1820. Two volumes. Fair copy in a clerk's hand, with title-page calligraphically written by R[obert] Lemon, junior, clerk in the office. Apparently unpublished. The author, who must be distinguished from his namesake (1802–1869), Treasurer of the Society of Antiquaries, one of the founders of the Camden Society, and editor of the Calendars of State Papers, Domestic Series, 1625–1639, was Historiographer to the East India Company and M.P. for Michael, co. Cornw., 1809–1814. The obituary notice of him in the Gentleman's Magazine, July, 1826, p. 87, states that "it is believed he has left in manuscript, at the State Paper Office, several memoirs in relation to that department." There are frequent marginal summaries and footnotes in red ink, and a few corrections. Vol. 1 ends with the reign of James II.
Paper; ff. 209, 229. Folio. A.D. 1820. Calf binding. Sotheby's sale-cat., 16 Oct. 1913, lot 591.

Paper; ff. 117. Folio. xix cent.

38782. The Four Gospels, in Slavonic, with tables of κεφάλαια and the prefaces of Theophylact prefixed to the several Gospels, κεφάλαια and indications of lections for liturgical use in the margins, and synaxaria at the end.

Paper; ff. 608. 10 in. × 7¼ in. XVI cent. Ornamental headpieces in gold and colours at the beginnings of the Gospels, together with silk covers for the full-page miniatures (now missing) of the Evangelists. Old blind-tooled leather binding with oval centre-stamp and panel enclosed by lines and small arcs of circles, brass and leather clasps.

38783. A COLLECTION of solos for the viola da gamba transcribed into modern staff notation from the original (17th cent.) tablature of a MS. belonging to the Corporation of Manchester, under the supervision of Dr. Thomas Lea Southgate, who has written a preface, with notes on the composers. Those named are Anthonye (probably Mark Anthony Gayerdell, fl. 1558–1564), John and Thomas Bates, Thomas Birche, Dr. Charles Coleman,—Crosbey,—Elliot of Oxford, John Este, Hugh Facie, Alphonso Ferrabosco (II ?), Gervise Gerrarde, Stephen Goodall, Thomas and William Gregorie, George Hudson, Simon Ives (father and son), John Jenkins, William Kingelake, John Laurence, William Lawes (under various aliases), [John ?] Lillie, Thomas Maxtime (Martine?), Henry Read, John Read, Roger Read (? an alias for W. Lawes), Thomas Read, Joseph Sherlie or Sheirlye, Christopher Simpson, Richard Sumarte (who appears to have had a large share in the compilation of the MS., or the arrangement of the music), Peter Warner, G— Willis, John Withie, [Clement ?] Wooddicocke, Thomas Woodington, Thomas Woodson, and William Young. At the beginning of the MS. (f. 20 b) are some "Graces on the violl," and (f. 21) "Severall [22] setts or tunings of the Violl [da gamba], as are contained in this booke," the instructions given in locis for tuning that instrument being headed variously as "violl waye" (f. 34 b), "lyra ways" (f. 36), "Alfonso [Ferrabosco] waye" (ff. 40, 50), "sette of eights" (f. 52), "Lancashire pipes" (f. 58 b), "Bagpipes" (f. 60), "Horne pipe" (f. 60), "French sette" (f. 60 b), "Harpe sette flat" (f. 64), and "Harpe sette sharpe" (f. 71 b). At the end (ff. 98–110) are arrangements of a few of the preceding compositions, as string quintets, songs, etc., by Dr. Southgate and Sir Frederick Bridge. Among the tunes named are: "Queene Maries Dumpe" and "What if a daye." f. 26;—"Fortune [my foe]." f. 26 b;—"[My] Roben is to the greense woode gon," and "Whoope, doe me no harme." f. 27;—"Daphne." f. 27 b;—"Salte pitts." f. 28;—"Lachryme," and "The Buildings." f. 29;—"Solus cum sola." f. 29 b;—"The Nightingale." f. 30;—"Malte man." f. 34 b;—"The Kings maske." f. 35 b;—"Bowe bells." f. 36;—"The Princes Coranto."

f. 41 ;—"Jemmye" (possibly name of composer). f. 41 b ;—"Lancashire pipes." f. 58 b ;—"Kate of Bardie" and "Pigges of Rumsey." f. 59 b ;—"None-such." f. 61 b ;—"Modicum bonum" (?). f. 62 b ;—"Countesse of Exeters Almaine." f. 69 b ;—"La cloche." f. 74 ;—"Gillie-flower." f. 76. The other pieces are most of them preludia, or dance-tunes, especially courantes, allemandes, pavans, and sarabands with an occasional "thumpe" (or dump), "maske" (i.e. masque-tune), galliard, "chicona" (chaconne), ground, fancy, "toye," or "point" (i.e. prelude).
Paper; ff. 111. Quarto. A.D. 1913. Presented by Sir Edward Ernest Cooper, past master of the Musicians' Company.

38784. APPENDIX to "Hardwicke and D'Aubigny" (Add. MS. 37940), by Herbert Junius Hardwicke, M.D., containing eighteen additional pedigrees and (f. 19) notes and corrections of his own and other previous volumes on the subject. For his own, in addition to 37940, see 37447, 37629.
Paper; pp. 24. A.D. 1913. Folio. Presented by the compiler.

Paper; ff. 38. Folio. XIX cent. Presented by Mrs. Godfrey Pearse.

38786. ORDINAL of Cistercian use, from the abbey of St. Mary at Eberbach, al. Erbach, in the diocese of Mainz. The contents are:—(1) Directions for celebrating Mass and reciting the Office:—(a) de tempore, beginning with Advent, cap. i. f. 1 b ;—(b) "de sanctis [circa] quorum festa .... aliqua dubietas poterit euenire," from St. Antony to St. Thomas Apostle, cap. cxviii. f. 34 b ;— (c) regulations for offices of the dead, cap. cxcviii. f. 49 ;—(d) lists of feasts lacking vespers, of sermon-days, etc., cap. cciv. f. 51 b ;—(2) Table of chapters, not tallying exactly with the marginal indications, which give ccxxii chapters to ccxix of the table. f. 55 ;—(3) Rule of St. Benedict. f. 59. After cap. lii, "de oratorio monasterii", is inserted (f. 71 b) a résumé of cap. cv of the ordinal, "de dominicalibus officiis ab octaua pentecostes usque ad aduentum." Later hands have assigned St. Bernard's name to the Mass of the 3rd feria after the octave of Easter (f. 23 b) and inserted it among the saints on whose vigils the great bell was rung (f. 54).
Vellum; ff. ii + 77. 6⅛ in. × 5 in. Beg. of XIV cent. Initials in blue and red. Notes of ownership, etc., are:—"Notum sit omnibus hominibus quod fr. 38788. LETTERS of Ebenezer and Ralph Erskine, founders of the Scottish Secession Church, to the Synod of Fife, declaring their inability to be present. The letter of Ralph Erskine is subscribed by his colleague at Dunfermline, James Wardlaw, and appended to it is a note by James Hog, minister at Carnock; 1723, 1724. Prefixed is an engraved portrait of Ebenezer Erskine.
Paper; ff. 5. Folio. Sotheby's sale-cat., 3 Dec. 1913, lots 252, 253.

38789. A COLLECTION of English Song-tunes and a few dances, made by William Chappell for his Popular Music of the Olden Time, 1855–1859. Many have accompaniments supplied by Sir George Alexander Macfarren, or [Louis Henry?] Lavenu; of others only the melody is given; and a considerable number are without words. A second volume, included in the index at the beginning, has been lost.
Paper; ff. 195. Folio. 14 in. × 10¼ in.

38790. LIFE of St. Sabas, by Cyrillus Scythopolitanus (Bibliotheca Hag. Graeca, no. 1608). Printed in Cotelerius, Ecclesiae Graecae Monumenta, iii, pp. 220–376. Imperfect at beginning. Contains chapter xiv (τὸ φοβερὸν θαῦμα, Cot. p. 237) to end of work, with hiatus after f. 2, comprising chapters xvi–xviii ([ἀπαύ]στοις προσευχαῖς . . . . καὶ ἀπη[ρεσίαν], Cot. pp. 239–243). Colophon, Ἐτελειώθη σὺν θεῷ ἡ ἅπασα ἀκολουθία τοῦ ἐν ἁγίοις πατρὸς ἡμῶν Σάβα. διὰ χειρὸς μὲν ἐμοῦ Νικήτα ἱερέω καὶ συγκέλλου. συνδρομῆς δὲ καὶ πόθου πολλοῦ τοῦ ἁγιωτάτου πατριάρχου Ἀλεξανδρείας κυροῦ Σάβα. μηνὶ αὐγούστῳ . . . . ἰνδικτιῶνος ἐννάτης ͵χκδ ἔτους [1116]. But the character of the hand indicates that this is copied from an earlier MS. A different life (B. H. G. no. 1609) occurs in Burney MS. 44, vol. i, ff. 18–68. On f. 1, between ll. 9, 10 is written in Arabic الراس الحامد Al-ra's al-ḥāmid, lit. "The praising chief or head."

38793. COLLECTIONS for the history of Pershore Abbey Church, by Joseph Frederic Wickenden, sometime curate (1853–1857) of Pershore, afterwards (1876) prebendary of Norton Episcopi in Lincoln Cathedral (d. 1883); with a formal title-page dated 1864, but including papers of later date. Ff. 4–34 formed a separate set of papers, and deal principally with the history of the monastery and the succession of abbots. The rest of the volume, consisting of drafts and contributory material, and including papers on the parish registers (at f. 98) and a description of the pre-Reformation church (at f. 133), has been arranged, where possible, in the same sequence as the former portion. Pershore Church was restored in 1864 by Sir George Gilbert Scott, who apparently assisted the author in his collections (see ff. 2, 34 b). At the end of the volume (ff. 229–246) are a few letters, 1862–1870.

38795. MISCELLANEOUS papers and letters, viz.:—

A. Sale to the abbot Dominicus and the monastery of St. Leucius of two pieces of land within the county of Todi [in Umbria, Italy], situated respectively at places called Cariscu and Ilcisca, for thirty solidi;—9th or 10th cent. Lat. Vellum. Imperfect. St. Leucius is said to have been Bishop of Todi at the beginning of the third century (Leônij, Cronaca dei vescovi di Todi, 1889, p. 11), and at a later date there was a religious house bearing his name in the possession of the Dominicans (Alvi, Todi, 1910, pp. 260, 292). The monastery in the MS. may possibly be identified with this, prior to its acquisition by the Dominicans. f. 1.

The following nos., 38807–38809, have been transferred from the Department of Printed Books, where they were received as part of the Bequest of Henry Spencer Ashbee, Esq. (d. 1900). Cf. 38826–38830.

38807. "THE BETULIAD by George Coleman, written about MDCCCX": a poem on the birch-rod, printed circ. 1871 as the Rodiad. The work is a supposititious one, not by either of the Colmans, and of later date than here stated, see Add. MS. 38829, f. 357.
Paper; ff. 15. Quarto. XIX cent. Crimson morocco binding.

38808 A–C. MISCELLANEOUS PAPERS from the library of H. S. Ashbee. Three volumes. Paper.

38808 A. Spanish collections and original articles, etc., viz. :—

1. Papers of the family of Saavedra, Marquises of Moscoso, relating to estates, etc., at Lima and elsewhere in Peru; 1639–1817. Spanish. The names of the principal persons are given in the Index. f. 1.
2. Three poems in Spanish, described in a pencil note [by Ashbee] at the head of the first as "Poems by Angel Lasso de la Vega [y Argüelles] and in his handwriting." The titles are:—"A Cervantes en su Ingenioso Hidalgo. Canto." Beg. "Canto á un genio inmortal; á un genio canto." f. 66;—"A Cervantes. Oda." Beg. "En la feliz centuria." f. 74;—"Un episodio de la vida de Cervantes." Beg. "Valladolid, en Castilla." f. 77.
3. Narrative of a voyage round the world, undertaken by Ashbee in 1880. The work was evidently intended for publication, and is divided into chapters, with mottoes to each chapter, but it does not seem ever to have been published as a whole, though the two brochures entitled A Ride to Peking ([London], 1881), and The Metropolis of the Manchus (London, 1882), may have formed, or been meant to form, chapters of it. The present MS. is incomplete, ending with the chapter "Bombay to Kárlí Caves, November 28 to 29"; and something is perhaps missing between ff. 150 and 151. Hologr., except ff. 110–112. f. 87.
4. "Les Auteurs-Amateurs Anglais": a paper by Ashbee, written for the Société des Amis des Livres, and apparently intended for publication in the Society's Annuaire, in which, however, it does not seem to have appeared. Hologr. and signed, with corrections of the French by another hand. f. 214.
5. "The Game of Whist": metrical rules for whist by William Pole, F.R.S., first published in Pole's revision of Short Whist by Major A., 1865, and afterwards repeated in other works of the author. In Ashbee's hand. Beg. "If you the modern game of Whist would know." f. 226.

6. "Miscellaneous Prints of Hogarth not included in the folio volume of his works" [i.e. the edition of 1835–1837]: a list of works. Not in Ashbee's hand. f. 228.

Ff. 235. Folio.

38808 B. Autographs, evidently part of a larger collection. The autographs are mounted on sheets of cardboard, with the descriptions in German at the foot, and were formerly numbered. The following are the names (the numbers following each were those on the cards):—

1. Ernst H. ——, Wien, 2 Mar. 1610 [a pencil note gives the year as 1650, but 1610 seems more probable]. (142.) The autograph is identified as "Daun östr. General," but this reading of the name seems doubtful. f. 1.
2. Johann Georg [I], Elector of Saxony, Dresden, 28 Dec. 1650. (1[—].) f. 2.
3. [Raimondo, Conte di] Montecuccoli, 13 May, 1658. (149.) f. 3.
4. Johan[n] Philip[p] [von Schönborn, Elector of] Mainz [1647–1673]. (152.) f. 4.
5. Joseph [II], Emperor, 7 Oct. 1766. (159.) f. 5.
6. John Hancock, American patriot, Boston, 25 Oct. 1768. (158.) f. 6.
7. Johann, Archduke [of Austria], early 19th cent. (163.) f. 7.

Ff. i + 7. Folio. Bookplate of H. S. Ashbee, n. d.

38808 C. Private letters to Ashbee. The writers, whose names will be found in the Index, include [Louis] Octave Uzanne, Sir Richard Burton, Pascual de Gayangos, etc.

Ff. 75. Octavo.

38809. Notes and memoranda relating to Plato, mainly in Latin but a few in Engl.; probably by John Upton (1707–1760), prebendary of Rochester, MS. notes by whom are found in several printed books in the Museum. There are many references to editions and works published in the 17th or early part of the 18th centuries; the latest seems to be the Cambridge edition of Lysias (1740). The notes consist largely of references to Plato, quotations, or parallels, in ancient or modern authors; but there is also (ff. 16 b–17 b) a list [from Bernard, Cat. MSS. Angliae] of MSS. of Plato at Cambridge, Oxford, Durham, Worcester, Westminster, Exeter Cathedral, Gresham College, Lincoln's Inn, and in the possession of Isaac Vossius and Robert Burscough, vicar of Totnes, co. Devon (d. 1709); and (ff. 18–26) collations of the Oxford MSS. Laud I. xi, now Laud Gr. 16 (Alcibiades I), and Bodl. [E. 2] 16, now Misc. Gr. 104 (Gorgias, Apologia, Timaeus).

Paper; ff. 47. Quarto. Second quarter of the XVIII cent.

1. A treatise, with marginal commentary, on psychology. Beg. imperfectly "Tercia potencia est formatiua"; ends "secundum essenciam est in omni parte corporis. Sequitur Recolligo igitur quod dictum est, etc." The complete treatise, but with considerable differences, is found in Royal MS. 8 A. xviii, ff. 49–56 b, where it is called "Tractatus de anima et eius potenciis" and beg. "Sicut dicit Damascenus, impossibile est." It is placed by P. de Loë, "De Vita et Scriptis B. Alberti Magni" in Anal. Bolland. xxi, p. 369, among the spurious and doubtful works, and works contained in other treatises, of Albertus Magnus, and is founded on his Philosophia Pauperum, v. 2 sqq. (Opera, Parisiis, 1890–1899, tom. v, p. 508 sqq.), with which it is in many places, especially in the earlier portion, identical; but elsewhere it shows wide divergencies. f. 1.
2. "De diffinicione et diuisione philosophie": a commentary on some other treatise. Beg. "Anima est principium et causa mouendi . . . Iste est libellus ad philosophiam introductorius"; ends "videri apud Scotum et beatum Thomam in libros sentenciarum." Colophon: "Foeliciter in finem deductus liber hic anno 1504 die Mercurii post nativitatem intemerate virginis matris saluatoris nostri [Sept. 8], qui cum eadem benedictus in secula seculorum. Amen." f. 4.
3. "Thomas de ente et essencia": the commentary by Gerardus de Monte on the treatise so named of St. Thomas Aquinas. Printed in Expositiones textuales dubiorum atque . . . explanationes in libros . . . Arestotelis, etc., Colonie, 1497, but the present MS. can hardly have been copied from the printed text. Beg. "Insignis peripotetice [sc. peripatetice] veritatis interpres"; ends "ipsa lux non eclipsabilis sed lucens eternaliter. Amen." Colophon: "Explicit sentencia venerabilis viri arcium magistri ac sacre theoloye doctoris eximij magistri Chirardi de Monte circa compendium de ente et essencia doctoris sancti fratris ordinis predicatorum Thome de Aquino." f. 51.
4. A table showing the division of philosophy into its various branches. f. 86.
5. Notes on the nature of philosophic knowledge. Beg. "Sciendum philosophus est homo diuinarum humanarumque rerum"; ends "de anima." f. 86 b.
6. Miscellaneous philosophical notes. ff. 87, 87 b.
7. Averroes, De substantia orbis; without title or author's name.

This translation, made by one of the Toledo school of translators, is contained in Royal MS. 12 C. xv, ff. 251 b–254, but there lacks the last two and a half chapters. Printed in the Junta edition of the works of Aristotle, Venice, 1552, 1550, vol. ix, pp. 3–6. In the present MS. the earlier part is furnished with a marginal commentary. For list of other MSS. see J. Wood Brown, Michael Scot (Edinburgh, 1897), pp. 123, 126, to which add Magd. Coll. Oxford MS. 112, f. 241. Beg. "[I]n hoc tractatu intendimus perscrutari de rebus"; ends "Et sciendum quia hec questio est valde bona." f. 88.

8. Oration, without title or author's name, addressed apparently to a public body, probably the senate, of Breslau by a person appointed by it "palestre rei literarie certaminis . . . rectorem," on taking up the post. Reference is made to a "doctor egregius Schwofhaym ad quem tocius rei literarie cura[m] refertis." This is probably Hieronymus Schwoffheim, who died 4 Apr. 1516 as scholasticus and cantor of Breslau cathedral, see Zeitschr. d. Vereins für Gesch. u. Alt. Schlesiens, xi, p. 308, note 4, xvii, p. 220. The present speech may have some reference to the abortive proposal to establish a University at Breslau in 1505, for which see F. G. A. Weiss, Chronik d. Stadt Breslau (Breslau, 1888), p. 757 sqq. Beg. "Solebant Romani illi prisci"; ends "fidem amorem et obseruanciam dixi." f. 111.

9. Notes on the De partibus philosophie essencialibus, the De differentia rethorice ethice et pollitice, and the De gradibus formarum accidentalium of Egidius Romanus (Egidio Colonna). The first does not appear, at least under this title, in lists of his works; for the other two see Joseph Pamphilus, Chron. Ord. Fratrum Eremitarum S. Aug. (Rome, 1581), fol. 43. f. 113.

10. "Proposiciones de esse et essencia clarissimi doctoris Egidii de Roma": the Theoremata de esse et essentia of Egidio Colonna. The propositions are as in the printed texts; the commentary consists of notes and extracts from that seen in C. Kacheloffen's edition [Leipzig] of 1493. Beg. "Omne esse vel est purum per se"; ends "et creatorem substancie et accidentis benedictum in secula." Colophon: "Finitur vigili studio 5 kal. Octobris 1507 salutis anno." f. 115.

Paper; ff. i + 120. Quarto. 9¼ in. × 7 in. Beginning of XVI cent.; written in Germany, perhaps at Breslau (see art. 8). Transferred from the Department of Printed Books.

38811. ELEVEN SONATAS and nineteen dances for viols by William Young, scored at Stockholm from the Upsala University copy of the work published at Innsbruck in 1653. At the beginning of the volume are some cuttings from the Musical News for 22 June, 1912, giving descriptions of the composer and the present work (a) by Professor C. F. Hennerberg, Court Organist and Musical Librarian to the King of Sweden, under whose supervision the present score was made;—(b) by Sir Frederick Bridge, who presented Sonata I;—and (c) by Dr. T. Lea Southgate, who presented the photographic facsimiles (ff. iii b–v) of the title-page, dedication of the volume, etc.

Paper; ff. v + 81. Quarto. A.D. 1912–1913.

38812. CODE of Day Signals, presented to [John Pitt, 2nd] Earl of Chatham, First Lord of the Admiralty, [in 1790], by John McArthur, Purser of H.M.S. Santa Margarita, [afterwards Secretary to Viscount Hood, and, in conjunction with J. S. Clarke, author of the Life of Lord Nelson]. Holograph, but apparently an early version of the Code finally presented. There is an account of the latter in Falconer's Marine Dictionary (1830), p. 474, which agrees with the MS. generally and also in extracts quoted, but differs considerably in detail. In McArthur's Thoughts on . . . a System of Universal Signals, p. 26, and in The Naval Chronicle (1799), ii, p. 70, there is also an extract from the final Code, which is more elaborate than the corresponding passage on ff. 6 b, 7. The signals in this MS. are arranged in four numerical tables on the "chess-board" system, the tables being provided with a contrivance for showing moveable flags (not inserted) painted on satin. The code was not accepted by the Admiralty. For McArthur's position in the evolution of the Signal Code, see references to his name in J. S. Corbett's Signals and Instructions, 1908 (Navy Records Soc., vol. xxxv).

Paper; ff. 80. Octavo. A.D. 1790. Small painted frontispiece on satin, f. 1. Bound in blue morocco, with anchor corner- and centre-pieces. Hodgson's sale-cat., 8 Jan. 1914, lot 477.

38813. COPIES of Ballads, chiefly in the hand of John Payne Collier. A few (ff. 1–12 b) are taken from MSS. (the first four are printed in Halliwell's Wit and Science, Shakespeare Soc., 1848), three (ff. 13–16 b) from oral sources, and the majority from printed materials of the 16th and 17th centt. Collier himself printed ff. 17–35 b in A Book of Roxburghe Ballads (1847) and ff. 39–40 in Twenty-five old Ballads (1869). "The Dutchesse of Suffolkes Calamitie" (f. 48) is printed in his edition of Strange Histories (Percy Soc., 1841), and a version of "The fetching home of May" (f. 63) under another title in his reprint (1870) of An Antidote against Melancholy, p. 26. In the transcript of "Daintie come thou to me," f. 39, the printed original of which is in the Roxburghe Collection, Collier has made various alterations, and these are mostly followed in his printed version in Twenty-five Old Ballads. Similar alterations have been made in "The Tragical History of King Lear," f. 41 (original also in the Roxburghe Collection). At f. 96 are "Notes of Ballads in . . . the Roxburghe Collection [in the British Museum]," and at f. 115 "[Notes of] Ballads in the Pepys Collection [in Magdalene College, Cambridge] (Selected from a Catalogue of vol. i by Sir F. Madden)." At the end of the volume, f. 139, are some miscellaneous extracts (not entries of books) from the Stationers' Company's Registers, relating to the last half of the 16th cent. In 1848–1849 Collier published for the Shakespeare Society two volumes of extracts from the Stationers' Registers of works entered for publication between 1557 and 1587. For another collection of Ballads made by Collier see Add. MS. 32381 (see also 32380).

Paper; ff. 151. Folio. XIX cent.

38814, 38815. PAPERS, original and translated, of Sir Louis Mallet, Assistant Secretary to the Board of Trade, relating chiefly to the Anglo-Austrian Tariff Commission of 1867, on which, along with Sir R. N. D. Morier, he represented England. The contents consist of drafts, protocols, tariff-schedules, and other memoranda. The Convention was not finally signed till 1869. In 38814, f. 75, are drafts of the 1865 Treaty of Commerce, and, f. 69, of the Navigation Treaty of 1868, in both of which negotiations Mallet took part.
Paper; ff. 279, 344. Folio. XIX cent.

38816. MISCELLANEOUS volume containing:—

1. Hexham Saints and their miracles, by Ethelred (Ailredus), Abbot of Rievaulx, headed "Incipiunt miracula sanctorum patrum qui in sancta Hagustaldensi ęcclesia requiescunt, dictata a uenerabili Hethelredo abbate." Beg. "Presentis diei festiuitas." Printed in Mabillon's Acta SS. O. S. B., iii, i, p. 228 (ed. Paris), and Surtees Soc. vol. xlvi, p. 173, from the Bodleian MS. Laud Misc. 668. Cf. Hardy, Descriptive Cat., ii, p. 248. The present MS. makes notable improvements in the text, especially in supplying omissions; and three additional contemporary miracles of Acca are recorded at the end. After f. 5 the loss of a leaf has been supplied by a 17th cent. insertion, and f. 12 is a small slip of vellum with a 12th cent. insertion from Simeon of Durham. Lectional marks divide the text for use as legenda on the saints' festivals, and on f. 9 is the indication of the appropriate Gospel. f. 1.

2. Metrical summary, in elegiacs, of the Old and New Testaments, by Theodulphus Aurelianensis (Bishop of Orleans 788–821). Beg. "Quicquid ab Hebreo stilus." Printed in Migne, Patr. Lat. cv, col. 299. This article (with three leaves cut out in front of it) formed part of a book containing works of Hugh de St. Victor which belonged to St. Mary's Abbey, Byland, co. York, as f. 20 b shows, "Liber Sancte Marię de Bellalanda. In hoc uolumine continentur libelli magistri Hugonis canonici Sancti Victoris" followed by a list, beginning with the Didascalicon and Isagoge. f. 18 b.
3. Three charters to St. Mary's Abbey, York, of William Rufus, Henry I, and Henry II. The last is printed in Dugdale's Monasticon, iii, p. 548, with an inspeximus of the first. Both are found in an inspeximus in Harley MS. 236, ff. 6 b, 7 b. f. 21.
4. The last chapter, and part of the last but one, of St. Benedict's Rule. Beg. "— batem suum sincera." Four leaves are cut out at the beginning. f. 29.
5. History of the foundation of St. Mary's Abbey, York, by Stephen of Whitby, the first Abbot. Beg. "Quamuis sancta et una et uniuersalis mater." Printed in Monasticon, iii, p. 544, and there wrongly ascribed to Simon of Warwick. Cf. Hardy, Descriptive Cat., ii, p. 49. At the end, in the same hand, are the provisions for the anniversaries of Abbot Stephen [d. 1112] and of Stephanus "comes Brithannie" [Count of Penthièvre, the successor of Count Alan, who founded the abbey], and in another hand the date (xi kal. Mai) of the obit of Count Stephen [d. 1157] and Hadewyse his wife. f. 29 b.
6. Account, in a hand of the latter half of the 13th cent., of the anniversaries "in quibus annui redditus assignantur specialiter ad conuentum," including those of the ninth and tenth abbots, Thomas de Warthil and Simon de Warwick, and others, the establishment of which is in most cases dated (1243–1275). The last entry is that of Ricardus de Harpam, vicar of Burton Annays [Burton-Agnes], 1276, and is in another hand. f. 35.
7. Extracts from decrees of Benedictine provincial chapters, after 1444. f. 36 b. After this two leaves are cut out.
8. List [circ. 1180?] of the abbeys in confraternity with St. Mary's, with conditions of the compact. f. 37.
9. Memoranda, in a 16th cent. hand, of the Lacy family in connexion with Stanlaw and Whalley Abbeys. f. 39 b.

The old fly-leaf (f. iii) is part of a leaf from a Bible with commentary, in a 13th cent. hand, containing Gal. i. 17 and 21.

Vellum; ff. iii + 39. 11¾ in. × 8⅛ in. XII cent. (exc. artt. 6, 7, 9). Gatherings of 8 leaves (f. 12 inserted, art. 2 an imperfect gathering, artt. 4–7 two imperfect gatherings, art. 9 an imperfect gathering of four). Sec. fol. "esse participem." Initials in colours, the first with elaborate scroll ornament. Belonged to Sir John Savile (d. 1607; Savile sale-cat. 1861, lot 60), and to Sir Thomas Phillipps (no. 24354; sale-cat. 1898, lot 15). Dunn sale-cat. 1914, lot 731.

38817. BEDA, Historia Ecclesiastica, and other tracts, viz.:—

1. Extract from Bede, De Tabernaculo, lib. ii, cap. 1, with a rough illustrative design in red, white, blue, and yellow. Printed in Migne, Patr. Lat. xci, col. 424. f. 2.
2. The Invention of S. Ragner of Northampton, with the rubric "Incipit reuelatio sancti Ragneri martyris." Beg. "Temporibus deo dilecti regis Anglorum." Printed in Capgrave's Nova Legenda Anglie (ed. 1901), ii, p. 727, with the heading "Incipit inventio cum translatione Sancti Ragenerii militis et martiris, consanguinei Sancti Eadmundi regis et martiris." f. 2 b.
3. "Ecclesiastica Historia Gentis Anglorum" of Bede. For a discussion of the MSS. see Bede's Opera Historica, ed. Plummer, i, p. lxxx. The text, of the C-type (with the insertion of iv. 14 from the M-type), ends with "Martirologium de nataliciis," and thus closely resembles MSS. O_5 O_{14} O_{20} in Plummer, i, p. cxxii. f. 5.
4. "De obitu venerabilis Bedę," beg. "Dilectissimo in Christo lectori Cuthwino": letter of Cuthbert, disciple and successor of Bede, to Cuthwin. Printed ib. i, p. clx. f. 91.

Vellum; ff. iv + 92. $10\frac{1}{4}$ in. × $7\frac{3}{8}$ in. Cropped in the binding. XII cent., with later corrections. Gatherings of 8 leaves (i^4). On f. 1 is a note dated St. Gregory's even, York, from Henry Meggeson to "Mr. Savill" [? Sir John Savile, d. 1607] on sending him the book. 12th cent. marks of ownership "Liber sancte Trinitatis de Kir[k]-haam" (f. 1 b) and "Liber ecclesie Christi de Kirkeam," the Augustinian Priory of Kirkham (f. 4 b). Below the second entry is as follows: "In hoc volumine continentur hii libri. Ecclesiastica historia gentis Anglorum. Vita gloriosa Sci. Malachie archiepiscopi. Historia Britonum a Gilda sapiente composita. Visiones a mortuis resurgentium. Visiones Wettini. De xii per annum chorollantibus. Visiones Baronti monachi defuncti. Visiones Orm pueri xiii diebus defuncti," the order of the last two entries being inverted in the margin. The paper attached to the binding at the beginning is a printed leaf from a quarto edition of Sternhold and Hopkins's version of the Psalms, printed by the Days 1580–1600, that at the end from Cinus Pistoriensis (al. Guittone Sinibuldi da Pistoja), Lectura super Codice, ed. 1493. Initials alternately in red and green, blue being used for the few initials omitted by the original hand. There are two elaborate initials in red, blue and green, with foliage and zoomorphic ornament and a small head of Bede, ff. 5, 6. Binding:

upper cover and part of back English stamped leather of 16th cent., with outer roll-produced band of foliated scroll-work, inner band enclosing panel, and two bands crossing the panel, of renaissance ornament (male head and female head, each within a laurel wreath, three masks grouped round a pillar, etc.); the lower cover is modern. Savile sale, 1861, lot 23; Phillipps MS. 25402 (sale-cat. 1898, lot 100). Also belonged to L. W. Hodson (Sotheby sale-cat., Dec. 1906, lot 39). Dunn sale-cat. 1914, lot 812.

1. De Agricultura by Palladius Rutilius Taurus Aemilianus. Beg. without tituli "Pars est prudentie." In twelve books, the metrical lib. xiv, De insitione, being omitted and the introductory book not separately numbered. On f. 48 b is the colophon "Palladii Rutili Tauri Emiliani uiri illustris opus agriculture explicit." Besides smaller omissions a lacuna occurs on f. 2 b, where i. 6 § 10 "a terra placidis" is immediately followed by i. 7 § 3 "et uoluptatis et salutis," and the loss of a leaf after f. 23 has caused iv. 6–9 "est primo—in forma fictili" to fall out. Many passages are marked in the margin with ℞ (? probatum) and other signs. Other copies are Sloane MS. 296, Harley MSS. 3296, 5263, Add. MS. 22015. Cf. J. C. Schmitt's edition, Teubner, 1898. f. 1.
2. "Victruvii de architectura liber primus (–decimus)": the De Architectura of Marcus Vitruvius Pollio. Preface beg. "Cum diuina tua," followed by capitula for lib. i; text, "Architecti est scientia." Colophon, "Victruuii liber decimus explicit feliciter. amen." The text is of the family of Harley MS. 2767. Cf. V. Rose's edition, Teubner, 1899. f. 49.
3. "Flauii Vegetii illustris uiri epithoma rei militaris libri numero iiii": the Rei militaris epitoma of Flavius Vegetius Renatus. Table of contents beg. "Primus liber electionem"; text, "Antiquis temporibus mos." The text is closely akin to that of MSS. E and P in Lang's Teubner edition (1885). In lib. iii at the end the artt. beg. "De equitatu" and "Quo genere" are reversed (f. 128 b), as also the order of iv. 10 and 11 (f. 130). Colophon (f. 134 b), "Flavii Vegetii illustris viri epithoma rei militaris libri numero iiii^or^ expliciunt feliciter." For other MSS. see Royal MS. 7 C. i, art. 17. f. 109.
4. Extracts from the Institutiones of Justinian. f. 134 b. Artt. 1–4 form a single MS. in one hand.
5. Subject-indices of the following works of St. Augustine (with one of Prosper Aquitanus), De Agone Christiano, Sententiae S. Augustini by Prosper Aquitanus, De Sermone Domini, Encheiridion, De Penitentia (Sermon CCCLI), De Trinitate, De Vera Religione, De Libero Arbitrio, De Natura Boni, De Natura et Gratia, Retractationes, Super Genesin, Confessiones (imperf. at end). The arrangement is according to the first two vowels of the word. f. 136.

6. De signis, beg. imperf. "passus mundicie." f. 186.
7. Table of contents of the De summo bono (or Sententiae) of St. Isidore, Bishop of Seville. f. 186 b.
8. Collection of sermons in several hands on various texts, originally prefaced by a treatise now last in order, De modo faciendi sermones, the Forma predicandi attributed to Robert de Basevorn (cf. Royal MS. 7 C. i, art. 14). Prologue beg. imperf. "vsque ad suum terminum"; text, "Ostendendum est in primis." Only twenty of the fifty chapters are given. An index (f. 261 b) gives the original order of the collection. Ff. 232–235 are in a formal book-hand of the end of the 13th cent. Sermon xvi (f. 228) contains phrases translated into English. Among them is a reference (f. 229 b) to a symbolic design satirizing human vanity by an ape riding an ass and holding an owl, with inscription "Neyȝer more ne lesse þen ape and oule and asse." Cf. a cast in the Department (cliv. 113) from a seal in the Taunton Museum. f. 191.
9. Synonyma or Soliloquia of St. Isidore, Bishop of Seville, beg. "Venit nuper." Incomplete, one page only. f. 261.

Vellum; ff. iv + 262. 8¾ in. × 6¼ in. Artt. 1–4 XII–XIII cent., art. 5 and ff. 232–235 XIII cent., the rest XIV cent. Gatherings in artt. 1–4 of 8 leaves (v^6, vi^9); in artt. 5–7 irregular (i^{13}, ii^{15}, iii^{18}, iv^9); in artt. 8, 9 irregular (i^4, ii^{12}, iii^8, iv^3, v^{14}, marked "quaternio 3," vi^4, vii^{12}, marked "quat. 2," viii^8, marked "quat. 1," ix^6). Sec. fol. "Sed ubi." Initials red and green. Notes of ownership of John Pilkington, Archdeacon of Durham: "Sum Iohannis Pilkingtoni Dunelmensis 1592 Martii 23°," with the motto "Morbus est, non iudicium, damnare quod non inspexeris" (ff. 1, 49, 109, 136). Afterwards belonged to John, Lord Somers, see the catalogue of his MSS. in Harley MS. 7191, f. 170. The table of contents on f. iv is in the hand of Somers's cataloguer. Afterwards to Sir Joseph Jekyll (sale-cat. 173⅝, lot 438). Later probably to Sir Charles Isham of Lamport. Sold at Sotheby's 18 June, 1904, lot 228. Dunn sale-cat. 1914, lot 1435.

38819. PSALTER in Latin, of the Gallican version, preceded by a Calendar. Imperfect. The parts missing are:—Pss. i. 1–5, ix. 3–15, x. 4–xi. 7, xxxi. 8–xxxiii. 7, xxxiv. 16–xxxvi. 4, xlv. 1–xlvii. 13, lxxvii. 17–33, xci. 1–xciii. 12, ci. 11–cv. 28, cxii. 4–cxviii. 80, cxx. 4–cxxii. 2, cxlv. 10–end. The calendar was originally Augustinian, having the feast of St. Augustine and its octave in red, with indication of ix lections in the added feasts of SS. William of York (8 June, 13th cent.) and Thomas of Hereford (3 Oct., 14th cent.). About the beginning of the 15th cent. it passed into Cistercian hands, as is proved by the addition of "Commemoratio omnium personarum regular[i]um ordinis" on May 20, SS. Bernard and Robert the Abbot in red with xii lections, and other characteristic Cistercian entries. Obits of 13th cent. are Alicia de Gednee [Gedney, co. Linc.?], 1 Jan., Sanicula, 10 Jan., Henricus Abbas de Brunne [Bourn, co. Linc.], Mar. 31, Hugh of Lincoln, 17 Nov. These suggest a Lincolnshire provenance, if not the Augustinian abbey of Bourn itself. Guthlac and Sexburga, both saints of neighbouring districts, have been added early. The original saints include Wilfrid (24 Apr., in red) and John of Beverley (7 May, green). The obit of Thomas of Lancaster [1322] on 22 Mar. is in a 14th cent. hand.

Vellum; ff. ii + 135. 7 in. × 5 in. Cropped. XII cent. Gatherings of 8 leaves, for the Calendar 4 and 2. Later hands have added a few liturgical notes in the margins. Initials of the psalms in gold and colours, of the verses in blue, red or green. The initials of Pss. xxxviii, li, lii, lxviii, lxxx, xcvii, ci, cix are larger and more elaborate. Those of lxxxiv, cxxvii, cxliii have been excised. There are figure-drawings in the margins on ff. 57, 61. Modern binding of half niger morocco and oak boards with clasps by Douglas Cockerell. Dunn sale-cat. 1914, lot 1523.

38820. THEOLOGICAL and ethical compilations, viz.:—

1. "Auctoritates pro virtutibus contra vitia" (so the modern title on the back): a collection of biblical texts suitable for texts of sermons (a section de tempore and de sanctis, including St. Francis, is at the end of pt. ii, ff. 46–59) divided into five chief parts, viz., De auersione, De reuocatione, De conuersione, De merito et ecclesiasticis sacramentis, De premio. The short prologue, beg. "Presens opusculum in quinque partes diuiditur," is preceded by a table of chapters of the whole work, and a separate table precedes each part. Pt. i beg. "Derelinquit deum factorem suum." f. 1.
2. "Prouerbia Senece" (so the rubric title), consisting of (a) Part (A–N) of the Sententiae of Publilius Syrus, completed by a selection of prose aphorisms (N–Z) from Pseudo-Seneca de Moribus (cf. Royal MS. 7 A. iii, art. 7). Beg. "Alienum est omne quicquid optando euenit." f. 161 b;—(b) Another collection headed "Item prouerbia eiusdem," beg. "Auida est periculi uirtus," and ending "ex quo petatur ultio" (cf. Royal MS. 8 E. xvii, art. 9, and Harley MS. 2659, ff. 3–4 b). f. 165.
3. "Auctoritates sanctorum et cathoricorum (sic) doctorum primo de virtutibus postea de viciis" (so the rubric). The prologue beg.

Quoniam librorum et tractatuum sanctorum patrum prolixitati diffuse angusta succumbit memoria." The contents consist of extracts (chiefly) from the Fathers, including Bernard and Hugh de St. Victor, in two parts (Virtues and Vices), subdivided into chapters. A table of chapter-headings precedes each part. f. 167.

4. Theological distinctiones in rough alphabetical order, "Astare"–"Confessio," written in a small hand. f. 218 b.

Vellum; ff. viii + 225. 7½ in. × 5 in. Second half of XIII cent. Headings in red. Gatherings of 10 leaves (xvii[6], end of art. 2, xviii[11], last[8]), generally with catch-words. Contemporary binding of sheep-skin dyed red (over oak boards), stamped in small square panels with fleurs-de-lys and heraldic beasts and birds within a narrow border of hippocamps with floriated tails. On the lower cover is nailed a vellum label inscribed "De viciis et virtutibus." Note of ownership on f. iv (14th cent.) "Iste liber debet reverti ad conventum sancti Martini Tornacensis," the Benedictine abbey of St. Martin's, Tournai. Phillipps MS. 2144 (sale-cat. 1896, lot 1065). Afterwards belonged to Henry White (sale-cat. 1902, lot 1964). Dunn sale-cat. 1914, lot 1587.

38821. REGISTRUM BREVIUM, statutes and other legal collections, temp. Edw. I, doubtless compiled for use in Lincolnshire. Contents:—

1. "Registrum": a register of writs in the name of Edward I, and evidently compiled in the first years (1272–1275) of his reign, since the formulae of the writs of De nativo habendo and Mort d'ancestor (ff. 13, 23 b) are those in use before the First Statute of Westminster. Cf. Egerton MS. 656, and see F. W. Maitland in Harvard Law Review, iii, 1890, p. 212. The principal divisions are (a) Writ of Right group. f. 1;—(b) Ecclesiastical group, beg. "Quot modis breuia de aduocacionibus ecclesiarum debeant fieri consequenter dicetur." f. 6 b;—(c) Replevin group, ending with the writ De odio et atia, which is ascribed to J. de Lessigton [Lexington]. In the writ De nativo habendo (f. 13) the limitation is "post vltimum reditum domini I. regis patris nostri de Hybernia," etc. f. 11;—(d) Criminal group. f. 13 b;—(e) Miscellaneous group, beg. with De corredio subtracto recuperando. f. 14 b;—(f) Account. f. 16;—(g) Easements group, beg. with De auxilio habendo ad primo-genitum filium militem faciendum. f. 16;—(h) Mesne group. f. 18;—(i) Customs and services. f. 18 b;—(k) Covenant and fine. f. 19;—(l) Wardship. f. 19 b;—(m) Dower. f. 20;—(n) De attornato faciendo, etc. f. 20 b;—(o) Novel disseisin, with limit "post primam transfretacionem nostram in Britanniam." f. 21 b;—(p) Mort d'ancestor group, with limitation as in the De nativo.

The collection ends with the Statutum de Iudaeis (f. 38), here dated 25 July, 51 Hen. III., but in the Patent Roll 55 Hen. III [1271], printed in Foedera, Record ed. i, p. 489 ; followed by a supersedeas for a suit of over 40*s*. in the bailiff's court at Lincoln.

2. "Ci comencent diuers cas demandes e aprise et assoines dones en la court le Rey": a legal treatise of which other copies are in Royal MS. 9 A. vii, f. 190, and Harley MS. 746, f. 100. The texts differ. The judges quoted here are John de Cobham (probably the elder of the name, d. after 1250), Henry de Ba[thonia] and Roger de Thurkilby (both d. about 1260), and Simon de Wauton (Bishop of Norwich in 1257). Beg. "[E]n quant poinz passe le bref de mort de ancestre le bref de nouele desseysine"; ends "pur ceo quil ne pot demande[r] veue sur nun certein." f. 38 b.
3. "Hic demonstrat quot modis essonia sunt calumpnianda, quibus scilicet casibus non iacent": a brief summary of the law of essoins, cf. Royal MS. 9 A. vii, f. 200, Statutes of the Realm, i, p. 217. Beg "Non iacet quia terra capta est in mânu domini regis." f. 43.
4. "Veredictum regis Francie": the Mise of Amiens, morrow of St.

Vincent, "m°. cc°. lxx°. tercio" (sic for 23 Jan. 126¾). Printed in Foedera, i, p. 433. The preamble is abridged. For another copy see Royal MS. 10 B. vi, f. 132. f. 43 b.

5. Documents relating to the Battle of Lewes, viz. (a) Letter of the Barons to the King, [12 May, 1264];—(b) The King's answer, 12 May, 48 Hen. III [1264];—(c) Letter of defiance of the King of the Romans, Prince Edward and the Barons to the King, [same date]. All these are printed in Foedera, i, p. 440, and for other copies see Royal MSS. 5 F. xv, f. 2 b, 8 D. iii, f. 164 b, etc. f. 44; —(d) "De bello de Lewes": a brief account of the result of the battle, with lists of prisoners and killed. Beg. "Vt sciatis autem de processu belli habiti apud Lewes." f. 44;—(e) "Ordinacio status regni apud London": the document printed at the end of the Act of Parliament of 1264 in Foedera, i, p. 443. Beg. "Ordinatum est quod status ecclesie Anglicane in statum debitum reformetur." f. 44 b.

6. "De manerio extendendo": not the Extenta manerii of Stat. Realm, i, p. 242, but a briefer summary, incompletely copied. Beg. "Ad manerium extendendum primo eligentur xii homines . . . ab hiis inquirendum est de redditu assiso"; ends "quantum terre quisque teneat et per quod seruicium et per que." f. 45.

7. "De officio coronatoris": differing somewhat from the text printed from Harley MS. 667 in Stat. Realm, i, p. 40, and having no mention of wreck of the sea. Beg. "In principio hec inquirenda sunt a coronatore domini regis: inprimis quod cum ipsi coronatores habuerint mandatum." f. 45 b.

8. "Acopement de mort de home": a formula including a date 13 Edw., which may be that of the scribe, who has apparently an affection for the number 13, see in art. 1 (compiled certainly before 1275) the date of the petition for election of an abbot of Malmesbury given on f. 28 as 12 Mar. 13 Edw., which cannot be right (the true date is 44 Hen. III, see Harley MS. 6957, f. 69), and again in art. 9 in forms on ff. 57 b–59 b. Beg. "Ce vus mustre W. le fuiz W." f. 46.

9. "Registro" (so catchword, no title): a form of the treatise known as Brevia Placitata, other copies of which are in Add. MS. 5762, f. 111, Harley MSS. 409, f. 97, 1120, f. 153, Egerton MS. 656, f. 165, etc. The first form of writ is dated 2 May, 1 Edw., but the date 13 Edw. also occurs, see above. The first comment beg. (f. 47 b) "[O]re fet a resortir au primer bref que plus est comun." Introduced near the end (f. 61 b) are some pleadings concerning the manor of Gainsborough between William de Valence and the Stutevilles after the death of G[erard] Talbot. Ends "En checun bref de fine fete quant ele est freint pot home counter par meime la fourme." f. 47.

10. "Hic incipit quedam summa quam dominus Radulphus de Hengham fecit conpendiose de breuibus et placitis in curia domini regis": the treatise known as Magnum (or Magna) Hengham, compiled by Ralph de Hengham, Chief Justice of the King's Bench 1274–1289 and of the Common Pleas 1301–1307 (d. 1311). Printed by Selden with Fortescue's De Laudibus Legum Angliae, 1616. Beg. "[L]icet ordo placitandi in curia domini regis"; ends "perenptorie descinditur actio actoris." f. 62 b.

After art. 10 three blank leaves (completing the 7th quire) have been cut out. Artt. 1–10 are apparently in one hand (see also end of art. 27).

11. "Westmoster" (in another hand "premer"): the First Statute of Westminster, 22 Apr. 1275. French. Printed in Stat. Realm, i, p. 26. f. 74.

12. "Les estatuz nostre seignur le rey Edward de la Iurie fez a la seint Michel en lan de son regne terz" [Michaelmas, 1275]: the Statute of Jewry. Printed with many variants ib. p. 221, as of uncertain date. At the end, without fresh heading, follow the paragraphs known as Districtiones Scaccarii (ib. p. 197). Colophon, "Ci finisent les estatuz de la Iurie." f. 81.

13. "Les articles que touchent la Iurie a enquere." Not printed in Stat. Realm. Beg. "[D]e Jeus fausers e retondors de la monoye." f. 82.

14. "Les estatuz le rey Edward fez a Gloucestre": the Statute of Gloucester [7 Aug. 1278], with the abridged form of preamble. Printed ib. p. 45. f. 82 b.

15. "Les estatuz sur le rageman": the Statute De justiciariis assignatis, Michaelmas, 4 Edw. I [1276]. Printed ib. p. 44. f. 84 b.

16. "Les estatuz de religions": De viris religiosis [7 Edw. I, 15 Nov. 1279]. French. Printed in Latin, ib. p. 51. f. 85.

17. "La grant chartre le rey Henri de franchises": the form of excommunication against violators of Magna Carta and Carta de Foresta pronounced by the Archbishop of Canterbury and prelates at Westminster, 15[?12] May, 1253. French. Printed in Latin in Foedera, i, p. 289. Followed by a French translation of Magna Carta [as confirmed in 36 Hen. III, 11 Feb. 125½, see Stat. Realm, i (charters), p. 28]. f. 85 b.

18. "La chartre de la forest": French translation of Carta de Foresta as confirmed 2 Hen. III, 6 Nov. [1217], cf. ib. p. 20. f. 88 b.

19. "Les purueances de Merton": French version of the Provisions of Merton, 20 Hen. III [23 Jan. 1236]. Cf. ib. p. 1. f. 90.

20. "Les purueances de Marleberge": French version of the Statute of Marlborough, 52 Hen. III, 18 Nov. 1267. The Latin text of one clause is given in the margin. Cf. ib. p. 19. f. 91 b.

21. 'Lestatuz de Atton Burnel': the Statute of Acton Burnell or De mercatoribus, 11 Edw. I, 12 Oct. [1283]. Printed ib. p. 53. f. 95 b.

22. "Ceo fet asauer": the common treatise known as Fet asaver. Printed by G. E. Woodbine, Four Thirteenth Century Law Tracts, Yale and Oxford, 1910. Beg. "[C]eo fet asauer que au comencement de checun ple"; ends with the writs in plea of trespass. The writs are translated into French and contain the initials of G[ilbert] de P[reston] as Chief Justice of the Common Pleas [circ. 1269–1274], and one (f. 100 b) is addressed by Edw. I to R[ichard de Gravesend, d. 1279], Bishop of Lincoln. f. 96 b.

24. "De warantizacione carte et quis tenetur warantizare": a few miscellaneous legal notes, beg. "[D]e warantizacione carte et quis tenetur warantizare et quid de iure quando vnus vel plures maiores vel minores vocantur ad warantum. Notandum diuersis modis possunt aliqui." f. 110.

On a blank space on f. 111 are added in another hand the 'Explanaciones super quibusdam articulis statuti de Gloucestre' (see art. 14), printed in Stat. Realm, i, p. 50.

25. Reports of cases (about 26), whether strictly speaking a Year-book, i.e. cases of a particular term or terms, or a collection made from various terms, does not appear. Some of the cases must be of a date between 1272 and 1277 (see f. 113 b, where the Queen of Almain [Beatrice, widow of Richard, Earl of Cornwall] is a plaintiff). A regular Year-book of this date would perhaps be the earliest yet discovered. The chief names of judges and counsel occurring are Alan of Walkingham, Gilbert de Thornton, John Giffard, John de Cave, John le Koy, Martin [of Littlebury?], R. de Boyland, Sire Elis [de Beckingham?], John de Mettingham and R[alph] de Freningham. Beg. "[N]ichole de Berkelee prist femme. apres morut Nichol sanz esperance de heir"; ends "quil certifiast la court etc. Teste magistro R. de Freningham." f. 111 b.

26. "Les reulles sein Robert," beg. "[C]i comencent les reulles que le bon euesque de Nichole sein Robert fist a la contesse de Nichole de garder et de gouerner terres osteus. Qui les reulles voudra tenir, ben e bel del soen viure porra, e sei meimes e les soens sustenir": twenty-eight rules for the economical management of an estate. The tract is printed from Harley MS. 273, f. 81, Add. MS. 5762, f. 136, and other MSS. by Miss E. Lamond with Walter of Henley's Husbandry (1890). If the attribution is true, the rules were probably drawn for Margaret, wife of John de Lacy, 1st Earl of Lincoln, who was left a widow in 1240, her son being then about thirteen. She married Walter Marshal, Earl of Pembroke, about Jan. 1243. The first rule beg. "La primere reulle enseigne coment seignur ou dame porra sauer en checun maner totes les terres;" the last ends "en Lindeseye en Norfoukes e en le val de Beauer e en ceu pais vos robes achatez a seint Iue." f. 118 b.

27. "La manere de pleder en Nichole": rules of the city court of Lincoln, relating chiefly to pleas of assault or debt. A defendant, if a man, has the choice of compurgation "quasi Gallicus" with two compurgators, here called "wachtesmunes" ("wahtes," "whacti"), or "quasi Anglicus" with eleven. If a woman, she must defend in the English fashion. Beg. "[I]n primis sciendum est quod placita ciuitatis"; ends "per iudicium curie abibit, similiter et conquestor, etc." f. 121 b.

Artt. 11–27 appear to be in one hand, which is perhaps the same as that of artt. 1–10. Art. 28 may be also in the same hand, but seems to be a later addition.

28. "Kaernaruan. Ces sunt les articles purueuz de la moneye de Engletere a Kaernaruan par nostre seingnur le rey Edward e son conseil lan de son regne douzime": the Statutum de Moneta of 12 Edw. I [29 Sept. 1284], incomplete, the first three paragraphs only. Printed in Stat. Realm, i, p. 219. f. 123 b. At the end is a note in a minute hand on dower. Art. 29 is in another hand.

29. "Noua statuta edita apud Westmonasterium ad Pascha anno regni regis Edwardi terciodecimo" (so colophon): the Second Statute of Westminster [after Easter, 1285] in French, including art. xlix, which does not occur in the Latin, see Stat. Realm, i, p. 71. f. 124. At the end, in the same minute hand as the note on f. 123 b, is copied (f. 139 b) a portion of the Statute of Winchester [13 Edw. I]. On the vellum fly-leaves are:—(a) Contemporary note of the absence of Edward I abroad for three years from Easter [really from 13 May], 17 (sic for 14) Edw. [1286] to 15 [really 12] Aug. 17 Edw. [1289]. f. 142;—(b) "Assisa panis" (et cervisie), in a late 13th cent. hand. Nearly as in Stat. Realm, i. p. 199. f. 142;—(c) Form of proxy for litigation, in a hand of the first half of the 14th cent. f. 141 b;—(d) Latin verses on the numerical values (in some cabbalistic system of the kind known as gematria?) of the letters of the alphabet. In a hand of about the same period. Another copy is in Sloane MS. 297, f. 9. Beg. "A capud est. numerum quingentos iungere debes." f. 141 b;—(e) Memoranda of farm accompts in several 14th cent. hands, relating to Glaston, co. Rutl., and the neighbourhood. ff. 142 b–143 b.

Vellum (except ff. i–vi); ff. vi + 143. 9¼ in. × 6¼ in. Circ. A.D. 1285. Gatherings of 12 leaves (iv[10], vii[3], ix[16], xii[8], xiii[7]), with catchwords. Sec. fol. "in eadem." Initials not inserted. On f. 141 is scribbled the name of an early 16th cent. owner (?) "Reynold Mohun off the comte of Cornewale esqueyer bedfelow wnto master Denssell in Lyncons Yn." This is probably a member of the Boconnoc family (see Vivian's Visitations of Cornwall, p. 324), either the Sir Reginald, of Hall, who was aged about 8 in 1517, or his uncle Reginald, 4th son of John Mohun who died in 1508. A John Densell occurs in 1514 in Letters and Papers, Hen. VIII, i. 5656, and a J. Densell as counsel in the Henry VIII Yearbooks, see Foss, Judges of England, v, p. 107. The MS. afterwards belonged to Sir Thomas Phillipps, MS. 9301 (sale-cat. 1897, lot 291). Dunn sale-cat. 1914, lot 1547.

38822. PSALTER, with calendar of Sarum use. The contents are:—"Oracio de sancta Trinitate" (beg. "Domine deus omnipotens qui es trinus et unus qui es semper in omnibus") and other prayers. f. 1;—Calendar, with numerous English saints and the Sarum feast of relics (Sund. after Transl. of St. Thomas in July). f. 13;—Psalter, with larger initials for Pss. 1, 26, 38, 51, 52, 68, 80, 97, 101, 109. f. 20;—Canticles (twelve). f. 237 b;—Litany, the ferial arrangement followed by a "septiformis letania" (seven apostles, seven martyrs, etc.) and a "quinquepertita letania" (similarly restricted to five). The full litany contains many English saints, the sevenfold has none, the fivefold Aldhelm and Bridget only. f. 259 b;—Office of the Dead. f. 276 b.

On blank leaves have been added (a) A prayer in a late 14th cent. hand, beg. "Suscipere digneris confessionem meam." f. 19;—(b) Charms and medical recipes, in 15th cent. hands. ff. 11–12. In the Calendar are a few erased obits, and on f. 12 scribbled names (16th cent.) of John, Thomas, Marget, An[n]e, Elzbath, and Gine (?) Grimes. John Grimes's name is also on f. 66.

Vellum (except ff. i, ii); ff. ii + 289. 4⅞ in. × 3½ in. Portions have been cut from the margins of ff. 60, 74, 93, 166, 167, 174, 175, 227, 228. Written in England, end of the XIII cent. Gatherings (beg. f. 20) of 12 leaves (last[6]), with catchwords.

Illuminated initials with border-prolongations, of rather coarse execution, with grotesques. Smaller initials in red and blue. Modern morocco binding by Ramage. Belonged in the 18th century to Thomas Martin of Palgrave, whose signature is on f. 289 b. Afterwards belonged to Canon Charles Robertson Manning, of Diss, co. Norf. (sale-cat., July, 1899, lot 108). Dunn sale-cat. 1914, lot 1525.

38823. COMMONPLACE-BOOK of Sir Edward Hoby, containing entries relating to America, Parliament, the Isle of Sheppey, the siege of Calais (1346–1347), Mary, Queen of Scots, Sir E. Hoby himself, and various other subjects. At the beginning (ff. i–iii), taken from the binding, are two vellum fragments of a 13th cent. MS. of the Sententiae of Petrus Lombardus. On f. iv b are a few quotations relating to history, kingly justice, etc., in Sir E. Hoby's own hand, and on f. vi (at the end of the volume) two sets of Latin verses, viz. :— (a) "Nobilium spectas clypeos hinc inde micantes | Cantia quos peperit claris natalibus ortos ; | Hii cum sint omnes Hobeio sanguine iuncti, | Inter cognatos anne est peregrinus habendus? 1587";— (b) Six lines entitled "Tempus ad Edw. Hobeium. 1593," and beg. "Siccine profundis sumptus, et semisepultos." The contents of the MS. are :— in Fr. in Enguerrand de Monstrelet's Chroniques (1572), ii, f. 34 b [ed. 1857–62, iv, p. 283]. f. 47 b.

21. "Sonnet de la France, 1587," so arranged as to give a contrary sense when read down each column to that conveyed when read across. Beg. :—

"Plus ne fault endurer La race de Bourbon La ligue de Lorraine Est la paix de la France."

Fr. f. 47 b.

22. Sir E. Hoby to M[atthieu] Coignet, sending his translation of Coignet's Politique discourses on truth and lying [Paris, 1584 ; Hoby's translation, London, 1586] ; Greenwich, 19 Feb. 1586[7]. Lat. f. 48.

23. "In obitu Johannis Domini Russelli [2nd son of Francis Russell, 2nd Earl of Bedford], Edwardi Hoby militis Epicedium, 1584" : 8 lines of Lat. verse. f. 48.

24. "Incerti Authoris" : four lines of verse beg. "He that spareth to speake hathe hardlie his intent." Another version is in Harley MS. 2296, f. 138. f. 48.

25. "A letter sent from a private gentleman to his moste honorable freinde wherein he provethe that he is in farre more happie estate wch never was a father then he wch hathe yssue" ; 6 Mar. 1586, "stilo antiq." Addressed to Sir George Carey, afterwards 2nd Lord Hunsdon. The reference to a translation of a treatise in the opening sentence suggests that the writer was Hoby himself (see art. 22 above), who was Carey's brother-in-law ; on the other hand he does not appear to have been a student at Oxford (f. 52) in 1572 or even 1573 (Dict. Nat. Biog.), and in 1566 (f. 53 b) he was only six years of age. f. 48 b.

26. "A letter sent from Monsieur [Guillaume de l'Aubespine, Baron] de Chasteaune[u]f, the French Kings Embassador, to ye Queene, concerninge th' examination of the Queene of Scottes" ; London, 18 Oct. 1586. Fr. Another copy is in Cotton MS. Galba E. vi, f. 329. f. 56 b.

27. "Defiance to desyer" : eight stanzas of eight lines beg. "Dye die desire and bid delight adieu." For other and varying copies see Harley MSS. 3910, f. 24 b and 6910, f. 165, in the former of which the poem (six stanzas only) is entitled "A farwell to desire geven by J. T." f. 57.

28. "A commission of the States[-General of the Netherlands] to Robert [Dudley], Earle of Lecester," appointing him Governor General ; Jan. [1 Feb.] 1586. Lat. Another copy is in Cotton MS. Galba C. ix, f. 47. Printed in Dutch in the Groot Placaet-Boeck, iv (1705), p. 82. f. 58.

29. Licence, or safe-conduct, from Henry Goodere, captain of the guard of Robert, Earl of Leicester, Governor General of Belgia, to William Winstanley, of Lathom, co. Lanc., lately one of the said guard, to pass from any port of Holland into England to Lathom aforesaid; The Hague, 5 Feb. 1585[6]. f. 58 b.

30. "Incerti Authoris": a sonnet, beg. "Like hermite poore in pensive place obscure." Another copy is in Harley MS. 6910, f. 139 b. Printed in a somewhat different form as one of Sir Walter Raleigh's poems in Hannah's Poems of Raleigh, Wotton, etc. (1875), p. 12. f. 58 b.

31. Household papers relating to the siege of Calais, 1346–1347, viz.:—(a) Names of the chief captains who were with [Edward III] at the siege of Calais, with the numbers serving under each of them. For the same list, giving also the arms in colour, see Stowe MS. 574, f. 35. Printed from a roll by E. R. Mores, Oxford, 1749. f. 59;—(b) [The numbers of the fleet of Edward III before Calais, viz.] the South fleet (f. 65), the North fleet (f. 66 b), and the ships and mariners of strangers (f. 67 b);—(c) Rates of wages in war by the day. f. 68;—(d) "The names of the great princes and noblemen estrangers holden in the kings retinewe and pay not being emprised in the nomber aforesaid." f. 68 b;—(e) Sum of the expenses of the King's house, ships, etc., in France and Normandy and before Calais during the siege, "as appeareth in the accompt of William [de Northwell al.] Norwell, Keeper of the Kinges Wardrobe," 21 Apr. 18 [Edw. III]–24 Nov. 21 [Edw. III]. f. 69. For other copies of the entries in this article, see Harley MSS. 246, ff. 6 b–14 b, 3968, ff. 112–131 b, etc. For (d), (e), and a small portion of (a), with variations, cf. Gairdner, Three fifteenth century Chronicles (Camden Soc., 1880), pp. 82–85.

42. Orders for the Stews, Southwark, "confirmed by Parliament about Anno 1160, taken forth of the jurie booke belonginge to the prison caled the Clinke, w[i]thin the mannor of the lordshipe of the lord Bishopp of Winchester; other ordinances there weare in that booke of another parliament the xth of Aprell Ao. xxxvii° of H. 6. thereto annected (sic) the jurisdiction that the Binschopp of Winchester had, and the libertie therbie. A charter graunted by the kinge: The said booke came to mie hand the first of ffebruarie, A° 1579 and is restored to the owner." Excerpts from these ordinances are given by Stow, Survey of London, ed. Kingsford, ii, p. 54, the source being given as "liber manuscriptus." Harley MS. 293, f. 62 (some articles of which were written by Stow) has another and different copy, followed by Ordinances of a Court Leet of the Bishop of Winchester's Manor in Southwark, 10 Apr. 37 Hen. vi, clearly the document referred to in the above colophon. Another copy in Harley MS. 1877, f. 75, is quoted as from the Customary of the Manor of Southwark, and ordinances of various Courts Leet are cited in it. The ordinance of the parliament of 1160 is, no doubt, apocryphal, but the regulations themselves may derive from a leet book of the manor. f. 87.

Both text and commentary are the same as in Royal MS. 15 D. ii, and both MSS. agree rather with P. Meyer's B (Bibl. Nat. MS. fr. 9574) and C. (Bibl. de l'Arsenal MS. 5214) than with A (Bibl. Nat. MS. fr. 403). See L. Delisle and P. Meyer, L'Apocalypse en français, 1901, p. 1. The fragment begins "la natiuite nostre seignur" in the commentary on ix. 13–15 (ed. cit. p. 45) and ends "E li secunde" in the text of xvi. 3 (p. 81). The two missing leaves contained the matter between "tutes meseises pur deu," end of comment on xi. 3–6 (f. 2 b, p. 52), and "kil chaierent as genuz" in comment on xi. 15–18 (f. 3, p. 56), and between "achate de terre signifie ki nul" in comment on xiv. 1–5 (f. 6 b, p. 71) and "E ieo ui est wous une nue," xiv. 14 (f. 7, p. 75).

By William Congreve Esq., A.M., of Trinity College, Cambridge, Student of the Middle Temple, and Member of the Society for the Improvement of Naval Architecture." Dedicated to H.R.H. Prince William Frederick of Gloucester. Holograph. The author, cr. Bart. in 1814, is best known as the inventor of the rocket. The former work takes its name (according to the Preface) from A Century of Inventions, by Edward Somerset, 2nd Marquis of Worcester, and is, like it, a somewhat vague syllabus of projects without details of execution; e.g. "A Writing Table which gives several fac-simile copies of anything that may be written on it without any external or visible agency." f. 37; "How to construct a chamber organ so that any person perfectly unacquainted even with the characters of music shall be able to adjust it to play any piece." f. 39. On f. 16 is an index of subjects. The second work gives a commonplace description of the progress of man as illustrated by mechanical

B. Danby Papers (1677–1691), of which the principal feature is the correspondence in 1678 between the Lord Treasurer, Thomas Osborne, Earl of Danby, afterwards 1st Duke of Leeds, and Ralph Montagu, English Ambassador to France, afterwards 1st Duke of Montagu. These letters relate to the question of the French subsidy and the secret negotiations of Charles II with France, and they include two drafts by Danby (ff. 129, 139), which, though bearing the autograph approval and initials of the king, afterwards furnished the material for Danby's impeachment. With one or two exceptions, Montagu's letters are the originals, Danby's autograph drafts or copies. Most of this correspondence was printed by Danby himself in 1710, with omissions and alterations to suit his purpose, in Copies and extracts of letters to and from the Earl of Danby. At ff. 211–232 are gathered together extracts from various historians on the subject of the Danby letters. At the end of the volume are several contemporary printed publications. Most of the Danby MSS. belonged to John Webster, LL.D. (Sotheby sale-cat., May 1892, lots 166–170, 207, 331). Hodgkin sale, lot 334.

19. Order for payment of £105 to Henry [Somerset, 3rd] Marquis of Worcester [afterwards 1st Duke of Beaufort], Constable of the Forest of Dean, for the officers of the forest; 19 Apr. 1677. With signatures of Danby and others. f. 115.

20. Correspondence of Danby with [Ralph] Montagu, English Ambassador in France; 9 Jan. 167$\frac{7}{8}$–11 Apr. 1678. Two with the King's note of approval, see above. ff. 117–134, 139–153.

21. Letters to Danby from (a) William, Prince of Orange, afterwards William III, on the position of affairs; Malines, 5 Mar. 1678. Fr. Hologr. f. 135;—(b) Richard Osborne, reporting an opinion that Danby could not be bailed; 1681. f. 176.

22. Proposals for the restoration by France of various towns and places to Holland, Spain and the Emperor; a draft sent to Montagu by Danby, 25 Mar. 1678, and returned with the former's autograph corrections. f. 143.

23. Sir William Temple, English Ambassador at the Hague, to Sir Richard Bulstrode, that he yesterday signed a treaty between England and Holland; The Hague, 26 July, 1678. f. 154.

38858. La Danse Macabre: the shorter and earlier version of the poem, as published in 1485 and reprinted by V. Dufour, La Dance

Digitized by Google Original from UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA

Macabre des SS. Innocents de Paris, 1874, where it is attributed (p. 86) to Jean Charlier de Gerson, chancellor of Paris University (d. 1429). Beg. "Creature raisonnable | Qui desire vie eternelle." The text agrees in some notable points with Dufour's MS. C, and like it omits the last stanza but two. Verse iv of the address to the Carthusian (f. 6 b) and verse v of the Poor Man's speech (f. 8) have fallen out. For a detailed discussion of the Dance of Death and accounts of the different texts and editions see Massmann, Literatur der Totentänze, 1841; Langlois, Essai sur les Danses des Morts, 1851; W. Seelman, Die Totentänze des Mittelalters, in Niederdeutsches Jahrbuch, xvii, 1891.

Paper: ff. iv + 12. $7\frac{3}{4}$ in. × $5\frac{1}{8}$ in. xv cent. Formed ff. 26–37 of a larger volume. The intrusion of forms like cose, cambre, checy, doucheur, points to a Northern French origin. (The similar MS. C is from Lille). On f. 1 b are verses in a 15th cent. hand on the Virgin birth: "Tout ainsy que descent en la fleur la rousee | la fache ou mirouer et en coeur la pensee | la voilx en la maison sans porte deffermee | entra le filx de dieu en la vierge honnouree." Belonged, in the 15th cent., to a Franciscan, "Chest a frere Robert Delabbaye Cordelier" (f. 12); in 16th cent. (f. 1) to P. Wyon. On ff. iii b, iv, are the following notes: "Je l'ai acheté chez Lechene en 1830, et je l'ai fait relier par Boutigny," and "acheté chez Claudin, 1870, £2 0. 0." Hodgkin's bookplate as F.S.A. (sale-cat., lot. 401).

38859. Theological note-book containing (1) "Index commentariorum Joan[nis] Bugen[hagii] Pomerani in Psalterium Davidicum," letters A–C, with paginal references to the 1524 edition of Bugenhagen's Commentary. f. 1;—(2) Biblical antitheses, 149 couples of contrasted passages. f. 6;—(3) Satirical lament on the abolition of the Mass, beg. "Oue [i.e. O vae] oue oue oue | Sitis tristes oue oue," in 57 stanzas of 3 lines with the refrain "Oue oue", followed in another hand by "Epitaphium Missae" in four elegiac couplets beg. "Preteriens hospes vacuum mirere sepulchrum" preceded by the date 1527. For the connexion between the longer poem and Roy and Barlowe's Rede me and be not Wrothe, Strasburg, 1528, see J. E. Hodgkin in Notes and Queries, 4th Ser., ix, p. 213. Among the Roman Catholic controversialists named in the poem is Hieronymus Emser, who d. in 1527. On f. 19 is the note "Resipiscentiam et conversionem horum lugentium Missam, vide infra cantilenam vulgarem," i.e. art. 5. f. 13 b;—(4) "Credo Sanctam Ecclesiam Catholicam," an expansion of this article of the Creed supported by Biblical authorities, beg. "Hanc credimus universalem"; with the colophon Απολογία πρός (sic) εφιπιαρια. f. 20;—(5) Satirical poem in German (see the reference in art. 3) in 11 stanzas of 9 lines, each beg. "Ich will furhin kain pfaff mer sein. f. 23. The MS. formed part of the library of Dr. George Kloss of Frankfort on the Main, sold in London at Sotheby's in 1835, and is one of those which Samuel Leigh Sotheby, who compiled the sale-catalogue, believed to have come from the library of Philip Melanchthon. In the present instance however Sotheby's opinion that the MS. is in Melanchthon's hand can hardly be maintained (see sale-cat. lot 4633, with facsimiles, and S. L. Sotheby's Observations upon the Handwriting of Philip Melanchthon, 1839, reissued as Unpubl. Documents, etc., 1840, pl. vi, nos. 1–7). None of the contents appears in the printed editions of the works of Melanchthon.

Paper; ff. iv + 25. 6 in. × 4 in. Circ. A.D. 1527. At f. iii is inserted a letter from Edward Arber, F.S.A., to Hodgkin touching the volume, 1872. Book-plates of George Kloss, M.D., and J. E. Hodgkin, dated 1821, (sale-cat., lot 767).

38860. "Cy commance la nativité nostre sire Jhesucrist": transcript of a 15th cent. French mystery-play in octosyllabic couplets. Beg. "In principio creavit Deus celum et terram, etc. . . Benois soit il qui se tera | et fera paix pour mieulx oyr." Petit de Julleville in Histoire du Theâtre en France: Les Mystères, 1880, ii, p. 382, notices only one MS. of this play, no. 1131 (Y. f. in fol. 10) in the Library of St. Geneviève at Paris (Cat., by Kohler, 1893), from which A. Jubinal published his Mystères inédits du XVe siècle, 1837. The text of the present MS. and of its immediate original (cf. note, f. 29) is considerably deranged owing to transpositions at ff. 5 b, 8 b, 11, 14, 19 b, 22, 27 b, 30 b; otherwise the text closely resembles that of Jubinal, op. cit., ii, p. i (cf. also the corrections of Jubinal's collation in J. Poewe, Sprache und Verskunst der Mystères inédits du XVe siècle, 1900, p. 81). The transpositions, being of similar length and never more than one length out of place, can be easily explained by slight deplacement of folios in an ancestor of the present volume. Such readings as "et a valu" (f. 29 b) and "Anastaise" (f. 35) for Jubinal's "le mien salu" and "Honestasse" as well as the omission in Jubinal of the whole line "Enfanter doit isnellement" (f. 30 b), suggest an independent authority for this MS. Colophon, "Explicit Explicit" (Jubinal, "Explicit Explixit").

Paper; ff. vi + 40. Octavo. XVIII–XIX cent. At the beginning of the book are several tracings:—f. ii from a book printed by Jean Trepperel (Paris, circ. 1538);—f. iii from "La Vendition de Joseph," printed for Pierre Sergent (Paris, circ. 1538);—f. iv (a) from a seal "Sigilum indulgenciarum hospitalis bte. m. de podio" [Puy-en-Velay]; and (b) S. Bridget kneeling;—f. v symbols of the Passion, etc., and the legend "Meditate (sic) cordis mei." Marginal

Folio. Hodgson's sale-cat. 22 May, 1914, lot 940. A fourth volume contained in the lot, being a duplicate, was transferred to the India Office library.

38874. "THE OECONOMY OF HUMAN LIFE," written in shorthand by John Brown in 1778, on W. Williamson's system (cf. T. Anderson, Hist. of Shorthand, 1882, p. 120). The treatise (1st ed. 1750) was formerly attributed to Robert Dodsley, but is now recognised to be by Philip Dormer Stanhope, 4th Earl of Chesterfield. Only pt. i is admitted as genuine (cf. Notes and Queries, 1st ser. x, pp. 8, 74, 318).

Paper ; ff. i + 28. Octavo. A.D. 1778. On f. i ist he note, "Sarah Squire to her nephew Richd. Brown 12th Mo. 9th 1838." From Brown it descended to his nephew John Sterry, great-grandson of the scribe. Presented by the said John Sterry, Hon. F.R.C.S.

38875–38880. POPE'S ILIAD, the printed edition of 1720, 6 vols., 12°, with autograph inscriptions by Gil[bert] White, Oriel College, Oxford, author of The Natural History of Selborne. The following memoranda occur on the fly-leaves :—Vol. I. "Given to me by Mr. Alexander Pope on my taking the Degree of B.A. June 30th 1743" ; Vol. II. "Chess Score played March 26th 1746," with the names of E. Lifriss, G[ilbert] Mabbott, G[ilbert] White, and T[homas] Chapman ; Vol. III. "Portrait of G. W. penned by T. C.," doubtless the Chapman mentioned above ; Vol. V. Another pen-sketch, apparently of White, wearing an academic cap. According to T. Bell's memoir, in his edition of White's Selborne, 1877, vol. i, p. lviii, White would never sit for his portrait, so that these sketches are unique. They were reproduced in The Field newspaper, 6 June, 1914, p. 1213.

Nos. 38881–38887 were purchased at the sale of the library of Professor Edward Dowden, M.A., Litt.D. (Hodgson sale-cat. 9 June, 1914). The first five formed lot 20.

38881. "VITE di Pontefici, Cardinali, et altri Prencipi et huomini Illustri per santità, lettere, et arme, cavate da un manuscritto antichissimo. Tomo primo," beg. with Pope Eugenius IV and ending with Malraso Ceciliano. This collection of lives by the Florentine bookseller Vespasiano da Bisticci (1421–1498) was first published by A. Mai in Spicilegium Romanum, vol. i, 1829, although individual lives had previously appeared. The text and order of the present volume closely resemble those of the Bologna MS., on which is chiefly based the edition of L. Frati, Vite di Uomini Illustri del secolo xv, 1892, 1893, e.g. in the additional passages in the life of Gianozzo Manetti and the position of the preface following the life of Eugenius (cf. Archiv. Stor. Ital., ser. v, vol. iii, p. 208). Not infrequently the MS. has readings peculiar to itself, and occasionally supports other MSS. against B. It is not included among the MSS. noticed in Frati's introduction. The index on f. 1 has some omissions.

Paper; ff. 348. Folio. XVII cent. On the vellum back is the no. 104, perhaps the number of the MS. in the library of — Mattei (cf. Add. MS. 38670). Apparently belonged to Frederick North, 5th Earl of Guilford (sale-cat. 1835, lot 1645), and afterwards to Sir Thomas Phillipps, MS. 11861 (sale-cat. 1899, lot 217).

38882. "RELAZIONE d' Inghilterra e Scozia, 1606, Scritta da un Segretario dell' Illustrissimo Signore Pietro Duodo stato ambasciatore per la Signoria di Venezia appresso il Rè Jacomo," consisting of an introduction, beg. "Sono molti i quali a lo stato," and five chapters dealing successively with Ireland, England, Scotland, the adjacent isles, and the King's affairs. Much of the last chapter appears in similar language in the relazione of Nicolò Molino, appointed joint Ambassador with Duodo in 1603 to congratulate King James on his accession and remaining Ambassador on Duodo's departure, 1 Jan. 1604 (cf. Barozzi and Berchet, Relazioni, etc., ser. iv, p. 1). Duodo's own relazione is Phillipps MS. 5302.

Paper; ff. 65. Folio. Early XVII cent. Vellum binding.

38883. "VITA e Pontificato di Papa Innocenzo X [1644–1655], divisa in Due Libri." Beg. "La lunghezza del Pontificato di Papa Urbano VIII," and ends abruptly with the heading "Origine del Conte Pezzola." The work is divided into two books, and the first book into two chapters. Much space is devoted to the dispute with the Barberini family. On f. 161 is an index of the chief subdivisions.

Paper; ff. i + 161. Folio. XVII cent. Marked on the back XXVIII. Belonged to Frederick North, 5th Earl of Guilford (cf. sale-cat. 1830, lot 94). Thorpe's cat. 1833, no. 541. Phillipps MS. 7302 (sale-cat. 1899, lot 741).

38884. "RELAZIONE dell' Ambasciata straordinaria in Inghilterra al Rè Carlo Secondo, per congratulazione del ritorno al suo Regno, fatta dal Marchese Gio. Luca Durazzo, Ambasciatore della Republica di Genova, nel mese di Gennaro 1662," containing a detailed and interesting account of English affairs. Beg. "Il successo della mia Ambasciata." Divided into three parts, with index of chapter-headings, f. 2.

Paper; ff. i + 263. Octavo. XVII cent. Marked on the back XV. Belonged to Frederick North, 5th Earl of Guilford (sale-cat. 1830, lot 148); and to Benjamin Heywood Bright (sale-cat. 1844, lot 82). Phillipps MS. 12246 (sale-cat. 1899, lot 480).

Paper; ff. i + 123. Folio. Marked lxxvii on the vellum back, and inside "Cod. 202." Belonged to Frederick North, 5th Earl of Guilford (sale-cat. 1830, part of lot 56). Phillipps MS. 5049 (sale-cat. 1899, lot 388).

38886. "THE FORTUNE OF WAR, or a ten years Captivity in France, by Robert Bastard James, Lieut. in the Royal Navy"; 1804–1814. Autograph. Preceded (f. 3) by a dedication to Vice-Admiral Sir George Cockburn, G.C.B., Lord of the Admiralty, dated 20 May, 1822. James was wrecked when in charge of a captured sloop off the Loire, and carried across France to Verdun (f. 26). He escaped in 1807 (f. 33) and reached Ulm (f. 53), where he was arrested by the Bavarian authorities, and handed over to the French at Strassburg (f. 58). He was then transferred to the fort of Bitsch (f. 77), a lithograph of which, published by L. H. Wall, Lieut. R.N., 17 May, 1817, is prefixed (f. 1) to the volume. He remained in Verdun or Bitsch for most of the period till his release by the advance of the Allies (f. 106). In 1814 he was master's mate in the Sparrow, which brought over Prince Platoff and Count Barclay de Tolly (f. 109 b), and finished his service in the Mediterranean in June, 1816 (f. 111 b). Published almost completely in Blackwood's Magazine (June, 1899), pp. 925–958, under the title of "A prisoner under Napoleon," by Prof. Edward Dowden, the late owner.
Paper; ff. 111. Small octavo. A.D. 1822. Dowden sale, lot 32.

38887. "TWO MEMORIALS of Hayley's Endeavours to serve his Friend Cowper," by William Hayley. Holograph. These memorials, especially the second, are treated by E. Dowden in The Atlantic Monthly, vol. c (1907), p. 74, and illustrated with many extracts. They comprise:—(a) "A singular History in a Series of Letters from a Father to his Son, 1794," recounting Hayley's efforts, ultimately successful, to secure a pension for the poet Cowper. Correspondence with Thurlow, Pitt and Lord Spencer is quoted in full, and extracts of letters from S. Rose and Rev. S. Greatheed. There are verses by Hayley addressed to Miss Catherine Thurlow, f. 19, Lord Thurlow, ff. 29, 34, and Pitt, ff. 44, 52. f. 2;—(b) "The Second Memorial . . . containing a minute Account of devices employed to restore his dejected spirits": copies of correspondence of Hayley and of Cowper's other friends, from June, 1797, with an introductory letter to Rev. John Johnson, July, 1809. The chief writers besides Hayley are Cowper's cousins, Harriet, Lady Hesketh, and Rev. John Johnson. Letters to Cowper from W. Wilberforce and the Bishops of London (Beilby Porteus) and Llandaff (Richard Watson) are on ff. 186, 188, 205. The originals of the Hayley-Hesketh letters (except the last few) are in Add. MS. 30803A, ff. 2–26, but none of the Hesketh-Johnson correspondence appears in Letters of Lady Hesketh to Rev. John Johnson, 1901. On f. 206 b is a letter from Hayley to Thurlow, asking preferment for Johnson, 16 Aug. 1804, followed by Thurlow's reply. The apparent recovery of Cowper in 1800 drew forth Hayley's sonnet on f. 247. f. 118. Paper; ff. ii + 249. Small quarto. Lot 172 of the Hayley Correspondence (Sotheby's sale-cat. 20 May, 1878). Bookplate of F. W. Cosens, F.S.A. (sale-cat. 1890, part of lot 173). Dowden sale, lot 87.

38888. NAVAL SIGNAL-BOOK and commonplace-book of Lieut. [Charles] Hipkins on board H.M.S. Lapwing, viz.:—

1. Summary of events in 1797 and 1798, including description of the battles of St. Vincent and Camperdown and breaking off at the Battle of the Nile. f. 2.
2. System of numerical signals used in the French Navy, nos. 1–240. Probably a translation of the 1797 official signal-book. f. 8 b.
3. "Captain [Edward] Rotheram's Orders, H.M.S. Lapwing," of which he took command in 1800. f. 13 b.
4. Miscellaneous entries, including a list of mottoes in the hand of R[upert] L. Hipkins (f. 21), extract from a log at Fort Bay, 10 Nov. 1800 (f. 23 b), and sixteen "Sea Songs," of which several are by Charles Dibdin (f. 22). On f. 26 is an additional "Verse 5th made by C[harles] H[ipkins]," in the hand of R. L. Hipkins.
5. "H.M.S. Lapwing in Stays. C[harles] H[ipkins]." A coloured drawing of the ship. f. 34 b.

38890. SIEGE OF VIENNA: "Ἀποκλεισμος της Βιεννης," an account of the siege by the Turks in 1683, translated from Italian into Modern Greek by Ἱερεμίας Καταβέλας ὁ Ἱεροκήρυξ at the instance of Constantine Brancoveanu, protospatharios (elected voivod of Walachia in 1689), to whose uncle, the famous voivod John Sherban Cantacuzene, the book is dedicated in an introductory letter. The veracity of the author is questioned in a marginal note (f. 49) about the banner captured from the Turks and presented to the Pope, the inscription on which was translated by "ὁ διδάσκαλος τῆς ἀραβικῆς γλώσσης ὁ παπὰ βονέδιος μαρωνίτης" (see f. 49 b). Colophon "ἐτελειώθη εἰς μπουκουρεστίῳ [Bucharest] 1686 δεκεμβ. παρὰ Νικολάου Ἱερέως," f. 54 b. Constantine Brancoveanu appears (as owner?) in the Rumanian note on f. 1: "Alu Kostandin Brankovénu V[oda] Spa[tar], Skoasa de Jeremija Kakavela dasculu[l] şi egume[nul] Plavicénilo[r] dupe limba francésca pe limba grecésca şi scrisa de popa nekula: l[un]a noe[mvrie] a[nu]l αχπζ [Nov. 1687]." For the monastery of Plăvicenii, of which Cacavelas was head (egumen), cf. Dicţionar Geografic al Judeţului Oltu pub. by Societatea Geografică Română, 1895, p. 200, and for some account of Cacavelas see Sathas, Νεοελληνικὴ Φιλολογία, p. 383. Another note (f. v), written both in Roman and Cyrillic script, refers to money: "Dic[emvrie] 15, 7195 [A.D. 1687] arzintul de la stenesca dramur[i] 1217."

made by Sir Phillip Sydney Knyght of certeyn accidents in Arcadia made in the year 1580 and emparted to some few of his frends in his lyfe tyme, and to more sence his unfortunat deceasse." Two similar MSS. are now in America (see Dobell's article mentioned below) and another is in Queen's College, Oxford (Coxe's cat., no. ccci). There is a gap in the present MS. (indicated by two blank pages) at f. 90. Single words are frequently miswritten or omitted. The different books beg. at ff. 1, 45, 85, 128b, 171. Beg. "Arcadia amonge all the Provinces of Greece" and ends imperf. (1 leaf missing) "great quantyty of." A recast and enlarged but incomplete recension in three books formed the first edition, published in 1590. The second edition in five books (1593) supplied the continuation from the present version, but with considerable changes. For a discussion of the printed versions as compared with the present MS. see B. Dobell in The Quarterly Review, July, 1909, where among other extracts the new poems contained in this version are given.
Paper; ff. i + 202. Quarto. Circ. 1590. Thorpe's cat. 1836, lot 1171. Phillipps MS. 9610 (sale-cat. 1908, lot 677). Dobell's cat. no. 228, Mar. 1914, lot 108.

38893. Register of the Court of Record of the town and county of Poole [co. Dors.], 7 June, 1616–30 Sept. 1630. Latin. Little information beyond the names of the litigants is given. A later court-book of Poole, 1660–1680, is Add. MS. 34755.
Paper; ff. i + 128. Folio. Original limp vellum covers. On f. 1 is a note of nine shillings and six pence paid for the book by Richard Bramble, 12 Mar. 1616. Another note on the cover states that the volume was produced as evidence in the Chancery suit of Sir John Webb, [3rd] Bart., [of Odstock] v. the town of Poole, 29 Mar. 1742.

38894. Hours, etc., in Latin; Paris use. Contents:—(1) The four Gospel-lessons, followed by a commemoration of the four Evangelists. f. 1;—(2) "Die veneris. Passio Domini nostri Iesu Christi secundum Ioannem," followed by responses and prayer to Christ ("Deus qui manus tuas," etc.). f. 6b;—(3) "Oratio valde deuota ad beatissimam virginem Mariam": the "Obsecro te," followed (f. 19) by "Alia oratio ad beatam virginem Mariam et ad sanctum Ioannem evangelistam": the "O intemerata," as in Royal MS. 2 A. xxii, f. 201, etc. f. 16;—(4) "Horæ beatissime Virginis Marię ad vsum Parisiensem," Matins and Lauds only. f. 21;—(5) "Septem psalmi penitentiales," with Litany (f. 61b) including Denis, Louis, and Geneviève along with the Franciscans Bonaventure, Bernardino, Clare and Elizabeth. f. 50b;—(6) The Pater noster, Ave Maria, Apostles' Creed, etc. in Latin, with French rubrics; including (f. 71) the "O salutaris" and two "oraisons," beg. "Ave salus mundi" and "Ave sanguis preciose," to be said "a la leuation du corps de nostre Seigneur," and (f. 71b) "Ave salus, ave vita," etc., to be said "quant on monstre nostre Seigneur devant Pater noster." f. 68b. Memoria "pro Pace" added on the last page (f. 72) by a later hand.

Vellum; ff. ii + 72. 6⅝ in. × 4⅝ in. XVI cent. Gatherings of 8 leaves (iii[6], last[2]). Illuminated initials in gold and colours, with floral Renaissance ornamental designs, mostly in oblong panels, at the chief divisions, those on ff. 1, 51, containing the arms of the Dauphin [probably Francis, eldest son of Francis I, b. 1517, d. 1536, or his brother Henry before his accession as Henry II in 1547; or perhaps Francis II as Dauphin, 1547–1559]. Bound in brown calf, gilt-tooled (French, 17th cent.?). Bookplate of arms of Charles Chauncy, M.D. (sale-cat., Sotheby's, 15 Apr. etc. 1790, lot 2946). No. 234 in Henry Young and Sons' Cat. of Books, Liverpool, 7 Mar. 1906. Belonged to John Eustace Anderson (sale-cat., Sotheby's, 23 July, 1914, lot 73).

38895A, B, C. TWO GREEK DOCUMENTS on vellum or leather. They were discovered by a peasant about the year 1909 in a cave in the mountain called Kuh-i-Sālān, near Avromān in Persian Kurdistan. When found, they were enclosed, along with other documents, in a hermetically sealed stone jar containing millet seeds. Passing from hand to hand, several documents appear to have been lost, but eventually the present two with a third probably written in Pahlavi (now Or. MS. 8115) were obtained by Mirza Sa'īd Khān, a doctor of Sinna, who brought them to England and put them in charge of Prof. E. G. Browne of Cambridge. They were eventually sold at Sotheby's (24 July, 1914, lot 543), and have been acquired by the Museum subsequently. Both the Greek documents have been published by Mr. Ellis H. Minns, with translations and an elaborate commentary, in Journ. of Hell. Stud. vol. XXXV, 1915, pp. 22–65. See also New Palaeographical Society, 2nd Ser., pt. iii (1915), pl. 51, 52. Both are written in duplicate, the two versions corresponding in the main, but with considerable differences of detail. The upper ("close") version was rolled and sealed, the lower ("patent") left open; when acquired, A was completely unrolled but B was still rolled and held by string on the right side, two clay seals remaining.

38895A. Sale by Baraces and Sobenes, sons of Maiphorres, to Gathaces, son of Oipates, for 30 (altered in the patent version to 40) drachmae, of a vineyard called Dadoakanras (in the patent version Ganzace) in the village of Cop[h]anis. Dated in the month of Apellaeus in the year 225 [of the Seleucid era: = B.C. 88] in the reign of Arsaces, King of Kings [probably Mithradates II, King of Parthia], in the hyparchy of Baiseira, near the station of Baithaberta, and in the village of Cop[h]anis. Written in a small, compressed, practically uncial hand. With an endorsement in an Aramaic script, probably Pahlavi. 9¾ in. × 6 in.

38895B. Sale by Aspomaces, son of Ga[th]aces, to Denes, son of Gathaces, for 55 drachmae, of a vineyard called Dadbakabag. Dated in the year 291 [= B.C. 22–21] in the reign of Arsaces, King of Kings [Phrahates IV, King of Parthia], in the hyparchy of Basiraora [= Baiseira, A], near the station of Desakidida (in the close version Desakdis), and in the village of Cophanis. Written in a fair-sized, easy cursive hand of fairly early type. 10⅞ in. × 8⅜ in.

Vellum; 18⅛ in. × 17¼ in. Early xv cent. From the collection of Samuel Rogers, d. 1855. Transferred from the Department of Prints and Drawings.

38897A–C. MINIATURES cut from various manuscripts, viz.:—

A. Four French miniatures enclosed in narrow bands of black and gold, representing (i) St. Mark seated writing in book on stand; winged lion crouches before him, holding scroll "Saint Marc"; (ii) St. Luke standing, winged calf with scroll "Saint Luc" at his feet, addressing a crowd and pointing to an apparition of God in the sky; (iii) Pentecost: the Virgin and twelve apostles sitting, the Dove hovering above the Virgin's head; under an architectural canopy; (iv) Bearded man standing, with hands uplifted towards an apparition of God with three angels. Nos. i, ii, iv have checkered backgrounds, no. ii has blue spangled with gold stars. Vellum: 3 in.–3¼ in. square. Early xv cent.

B. Italian miniature of the Assumption of the Virgin, in a floreated initial G: the Virgin, supported by six seraphim, lowers her girdle

2. Miss G. Hogarth, sister-in-law of Charles Dickens, 1878–1881 (for two letters from her to Layard, 1879, 1881, see 38947, ff. 1–5). f. 5.
3. Miss C. Berkeley, sister of M. H. Berkeley, solicitor, who is referred to in Layard's Autobiography, 1903, i, p. 92; 1836–1851. f. 12.
4. Sir J. H. Drummond-Hay, P.C., K.C.B., G.C.M.G., attaché at Constantinople 1840–1844, British Minister, etc., in Morocco 1844–1886; 1874–1880. Extracts from his letters to Layard, 1871–1877, are given in the Memoir edited by his daughters, 1896, pp. 233, 288, 307, 314, 320. f. 43.
5. Sir W. A. White, P.C., G.C.B., K.C.M.G., British Agent in Serbia 1875–1879, Minister to Roumania 1879–1885, Ambassador to Turkey 1885–1891; 1877–1888. Extracts from many of these letters are printed, together with others supplementary to them, in White's Life and Correspondence, by H. Sutherland Edwards, 1902, pp. 127–129, 191–201, 211. f. 66.
6. [Edward Ponsonby,] Viscount Duncannon, afterw. (1906) 8th Earl of Bessborough; 1879–1891. For additional letters to Lord Duncannon, 1892–1894, cut from this volume and reserved, see 39097, ff. 1–27. For two letters to his wife, sister of Lady Layard, 1866, see 38972, ff. 99–103. f. 101.

Quarto.

38940. LAYARD PAPERS. Vol. X (ff. 58). Semi-official letters from A. H. Layard to Sir S. Canning, afterw. (1852) Viscount Stratford de Redcliffe, as British Ambassador at Constantinople, mostly addressed "C. Hansom" or "My dear H." (probably a private resident, through whom it would be safer for the letters to reach Sir Stratford), during journeys (a) to Macedonia, Thessaly and Serbia, 23 Aug.–20 Sept. 1842. For a letter of Lord Stratford to T. de G. de Fonblanque, British Consul-General at Belgrade, introducing Layard, 15 Aug. 1842, and for the view taken by de Fonblanque of the results of Layard's mission, see H. Sutherland Edwards, op. cit. (38939, art. 5), p. 124. f. 2;—(b) to report on the rising against Turkish rule in Northern Albania, 9 May–13 June, 1844. f. 39. Autograph drafts and copies (some in pencil), with a heading in Layard's later hand (f. 1). For an account of the first of these missions see Layard's Journal, 20 Aug.–11 Oct. 1842 (39094), and for both see his Early Adventures, 1887, ii. pp. 377–404, 462–485, and his Autobiography, 1903, ii, pp. 21–38, 124–138, the last two narratives being substantially the same.

Quarto.

38941. Layard Papers. Vol. XI (ff. 78). Letters from A. H. Layard to H. J. Ross (b. 1820, d. 1900); 1847–1857. Type-written copies of the originals (returned by Mrs. Ross to Lady Layard), which are placed according to their date in the General Correspondence. On f. 54 there is a letter to Mr. Ross, senr., father of H. J. Ross, 1858. Ross, who was engaged in commerce in Asiatic Turkey in his early life, assisted Layard in his excavations at Mosul, 1845–1848. He held minor official posts in the Land Transport Corps, etc., in the Crimean War, and was afterwards a partner in the house of Briggs and Co., bankers, in Alexandria, 1857–1869. He married, in 1860, Janet Ann, eldest daughter of Sir A. C. Duff-Gordon, 3rd Bart. Extracts from five of the letters in this volume (1848–1853) are printed in Layard's Autobiography, 1903, ii, pp. 188, 197–202. For Ross's letters to Layard, 1847–1856, see his Letters from the East, ed. Mrs. Ross, 1902, pp. 49–272. For Layard's letters to Mrs. Ross, 1859–1862, see the index to The Fourth Generation: Reminiscences by Janet Ross, 1912 (where there is a photograph of Layard, facing p. 32).
Quarto.

38942, 38943. Layard Papers. Vols. XII, XIII (ff. 51, 50). Semi-official letters from A. H. Layard, chiefly to Sir S. Canning (see above, 38940) and Sir Henry Ellis, Principal Librarian of the British Museum, relating to the excavations carried out under their direction; 1849–1852. Copies and drafts, some autograph. Included are copies of accompts, etc. Two volumes.
Folio. Binding of 38943 limp crimson morocco.

38944. Layard Papers. Vol. XIV (ff. 61). Letters from A. H. Layard to [Maria Antoinetta Gordon,] Countess of Aboyne, afterw. (1853) Marchioness of Huntly; 1849–1861. Copies, in the hand of Lady Layard. There are three letters to the Countess's husband, the 10th Marquis of Huntly, 1853, 1854 (ff. 21b, 24, 32b). Lady Huntly was first cousin to Sir A. H. Layard, both being grandchildren of the Rev. C. P. Layard (b. 1748, d. 1803), Prebendary successively of Bangor and Worcester, and Dean of Bristol.

archaeologist; 1849–1894. Clark's letters (38945) are autograph; Layard's (38946) are type-written copies. There are no letters from Clark between 1853 and 1883. From 1852 to 1897 Clark administered the Dowlais estate and ironworks, co. Glamorgan, for the Guest family, of which Lady Layard was a member. He published, in 1884, Medieval Military Architecture in England. Two volumes.
Duodecimo and quarto.

38947. Layard Papers. Vol. XVII (ff. 58). Letters (34) from Charles Dickens to A. H. Layard, 1851–1869. Holograph. Six of these are printed in Dickens's Letters, 1880–1882 (see indices to vols. ii and iii). Preceded (ff. 1–5) by two letters from Miss Hogarth, joint-editress of the volumes referred to, 1879, 1881 (complementary to 38939, ff. 5–11).
Octavo.

38948. Layard Papers. Vol. XVIII (ff. 132). Letters from A. H. Layard to his maternal uncle, Benjamin Austen, solicitor (d. 1861), and his aunt by marriage, Mrs. Sara Austen (d. 1888); 1852–1868. Type-written copies. Extracts from many of these letters are printed in Layard's Autobiography, 1903, which includes others supplementary to them. For an account of the Austens and their intimacy with Disraeli in his early life see Layard's article in the Quarterly Review, Jan. 1889, the original of which is now 39049, ff. 93–185; for much of the Austen-Disraeli correspondence and a criticism of the above account see Monypenny and Buckle, Life of Disraeli, vol. i, 1910, passim; for a letter of W. F. Monypenny to Lady Layard, 1908, referring to this volume, see below, 39100, f. 331.

(1874), Permanent Under-Secretary for Foreign Affairs (1854–1873): 1861–1890. Mostly autograph. Layard writes of this correspondence on 6 June, 1881 (38961, f. 305):—"You have been my only correspondent to whom I have written fully and freely for many years past, and my letters to you, as I keep no journal, contain the only record of my life during that time."

38951. Vol. XXI (ff. 244). 1861–27 Jan. 1863.
38952. Vol. XXII (ff. 200). 28 Jan. 1863–13 Sept. 1864.
38953. Vol. XXIII (ff. 205). 14 Sept. 1864–18 Nov. 1865.
38954. Vol. XXIV (ff. 274). 19 Nov. 1865–17 Nov. 1875.
38955. Vol. XXV (ff. 217). 30 Nov. 1875–19 Dec. 1877.
38956. Vol. XXVI (ff. 201). 1878.
38957. Vol. XXVII (ff. 223). 1879–17 Aug. 1881.
38958. Vol. XXVIII (ff. 227). 12 Sept. 1881–12 May, 1890.

38959. Vol. XXIX (ff. 201). 1862–11 Nov. 1865.
38960. Vol. XXX (ff. 339). 16 Nov. 1865–27 Dec. 1871.
38961. Vol. XXXI (ff. 379). 1872–1885.
38962. Vol. XXXII (ff. 102). 1879–1881.

The last volume consists of copies (type-written by Lady Layard) of letters in Vol. XXXI.

38963–38968. Layard Papers. Vols. XXXIII–XXXVIII. Correspondence of Sir A. H. Layard with G. Morelli, Italian patriot and art critic (b. 1816, d. 1891), who wrote under the pseudonym of Ivan Lermolieff; 1863–1891. Autograph. Fr. and Ital. Notices of Morelli's life and theories are given by Dr. G. Frizzoni in his German and Italian editions of Morelli's Kunstkritische Studien über Italienische Malerei, 1893, 1895, and by Layard in the introduction to the translation by Miss C. J. Ffoulkes, 1892 (see also her article in Encyclop. Britann., 11th ed., 1911).

38963. Vol. XXXIII (ff. 279). 1864–1880.
38964. Vol. XXXIV (ff. 135). 1881–1884.
38965. Vol. XXXV (ff. 241). 1885–1891.

38966. Vol. XXXVI (ff. 324). 1863–1880.
38967. Vol. XXXVII (ff. 227). 1881–1885.

Viceroy of India 1876–1880, Ambassador in Paris 1887–1891; 1864–1891. Lytton's letters are autograph; Layard's, type-written copies. A letter from the Viceroy's private secretary, Lt.-Col. Owen Tudor Burne, is included in 38969 (f. 129). At the end of 38970 there is a draft of a letter from Layard to Lady Constance Lytton with an appreciation of her father, followed by a list of letters from Lytton to Layard (all of which are included in these volumes), sent to her sister, Lady Elizabeth Balfour, who printed part of the letter of 24 Dec. 1878 in her Personal and Literary Letters, 1906, ii, p. 135. Further correspondence, etc., of Layard with Lytton, the public use of which is restricted by the India Office, is contained in Add. MS. 39164 (see below). Three volumes, arranged as follows:—

38970. Vol. XL (ff. 150). 1880–1891.

Quarto and (38970) small quarto.

38971. Vol. XLI (ff. 148). 1864–1880.

38972. Layard Papers. Vol. XLII (ff. 277). Letters and a journal of Sir A. H. Layard; 1835–1893. Copies, type-written by Lady Layard.

1. Letters to Elizabeth, wife of Sir C. L. Eastlake, 1869–1893. Three other letters to her, dated Nov. 1865, are printed in Layard's Autobiography, etc., 1903, ii, pp. 230–232. For the whole correspondence between Layard and Lady Eastlake see under her name in the Index, and for extracts from her letters to him, 1868–1891, see her Journals and Correspondence, ed. C. Eastlake Smith, 1895, ii, pp. 211–302. f. 3.
2. Letters (2) to Miss Blanche Vere Guest, sister of Lady Layard, 1866. She married, in 1875, Edward Ponsonby, Viscount Duncannon, afterw. (1906) 8th Earl of Bessborough. For Layard's letters to her husband, 1879–1894, see above, 38939, ff. 101–126, and below, 39097, ff. 1–27. f. 99.
3. Journal of a tour in France, Switzerland, and N. Italy with William Brockedon, F.R.S., the painter; 2 Aug.–8 Oct. 1835. For the original MS. (mutilated in 1905—after this copy had been taken), see below, 39091. For Layard's (posthumously published) account of the tour, see his Autobiogr. etc., i, pp. 64–74. f. 104.

4. The Italian Condottieri, Jan. 1890 (Vol. 170, no. 339, art. 1). Title in Lady Layard's hand, f. 186. MS. as sent to the press. Autograph, ff. 187–190, 207–226 ; copy by Lady Layard, corrected by Sir Henry, ff. 190–206.
Folio.

39050. Layard Papers. Vol. CXX (ff. 328). Original MSS. of contributions by Sir A. H. Layard, as first President (1885–1894), to the Proceedings and Publications of the Huguenot Society of London, 1887–1893, together with drafts of, and notes for, unpublished papers, n.d. For letters to Layard from R. S. Faber, Hon. Secretary of the Society, see the Index.

1. Presidential Address to the Sixth Annual General Meeting, 14 May, 1890 (Proc., iii, p. lxxviii, ll. 1–15). MS. as sent to the press. Holograph. f. 1.
2. "The Massacre of St. Bartholomew, illustrated from State Papers in the Archives of Venice," read 12 Jan. 1887 (Proc., ii, pp. xvi–xviii, 43–105 ; also privately printed, 1888). Holograph draft (endorsement, f. 22 b). f. 3. Preceded (f. 2) by a note in pencil by Hubert [G.R.] Reade, 21 Oct. 1886, as to the sources of his paper on the same subject, read 12 May, 1886.
3. "The Revocation of the Edict of Nantes, illustrated from State Papers in the Archives of Venice," read 9 Mar. 1887 (Proc., ii, pp. xxi, xxiv, 117–153 ; also privately printed, 1888). Layard adds a note : "The MS. extracts from the State Papers now in the Archives at Venice and Florence, which have been consulted in the preparation of the foregoing Paper, have been bound together and presented by me to the Library of the Society" (ib., p. 153). Holograph draft. f. 43.
4. "The Duc de Rohan's Relations with the Republic of Venice, 1630–1637," read 11 Jan. 1893 (Proc., iv, pp. xxviii, 218–228, together with notes and summaries of letters, most of which are incorporated in the appendix (ib., pp. 228–274). Layard offered the copies of letters to the Society (ib., p. 218), but they are not in the Society's Library and the copies referred to are probably those contained in this volume. Holograph draft (notes, etc. in Lady Layard's hand, ff. 97, 98 ; list, in another hand, of MSS. on Rohan and the Huguenots in St. Mark's Library, f. 99). f. 67.

Paper; ff. iii + 89. Small quarto. XIX cent. Bookplate and stamp of Dr. Paget Toynbee, by whom 39169–39171 were presented.

39170–39171. DIVINA COMMEDIA of Dante, translated into English verse by the Rev. William Charteris: unpublished. Two volumes. The date 20 Sept. 1876 occurs in Vol. II, f. 109 b; and f. 166 b of the same volume shows that the writer was a schoolmaster in Alexandria, presumably at this period.
Paper; ff. iv + 109, i + 167. Folio. Circ. 1876. Bookplate and stamp of Dr. Paget Toynbee in each volume.

39172. "ANCIENT Earthworks in Somerset, surveyed and drawn by Edward Andrews Downman," visited and examined 1889, 1895, 1901, 1903, 1908, 1914. With brief descriptions and an introduction (f. 2) dated June, 1914, and (f. 7) a list of the plans. The names of the places are given in the Index.
Paper; ff. 77. A.D. 1914. Large oblong folio.

39173. "FABLES," by Robert Louis Stevenson. Holograph. First published in Longman's Magazine, Aug. and Sept. 1895, Vol. 26, pp. 362, 472; afterwards appended to a new edition of The Strange Case of Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde (Longmans, Green, and Co., 1896) with an introduction by Sir Sidney Colvin. The first separate edition was published in 1902. Two of the fables, "The Cart-Horse and the Saddle-Horse" and "The Tadpole and the Frog," appear to have been printed from the corrected pencil versions on f. 22 b, in preference to those in ink on ff. 23, 24. Only pencil versions exist of "The Penitent," here with no title, f. 22; "The Four Reformers,"

Digitized by Google Original from UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA

f. 22; "The Reader," f. 20; and "The Citizen and the Traveller," f. 22. The moral to "The Man and his Friend," f. 19, is omitted in the published editions. On f. 1 is a list of sixteen titles, six of which differ from the printed work, as does the order; the list is headed "Aesop in the Fog," over a cancelled heading, "The Fabulist." Drafts of some verses occur on f. 1 b: and on f. 20 b are the address of an English chemist at Hyères and some scribblings relating to music editions.

Paper; ff. 49. Folio and quarto. Stevenson sale-cat., Anderson Auction Co., New York, 24 Nov. 1914, lot 376.

39174. LECTURES on palaeography delivered at Cambridge in Oct. and Nov. 1914 by Elias Avery Loew (afterwards Lowe), Sandars Reader in Bibliography, viz.: (1) "Characteristics of the so-called National Scripts." f. 4;—(2) "Graeco-Latin Manuscripts." f. 37;—(3) "The Codex Bezae." f. 49. Typewritten copies deposited in accordance with the terms of the trust.

Paper. ff. 77. Quarto.

39175. MEDICAL Treatises, viz.:—

1. The poem De urinis of Aegidius of Corbeilles, with gloss. In 340 (chiefly hexameter) verses, against 334 of Royal MS. 12 D. xiii, art. 9, and 352 of Choulant's edition (Aegidii Corboliensis Carmina, Leipzig, 1826). The present copy is carelessly written (see f. 10, where l. 48 of the printed edition is written a second time instead of l. 49, although accompanied by the gloss on the latter). The glosses agree substantially with those in 12 D. xiii. Text beg. "Dicitur urina quoniam fit renibus una"; the ending is that of the printed edition, with the mistake of "castra" for "casta" in the penultimate line. Commentary beg. "Urina dicitur in renibus una quia ibi formatur generaliter." f. 2.
2. A series of notes, chiefly on urines; cf. 12 D. xiii, art. 14. Beg. "Sicut sunt quatuor qualitates . . ." Followed (f. 56b) by recipes against scrofula. f. 53b.
3. Rules relating to medicine, beg. "Hi sunt canones et regullae de modo componendi receptas." f. 57.
4. "Tractatus de modo doxandi," containing lists of medicines, etc., followed by rules. Beg. "Medicine tenperate—aurum." f. 60b.
5. Miscellaneous recipes. f. 70b.

Paper; ff. i + 76. $7\frac{3}{4}$ in. × $5\frac{5}{8}$ in. Late xv cent. Written in Italy, and formerly bound with two medical tracts printed at Padua in 1487 (now IA 30029 and 30030A in the Department of Printed Books).

39177. MISCELLANEOUS treatises, viz.:—

1. The "Academ Roial" of Edmund Bolton. Holograph. Other versions of this work are in Harley MSS. 6103 and 6143. A full account of this MS., which seems to be the latest, and to be the actual copy prepared for King Charles I (but presented after 1630, if at all, see addition on f. 2b) is given by Joseph Hunter in Archaeologia, xxxii (1847), pp. 132–149 (see especially p. 134, foot-note b). The proposed device and arms of the academy are painted in the margins of ff. 6, 6b, and the list of suggested members is at f. 7b. f. 1b.
2. Arms, in trick, of twelve peers created 8–14 James I. f. 10 (inserted leaf).
3. Part of Robert Cooke's Baronage (see Harley MS. 214, etc.) from Edgar Atheling to Hugh Courtney. The blazon only of the arms is written (on blank escutcheons), and this is sometimes omitted. Followed by a modern index by George Burrell, of Thetford (see note, f. iii b). f. 11.
4. Genealogical tables, with arms in trick, beginning with the Kings of England from Edward III to Charles I. The pedigrees of English peers, which follow, agree in the main with Harley MS. 1529 and Stowe MS. 599, the latter of which also belonged to Sylvanus Morgan; all these MSS. appear to be based on a work (compiled about 1587 ?) entitled "Baronagium Angliae," of which several copies exist (Harley MSS. 806, 1160, etc.). The present compilation seems to have been made at various dates between the years 1591 (see f. 67b) and 1605, and includes nearly all peers of the degree of earl or higher at that period. The names of the families are given in the Index. Additions to this portion are chiefly in two hands, one of about 1635 (e.g. f. 64b), the other (e.g. f. 69b, entry dated 1644) that of Sylvanus Morgan. On ff. 94–114b are continuations and additional pedigrees for new creations to about 1639, in the hand, except for a few additions, of Richard Mundy, by whom Harley MSS. 1529–1577 were chiefly compiled. f. 63b.

Paper; ff. iii + 114. Quarto. XVII cent. Belonged to Sylvanus Morgan (d. 1693), whose signature and motto are on f. i and initials are on the covers; afterwards to George Ashby, Rector of Barrow, co. Suff.; to George Bird Burrell, of Thetford (two of whose book-plates are on f. i), see his note on f. 9; and to Edmund Henry Barker, who gave it in 1828 (see his note on f. iii) to the Rev. Joseph Hunter, F.S.A., whose book-plate of arms is on f. iii (sale-cat., Sotheby's, 1861, lot 290). On f. 8b is pasted a cutting from Sir Walter Raleigh's History of the World, pt. i, bk. ii, ch. 7, § 3.

A. Map of the coast of India from Bombay to Gujerat, by Andrew Welch, 1677. 3 ft. 2 in. × 1 ft. 7⅝ in.

B. "A draught of the Malabar Coast," by the above Andrew Welch, 1677. 3 ft. 8 in. × 1 ft. 9 in.

C. Map of the coast of Pegu and Tenaserey [Tenasserim] with the neighbouring islands on the scale of 8 leagues to an inch, by John Thornton, at the Platt in the Minories, 1688. 3 ft. 6½ in. × 1ft. 8⅛ in.

D. Map of the port of Achean, Sumatra, with the islands of Pulloway, etc., on the scale of 2 miles to an inch, by John Thornton, 1688, practically identical with the map by Capt. John Kempthorne in Sloane MS. 3665, ff. 39b, 40. 1 ft. 7 in. × 1 ft. ⅜ in.

39179 A–D. AUTOBIOGRAPHY of Sir Henry Taylor, K.C.M.G., poet, author of "Philip van Artevelde." Hologr. draft. Printed privately, 1877. Published, 1885, in two vols., of which the first covers the present MS., but with considerable additions, omissions and other changes. At f. 1 of part C is a note by Julia M. Cameron, photographer, wife of C. H. Cameron, and close friend of Taylor, followed by photographs of medals won by her at Berlin, 1865, 1868, and Southampton, 1866. In her hand also is a transcript of Taylor's letter to J. G. Lockhart on the character of Van Artevelde, written just before the publication of that drama, 28 Apr. 1834 (printed partly in Taylor's Correspondence, ed. E. Dowden, 1888, p. 50), B, f. 76b reversed. A passage in another hand is at D, f. 10b. Four volumes.

Paper; ff. 96, 77, 61, 81. Quarto. Begun Mar. 1865, resumed Aug. 1872 (see A, ff. 2, 84).

Presented by Miss Una Taylor.

39180. "RADAMISTO": opera, in score, by Handel [1720]. For a copy in J. Christopher Smith's hand, see Add. MS. 31562.

Paper ; ff. 175. xviii cent. Folio. Belonged successively to [Charles] John Stanley (bookplate of arms, with signature), [James] Bartleman, and [Rev.] E[dward] Goddard.
Presented by W. Barclay Squire, Esq.

39181. Plan (with sketches) of Alexandria and its defences in 1801, copied by Lieut. Oliver Mills [Captain in 1804, Major in 1814] for his friend Dean Bond [Wensley Bond, Dean of Ross ?], "from the original enclosed to [John Hely-Hutchinson,] Lord Hutchinson [2nd Earl of Donoughmore 1825]."
Paper ; 2 ft. 5¼ in. × 1 ft. 9½ ins. Circ. 1801.

39182. Five Leaves from the original MS. of The Posthumous Papers of the Pickwick Club, by Charles Dickens [1836–7] ; containing the account of the shooting-party luncheon, at which Sam Weller relates the pieman's story, and Pickwick takes too much punch.
Paper ; ff. ii + 6. Quarto. Belonged to Richard Carbery from 1837 (?) to 1870, when it appears to have been purchased by A. J. Lewis. Purchased at the Red Cross sale at Christie's, April 1915 (lot 1550) and presented by Dame Alice Sedgwick Wernher, now Lady Ludlow.

39183. Three Letters from Ensign James Butler to his elder brother William, father of Dr. Samuel Butler, Bishop of Lichfield. The letters are in journal form, written mostly on the voyage to India, and dated 4 Mar. 1764, 4 Apr. 1764, and 21 Jan. 1765 (the journal ending with his arrival at Calcutta, 23 Sept. 1764). Copies, the latter part (from f. 17) in the same hand as the duplicate copies of the second and third letters contained in Add. MS. 34583 (ff. 3, 11), in which there is added a fourth letter (f. 33). An introductory note on f. 2 by Samuel Butler, author of Erewhon, describes the letters as copied "I presume by my great great aunt Deborah or her sisters," but a fuller account of the different copies is given in a memorandum by Mr. Festing Jones on ff. 74–76.
Paper ; ff. 76. Late xviii cent. Duodecimo. Half-bound in Niger morocco.
Presented by Henry Festing Jones, Esq.

39184. Castrations of Holinshed's Chronicle, ed. 1587, printed, with MS. notes by Francis Thynne. By an order of the Privy Council (1 Feb. 1586–7, Lord Cobham attending) the recently published second edition of Holinshed was ordered to be examined "for as much as the same booke doth allso conteyne reporte of matters of later yeeres that concern the State and are not therefore meete to be published in such sorte as they are delyuered . . . the rather allso for that ther is inserted such mention of matter touching the King of Scottes as may give him cause of offence" (Acts of the Privy Council, 1586–1587, p. 311). The matter chiefly affected by this order was Thynne's Annals of Scotland, but the condemnation seems to have been extended to all his contributions in vols. ii, iii. The present collection covers all the castrations. It contains from vol. ii, pp. 405–464 (ff. 2–23b), minus the castrations (pp. 421–4, 433–6, 443–50), which follow (ff. 24–31b); from vol. iii, pp. 1419–1538 (Thynne's Discourse of the Earls of Leicester, John Stow's Annals, 1585–1586, Thynne's Lives of the Archbishops of Canterbury, Treatise on the Cobhams, Catalogue of the Lord Wardens of the Cinque Ports) and (added in a hand of circ. 1700) a transcript of pp. 1556–1559, which were not included in the castrations (ff. 34–95b). The excerpts from vol. i are headed in a late 17th cent. hand "Castrations of Holinshed" (f. 1), and the same hand heads the excerpts from vol. iii (f. 32) "Qn. Eliz. An: Reg. 27—Begins p. 1419—ends 1538 wth MS. Notes and MS. Verses out of Bridges book." This last reference, no doubt, is to the uncastrated copy of Holinshed, which (according to Hearne, Diary, vol. lxxiv, p. 240) was in the possession of [?John] Bridges, [the historian of Northamptonshire (1666–1724)], cf. F. J. Furnivall, Thynne's Animadversions, E.E.T.S., 1875, p. lxxxi, note 1. Thynne's formal withdrawal of a statement in ii, p. 443 about the Earl of Shrewsbury is in Egerton MS. 2124, f. 69 ("Althoughe the same be already w^th^drawne in most of the bookes and onely remayneth in some fewe wch only weare dispersed before therror was sene").

Occasional notes by Thynne occur throughout in the margins and interlined, but the main body of his corrections and additions is concentrated on the treatise on the Cobhams (f. 74). The history of this treatise is now clear. The first collections on the Cobhams are in Cotton MS. Faustina E. viii, f. 39 (1581). These were extended into the treatise as incorporated in Holinshed in 1587. On the castrated sheets Thynne made his corrections and amplifications. From these corrected sheets a new draft of the treatise was made, with fresh additions and arms in tincture (Add. MS. 12514, f. 56), probably in 1597. A presentation copy of the finished work was dedicated to Henry Brooke, Lord Cobham, 20 Dec. 1598 (Add. MS. 37666).

Paper; ff. 95. Folio. Circ. 1587–1597. Transferred from the Department of Printed Books.

39185. INDEX by Joseph Foster, hon. M.A. Oxon., to the Arms and Monuments in Kentish churches mentioned in Add. MS. 5479, which is a copy by Edward Hasted of a MS. by John Philipott, Somerset Herald, now in the possession of the present donor. For baronetcy in 1811. Much of his correspondence is from his agent in Edinburgh, William Mackenzie, W.S., son and successor of Alexander Mackenzie, W.S. Included are various returns of the 78th Regt. of Foot (1801–1807) of which John Randoll Mackenzie of Suddie was Lieut.-Colonel (ff. 5, 19, 23, 30, 32, 37, 43, 60).

39193. Mackenzie Papers. Vol. VII (ff. 277). Further correspondence of Sir James Wemyss Mackenzie, 5th Bart. of Scatwell. On his death in 1843 he was succeeded by his son Sir James John Randoll Mackenzie, to whom the rest of the correspondence is principally addressed. 1821–1847.

39194. Mackenzie Papers. Vol. VIII (ff. 341). Correspondence of Sir James John Randoll Mackenzie, 6th Bart. of Scatwell, and of his heirs of entail, descendants of Colin Mackenzie, 2nd son of Sir Lewis Mackenzie, 3rd Bart. of Scatwell. Much of it refers to the disentail of Sir James's property. 1848–1893.

39195–39199. Mackenzie Papers. Vols. IX–XIII. Correspondence and papers. of Maj.-Gen. John Randoll Mackenzie, M.P., of Suddie; 1779–1811. He joined the Marines as Lieutenant in 1779, received a captaincy in the 78th Regiment of Foot when raised by Lord Seaforth in 1793, accompanied the regiment to the Cape and to India, from which he got leave in Oct. 1801. As Brig.-Gen. he was appointed in Sept. 1804 to the command of the militia in the five Northern Counties of Scotland, transferred to Alderney Aug.–Oct. 1806, then to Dunbar. On 25 Apr. 1808 he became Major-General and embarked on 9 Oct. for Spain in command of a brigade under Sir David Baird. For the brief period between the departure of Sir Harry Burrard and the arrival of Sir John Cradock he commanded the forces in Portugal, led the expedition to Cadiz in Feb. 1809, and fell at Talavera 28 July of that year. Vols. IX–XI are chiefly correspondence with officers of the 78th Regt. [Rossshire Buffs] and militia officers in Scotland. In Vol. XII (ff. 59–63) are several letters about the unsuccessful expedition to Egypt in 1807. Vol. XIII contains the Peninsular War correspondence and some posthumous papers.

39195. Vol. IX (ff. 233). 1779–28 Sept. 1804.
39196. Vol. X (ff. 223). 3 Oct. 1804–29 May, 1805.
39197. Vol. XI (ff. 219). 1 June, 1805–25 Sept. 1806.
39198. Vol. XII (ff. 214). 6 Oct. 1806–Sept. 1808.
39199. Vol. XIII (ff. 213). 3 Oct. 1808–6 June, 1811.

4. Letters from a young traveller to his father ; 16 Apr. 1638 and n.d. Fr. f. 43.
5. Puzzles and games with cards and abacus. Fr., Germ., Ital. f. 48.
6. " Plusieurs lettres par lesquels on donne advis du (sic) plusieurs choses à eux (sic) avec lesquels on a quelque correspondance " (probably formularies). f. 62.
7. Songs, mainly amorous and comic, in Fr., Germ., and Ital. f. 70.

Paper ; ff. 78. $7\frac{1}{2} \times 5\frac{1}{2}$ in. XVII cent. Vellum cover, stamped front (f. 1) with arms of the city of Amsterdam, 1633, and back (f. 78) with trademark of the " Beurs tot Amsterdam."
Transferred from the Department of Prints and Drawings (Schreiber collection).

39215. ROBERT POCOCK'S History of . . . Gravesend and Milton (1797) : typed copy of MS. notes for a second edition, written in the hand of the author in an interleaved copy of the work in the possession of the Gravesend Public Library. The pencil references on the upper margin of each leaf are to the pages of the printed book. The date of the writing of the notes is presumably about 1823 (see " now 1823 " on ff. 63, 110).
Paper ; ff. 114. A. D. 1915. Octavo.

39216, 39217. POEMS and Essay on Mary, Queen of Scots, by Algernon Charles Swinburne. Autograph. Two Volumes. Octavo and folio.
Bequeathed by Miss Isabel Swinburne, sister of the poet.

39216. Vol. I (ff. 109). " A Century of Roundels " ; the corrected MS. as sent to the printer. According to a cancelled note on f. 50b twenty of the roundels were written by 6 Feb. [1883], four more by the 9th, and three more by the 10th of the same month. The two roundels on " A Baby's Death, i, ii," have cancelled dates, respectively " Jan. 26, 1883 " (f. 45) and " In bed, night of Jan. 26 " (f. 46).
Preceded (f. 1) by a roundel, headed " Sairey Gamp's Roundel," beg. " A baby's thumb, the little duck's," included in a fragment of a letter to [Miss Isabel Swinburne], beg. " My dearest Abba. The preceding burst of lyric song, in Sairey's very best handwriting, was composed by that lady a day or two ago while dredging, and wrote down faithful before breakfast; which she do hope it may give satigefaction to Mrs. Harris—whose Eavenly dispogician is wellbeknown—and her family circle." Dated: "The Pines, Feb. 19. 83." Printed in Posthumous Poems, 1917, p. 142.

Paper. Octavo; ff. 109. The roundels are written on half-sheets of notepaper, sometimes with the printed heading: "The Pines, Putney Hill, S.W." Purple calf binding, gilt-tooled, inscribed: "I.S. from A.C.S."

39217. Vol. II (ff. 135). Poems, chiefly of the period 1878–1904, a number of school compositions and the Essay on Mary, Queen of Scots. Mainly autograph.

1. School compositions. Swinburne was at Eton from 1849–1853. (a) Latin elegiacs on "Arminius." The tutor has noted at the end "Writing improved" (f. 2b). f. 1;—(b) "The triumph of Gloriana, or the Temple of Loyalty. On the Queen's visit to Eton." A long poem, in heroic couplets, beg "What Muse shall boldly raise a humble lay." Printed (privately) in the Triumph of Gloriana, ed. E. Gosse, 1916. f. 3;—(c) English Essay on the theme:

   Nullum numen habes si sit prudentia; nos te

   f. 11;—(d) French exercises. f. 15.
2. "On the Death of Sir John Franklin." This appears to be the MS. from which the poem was privately printed by E. Gosse, The Death of Sir John Franklin, 1916. It was afterwards included by the same editor in the Posthumous Poems, 1917, p. 75. The poem (which is not in Swinburne's hand) was enclosed in an envelope (f. 20) endorsed (in a contemporary hand) "Admiral Swinburne" and (in a later hand) "Algernon C. Swinburne's poem on the death of Sir John Franklin for the Newdigate 1859–60?" On the basis of this last inscription Mr. Gosse printed the poem as Swinburne's composition for the Newdigate Prize, for which he entered in 1858, the set subject being "The Discovery of the North-West Passage." This poem, however, appears to have been lost and a correspondence in the Literary Supplement of The Times, 1917, 19 July–6 Sept., pp. 345, 357, 369, 393, 429, between Mr. Gosse, F. L. Latham (the successful competitor for the Newdigate, 1858) and Mrs. M. J. C. Leith makes it certain that the present poem is the one referred to in two letters from Swinburne to his mother (dated "Navestock, Ash Wednesday, [22 Feb.], 11 Mar. 1860") printed in Disney Leith, The Boyhood of A. C. Swinburne, 1917, pp. 52, 53 : "You may have seen in the Guardian that there is a prize at Oxford of £50 (I think) for a poem on the subject of Sir John Franklin and the late discoveries. I have written for it . . . it didn't take two mornings' work." It appears from these letters that there were three copies of the poem : the original in Swinburne's hand (now in the possession of Mrs. Disney Leith, op. cit., p. 52 note), the copy prepared for the examiners and one sent to his mother. The present copy (which has corrections here and there) may be the one last named. It appears, at least, to have been continuously in the hands of the family. f. 21.

3. Early poems : (a) "Echo" : a lyric (six 8-line stanzas) beg. "In the dusk of starlit hours." A cancelled beginning is on f. 28b (reversed) Watermark 1851. Printed in Posthumous Poems, p. 87, as belonging to the Oxford period. f. 27 ;—(b) "Ode to Mazzini" : irregular ode (17 stanzas), printed in Posth. Poems, p. 167. A fragmentary earlier copy, found among Swinburne's effects after his death, has been printed by E. Gosse, Boston Bibliophile Society Publications, No. 27, 1913, p. 13. On internal evidence Mr. Gosse assigns the composition to 1857, and suggests that the present copy may have been made later (?1860). f. 29.
4. "Les Enfants Pauvres," with the original by V. Hugo. Dated "Feb. 13/70." Printed in Poems and Ballads, Sec. Series, 1878, p. 225 ("From Victor Hugo"). f. 39.
5. Poems printed in Tristram of Lyonesse, 1882 :—(a) "Seven Years Old," p. 253. Signed : "A. C. S., Jan. 20th, 1881. For the seventh birthday of H. W. M. (a chick !) Feb. 4th." f. 40 ;—(b) [A Child's Pity], p. 262. Signed : "A. C. S. to H. W. M." f. 42 ;—(c) "A Child's Thanks," p. 266. Signed : "A. C. Swinburne. Dec. 7th, 1881." f. 44.
6. "A Baby's Death, i–vii." Printed in A Century of Roundels, 1883. A second copy of nos. ii–iv, originally numbered i–iii follows (f. 48). f. 45.
7. Poems printed in A Midsummer Holiday, 1884 : (a) "A Ballad of Sark," p. 86. f. 49 ;—(b) "After a Reading," p. 51. f. 53 ;—(c) "Maytime in Midwinter," p. 100. Two alternative titles "Thanksgiving" and "Springtide in Winter" are cancelled. f. 53 ;—(d) "A double ballad of August (1884)," p. 105. f. 54 ;—(e) "Heartsease Country. To Isabel Swinburne," p. 109. Two copies, one (f. 56) the original draft, with corrections, as sent to the printer, the other (f. 58) a fair copy ; —(f) "A Ballad of Appeal. To Christina G. Rossetti," p. 112. f. 60;—(g) "Cradle Songs (to a tune of Blake's)," i–vii, p. 115. f. 62.

8. Poems printed in Poems and Ballads, Third Series, 1889:—(a) "Baby-Bird," p. 88. Dated "Sept. 13th, 1888." f. 65;—(b) "A Baby's Epitaph," p. 118. Two copies, the first signed and dated: "April 1885." f. 67.

9. Poem, without title, printed in Astrophel, 1894, p. 184, as "Epicede." With cancelled draft of stanza 5. First printed in The Nineteenth Century, March, 1894, p. 523. f. 69.

10. Poems printed in A Channel Passage, 1904: (a) "The High Oaks. Barking Hall, July 19th, 1896," p. 73. Two copies, the first the author's autograph draft, with corrections, the second the copy for the printer in another hand, only stanzas 6 (ll. 4–9), 11, 12, and an occasional correction being autograph. First printed in The Nineteenth Century, Sept. 1896, p. 341. ff. 71, 76;—(b) "Barking Hall: A Year After. A sequel to 'The High Oaks,'" p. 80. Signed. f. 81.

11. Two translations, in verse (beg. "Day of wrath, the years are keeping") and prose, of the Dies Irae. Printed in Posth. Poems, p, 89. f. 29.

12. Article on Mary, Queen of Scots, written for the 9th edition of the Encyclopaedia Britannica, and printed in that and subsequent editions. See a note in the 11th edition, xiv. p. 817, where an extract is given from a letter dated 4 Apr. 1882, in which Swinburne speaks of the gratification afforded to him by such a commission to one of his "idle trade." f. 87. Paper (many of the poems are written on blue paper, as is also the case with the original MSS. of Laus Veneris, Dolores and A Word for the Navy, cf. T. J. Wise, A Bibliographical List, pp. 30, 42, 67); ff. 135.

The following Nos., 39218–39252, were presented by Mrs. Edmond Robert Wodehouse with a number of charters (Add. Ch. 59797–61129).

I. Leaf from Psalter: Pss. xlii. 2–xlix. 13; 15th cent. f. 33. On the margins and other blank spaces are various 16th cent. entries and memoranda relating to the manors of Ryburgh and Gately, co. Norf.; transcripts of these have been placed with the volumes to which the covers belonged.
Vellum; ff. 33. Folio.

39233. Wodehouse Papers. Vol. XVI. Thomas Buttes's rental of Great Ryburgh and Woodhall in Little Ryburgh; 1572, 1578, 1580. On f. 21b are "Twelue poyntes to chuse a wyfe by," followed by a rhyming epitaph on the possessor of them and a metrical version of the Lord's Prayer, being an acrostic of the name Thomas Buttes; calligraphically written, with ornamental initials inscribed TB. On f. 41b are moral verses: "Soyes sage, et simple. Be wyse, and playne," followed by lines on a good life, being another acrostic on the name of Thomas Buttes. The vellum fly-leaves have been removed and form part of Add. MS. 39232.
Vellum; ff. ii + 70. Folio.

39234. Wodehouse Papers. Vol. XVII. M—— [? Mary, daughter of Sir Edmund, 6th Bart.] Bacon's book of accompts with tenants of Great Ryburgh Manor and its members; 1774–1804, 1817. The accompts for 1817 (ff. 86b–88b), in another hand, probably belong to Edmund Wodehouse, who purchased the property in 1814.
Paper; ff. 89. Quarto.

39235. Wodehouse Papers. Vol. XVIII. Statutes, etc., of the Royal Collegiate Chapel of St. George at Windsor. Mainly in Latin. The arrangement of the book has evidently been altered. Ff. 50, 45–49 originally preceded art. 1, as is shown by the worm-holes, as well as by a note on f. 39b. Contents:—

1. "[F]undacio": the charter of Edward III incorporating the College, 6 Aug. 1348. Printed in Dugdale's Monasticon (1830) vi, p. 1354, cf. Cal. Pat. Rolls, Edward III, viii, p. 144. A later copy is in Harley MS. 564, f. 1. f. 1.
2. "[S]tatututa" [sic, colophon]: the ordinances made under papal and royal authority by William [Edington], Bishop of Winchester, 30 Nov. 1352. Followed (f. 22b) by forms of admission, here made out in the name of John Arundell, who was Warden or Dean from 1417 to 1452, and (f. 24) by two tables of chapter-headings for the statutes. In Harley MS. 564, in which the statutes begin at f. 4, these forms are in the name of J[ohn] F[aux], Dean 1462–1470, and in Cotton MS. Vespasian F. ix (statutes beg. f. 2) in the name of A[nthony] M[aney], Dean 1612–1618. The bull of Clement VI, 30 Nov. 1350, which is recited by Edington, is printed in Monasticon, vi, p. 1355. f. 3. Between arts. 2 and 3 are inserted in later hands (a) Bull of Sixtus IV, 22 July, 1475, empowering the Bishop of Salisbury at the request of the College to make new statutes. f. 26b;—(b) "Exposicio dubiorum verborum iuris Anglie": explanation of soke, sake, etc. f. 23b.

3. "Hic incipiunt iniuncciones": injunctions made by John [Kemp], Archbishop of York and Papal Legate, following upon a visitation of the College made by him as Chancellor, 22 May, 1430. Dated 22 Feb. 143½. Followed (f. 39) by a "breue regium de eisdem obseruandis," 22 Feb. 1432, and (f. 40) a table of chapter-headings for the injunctions. f. 29. At the end of the King's letter, and before the table of chapters, is a note in another hand: "Require alias litteras regias executorias super isto breui sub signeto factas et decano ac capitulo capelle predicte transmissas exequendas et in omnibus perimplendas in incepcione istius libri descriptas," referring to art. 11, now bound at the end of the volume (f. 46). This is followed in an early 16th cent. hand by the form of the oath in English taken by [Thomas Howard,] Lord Howard, [Thomas West, 8th] Lord Delawarr, and Sir Henry Marny on admission as Knights of the Garter, 28 Apr., 2 Hen. VIII [1510]. f. 39b.

Arts. 4, 5 are in a different, but nearly contemporary, hand.

4. "Honesta constitucio et ordinacio congrua pro refrenandis discordiis ministrorum collegii": ordinances by John Arundell and the Chapter for imposing fines on vicars and clerks guilty of abusive language or assault; n. d. f. 41.

5. Bull of dispensation by Clement VI, 31 Dec. 1350, allowing the Warden of the College to hold one other benefice. The preamble agrees with that of art. 6. f. 42.

6. Bull of Clement VI, 12 Feb. 135⁰⁄₁, giving the College exemption from ordinary episcopal jurisdiction. Printed in Monasticon, vi, p. 1355. f. 42b.

7. Incomplete transcript of bull of Eugenius [IV], dispensing the Warden and Canons from residence in other benefices which they may hold. The date is missing [1431–1447]. f. 43b.

8. Declaration in English by John [Kemp], Archbishop of York and Chancellor, explaining ch. 39 of the statutes, made at the time of his visitation (1430, see art. 3). Beg. "Sires as I am enformed ye are in doute." f. 44b.

Arts. 9–13 originally preceded art. 1. They are in different hands, art. 11 alone being possibly in the same hand as arts. 1–3, 6 and 8.

9. "Carta per quam oblaciones capelle et lasta allecis dantur canonicis residentibus et non aliis": inspeximus and confirmation by Henry VI of a confirmation (dated 3 Nov. 1399) by Henry IV of a charter (dated 16 Oct. 1393) of Richard II, giving to resident Canons only the right to share in the offerings in the Chapel of Windsor and the gift of herrings from Great Yarmouth (see art. 10). Dated 14 Feb. 1439. Attested by John Brokholes and Richard Sturgeon, clerks. f. 45.

10. "Carta de communitate ville Magne Iernemuth pro allece": grant by the Bailiffs and Commonalty of Great Yarmouth, co. Norf., to the Warden and College of a last of dry and well-cleaned red herrings every St. Andrew's Day [30 Nov.]. Dated 1 Apr. 26 Edw. III [1332]. f. 45b.
At the foot of this is an omitted passage belonging to art. 12, "inferius addatur folio 4° ad hoc signum," i.e. on f. 49.

11. "By the King": letter of Henry VI to the Warden, or Dean, and Canons, in English, under the signet, to observe the statutes and injunctions. Dated 24 July, s.a. [1432?]. f. 46.

12. "Ordinacio facta per Decanum et assensum Collegii . . . vt omnes et singuli vicarii eiusdem Collegii taliter eos gubernent infra aulam eis assignatam ut inferius patet": regulations for the commons, battels, behaviour and duties, etc., of the Vicars; n.d. f. 46b.

13. "Ordinaciones et moniciones facte per reuerendum dominum dominum Ricardum Kyngeston Decanum siue Custodem Capelle supradicte omnibus et singulis vicariis infra Collegium ibidem in pleno capitulo declarate in crastino Quasimodo geniti anno domini millesimo cccc^mo xiii^o". f. 49.

Ff. 50, 51 were both originally attached to the covers. F. 50b, which stood at the beginning of the volume, contains in a 16th cent. hand the form of the English oath "takyn byfore admyttyng any to the college, for renownsing thautoritie of the bushop of Rome"; n.d. [circ. 1535?]. The last leaf, f. 51, contains in a late 15th cent. hand a record of a new statutory provision for the terms of Canons' residence made by Richard [Beauchamp], Bishop of Salisbury and Dean of Windsor, 15 Mar. 147$\frac{8}{9}$.

Vellum; ff. 51. 11$\frac{1}{8}$ in. × 7$\frac{3}{8}$ in. xv cent. (1432–1452?) Initials coarsely illuminated. Probably belonged to George Carew, D.D., Dean of Windsor (1568–1572, afterwards of Exeter, d. 1583), since the name of Mary Carewe is scribbled on f. 50b, and those of Mary Dowrishe and Walter Dorishe are on f. 45, and according to the Devonshire visitation of 1620 (Harleian Soc. vi, p. 93) Walter Dowrish m. Mary, sister of the Lord Carew [George, afterwards Earl of Totnes] and therefore daughter of the Dean. Its later history is uncertain, but the name Thomas Madoces is scribbled (16th–17th cent.) on f. 45, as are also the initials (17th–18th cent.) R. B. On f. 1 is a note by Francis Blomefield, the Norfolk historian, that he copied the charters on ff. 45, 45b "in Libro Extractorum, anno 1782." Rough calf binding, 18th cent., formerly falsely labelled "Statutes of the Garter."

39236. Wodehouse Papers. Vol. XIX. Ranulph Higden, Polychronicon. The continuation (from 1342 to 1376) is that which is printed in the Rolls Series edition of Higden (ed. C. Babington and J. R. Lumby, 1865–1886) vii, pp. 407–428, from the Caius College, Cambridge, MS. 82. It ends "sermonibus predicantes." The text of Higden in the two MSS. is also similar, both being derived from an exemplar in which many words were illegible, but this MS. is not a copy of the Caius MS. Title, "Policronicon." Beg. "Post preclaros arcium scriptores." At the end are additions, whereof (a) is in an early 16th cent. hand, the rest are probably of the late 15th cent., viz. (a) List of Popes to Julius II [1503–1513], with date and length of pontificate added for the first fifteen only. f. 138;—(b) Genealogical table of the kinsmen of Christ from Ysacar and Nazaphat. f. 140b;—(c) Index to names in the Polychronicon, roughly alphabetical. f. 141;—(d) Genealogical table of the descent of Henry VI of England from Louis IX of France. f. 147b.
Paper. ff. i + 147. 11¾ in. × 8 in. For the water-marks cf. Bricquet, Les Filigranes, nos. 3528, 9478, 12995, and for those in the tables at the end Beazley Collection (Add. MS. 38637) nos. 351, 409. Middle of the xv cent. Double columns. Sec. fol. "-tensis episcopus." Initials in red. Note of ownership (19th cent.) of Edmond Wodehouse (f. 1), and on f. 1 a note that the MS. was examined by F[rancis] B[lomefield] in 1742. Rough calf binding, 18th cent.

39237. Wodehouse Papers. Vol. XX. "The Calidonian Forrest," a poem. Beg. "Whilome devided from ye mayne land stood"; ends "Whome it arisinge from the seas deterrs." Another copy is in Harley MS. 6920, ff. 1–22, without title; and three other MS. copies are mentioned in Hist. Manuscripts Comm. 1*st Report*, Appendix, pp. 13, 42, 61, as at Kimbolton

EGERTON MANUSCRIPTS

ACQUIRED IN THE YEARS

1911–1915.

Acquired in 1911.

Eg. 2890. Sermons, in Latin, by Odo of Cheriton (d. 1247), viz.:—

1. "Incipiunt euangelia dominicalia iuxta expositionem magistri Odonis Anglici": fifty-nine sermons on the Gospels for Sundays from Advent to the 25th Sunday after Pentecost, together with Christmas (ff. 10, 13, 14b, three sermons), Ash Wednesday (f. 30), Easter Monday (f. 67b), Lesser Litany (f. 80), and Ascension (ff. 82, 84, two sermons). These correspond to the list of 66 sermons drawn up by Hervieux from five Paris MSS., two of which have colophons stating that the collection was completed in 1219 (L. Hervieux, Eudes de Cheriton et ses dérivés, 1896, pp. 19, 118, forming vol. iv. of his Fabulistes Latins), except for the omission of the sermons for the feasts of St. Stephen, St. John, Innocents, Circumcision, Epiphany, Purification of the Virgin, Maundy Thursday, and Good Friday (the first six of which are here classed with the Sermones de Festis, see below art 2, sermons i–vi), and for the inclusion (ff. 44–64b) of a long discourse on the Passion. This last, placed between the sermons for Passion Sunday and Easter, and apparently intended for Wednesday in Holy Week, is headed "Passio domini nostri Jesu Christi secundum Lucham" and beg. "Appropinquabat autem dies festus azimorum. . . Notandum quod facies uituli competenter Luche evangeliste adaptatur"; it is evidently the same work (lacking the prologue) as the "Tractatus de Passione" attributed to Odo, and found, in conjunction with his Sermons on the Sunday Gospels, in the Paris MS., Bibl. Nat., lat. 16506, and MS. 38 of Balliol College, Oxford (Hervieux, pp. 134, 140). As compared with the 69 sermons in Arundel MS. 231, which are attributed there to Odo jointly with Jean d'Abbeville and Roger of Sarum (Hervieux, pp. 136–139; Cat. of Romances, iii, pp. 57–78), nos. 1–4 correspond to nos. i–iv in the Arundel MS.; 5–7 to vi–viii; 8–11 to xv–xviii; 12–20 to xxi–xxiv; 22–52 to xxxi–lxi; 53, 54 to lxiii, lxii; 55–59 to lxiv–lxviii. No. 21, the discourse on the Passion, is omitted in the Arundel MS.; nos. v. (Christmas Eve), xii (Sund. aft. Christmas), xix (5th Sund. after Epiphany), xxx (Palm Sund.), and lxix (26th Sund. aft. Pentecost) of Arund. 231 are omitted; and nos. ix–xi, xiii, xiv, and xx correspond to sermons i–vi in art. 2 below. The text varies considerably from that of Arund. 231, as might be expected from the composite nature of the latter MS. As regards the exempla, while some are omitted here, there is on the whole a close agreement with the Arundel MS., and still closer with the Paris MS. lat. 16506, which Hervieux (pp. 265–343) took as basis. Apart from the exempla, only a series of abridged extracts from the sermons has been printed, in 1520 (see Hervieux, pp. 142–145). Beg. "Dominica prima de aduentu domini. Matheus. xxi° capitulo. Cum appropinquasset Ihesus Ierosolimis. . . Presens euangelium bis in anno legitur . . . quia causa utriusque aduentus in hoc evangelio mistice declaratur." Ends "ut a morte anime resuscitati sic in uia uiuere ualeamus ut ad uite gloriam perueniamus, prestante domino nostro, etc." f. 1.

2. Twenty-eight sermons on the Gospels for certain Church festivals. All but the first six, which are grouped in other MSS. with the Sermones Dominicales (see art. 1 above), are included, with many variations in order, in the 26 Sermones de Festis, a list of which, based on four Paris MSS., is in Hervieux, op. cit. p. 121. Another copy of what appears to be the same series, containing 27 sermons, is in the Oxford MS. Balliol 38 (see Hervieux, p. 140). Exempla occur, though less frequently than in the Sermones Dominicales, and it is evident that both series have been used for the 13th cent. collections, such as those in Harley MS. 3244 and Royal MS. 7 D. i (see Cat. of Romances, iii, pp. 457, 477). Among the exempla are the following:—(a) Pelican and her young. f. 170;—(b) Dying hermit kisses thief's hands (= Harl. 3244, no. 109). f. 217;—(c) Dead monk of Grandselve appears with black feet (ib. 108). f. 223b;—(d) Bishop [Paulinus] goes into slavery to redeem a widow's son (ib. 112). f. 228b;—(e) Captive king and his three sons (see above, Add. MS. 38654, no. 1). f. 228b;—(f) Serpent tracked by St. Germanus to adulteress's tomb (= Harl. 3244, no. 114). f. 242b;—(g) Priest's dead concubine seen as a mare ridden by the devil (ib. 115). f. 243;—(h) Apologue of the three rings (= Roy. 7 D. i, no. 2). f. 244;—(i) "Beatus Theodolus," Bishop of Sion, and the soul confined in a block of ice (= Harl. 3244, no. 117). f. 247b;—(k) Imprisoned miner "in montibus Borgundie" fed by his wife's offerings for his soul (ib. 118). f. 248;—(l) Dead knight appears to comrade (ib. 119; see also Add. 38654, no. 9). f. 249;—(m) Dead Countess of Champagne set up by abbot for her knights to gaze at (see B. Hauréau, Notices et Extraits, iii, 1891, p. 70). f. 250b;—(n) Burgher fills his tomb with food for the poor (= Roy. 7 D. i, no. 180). f. 250b ;—(o) Bad custom in the world, the young die (= Harl. 3244, no. 121). f. 251 ;—(p) The dead rise to protect their friend (= Roy. 7 D. i, no. 194). f. 252b.

(ii). "In natali s. Iohannis euangeliste," beg. "Dixit Ihesus Petro." f. 170b.

Vellum; ff. i + 194. 12 in. × 7¼ in. Early XIV cent. Gatherings of 12 leaves (i^{16}), with catchwords, but many leaves are missing, viz., at beginning and end, and also three leaves after f. 38, 12 after f. 106, 2 after f. 107, 8 after f. 132, 5 after f. 181, and single leaves after ff. 67, 83, 96, 135, 142, 164 and 192. Flourished initials in red and blue. The name John (Ihon, Yon, Yan) Barns is scribbled (15–16th cent.) on the margins of ff. 21, 61b, 106b. On f. 1 is the inscription (19th cent.), "From the library of Robert Higgins, who lived at Eastnor [co. Hereford] in the time of Charles the 1st and Cromwell"; and the name Samuel Higgins is scribbled on ff. 14, 21b, 31, and on f. 77 together with Anne and Mary Higgins, probably the children of Joseph Higgins, Rector of Eastnor, d. 1847, and descendants of Robert Higgins of Eastnor, d. 1678

(C. J. Robinson, Mansions of Herefordshire, 1873, pp. 110, 111). Afterwards belonged to Willoughby Baskerville Mynors, of Bosbury House, Herefordshire (Sotheby's sale-cat., 19 July, 1911, lot 687).

Eg. 2892. De pluralitate beneficiorum, four lectures by Richard Rotheram, Fellow of Balliol College, Chancellor of Oxford University in 1440. Without title. Beg. "Necesse est ut scandala veniant Mt. 18. Condilecti karissimi sancta summaque caritate." Lect. iv ends imperfectly "victualia que non consueuerant." The author's name is given in a copy in Balliol College Library, MS. 80, which contains five lectures. The passage quoted in H. O. Coxe's Cat. Codicum MSS. in Coll. Oxon., i, p. 23, referring to Salisbury, does not seem to occur, but at f. 57 b is a reference to privileges improperly enjoyed by the Canons of Hereford, where Rotheram held a prebend in 1430 and was Treasurer (resigned 1434) and Chancellor (occurs 1435, 1441).

Vellum; ff. 81. 10¼ in. × 7⅝ in. Middle of xv cent. Gatherings of 8 leaves (last imperfect) with catchwords. Sec. fol. "sedicionis condempnacio." On f. 1 is a full border of English work, with initial N containing the arms of the see of Winchester (gu., two keys in bend sinister or and arg. addorsed and conjoined in the bows, interlacing them in bend dexter a sword arg., the point in chief, hilt or) as given in T. Fowler's Corpus Christi (Oxf. Coll. Histories), 1898, p. 241, but varying from the usual arms, where the keys are in bend dexter. Fine contemporary binding of oak boards covered with brown leather. The four stamps used, one of which reproduces a design employed in Winchester bindings of the 12th century and another a Durham design of the same date, are as follows:—(a) a griffin passant to l. (19 × 15 mm.). On the front cover five impressions arranged vertically form the central panel, which is divided from the inner border by a three-line fillet broken by diagonal lines;—(b) a bird (swan?) with tail ending in foliage, passant to r. (17 × 17 mm.), cf. a stamp used in the binding of a Durham 12th century MS. now Add. MS. 24659. 19½ impressions of this form the inner border;—(c) a monster with human head (to l.), grotesque head to r., bird's feet and wings, and a tail to r. (20 × 17 mm.). 30 impressions of this form the middle border;—(d) A curved branch or garland (?) (between four dots), with a peacock feeding across it (22 × 16 mm.), closely resembling a stamp used in the Winchester bindings of Mr. Dyson Perrins's Hegesippus (formerly Mr. Yates Thompson's no. 51 (Illustrations from 100 MSS. in the library of H. Y. Thompson, iv, 1914, pl. 2), the Winchester Doomsday belonging to the Society of Antiquaries (see Victoria County History, Hampshire, vol. i, plates facing pp. 528, 530), and Add. MS. 15350. 33½ impressions of this form the outer border. On the front cover the birds' heads are outwards in the horizontal, inwards in the vertical rows. These borders are separated and enclosed by simple four-line fillets. The end cover differs very slightly in the number and arrangement of the stamps. The back has five bands and is decorated with fillets. Portions remain of two brass clasps, and the mark of attachment of a chain at the foot of the front cover. Sotheby's sale-cat., 27 July, 1911, lot 253.

the adopted Ridware coat (3). This is a mistake of the compiler; his arms were Cotton (2), given above, as is shown by his tomb in Exeter Cathedral. At the end are the following loose leaves:—(a) "A discent of the lords of Conington, from Waltheof, Earl of Huntingdon and Northampton," down to Feb. 1730 [1]. f. 26 b;—(b) Pedigree to show kinship with Archbishop Chichele, Founder of All Souls' College, Oxford; ending with the children of Mrs. Bowdler [Elizabeth Stuart Cotton] and with Thomas Wodehouse; with notes, and advice that "this half sheet be annexed to Mrs. Bowdler's pedigree by way of rider." Dat. Jan. 26, 1767. f. 28;—(c) Piece cut from a letter in the same hand to [T. B]owdler Esq., beginning "I have heard of old Sir R^ts being indicted for stealing the Council books" (cf. Add. MS. 36682 A, f. 4; note in same hand). f. 29. Paper; ff. i + 29. Folio. Second edition. 1892." Autograph; the intended second edition (unpublished) of a work originally published in 1882. In a new preface (f. 11) the author states that about thirteen hundred provincial words have been added to the Glossary, and that the list of writers on Cornish dialect, etc., is much enlarged. Passages have been added to the text, or other passages substituted.
Photographic portrait of the author on f. 2 b, and engraving of Dolly Pentreath and her house on f. 377 b (frontispiece to first ed.). Paper; ff. 402. Folio. Half morocco binding.

The MS. is of skin, six skins being attached together by means of an adhesive paste, the whole measuring 14 ft. 5 in. by 8½ in.; the whole skin is then folded in the common screenlike form. On the surface of the skin a white priming has been laid to receive the painting. This has scaled off in places, taking with it parts of the painting. The subjects are drawn with a black outline filled in with colour (black, red, green, blue and yellow). The paintings are to be read from left to right on the recto, and, the book being turned over, in the same direction on the verso. The last page (p. 32), though primed, has been left blank, and part of the painting on p. 31 seems to have been deliberately scraped away. The codex was, perhaps, left in an unfinished state. The subjects are as follows :—(a) On a horse-shoe shaped framework filled with lattice work, fringed with flint knives and surmounted by an eagle, a human figure is stretched, the left foot in the mouth of an ocelot, which is seated on a hill supporting the framework. On the left hand is a priest with black body-painting, having the sign 1 Maçatl attached to him and above his head a serpent. From the mouths of priest and serpent issue volutes representing speech or song. On the right hand are two year-signs, 11 (?) Tecpatl associated with the day-sign 4 (?) Tecpatl and 13 Calli with 2 Quiahuitl. Other symbols below are much obliterated. The subject appears to be the sacrifice of a victim to some god. p. 2 ;—(b) A procession of eight priests with day-signs and numbers attached, all except the first in the series with black body-painting ; they carry censers, torches, conches, rattles etc. and march from left to right across pp. 3, 4. To no. 2 in the series a town-glyph is attached by a line. This ceremonial is, no doubt, connected with the sacrifice on p. 2 ;—(c) A series of twenty-six main groups of two persons each covers pp. 5–31 (that on p. 31 has been erased, but it is a probable assumption that the subject was the same as in the others). The figures are in each case those of a male and female. The male figure is seated on a throne or stool and usually wears a mask or headdress, sometimes of an animal, bird or reptilian character (ocelot, eagle, snake etc.), sometimes the mask of a god (Tlaloc occurs twice). The females have the kneeling attitude, peculiar hair-dressing and patterned enagua, which are characteristic of women ; the main difference is in the device on the shoulder mantle which varies in each case. All have their calendarial name appended. In the first of the series (p. 5) the male personage, with the mask of Tlaloc, is seated on an elevated throne before a temple on a hill (a town-symbol ?) and the female figure kneels before him ; each of them has the sign 1 Cipactli. In the others, with one exception, the male figure has no town-symbol, while the kneeling female figure is accompanied by hers. In the exception (p. 30 ; now the last complete representation) the female figure, with flower-garlanded head and holding a flower in her left hand, is seated on a stool, while the male has his temple behind him. On some pages two or more smaller groups of the same type appear, connected with the larger group by a red line along which in some cases footprints run, connecting either the man or the woman with the larger group. In one case (p. 21) the two groups are connected only by volutes representing speech, but the man of the smaller group has attached to him by a red line the year-sign 12 Tecpatl associated with the day-sign 12 Malinalli. Over each of the figures of the larger groups, and the temples of both groups, are inscriptions in some Indian language (not Nahuatl), in a Spanish hand of the 16th century. These are much obliterated, but in some cases can still be read clearly. Longer inscriptions on pp. 14, 25 are also much obliterated. The subject of the codex is uncertain, but it probably records the genealogy of some Indian dynasty (cf. the genealogies represented in Antiguedades Mexicanas, Junta Colombina de Mexico, in 1892, Codice Baranda and Codice Dehesa). A facsimile of the MS. (omitting the inscriptions) was made, when it was in the possession of Sanchez Solis in Mexico in 1882, and published in Peñafiel, Monumentos del Arte Mexicano, Berlin, 1880, Pll. ii, pp. 260–288, with a description taken from an article by Francisco P. Troncoso in the Añales del Museo Nacional de Mexico, iii, p. 121. Troncoso states that the MS. is of Mixteco-Zapotecan origin from the region of Oaxaca, and compares for the style the Oxford codices, Bodl. MS. 2858 and Selden MS. 3135.

Pp. 32. Before A.D. 1519 (?) The MS. was sold after the death of Felipe Sanchez Solis, and came into the possession of Ernst Ludwig Karl, Freiherr von Waecker-Gotter, German Plenipotentiary in Mexico (d. 1908). From the Farnborough Fund.

Eg. 2896. MEXICAN Picture-Chronicle. The drawings, executed in outline in black ink on three sheets of agave paper (A–C), from the indications of lines, footprints, etc., appear to present a continuous subject. The subject is probably a tribal migration. The upper edge of sheet A is much frayed, and it is not clear how much is lost. At the head of the sheet (in its present condition) stands a city walled on three sides with a temple on the unwalled top side. Above the city to the right is a large black sun. Five signs (13 Tecpatl, 13 Acatl, 9 Tecpatl, 12 Acatl and 1 Tochtli) are attached to personages with in the walls, and, without, on the right-hand side, are four year-dates (reading downwards: 13 Acatl, 1 Tecpatl, 13 Calli, 1 Tochtli). The city is the centre of various trails, represented by footprints with town-symbols at intervals. The rest of sheet A is occupied by one of these trails, which starts from a figure with a sun symbol attached and connected by a cable with five descendants. Before this figure (which looks to left) is a travelling staff and (facing to right on the other side of the staff) another figure, with black body-painting and the sign 4 Quauhtli, who stands at the end of the trail leading from the town. From the figure with the sun-symbol the trail goes from right to left and left to right alternately to the foot of the sheet. Year-signs occur at intervals (13 Calli, 6 Acatl). The trail on sheet A ends at the representation of a dog's head with ears squared off at the ends and crossed by two black bars. This town-glyph also appears on sheets

1–4 in Eg. 2897. It is not certain whether sheet B immediately continues the subject of A. A trail runs down the left-hand side ending at a cross-roads near a temple on which a later hand has set a cross. Attached to the cross-roads is the year-sign 7 Tecpatl. To the right above the temple is a figure from whose foot starts a cable which branches out into various lines of descent continued on sheet C. The upper part of sheet B to the right of the trail is occupied by a representation of four warriors shooting with bows and arrows at a mark set up in the ground. Below them is an inscription in Nahuatl in a 16th century Spanish hand. On sheet C is another inscription in the same hand, a list of town-names, beginning with the partly obliterated name "Itzcuitl[a]pan." The style of the drawing, like that of Eg. 2897, is very similar to that of Add. MS. 30088, a picture-map found, according to a letter enclosed with it, in a stone chest in the ruins of the Indian city of Metlatoyuca in the State of Puebla.

Agave-paper, now mounted between glass. 2 ft. 8 in. × 1 ft. 3 in.; 2 ft. 5½ in. × 1 ft. 3½ in.; 2 ft. 9½ in. × 1 ft. 3½ in. (approximate measurements, the paper being much frayed). XVI cent. On the back of sheet C is the inscription: "José 1824." From the Farnborough Fund.

Eg. 2897. FRAGMENTS (11) of a Mexican picture-writing or writings, executed in the same style as Eg. 2896 above. How far the different sheets are to be connected, or in what order, is not clear. The same town-glyph—a dog (itzcuintli) with ears squared off at the ends and crossed at the tips by two black bands—occurs in a prominent position on sheets 1–4, and it will also be found in Eg. 2896 at the foot of sheet A. Another glyph (an axe chopping wood) occurs on 1, 4, 7 (verso), 8. It is probable that all the sheets refer to the same district. The drawings on the verso of sheet 7 are in a noticeably less careful style, and are probably by another hand. Sheet 1 is a map, with the town denoted by the dog's head glyph in the centre of a number of other towns, all represented by their glyphs. The other sheets contain genealogies. Year-signs occur on sheets 2, 4, 6, 8.

Agave paper, now mounted between glass. 1 ft. 5½ in. × 1 ft. 4 in.; 1 ft. 5¼ in. × 1 ft. 3¼ in.; 1 ft. 2½ in. × 1 ft. 3 in.; 1 ft. 3¼ in. × 1 ft. 3 in.; 1 ft. 4½ in. × 1 ft. 3½ in.; 1 ft. 4 in. × 1 ft. 3½ in.; 1 ft. 4 in. × 1 ft. 3 in.; 1 ft. 5¼ in. × 1 ft. 3¼ in.; 11 in. × 1 ft. 2½ in.; 11 in. × 1 ft. 5 in.; 1 ft. 5¼ in. × 8½ in. XVI cent. (?). From the Farnborough Fund.

For accounts of other catechisms in picture-writing from the collection of Boturini see Boban, Docs. pour servir à l'hist. de Méxique, (1891) ii, p. 171 sqq. and Seler, Gesammelte Abhandlungen, i, p. 289. The present MS. does not seem to have been in Boturini's collection (see the Catalogue given as an Appendix to his Idea, 1746, p. 54). The order is as follows:—(1) The sign of the Cross, f. 1;—(2) Lord's Prayer, f. 1 b;—(3) Ave Maria, f. 2 b;—(4) Apostles' Creed, f. 3 b;—(5) Salve Regina, f. 5 b;—(6) Ten Commandments (incomplete, f. 7 b being blank), f. 8;—(7) Five Commandments of the Church, f. 8 b;—(8) Seven Sacraments, f. 10;—(9) Fourteen articles of the Faith, f. 10 b;—(10) A Catechism (?), f. 13 b;—(11) The Rosary, f. 20;—(12) Fourteen Works of Mercy, f. 25 b;—(13) Eight Beatitudes, f. 27 b;—(14) Confiteor, f. 28 b.

Eg. 2899. PSALTER, in Latin. Contents:—

1. Calendar, containing many distinctively Scottish saints. These include, besides SS. Fillan, Monan, Duthac (here commemorated on Mar. 9, instead of the usual date, Mar. 8), Margaret (translation, June 19, not the rarer deposition on Nov. 16), Moloc, Serf, Blane (here Aug. 11 instead of 10), Ninian, and others of almost universal veneration (cf. A. P. Forbes, Kalendars of Scottish Saints, 1872), the following less common entries:—Jan. 10, S. Katani episcopi, ix lect. [St. Cathan al. Chattan, usually honoured on May 17, and chiefly associated with the island of Bute, but also with Argyllshire, see J. M. Mackinlay, Ancient Church Dedications in Scotland, ii, 1914, pp. 109, 110];—Jan. 13, S. Kentigerni ep. et conf., duplex festum, and July 7 (a nine-lesson double feast for the Translation of St. Thomas the martyr), S. Kentigerni ep. [suggesting a connexion with Glasgow];—Feb. 15, S. Colmoci ep. et conf., ix lect.;—Feb. 25, S. Cumini abb. [of Iona, usually Feb. 24];—Mar. 5, S. Mirnoci ep., ix lect., S. Kyarani ep.;—Mar. 13, S. Conani ep. et conf., ix lect. [apparently associated with Glenorchy, near Inverary, co. Argyll (see Forbes, p. 308); perhaps the "S. Comnanus abb. Huensis" who occurs on Mar. 14 in the Kalendar of D. Camerarius (ib. p. 236)?];—Oct. 5, S. Ali ep. et conf. [?Ailbe, Bishop of Emly in Munster, usually honoured on Sept. 12];—Oct. 20, S. Maldybii ("abbatis" scored through in red) conf. [St. Fintan Maeldubh, Abbot of Clonenagh in Ireland (Acta SS., 20 Oct., p. 896, etc.). It is perhaps relevant to note that Kylmalduff was the ancient name of Inverary parish (Mackinlay, p. 138)];—Nov. 4, S. Ferguciani ep. et conf., ix lect. [associated most specially with Glammis, co. Forfar, but also with Glasgow Cathedral, as well as other places in Scotland (Breuiarium Aberdonense, Bannatyne Club, 1854, pars estiva, fo. clxiii b; Mackinlay, pp. 26, 210–213)];—Nov. 5, S. Monidi ep., ix lect.;—Dec. 30, S. Duthaci ep. et conf., ix lect. It is not easy to form any precise conclusion, but the Calendar on the whole seems to suggest Argyllshire as a probable place of origin. Other entries worth noting are Mar. 23 (instead of 19), S. Joseph "cuiuscunque confessoris," duplex festum, and May 20, S. Barnerdini "cuiuscunque confessoris," ix lect. [St. Bernardino of Siena, d. 1444, canonized 1450]. There are a few additions by a somewhat later hand, viz. Feb. 4, S. Modani abb., ix lect.;—Feb. 17, S. Bercani abb.;—Feb. 19, S. Meleno abb., ix lect.;—Mar. 8, S. Connani ep. conf.;—Mar. 24, S. Dongarti ep. et conf., ix lect.;—Apr. 21, S. Molroue [for Maelrubha?] ep. et mart., iii lect.;—Aug. 9, S. Mocadii ep., ix lect.;—Oct. 27, S. Odorani conf., ix lect.;—Dec. 14, Bedani ep. conf.;—Dec. 22, S. Iternani ep. et conf.;—Dec. 23, S. Petridiaconi conf. The precise significance of these additions is not obvious, but three of them may perhaps be regarded as confirming the localization suggested above: Modanus, patron of Kilmodan, near Inverary; Odoranus, venerated at Iona, Oronsay, and in the Argyllshire islands generally; Bedanus al. Baedan, patron of Ardchattan, co. Argyll (see Mackinlay, pp. 144–150). f. 1.

2. Psalter, Gallican version; with divisions, marked by large initials, at Pss. xxvi ("Feria secunda"), xxxviii, li, lii, lxviii ("Feria v^{a}"), lxxx ("Feria sexta"), xcvii ("Sabbato"), ci, cix ("In dominicis diebus ad vesperas"), and cxviii. Ends with Ps. cxlvii, followed by the "Quicumque uult," imperf. at end. f. 7.

3. On the flyleaf (f. iii) is written a poem in the Irish language and character in a hand of circ. 1500, beg. "Aingeal de dom dhin" (30 quatrains). It is a poem of the lorica type (cf. L. Gougaud, Étude sur les Loricae Celtiques, Bulletin d' Anc. Litt. et d' Archéol. Chrét., i, 1911, p. 265; ii, 1912, pp. 33, 101), sometimes attributed to St. Columba. Printed from the Leabhar Breac (facs., 1872–76), p. 262 b, l. 19, with collation of other MSS., by T. P. O'Nolan in the Miscellany presented to Kuno Meyer, 1912, p. 254. For the connexion of the Campbells of Glenorchy with Gaelic poetry see D. Mackinnon, Cat. of Gaelic MSS. in Scotland, 1912, pp. 243, 297. A fuller description will be given in the forthcoming Catalogue of Irish MSS. in the British Museum.

last[4]), mostly with catchwords. Large coloured initials of crude Celtic design on ff. 7 (priest with two thurifers), 30 (scribe at desk), 44 b, 57 b (horse), 58 b (wrestlers), 72, 89, 104 b, 106 b, 121 (mermaid), 127, and quaint designs (human heads, animals, etc.) in many of the margins; flourished initials in red, blue, and green. On f. iii b is a 16th cent. inscription, "Liber Coline Campbell of Glenurquhay eiusdem Glenurquhay": probably Colin Campbell, 3rd Laird of Glenorchy, co. Argyll, d. 1523 (see The Black Book of Taymouth, ed. C. Innes, Bannatyne Club, 1855, p. 17), ancestor of the Earls and Marquises of Breadalbane. Old press-marks on f. iii: "Shelfe 7. numb. 26" (16th cent.); "pr. 6. sh. 2 N° 37" (18th–19th cent.). Bookplate of arms of the Earl of Breadalbane, 18th cent. CONSTANTINUS AFRICANUS, Viaticum, with title "Incipit uiaticum a Constantino in Latinam linguam translatum": the Arabic work of Isaac Judaeus [Isḥāḳ ibn Sulaimān] translated and appropriated by Constantinus Africanus (monk of Monte Cassino, d. circ. 1087), see Cat. of Royal MSS., 12 D. ix, art. 1. Preface beg. "Quoniam quidem ut in rethoricis Tullius"; text "Capillus ex fumo crosso (sic) et calido." f. 2 b. Additions to the above are:—(a) An anatomical description of the human body, in a 13th cent. hand, beg. "Exposicio membrorum. Quo ordine quibusque ossibus uel uenis uel neruis uel quibus compaginibus uel iuncturis uel quo scemate homo in utero formetur uel contineatur." f. 2, continued f. 1;—(b) Part of the tract of Johannes Hispalensis, printed by Hermann Suchier in Denkmäler Provenzalischer Litteratur und Sprache, 1883, pp. 473–480; see also Opera hactenus inedita Rogeri Baconi, fasc. v, Secreta Secretorum, etc., ed. R. Steele, 1920, pp. xvi and 68, l. 17 and note. Preface beg. "Cum de utilitate corporis olim tractaremus"; text, "Quia igitur humanum corpus, O Alexander, alteratur, conuertitur, et per hoc corrumpitur." The text except for certain differences in the wording corresponds with Suchier's edition as far as p. 478, section 2, l. 95; the last nine lines of the MS. do not occur in the printed version. In a hand of circ. 1200. On f. 102 b is the colophon "Dkgnxs fst ppfrbrkxs mfrcfdf sxb," i.e. "Dignus est operarius mercede sua," the vowels being replaced by their succeeding consonants. Followed by fifteen hexameters, in the same hand, beg. "Confert omnimodam paulinum commoditatem," and by two medical recipes in a 13th cent. hand. f. 103;—(c) Various medical verses, etc., in 13th cent. hands; that beg. "Ars, etas, uirtus" is printed in Renzi, Collectio Salernitana, ii, p. 650; cf. Flos Medicinae, ll. 1574–6 (Renzi, i, p. 496) and the remainder are chiefly variants of other passages in the same poem. f. 105 :—(d) Prayers, in a 15th cent. hand. f. 104 b.

Vellum ; ff. i + 105. $8\frac{7}{8}$ in. × $5\frac{7}{8}$ in. Late XII cent., with additions, the main portion perhaps written in England. Gatherings of 8 leaves, except i^4 (2, 3, 4 cancelled). Sec. fol. "capitula." Outline decorative initials on ff. 2 b, 21, 31 b, 46, 62, 78 b, 87 b ; other initials in red and blue. Contemporary English binding of brown leather stamped as follows :—Upper Cover : (a) Central vertical panel, having in the middle five impressions of a circular stamp representing Samson and the lion, with legend SAMSON [cf. similar but not identical stamps, without the legend, on the cover of a Durham MS. of Leviticus and Numbers (Burlington Fine Arts Club, Cat. of Bookbindings, 1891, Plate iv ; Weale, Cat. of Rubbings of Bookbindings in the South Kensington Museum, no. 27, cf. no. 23)]. The left and right sides of the panel are formed respectively by seven juxtaposed impressions of a stamp charged with two dragons interlaced, the upper one inverted, and eight impressions of a stamp charged with a cockatrice having a row of eight dots in the space between the tail and the back ;—(b) Rectangular border formed at top and bottom by five juxtaposed impressions of a stamp representing Sagittarius (a centaur shooting to r. over shoulder, with three stars in background), and on the left and right sides respectively by eleven juxtaposed impressions of a stamp bearing a lion with palmated tail, looking to r. over shoulder, and eleven and a half juxtaposed impressions of another bearing a stag facing l., this last being identical with a stamp on the lower cover of the Winchester Hegesippus formerly in the collection of Mr. H. Yates Thompson (Illustrations, vol. iv, 1914, pl. 2 ; sale-cat. 1920, lot 31). The border is separated from the inner panel and from the edge of the cover by bands having a two-line fillet on each side, the inner fillets prolonged at the four corners to form small rectangles with the outer ones : the bands are relieved at intervals with ten-foiled rosettes within circles alternating with groups of four dots within circles. Under Cover (a large portion of the upper layer of leather gone) : (a) Central vertical panel, having in the middle four juxtaposed impressions of a pair of oval stamps of St. Peter with key and legend PETRVS and St. Paul with sword and legend PAVLVS (cf. Weale, op. cit. no. 22). These impressions are almost obliterated, but can be distinguished on the under layer of leather. The left and right sides of the panel are each formed by eight juxtaposed impressions of a stamp bearing a contorted gryphon with palmated tail ;—(b) Rectangular border formed at top and bottom by five juxtaposed impressions of a stamp charged with a man on horseback with sword, riding to r. but not identical stamps on the upper cover of Add. MS. 35167; and on either side by nine juxtaposed impressions of a stamp bearing two wyverns addorsed, their tails ending in foliage. The border is separated from the panel and from the edge of the cover by bands as on the upper cover, the dots between the rosettes being in this case in groups of three on the outer band and ranging from three to six on the inner band. This MS. is mentioned by Mr. Strickland Gibson (The Localization of Books by their Bindings, in Transactions of the Bibliographical Society, viii, p. 29; reprint, 1907, p. 13) as the only example known to him of an early binding composed wholly of leather: it was at that time in the possession of Mr. George Dunn. On f. 103 b is the note "Orate pro datore huius libri unum pater noster et aue maria quia peccatrix fuit etc.", in a 15th cent. hand, and on f. 105 is a Hebrew transliteration of the letters KONDT, which is probably connected with the signature Kond Eyseken on f. 104 b, also in a 15th cent. hand. An erased inscription is on f. 2, of which only the word "monasterii" is legible.

Phillipps MS. 6925 (sale-cat. 1903, lot 287). Afterwards belonged to George Dunn (bookplate, f. i; sale-cat. 1913, lot 451). From the Farnborough Fund.

Eg. 2901. Decretals: an anonymous collection, the latest being attributed to Pope Lucius III (1181–1185), with marginal gloss, partly contemporary and partly of slightly later date, in which frequent reference is made to Gratian's Decretum, etc.; a single decretal of Clement III (Jaffé, Regesta, ed. 1888, no. 16596, A.D. 1187–1191) is on f. 23 b, but this leaf is an interpolation. Beg. "De sponsalibus et matrimonio:—Augustinus in libro fidei pactionis et consensus," see Corpus Juris Can., ed. Friedberg, i, col. 1078 (Gratian, Dec. II. xvii. ii. 51), and ii, col. 680 (Decret. Greg. IX, IV. iv. i). Preceded (f. iii) by a list of the tituli in an 18th cent. hand on paper.

Vellum; ff. v + 97. 9½ in. × 6¼ in. Late XII cent. Gatherings of 8 leaves (except the third which is of 10 by interpolation of 2 leaves), with catchwords, wanting the fourth gathering and a leaf after f. 17. 37 lines to a page. Small initials flourished in red and blue. An illuminated initial on f. 1. German 17th cent. binding in white doe-skin, blind-tooled, with thongs. Belonged (17th cent.) to the Imperial monastery of St. Maximin at Treves, afterwards to Frederick North, 5th Earl of Guilford (sale-cat. 1830, lot 169, cf. Phillipps folio cat.), Tho. Thorpe, the bookseller (cat. 1831, no. 11879), Sir Thomas Phillipps (MS. 7369 or 7790, sale-cat., 5–10 June, 1899, lot 652) and George Dunn (bookplate; sale-cat., 1913, lot 457). From the Farnborough Fund.

Eg. 2902. SACRAMENTARY, apparently executed for a monastery connected with Jerusalem (see below, artt. 1, 6). Contents:—

1. Calendar. Jan. and Feb., on the first leaf of an inserted sheet, written in an Italian script, late 14th cent., evidently for the use of Augustinian Friars Hermits (Feb. 6, "Anniuersarium patrum et matrum ordinis nostri"; Feb. 9 [for 10?], "S. Guillemi conf., semi duplex," in red; Feb. 28, "Translatio S. Augustini ep. et conf.," also in red: cf. Add. MS. 16890, etc.). The original Calendar (Mar.–Dec.) has a number of entries referring specially to Jerusalem, viz. Mar. 18, "Ierusalem. Alexandri ep. et mart."; May 4, "Ierusalem. Quiriaci ep. et conf."; July 15, "Dedicatio ecclesie dominici sepulchri. et liberatio Ierusalem"; Aug. 23, "Ierusalem. Zachei ep. et conf."; Oct. 22, "Ierusalem. Marci ep. et mart."; Oct. 29, "Ierusalem. Narcisi ep. et conf." Apart from these, there is a preponderance of French saints, e.g. "Andegauis. Albini ep. et conf." (Mar. 1); Germanus (May 28, July 31, Oct. 1 and 11); Medard and Gildard (June 8); Marcial (June 30); Martin (July 4 and Nov. 11, the latter with octave); Giles (Sept. 1); Salvius, Bishop [of Alby] (Sept. 10); Maurilius (Sept. 13); Remy and Vedast (Oct. 1); Denis, etc. (Oct. 9); Quintin (Oct. 31); Amantius, Bishop [of Rodez] (Nov. 4); "Bricii ep. et conf. et gloriosi Verani ep. et conf." (Nov. 13) [the latter doubtless either Bishop of Cavaillon or of Vence]; Anianus (Nov. 17); Trophinus, Bishop [of Arles] (Dec. 29). St. Thomas of Canterbury is included (Dec. 29, d. 1170, canonized 1173), but not the Conception of the Virgin (Dec. 8). The following insertions occur, in an Italian 14th cent. hand: Apr. 14, "O[biit] Deus te adiuuet, clericus"; June 30, "O[biit] Petrus Johannes bonus [Bongiovanni], clericus"; Oct. 22, "O[biit] dominus Egidius, cardinalis diaconus," perhaps referring to Aegidius Petri Leonis, card. diac. S. Nicolai in Carcere Tulliano, d. 1195. f. 1.
2. Table of movable feasts for the nineteen years of the lunar cycle. f. 7.
3. "Oratio S. Ambrosii episcopi ad Missam" (modern heading): the prayer before Mass, beg. "Summe sacerdos et uere pontifex." The conclusion, followed by collect, secret, and postcommunion commemorating the Resurrection, is in an Italian script, late 14th cent., on the second leaf (f. 8) of an inserted sheet (see art. 1 above). f. 7 b.

   Ff. 9, 10–13 are misbound; they should follow ff. 19, 139 respectively. see below, artt. 5, 7, 8.
4. Preface (general) and Canon Missae, the latter containing the rubrics "Leo papa adiunxit" (at the "Hanc igitur oblationem"), "Gregorius papa constituit pater noster" (at the Lord's Prayer), "Sergius papa" and "Innocentius papa constituit dare pacem"

(before and after the "Agnus Dei"); cf. A. Fortescue, The Mass, 1912, pp. 137, 387, 370. Imperfect, wanting the first leaf of the Canon. f. 14.

5. Prefaces for special occasions, followed by introits de Tempore from Advent to Low Sunday. ff. 19, 9.
6. Sacramentary, as follows:—(a) Temporale; with the "stationes," mostly as in the Roman Missal. At Maundy Thursday is an injunction (f. 45) "ut eo die reliogus [sc. religiosus] quisque a communione sese minime subtrahat" (cf. Harley MS. 5289, f. 165, Durham Cathedral, 14th cent.); and on Good Friday the stealthy ("in modum furentium", sc. furantium) rending of the veils over the altar at the words "Partiti sunt uestimenta mea" is ordered (f. 45 b, cf. Harl. 5289, f. 168 b, and see H. Thurston, Lent and Holy Week, 1904, p. 336). The monastic character of the book appears from such phrases as "Postquam autem adorauerint fratres" "communicent sub silentio fratres" (ff. 48 b, 49), etc. A curious feature is the citation of authorities for special points of ritual, e.g. "Auctoritas Alexander papa," "Auctoritas Amalarius," "Benedictio cerei, quam Zosimus papa constituit" (ff. 49, 50 b), etc. f. 20;—(b) Sanctorale, beg. vii kal. Jan., Nat. S. Stephani protomart.; agreeing in the main with the Calendar, but containing only the following references to Jerusalem:—v id. Mar., "Ierusalem. S. xl. Mart." (f. 82);—[id. Jul.], "Missa pro libertate Ierusalem de manu paganorum" (f. 93);—xi kal. Nov., "Ierusalem. S. Marci ep. et mart." (f. 110 b). f. 74 b;—(c) Commune Sanctorum. f. 117;—(d) "In dedicatione ecclesie," "In dedicatione altaris," and "Missa cotidiana de illo sancto qui in presenti iacet monasterio." f. 118 b;—(e) Missae votivae. f. 120 (Mass for Queen added in margin, f. 124, in a contemp. hand).
7. "Oratio S. Ambrosii, quem (sic) sacerdos dicat supplicando ante altare finita missa [sc. ante Missam]": prayer beg. "Deus qui de indignis," and other prayers before Mass, including "orationes uestiarum." ff. 139 b, 10–11.
8. Ordinarium Missae. ff. 11–13 b.
9. Missa "pro commemoratione S. Marie et omnium sanctorum et pace ecclesie," added in a slightly later hand. f. 13 b.
10. Gospels "de resurrectione," "de ascensione domini," "de sancta trinitate," etc. f. 140.
11. Marriage service, with nuptial Mass. f. 145 b.
12. Exorcismus salis et aquae, "In purificatione S. Marie. Benedictio candelarum," and the 3rd and 2nd Gospels for Christmas Day. f. 148.
13. "Missa S. Aquatii sociorumque eius" [presumably either the Acatius said to have been crucified on Mount Ararat, or the "Agathius sive Acacius" martyred at Constantinople: see Acta SS., 22 June, p. 151, 8 May, p. 288]; followed by the Gospel for the Annunciation, imperf. at end. An addition, late 13th cent., on a blank page. f. 151 b.

At the beginning and end are fragments of a Legenda, apparently written in Italy, 13th cent., in double columns of 36 lines, containing at beg. (i) Passio S. Anastasii [22 Jan.], parts of lections 7–9: a different version from those enumerated in Bibl. Hag. Lat., nos. 408–413; but lect. 9 is nearly identical with lect. 7–8 for SS. Vincent and Anastasius in the printed Roman Breviary (Venice, 1478) Ends "uenerantur in monasterio ad Aquas Saluias." f. ii;—(ii) "In S. [E]merentiana" [23 Jan.]: parts of lections 1–3, lect. 3 nearly identical with cap. 3 of Acta S. Agnetis printed in Acta SS., 21 Jan., p. 717. Beg. ". . . . gaudiis sollempnem nobis gl[ori]ose Emerentiane." f. iii;—and at end (iii) Apparitio S. Michaelis in Monte Tancia [8 May] (Bibl. Hag. Lat., Suppl., 1911, no. 5947 c). Beg. (imperf.) "archangeli dedicata. . . Introitus autem cripte minus a medio montis deorsum pendet." Ends "Ab illo autem die Sabinensium populus locum cepit uenerari . . . . patronum atque intercessorem aput deum altissimum, qui uiuit," etc. f. iv;—(iv) "Passio sanctorum Gordiani et Epimachi" [10 May]; imperf. at end. The same (but for the opening words) as in the Roman Breviary. Beg. "Hodie colitur natale sanctorum martirum . . . quos Iulianus imperator." f. iv b.

Vellum; ff. vi + 151. $11\frac{7}{8}$ in. × $8\frac{5}{8}$ in. Early XIII cent., with additions, XIII–XIV centt. Gatherings of 8 leaves (ff. 1 and 8 inserted in quire i; quire ii, ff. 14–19, 9, wants a leaf; xviii[4], ff. 10–13, misplaced; last[4]), numbered in a 17th cent. hand. A full-page miniature of the Crucifixion (with Mary, John, sun and moon—the spelling "Ihs Crishtus" is curious) in Italo-Byzantine style, on a dark blue ground, on f. 14 b; a few large illuminated initials in similar style, those on ff. 14 and 62 enclosing figures; initials in red and blue, some partly flourished, throughout. Bound in wooden boards covered with brown leather, with brass studs and clasps. Bookplate of George Dunn, (sale-cat. 1913, lot 578). From the Farnborough Fund.

Eg. 2903. PSALTER of the Virgin, etc., in Dutch. Contents:—

1. Calendar. In red, Pontian (Jan. 14), Servatius (May 13), Boniface (June 5), Odulf (June 12), Lebuin (June 25 and Nov. 12), Jeron (Aug. 17; martyred at Noordwijk, translated to Egmond, see Acta SS.), Lambert (Sept. 17), Remy and Bavon (Oct. 1), Victor and Gereon (Oct. 10), and Willibrord (Nov. 7). f. 1.
2. "Onser lieuer vrouwen souter": 150 Psalms in honour of the Virgin, adapted from the Biblical Psalter. Preceded by a prayer to God and the Virgin ("Domine labia mea. Heer doet op mijn lippen," etc., f. 13) and a "Prologus op onser lieuer vrouwen souter" (f. 14 b), attributing the authorship to St. Bernard, and mentioning

Paper (ff. 1, 47 vellum); ff. i + 276. $5\frac{3}{4}$ in. × $4\frac{1}{8}$ in. XV cent. Gatherings of 8 leaves (i^5, vii^{12}, x^4, xvii^6, last^9). Illuminated initials and borders on ff. 1 and 47; many initials of ornamental design in blue, red, green and white. Netherlandish binding, 15th cent., of wooden boards covered with brown leather, stamped on each cover with two impressions of a panel representing St. Roch, dressed as a pilgrim, with dog and angel, and inscribed below "Sancte roche oꝗ" (= Weale, S. Kensington Cat., no. 401, but without the border). On f. 276, "Dyt boeck hoert suster Gertrut Vlgers toe" in red, 15th cent. Bookplate of George Dunn (sale-cat. 1913, lot 487). From the Farnborough Fund.

Eg. 2905. S. AUGUSTINE, De Civitate Dei, libb. i–ix. The original text written without chapter-divisions, which have been added by a later hand, although they do not correspond in all cases with the divisions of the printed work. The text has been retouched in several places in blacker ink, e.g. ff. 117 b, 121 b.

Vellum; ff. 155. $9\frac{5}{8}$ in. × $6\frac{3}{8}$ in. Late XII cent. Written probably in Spain. Gatherings of 8 leaves (i^6, last^4; f. 1 a separate fly-leaf), the majority with catchwords. Sec. fol. "confugientes." On f. 2 is a decorative initial G formed by a grotesque with foliage, enclosed, together with the rubric and opening words of the text, in a rectangular frame with curious zig-zag and other ornament, somewhat coarsely executed in red, green, white, yellow and blue. The title in Spanish occurs twice on f. 1 in 17th–18th cent. (?) hands. Modern binding of brown morocco, stamped; an older binding of brown leather, with small stamps including a Paschal lamb and an eagle displayed, is laid down on the inner covers. An erased note of ownership (contemporary) on f. 155 b, of which only the words "Lib[er] Sce Marie" can be read (cf. f. 2). No. 4360 in Thorpe's cat., 1826. Phillipps MS. 4311 (sale-cat. 1899, lot 80); afterwards belonged to George Dunn (bookplate f. i, pencil-notes f. ii; sale-cat. 1913, lot 382).

Eg. 2906. ACCOMPT-BOOK of the Company of Smiths, Goldsmiths, Chandlers, Pewterers, Plumbers, Cutlers and Wiredrawers in the city of Coventry; 1684–1821. The receipts and payments cover the whole period except the years 1697 and 1819, of which there is no record. For books on the earlier history of the Company see T. Sharp, Coventry Mysteries, 1825, pp. 13–42; H. Craig, Two Coventry Corpus Christi Plays, 1902 (Early Eng. Text Soc., extra ser. 87), pp. 82–93; and M. D. Harris, Coventry Leet Book, 1907–1913 (E. E. T. S., orig. ser. 134, 135, 138, 146), pp. 743–746.

At ff. 35 b, 121, etc., are entries relating to "the Company's seats in St. Michael's Church," cf. M. D. Harris, Story of Coventry 1911, p. 326. Their principal celebration seems to have been the "great feast," to which there are constant allusions. Entertainments appear to have been held at the "Half Moon." The Company employed a "follower," for whom shoes were bought (ff. 6, 7, etc.), a "sidesman" (f. 66), "2 traine souldiers" (f. 69, cf. ff. 10, 11, etc.), who perhaps formed the "body-guard" referred to on f. 89, a summoner (f. 3, etc.) and a boy (f. 4 b, etc.). A special form of membership appears to have been that of a "love-brother," to which John Gamble was admitted in 1712. Under 15 Oct. 1704 (f. 30) is a note of expenses on account of the "famous victory by Duke of Marlborough over the French and Bavarians," i.e. Blenheim, and under 1 May, 1707, of a thanksgiving for the Union. On 17 June, 1727, the Company spent £1 13 8 in proclaiming King George II, and on 11 October £1 12 at his coronation. There are signatures of masters and wardens throughout the volume, many of whom are described as practising other crafts than those mentioned above, e.g.: —Innholders (ff. 6 b, 87 b);—Malt-mill-maker (f. 81 b);—Vintner (f. 82 b);—Wine-Merchant (f. 84 b);—Brasier (ff. 84 b, 86 b, 87 b, 88 b);—and Brickmaker (f. 94 b). On f. 126 b there are attestations of inspection and examination, 1822–1833.

The volume is illustrated by numerous coats-of-arms of the companies in tinctures, as follows:—Smiths (f. 19);—Chandlers (f. 21);—Cutlers (f. 22 b);—Goldsmiths (f. 24, more correctly on f. 116 b);—Plumbers (f. 34 b, another form on f. 121 b);—Pewterers (f. 47). Arms of the following crafts also occur:—Coopers (f. 84 b);—Fletchers (?) (f. 89 b);—Brickmakers (f. 94 b);—Weavers (f. 96 b, another form on f. 114 b?);—Painter-stainers (f. 102 b);—Carpenters (?) (f. 103 b);—Masons (?) (f. 104 b);—Stationers (?) (f. 107 b);—Grocers (f. 109 b);—Leather-sellers (?) (f. 115 b). Many of the above coats-of-arms frequently recur, especially those of the Smiths and Chandlers. Cf. C. Welch, Coat-Armour of the London Livery Companies, 1914.

Paper; ff. i + 126. 17½ in. × 12½ in. XVII–XIX centt. Bound in wooden boards covered with brown calf, repaired. Belonged to George Dunn (bookplate, f. i; sale-cat. 1913, lot 452).

Eg. 2907. NEW TESTAMENT, in Latin; Vulgate version. The arrangement of books is regular, except that the Catholic Epistles precede the Pauline and Hebrews, and that Colossians comes after 1 and 2 Thessalonians and is followed (f. 269 b) by the apocryphal "Epistola ad Laodicences." Romans is preceded by the argument beg. "Romani sunt in partibus Ytalie" (Berger, Préfaces, 1902, no. 280 A), and Hebrews by the argument "In primis dicendum est" and preface "Hebrei proprio gentis suo (sic) uocabulo" (ib. nos. 283, 285). The text has many characteristic features, e.g. a long addition after Matth. xx. 28 (cf. Wordsworth and White, Nouum Testamentum Latine, pt. i, 1889–98, p. 124), a shorter one at the end of Acts (ib. pt. ii, 1905, p. 228), and the inclusion of 1 Joh. v. 7 (the passage relating to the Three Heavenly Witnesses), but after verse 8 (cf. Sir F. G. Kenyon, Textual Criticism of N. T., 1912, p. 208). Modern chapter-numeration inserted in the margins by a later hand.

At the end (f. 309 b) is a Calendar, having a striking preponderance of French saints, including some that are specially associated with the south of France, viz. Pontius, martyr (Nice, Narbonne, etc.), May 11; Genesius, martyr (Arles), Aug. 25; Salvius, Bishop (of Alby), Sept. 10; Amantius (Bishop of Rodez), Nov. 4; "Pauli Narbone" (Paul, Bishop of Narbonne), Dec. 11 (usually venerated on Mar. 22, but in many places on Dec. 12, see Acta SS., 22 Mar., p. 369). St. Thomas of Canterbury is not mentioned, and the Conception of the Virgin (Dec. 8) has been inserted with a plummet. In a blank space at the end of the Apocalypse (f. 309) are the following verses in a slightly later hand:—(i) Three elegiac couplets on the name Adam (cf. Amalarius, De Eccles. Offic. lib. i, cap. 7, in Migne, Patr. Lat. cv. 1004), beg. "Anachole dissis arcos messimbrios orbis";—(ii) Four leonine hexameters beg. "Acumbens dormit, discumbens fercula sumit";—(iii) A distich against women, "Femina tormentum iuuenum mortis monumentum/ Hechom inem primum de celo traxit ad imum."

On ff. 315–327 are tables of Epistles and Gospels throughout the year, in a 15th cent. hand; and on f. 327b are notes of the foundation of the Dominican order, the deaths of SS. Dominic, Peter Martyr, and Thomas Aquinas, and the canonization in 1455 of St. Vincent Ferrer.

Vellum; ff. ii + 327. 5¾ in. × 3¾ in. Early XIII cent. Gatherings of 8 leaves (last[15]). Sec. fol. "eo cogitante." Illuminated initials in gold and colours, often with border-prolongations, at the beginnings of books, neatly executed in a curious and interesting style, with the opening words of many of the books in red and blue capitals on coloured grounds; smaller initials flourished in red and blue; words omitted in the text have been supplied by the scribe in the margins, and surrounded with elaborate decorative designs in red and blue outlines. Old binding of wooden boards, with leather thong and brass clasp. On f. ii, "Ista biblia est michi Jacobo Verder presbytero in ecclesia sancti Agricole [at Avignon?] beneficiato" (15th cent.) Sold at Sotheby's, 30 June, 1913, lot 158.

Gospels, written on thicker vellum in a German 15th cent. hand, and at foot of f. 23 b are four lines from the Graecismus of Eberhardus Bethuniensis (ed. Wrobel, 1887, cap. x, ll. 248–251). Vellum; ff. i + 390. $5\frac{3}{4}$ in. × $3\frac{7}{8}$ in. XIII cent. Written in Italy in a very small hand, on thin vellum, with 101 coloured initials, of which 34 are historiated, very well executed in Italian style. Sec. fol. "[uo]-luntatem suam." On f. 390 b is an erased note of ownership, "Ista biblia est fratris Johannis . . ." German (?) 16th cent. binding of wooden boards covered with dark brown leather, stamped (the impressions almost effaced). From the Farnborough Fund.

Eg. 2909. TERENCE: the recension of the grammarian Calliopius with the usual didascaliae and arguments, except that the argument of Eunuchus is the prose one beg. "Meretrix adolescentem" as in C of Umpfenbach's ed., 1870, p. 89. The volume opens (f. 1 b) with prose summaries of the plays beg. "Prime comedie que Andria dicitur hec est materia," but of these only the first three have been written. The plays are immediately preceded by (a) Life of Terence, beg. "Terentius Afer genere extitit," f. 5;—(b) Prose argument of Andria, beg. "Orto bello Athenis" (cf. F. Schlee, Scholia Terentiana, 1893, p. 172), f. 5 b;—(c) Epitaph on Terence, beg. "Natus in excelse tectis Kartaginis altis," f. 6. The order of the plays is:—(a) Andria, f. 6;—(b) Eunuchus, with the line "Eunuchus mentis dulcores tollit habunde" introduced in the rubric immediately after the prologue, f. 24 b;—(c) Heautontimorumenos, f. 43 b;—(d) Adelphoe, f. 61;—(e) Phormio, f. 78;—(f) Hecyra, f. 96 b. Followed (f. 112) by "Francisci Petrarcę Laureati sententia de uita Terentii Comici," beg. "De Terentii uita in antiquis libris," and (f. 114) by extracts on comedy from Papias, the Catholicon, and other sources. Glosses in several hands are profuse throughout Andria and in parts of Eunuchus and Adelphoe. Of the later sources those most frequently cited by name are Jacobinus Mantuanus and above all the Catholicon of Johannes Balbus de Janua. A marginal note to Petrarch on f. 113 relates: "Hoc dixit Petrarcha propter seipsum, qui comedias scripsit. Verum postea suas uidens, illasque comediis Terentii conferens et uilissimas suas esse respectu Terentianarum considerans, laceratas in ignem cremari dedit, ut narrauit Petrus de Parma, qui admodum familiaris Petrarche fuit et se ab eodem audiuisse asseuerauit." On f. 114 b are two sets of verses on the plays:—(a) Six elegiac couplets, beg. "Andria quid portet iuuenes que sponte sequantur";—(b) Couplet—"Andria et Eunuchus, Euton, Adelphys, Hechyra, | Phormio succedens fabula sexta datur." Vellum, with paper fly-leaves; ff. ii + 115. $11\frac{7}{8}$ in. × $8\frac{3}{8}$ in. A.D. 1419. Colophon on f. 111 b: "Terentii Afri explicit Hechyra,

1911–1915.

All in Greek, except where it is otherwise stated. Full descriptions or texts of all these will be given in Greek Papyri in the British Museum: Catalogue, with Texts, beginning with Vol. VI.

Acquired in 1911.

Pap. 1873. Homer, Iliad, ii. 251 to the end of the book; followed by a prose abstract of the origin of the Trojan War. Portions of 20 columns remain, the earlier ones very fragmentary and none quite perfect. 1st cent.; a date in Domitian's reign is preserved on the verso. Height of papyrus 9½ in. Facsimile of a column in New Palaeographical Soc., ser. ii, pl. 53. Collated by T. W. Allen, The Homeric Catalogue of Ships, Oxford, 1921.

Pap. 1874. Six fragments of a philosophical dialogue, apparently new. One of the speakers is named Theophanes. The largest fragment contains the greater part of one column and portions of two others; but all is much rubbed and defaced. 1st cent. B.C. (?). Extreme size of largest fragment 8 in. × 10 in.

Papp. 1875–1983. Miscellaneous documents, official, legal, and private, chiefly of the 1st–3rd centt., with a few Ptolemaic and one Byzantine.

Pap. 1984. Two fragments, the first containing a column complete in its height but slightly imperfect on the right, of a prose mime or farce. The characters are distinguished by letters of the alphabet. 2nd. cent. Size of larger fragment 9¼ in. × 3⅝ in. Published, with facsimile, by A. Körte, Archiv für Papyrusforschung, vi, pp. 1–8.

Papp. 1985–2016. Miscellaneous documents of the 1st–3rd centt., with three Ptolemaic.

Papp. 2017–2019. Contracts of the 7th cent. Facsimile and transcript of part of 2017 in New Pal. Soc., ser. i, pl. 228. Notes on
